Bright's Disease Held Him in a Deadly Grip Which Nothing Could Loosen Till he Used Dodd's Kidney Pills —They Cured Him.

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—The Ambitious City is never behind her rival, Toronto, in any enterprise, commercial or otherwise, and recently, would seem to have made fair progress towards outstripping her neighbour in one respect, viz., the number of cures of Kidney Diseases effected here by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hardly a day passes without recording a cure by means of this famous and wonderful medicine.

Interest just now is centred in the case of Mr. Joseph Rickards, of 134 Emerald street. Hundreds of Hamiltonians know that Mr. Rickards suffered for more than six years, with that terrible complaint, Bright's Disease. Hundreds know also that he sampled the best medical assistance he could secure, but without receiving either cure or relief.

Mr. Rickards is now hale and hearty, healthy and happy, and his deliverance is due entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Writing of his case, he says: "I used many remedies that were advertised to cure Bright's Disease, but none of them gave me even temporary relief. I cannot describe the severity of my sufferings. They were terrible.

"I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I am thankful I took that advice. I used only four boxes, but they drove every vestige of Bright's Disease from my system and made a man of me."

A statement like this cannot be lightly passed by. It carries a message of hope and freedom from disease, of health and happiness, to every sufferer in Canada. Dodd's Kidney Pills should be in every home in the land. Kidney Diseases can not exist where Dodd's Kidney Pills are used.

THE INSOLVENTS CHURCH STANDING.

Dunn's Bulletin, Toronto: What this world wants is not so much a revival of religion as a revival of common honesty. A few year's ago it was considered a disgrace to fail in business, while to-day insolvency does not interfere with church standing in the slightest. Men fail, pay five cents on the dollar, and go on acting as stewards, elders or deacons without a thought of the injunction:—"Owe no man anything." A man stood up in a prayer meeting in this city the other night and stated that, for a certain period past, he had lived as pure as the angels in heaven. As he sat down a member of the congregation arose and said he thought a man as good as the speaker ought to pay his debts. The party referred to replied, say that he paid "all the debts the Lord told him to pay." This is the kind of thing that makes religion a byword. You will never get ungodly men to take much stock in the godliness of a man who fails, lives in a fine house, and flourishes around as the agent of his wife. Most men can see through the hole in a ladder, if there is light on the other side, and there is a fairly distinct conception abroad amongst outsiders as to the standard set by the Christian doctrine touching the outward life. There are plenty of honest men who fail, and whose honour is unimpeachable after failure as before, for misfortunes comes upon all. The thing we are hitting at is that peculiar kind of failure that, in the church or out of it, may be characterized as shady. The man who is honestly endeavouring to pay his debts has the respect of the whole community.

The Dyspeptic's Heart and Stomach

CAN'T BE CURED BY BITTERS

The dark red inflamed patches on the stomach, being small veins engorged with stagnant disease-breeding blood, often ulcerating, can best be reached by remedies strongly carried in the blood itself, not by bitters in the stomach, outside the veins and more or less mixed with pessly digested food.

Howard's Heart Relief contains this remedy and applies it in its own way, safely invigorates the heart, opens the sluggish veins, carries away the inflammation and soreness.

Then return appetite, digestion, strength. Who would work well must eat well.

Howard's Heart Relief may be had at drug stores, or by mail at 50c. per box, 3 boxes for $1.

WEST YORK ELECTION TRIAL.

Slow Progress Made With the Evidence—The Orr Charges Reserved—Probabilities of a Long Adjournment—First Day of South Perth Trial—Efforts to Establish Agency Fail.

Dungannon, Nov. 12.—The Liberals of West Huron were called upon yesterday to perform the somewhat unusual task of selecting candidates to contest bye-elections for both the Local and Dominion Houses. This place was chosen as the convention town because it is practically in the centre of the riding, and that it is in the centre of no small riding those delegates who had to drive 21 miles to reach the convention and 21 miles to reach home again are abundantly able to testify. The driving had to be done under mid-winter conditions without the preliminary mid-winter acclimatization. Notwithstanding these adverse conditions fully 200 farmers attended the meeting. About one-half of these were delegates to one or the other nominations about to be made.

For the Local House there was but one name mentioned, and the nomination was unanimously tendered Mr. J. T. Garrow, Q.C., the late member. He thanked the delegates in his usual frank manner, and referred to the rumors which have been going the rounds of the Conservative press to the effect that he was about to enter Dominion politics.

For the Dominion House there was a superabundance of candidates, but the list was finally reduced to three, namely, Robert Holmes, Mayor of Clinton and editor of the Clinton New Era; Mr. M. G. Cameron, Goderich, son of the late Hon. M. C. Cameron, and Mr. J. K. Grant, a sturdy Scotch farmer from Ashfield. All were strong men, and any one would have made a capital candidate. The choice fell upon Mr. Holmes, and the general feeling is that the choice was a wise one. There has been a feeling abroad that Goderich should be content with one of the riding's representatives. Other municipalities wished to have the honor of sending a member to one of the Houses, and it is perhaps particularly fortunate that to Clinton falls the honor of being the home of the candidate chosen for the Commons yesterday. Clinton is the recognized pivotal point in West Huron elections. There Mr. Holmes has much influence, having been Mayor for the last five years.

Mr. Holmes is President of the Canadian Press Association, and President of the Huron County Sabbath School Association. He is a son of Mr. E. Holmes, formerly Assistant Provincial Librarian, now of St. Catharines, where Mr. Holmes was born 45 years ago. Mr. Holmes' father purchased the New Era in 1865. If the by-word of West Huron, "As Clinton goes so goes the riding," is well founded, Mr. Holmes will undoubtedly be elected.

Mr. McDonald of Wingham, M.P. for East Huron, and Mr. Alex. Smith, Liberal organizer, were present at the convention.

WEST YORK ELECTION.

Case Still Engages Interest—Many Witnesses Examined—A Few Startling Questions on Friday.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—No new decision in the West York case was given yesterday, but the interest taken in it is still at fever heat. The hope of concluding it this week was definitely abandoned in the afternoon, and arrangements were made for its resumption on Dec. 19, the earliest date possible, owing to the engagements of Mr. Justice Falconbridge. In the morning the Orr charges were resumed, but the heavy snowstorm had delayed the arrival of witnesses, and it was after 11 o'clock when the first of them, Mr. W. A. Hill, stepped into the box.

His evidence went chiefly to show that Orr had never received a canvassing book or done any canvassing to amount to anything.

The respondent, Mr. W. J. Hill, was then recalled and questioned by Mr. Nesbitt about the drive he took with Orr to Peel County and whether he had not canvassed a family named Jones on the way. Mr. Hill's simple reply was that if anybody said he did he was lying. He also denied all knowledge of election officials.

Mr. Irwin was also again in the box on the question of election officials, and his evidence went to show that, as they had gained some 190 votes by the revision of the lists, they had been particulary careful to avoid any doubtful work, which would tend to counteract this advantage.

Mr. Rutledge swore that Maxwell had told him last Saturday that Orr had never promised him anything for his vote, and that Mrs. Maxwell, also present, had corroborated what her husband said.

Joseph Rush was the final witness of the morning, but his evidence simply went to show that Orr was an active worker in the Reform interest.

Mr. Nesbitt then reviewed the Orr charges at length, claiming that at least two of the three must be considered proved.

The court rose for luncheon in the midst of his remarks, and when they resumed in the afternoon Mr. Nesbitt concluded with a general summing up.

Counsel for the respondent held that canvassing did not constitute an agency. Mr. Orr had been a zealous worker. He was a friend of Mr. Hill, but he had had no instructions from Hill to canvass for him. There had been no communications between them on the subject of the election.

Judgment was reserved on the point until this morning.

William Gillman, called in connection with the next series of charges, swore that Hill and Burgess had called upon him during the first week in February prior to the elections. Burgess introduced Mr. Hill and told Gillman he had been talking to Mr. Hill about the account the Township of York owed him. Mr. Hill had told him that if he would vote for him he would see that the account was paid. Witness agreed to vote for Hill on this arrangement, and, though nothing much had come of it by election day, he kept his promise. He had told Mr. Hill's scrutineer there the number of his ballot, so that there might be no doubt as to the way he had voted.

"How long is it since you were on trial for having attempted to murder your wife?" asked Mr. Hill's counsel. Witness denied the charge, but admitted he had threatened to murder William Barton, but it turned out only a case of assault about five years ago. He was not convicted. He was also fined for ill-treating a horse about a year ago. William Burgess was the magistrate who fined him. The horse had to be killed. He had been a butcher on Queen street before he moved out to West York. Burgess had done him a good turn on several occasions. He sent down two men for 30 days once for tearing down his fence, but he had never helped him in any family difficulty. Mr. John had seen him about his evidence. He had told him all he knew. He went back on Mr. Hill because he had found him not to be a man of his word. He had voted for Hill solely because Hill had promised to get him the $200 from the township. Hill didn't say he would try to get him the money. He told him he would get it for him.

Owing to the continuous engagements of Mr. Justice Falconbridge, the case after this morning's hearing will be remanded till Dec. 19. Even this distant date, however, depends entirely upon the length of several court sittings, so that an even further postponement may be necessary before everything is settled.

ELECTION PROTEST CASES.

North Toronto, East Elgin, London, Centre Simcoe and South Perth.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Justice Osler yesterday refused in the North Toronto election protest to postpone the case until T. A. Harmon can be found to give evidence. He also refused to grant a commission to examine the said Harmon in British Columbia.

In the East Elgin case the court would not allow a change of petitioner at the eleventh hour and without the consent of the existing petitioner.

Mr. Justice Osler yesterday granted a commission to the petitioners against Col. Leys in the London case, to examine G. M. Reid in New York. Judge Morson was the commissioner appointed.

The local Liberals have won the Centre Simcoe case. The trial is not to be sewed off. The Conservatives will press the protest against Mr. W. J. McKee of North Essex.

SOUTH PERTH PROTEST.

The Case Against Mr. Mocerip, M.P.P., Opened at Stratford.

Stratford, Ont., Nov. 12.—The South Perth election protest case opened yesterday afternoon before Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Meredith. The petitioner is represented by E. Bristol of Toronto and F. H. Thompson of Mitchell, and the respondent by A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., of Toronto and E. W. Harding of St. Mary's. Several charges were gone into, and, while corrupt practice was shown, the judges agreed that agency had not been proven. The vote of Mr. Duncan Miller, who was Mr. Mocerip's financial agent for the election, was disallowed, as he had put in his account an item of $80 for caretaking of committee rooms, which amount, however, he had not been paid. The case is still in progress.

Now on the Home Stretch.

Napanee, Nov. 12.—At the nominations held here yesterday, Dr. Meacham, Conservative, and Bowen E. Aylesworth, Liberal, were the candidates chosen to contest Lennox County for the Legislature.

Catarrh Can Be Cured.

The rich pure blood which it makes, circulating through the delicate passages of the mucous membrane, soothe and rebuilds the tissues, giving them a tendency to health instead of disease, and ultimately curing the affection.

At the same time Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens, invigorates and energizes the whole system and makes the debilitated victim of catarrh feel that new life has been imparted.

POISONOUS COSMETICS

Used to Hide Disease.

Women Who Use Them Run Terrible Risks.

Paine's Celery Compound Quickly Removes the Troubles and Diseases That Women Now Try to Hide.

It Gives New Health and Good Looks.

Kate Field, a prominent and honoured American lady and a writer of note, declares that after a most complete investigation she finds that $62,000,000 worth of poisonous cosmetics are sold annually in the United States. It is difficult to give with any degree of accuracy the amount of money spent yearly in Canada for cosmetics, but the figures must be large.

It is well understood that the people who purchase cosmetics use them with a view of deceiving those with whom they come in contact.

Cosmetics cover a multitude of sins and evils. They are employed to cover up facial blotches, eruptions and skin troubles, that always result from impure blood. They are also used as a covering for wrinkles and crow's feet brought on by fast living, late hours and imperfect digestion. Thousands of women from day to day cover up and disguise traces of disease and early decay, instead of wisely and boldly attacking the cause.

An old and well-known druggist asserts that the introduction and popular use of Paine's Celery Compound has of late years greatly lessened the sale of all cosmetics. Wise and prudent women well know that Paine's Celery Compound, when used, goes directly to the root of disease, quickly removing all poisons and impurities from the blood, giving the nervous system full tone and vigor, and giving that regular and perfect digestion that maintains health and physical strength.

By the use of nature's remedy all facial blotches, pimples and wrinkles are soon banished, the flesh is clean, the skin soft and clear and the eyes sparkle with brightness. This is the true work of Paine's Celery Compound, as thousands have declared who have tested the great medicine.

To users of cosmetics we say, cast aside at once the health destroying agents that you are now using and try what the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound can do for you. Cosmetics mean continued deception and increased misery; the use of Paine's Celery Compound guarantees a speedy banishment of your troubles, a return of new and fresh health and good looks.

Splendid results followed the taking of the first bottle, and a few bottles have cured us both, and we cheerfully recommend it to our fellow-sufferers." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Breakfast.

A London authority says that the average person should take for breakfast a bowl of well cooked cereal with a little milk, a slice of whole wheat bread and, if he has been accustomed to it, a cup of clear coffee, one-half heated milk. The heavy breakfast quickly and carelessly eaten by the average family brings about such diseases as come to overeaters—rheumatism, gout and other ills.

HOW BILIOUSNESS IS BANISHED.

Positively and Permanently by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Which Restore the Liver to Perfect Health, and Ensure a Proper Performance of its Duties—No Other Medicine Can Produce This Result.

Biliousness is one of the most prevalent ailments of modern times. It is due, as its thousands of victims know, to unhealthiness of the liver.

When this organ is unhealthy, it is like a poisoned stream; it contaminates the whole system.

In health, the liver secretes about three pound of bile every day.

The bile is sent out, and mingles with the blood, to collect impurities, which it carries back to the liver, where they should be separated from the blood and expelled from the system.

When the liver is in an unhealthy condition, it refuses to take back the bile, after the latter has become impregnated with poisonous impurities. It then flows back throughout the system, carrying poison and disease to every point.

This is Biliousness.

When the liver is in healthy condition, Biliousness is utterly impossible.

In every box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets there is a package of small brown Tablets, which are specially designed to tone and restore the liver to perfect health.

Their effect is immediate. The liver is strengthened and invigorated, and it at once commences to do its duty properly. No bile is allowed to flow back into the blood. It is received, purified and again sent out on its mission.

The large Tablets restore the stomach to perfect health and digest the food; the small brown Tablets give health and strength to the liver and bowels. Between them they keep the entire digestive system in good health, makes Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc., absolutely impossible.

Try a box. They cost only fifty cents for one box; $2 50 for six boxes, from all druggists, or, on receipt of price, from the Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A SURE CATARRH CURE.

No matter what your experience has been with so-called catarrh "remedies," your ultimate, complete recovery can surely and positively be effected. Don't suffer any longer. Don't trifle with a distressing and dangerous disease when a sure cure is within your grasp. Thousands of sufferers whose condition was worse than yours have been cured and are now in perfect health. Their enthusiastic and unsolicited testimonies show beyond the shadow of a doubt that is the most wonderfully effective remedy ever compounded. It relieves the most severe case in from 10 to 60 minutes; it effects a full cure in a short time. The most eminent nose and throat specialists in the world have given it their unqualified endorsement. In all cases of catarrh, colds, sore throat, asthma, hay fever and influenza it acts like magic. It is easy and pleasant to use. It never fails to do precisely what is claimed for it. In less than an hour it will prove its worth if you will but give it a chance. A prominent evangelist gives testimony:

Rev. Warren Bentley, writes:—"While in Newark, N. J., conducting religious services, I was troubled with catarrh and used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It gave me great relief and I have recommended it to many among whom I have labored." Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice of Canada, has used this remedy and highly recommends it over his own signature. At all druggists.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart cures all cases of organic and sympathetic disease of the heart. Relieves in 30 minutes. Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills are at once a mild cathartic and an invigorator, system renovator and blood maker and purifier. 20c. for 40 doses. Dr. Agnew's Ointment relieves in a day and cures eczema, tetter and all skin diseases. Cures piles in 1 to 5 nights. 35c. 6

SALVATION ARMY.

Staff Capt. and Mrs. Creighton to Visit Peterborough on Saturday and Sunday.

Staff-Capt. and Mrs. Creighton have been officers in the Dominion of Canada for a number of years. Before being married each of them held very responsible positions and were in charge of different corps from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Since being married they proved to be very successful officers and have just recently been transferred from the Training Home to the headquarters, Toronto. They will be visiting Peterborough Saturday and Sunday, the 12th and 13th inst., and will be well worth hearing.

As stated in Thursday's issue the well-known effort of self-denial week will be observed throughout the Salvation Army in this territory from Nov. 20th to Nov. 26th. More than usual energy has taken possession of the Army's energetic members in anticipation of this great event of the Salvationists' year.

The Army has few regular subscribers, and its beneficient operations are maintained by the free-will offerings of the people; this does not leave its leaders much margin to launch out in its vast missionary labours and extend its daily growing institutions.

The needs of the heathen and the socially down-fallen are chiefly met through the now world-wide agency of self-denial week.

Officers and soldiers of all ranks join in this mighty effort, denying themselves in many cases, even of what may be considered the necessities of life, that the proceeds of this week may be capable of great realization. In this endeavour all outside friends and sympathisers are invited to join in gift or sacrifice.

During the past year extensive additions and developments have been made in the social department of the Army's work, and to meet the additional claims of these it is to be hoped a total which shall exceed all previous achievements of self denial week will be reached.

ECZEMA ON EAR

Itching So Severe Could Not Keep From Scratching. Physician's Remedies No Benefit. Cured By Half Box Cuticura.

At the time that I sent for your book, I was suffering from Eczema on the right ear. I could hardly keep my hands off the afflicted surface, the itching was so severe. Every time I would touch my ear small bubbles would soon emitting a watery-like substance, apparently poisonous, as when it was communicated to other parts of the body it would produce the same irritation. One of the leading doctors here treated me for a while and applied the usual physician's remedies without benefit. My brother was using CUTICURA at the time and recommended that I try it. I bought a box of CUTICURA (ointment) and had the satisfaction of seeing immediate progress.

The first application was soothing, and before the box was half gone the disease had disappeared, and I am pleased to say that there has never been any recurrence of the trouble.

Cuticura WORKS WONDERS

I wish to advise you of my appreciation of CUTICURA SOAP, and the marvellous benefits I have derived by its use. Before using CUTICURA SOAP, my face and hands were just as rough as they could be, and my face was all covered with pimples, I was unfit to look at, but after using CUTICURA SOAP three weeks my face was equal to velvet.

OBITUARY.

Death of Thos. Wood, Sr., on Thursday Morning.

The news of the death of Mr. Thomas Wood, sr., in Havelock, on Thursday morning last, was a great surprise to his many friends. The deceased was just recovering from an attack of malarial fever, when inflammation of the bowels set in, causing his demise inside of 24 hours. Mr. Wood was born in the county of Prince Edward, township of Ameliasburgh in 1837. He resided with his parents until 1868, when he married Julia Davidson and moved to the township of Seymour. In 1877 his wife died, leaving six children, 2 boys and 4 girls, to mourn her loss, only two of whom still survive, Mrs. Jno. Johnston, of Old Havelock, and Mr. T. Wood, of Havelock. In the year of '79 he married his late wife's sister, Emiline Davidson, who died in '87, leaving two children, Master Walter Wood being the only one living. After the death of his second wife he moved to Belmont township, where he has since resided with his children. In 1895 he again married, his wife being Mrs. Peters, of Old Havelock, who still survives him.

In the spring of 1897 the deceased gentleman met with a severe accident by a tree falling on his leg, necessitating amputation of his right foot.

Interment took place in Havelock.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

What wonder that lacrosse clubs complain of unnecessary roughness on the part of the Orillia club when a citizen of that town complains in a letter to the Packet, of the youthful element in these terms: "For truancy, depravity, gambling propensities, want of discipline and pure and unalloyed cussedness, the reputation of Orillia High School is proverbial, not only within the precints of the town, but throughout the surrounding districts." It is from such an element that the lacrosse players in Orillia spring.

HOCKEY.

The motion which Mr. Hollingshead introduced at the annual meeting of the Hockey Club on Thursday evening last, regarding the age limit of players in the junior series of the O.H.A. schedule, is one well worthy of the consideration of all interested in the promotion of the game. Many clubs in the junior series were quite as strong as the majority of those in the Intermediate series and the best of those in the latter could play on equal terms with the best senior organizations. This is not as it should be and the only remedy seems to lie in the adoption of a rule which will carry out Mr. Hollingshead's suggestion. It would not be a bad idea for Secretary Buchanan to put himself in communication with the various clubs affiliated with the O.H.A. and urge upon them the necessity for supporting this amendment to the rules which the Peterborough club will introduce at the annual meeting of the Association in Toronto next month. The proposition is to fix an age limit for the junior series of eighteen years and younger, no player whose eighteenth birthday occurs before the first of January, 1899, being eligible for this series.

CURLIANA.

The annual meeting of the Midland Colts Curling Association will be held on Monday in Lindsay. Mr. Geo. Matthews will represent the local club being a member of the Executive.

THE COLTS' PROSPECTS.

The popular Colts, who won such a good name the past year in the field of sports, should sweep everything before them in junior hockey this winter. The boys had a successful year in cricket—winning every match, the most creditable victory being over Trinity College School II.

They won the esteem of Rugby enthusiasts by their plucky play this fall. Being unable to arrange games with junior teams, the boys, rather than not play, tackled Intermediate teams, U.C.C., Port Hope, Young Torontos. Those who saw them play were delighted. The Junior Colts are credited with putting up the most scientific exhibition of Rugby against the "Grove" team ever seen in town.

It was in hockey, however, that the Colts first made a name for themselves. Last winter they did not lose a game, and ended the season by defeating the strong Cobourg team 6 goals to 3.

This winter the Colts will be much stronger and more in evidence than ever. Nearly all of last year's players are available. A number of new players are coming out this winter, and competition for a place on the first team will be very keen. Macdonell, who did good work in goal, will be on deck again. Eddie Graham was a regular whirlwind at point last season, and it would take a good man to replace him. Harold Armstrong, whose playing was so much admired, will undoubtedly hold down his old position at cover. Armstrong promises to develop into one of the most brilliant defence players in Ontario.

Of the old forwards, Hubert McBain, Stanley Bradd, Parker Crossley, Roy Armstrong and Frank Bradburn, all will be on hand, with the exception of the last, who is out of town and who will figure on one of the U. C. C. teams. The work of last year's forward line was immense and as all the boys have been into Rugby this fall they should play faster and stronger than ever. Of the new players who are to sport the red, black and white this winter we will hear later. O. Dumble, who has not played for a couple years, is coming out again and as he is one of the swiftest junior players in town, will make a strong bid for a place on the forward line. Morgan, McKee, McGrath, Brundrette, Dobbin, Smith, Tully, Maybee, Pollard and a half-dozen others have signified their intention of chasing the puck with the Colts this season.

Should the resolution regarding the age limit meet with the approval of the Ontario Hockey Association, the Colts will enter the series and make a big fight to land the junior championship.

RUGBY.

A western paper makes this very seasonable observation: "Edmund Senkler, who a few short years ago stood in the front rank of football players, has been appointed Gold Commissioner in the Klondike. The miner who takes Senkler for a tenderfoot and wants to monkey with the commissioner may run up against a flying wedge.

BOTH SIDES UNITED.

In Face of Common Foe Liberals and Tories Are One.

FIRM WORDS OF LIBERALS.

Lord Kitchener, the Hero of Omdurman, Is Great Demand—The Mohegan Enquiry Resumed and Again Adjourned—Marchand Leaves Cairo for Fasheda—How the French Will Leave.

London, Nov. 14.—Sir Edward Grey, Liberal member of Parliament for the Berwick-on-Tweed Division of Northumberland, speaking at Ashington on Saturday night, voiced the opinion of Liberals on the subject of Egypt's future, saying that, although Great Britain went to Egypt promising and intending to evacuate, circumstances had created fresh obligations, resulting in a position which any British Government was bound to maintain. He said:

"While one very acute point has been settled by France's decision to withdraw from Fashoda, yet the sky is not cleared. We are obliged to recognise that though France withdrew, there remains in Paris a feeling of irritation and soreness. While the impression remains that we have treated them harshly, we know well that relations cannot be placed permanently on a better footing."

Asquith on the Far East.

In the course of a speech on the occasion of the opening of a Liberal Club at Padiham, Lancashire, on Saturday night, the Right Hon. Herbert Asquith, Home Secretary in Lord Rosebery's Cabinet, spoke at length on the identity of interests of the United States and England in the far East, where, he said, America was destined to become a great power. The presence side by side and the co-operation of the two English-speaking powers would vitally affect for the better the whole future of the far East.

POPULAR LORD KITCHENER.

Honored at Dinner by the Queen, Who Was Charmed With Him.

London, Nov. 14.—Lord Kitchener continues to be the most entertained man in the Kingdom, he not being allowed to rest much, rushing to the north of Scotland one day and to the south of England the next. After leaving Lord Salisbury's place at Hatfield, where he had spent a week, he went, by special command, to Balmoral to see the Queen.

Modern Society says Kitchener stopped at Aberdeen for dinner and while thus engaged the Empress Frederick arrived on her way south from Balmoral. She at once went to his hotel and asked to see the Sirdar, and the two had a pleasant chat till it was time for them to go to their separate trains.

The Gentlewoman says the modesty with which the Sirdar received the Queen's congratulations charmed Her Majesty, and the soldier was touched by his Queen's gracious kindness.

Rewards to British Officers.

The rewards to British officers and men engaged in the recent successful campaign in the Soudan are not ended by the bestowal of medals and decorations. Lord Wolseley, in a special army order, issued Thursday night, states that gratuities ranging from £8 for class five of private soldiers to £288 for the Major-General, are to be paid to every officer and soldier employed south of Wady Halfa.

In special cases, upon recommendation of general officers commanding in Egypt, gratuities will be received also by officers and men employed at Wady Halfa and Assouan. The unit scale of pecuniary reward is £8 to the share and the number of shares is on a descending scale from the Major-General, who will be credited with £76, and the Brigadier-General, who is to have £57. It is not yet known how large a sum will be necessary to carry out this order of the War Department, but undoubtedly it will be very considerable.

MR. GLADSTONE'S BIOGRAPHY

Will Cost 10,000 Pounds and Take Five Years to Write.

London, Nov. 14.—A well-known London publisher states that Mr. John Morley will receive £2,000 a year from the MacMillans for his Gladstone biography, and that the work will occupy five years. This is not excessive remuneration, when the magnitude of the labor is considered. There are more than 100,000 letters on file at Hawarden. There is much talk in political circles about Mr. Morley, of virtual retirement from political life, in view of this five years contract. He would not have made this arrangement if he had not lost interest in politics in consequence of the death of Mr. Gladstone and the failure of the Home Rule cause.

Late Lord Mayor's Record.

London, Nov. 14.—Col. Davies, who retired as Lord Mayor Wednesday, managed to establish a Mansion House record. According to the British Weekly, he dined more folks than any of his predecessors. The number of those who sat down at table with him in the course of his year was no less than 20,000. The new Lord Mayor, Sir John Voce Moore, is a widower, and the duties of the Lady Mayoress during his term of office will devolve upon Mrs. King Farlow, the only daughter in a family of nine children.

Marchand Starts Out.

Cairo, Nov. 14.—Major Marchand, commandor of the French expedition at Fashoda, started yesterday for that point with Capt. Baratier. On their arrival at Fashoda the expedition will immediately retire by way of Sobat, southwest of Fashoda, at the junction of the Sobat River and the White Nile, from which point they will move overland to Jibutil, the French post in the Esas District, on the west coast of the Gulf of Aden.

Is Dreyfus Dead?

Paris, Nov. 14.—It was reported here last evening that Dreyfus is dead.

The rumor is understood to be based upon a mysterious telegram received from Colmar, capital of Upper Alsace, signed by an unknown correspondent. So far as can be ascertained, there is no official confirmation of the report. The father-in-law of Dreyfus discredits it.

Mrs. Guilford on the Way Back.

London, Nov. 14.—On the Cunard Line steamer Lucania, which sailed on Saturday for New York, was Mrs. Nancy Guilford, the Bridgeport, Conn., midwife, who has been extradited to stand trial for the murder of Emma Gill of Southington, Conn. Detective Cronyn of Bridgeport is in charge of the prisoner.

THE MOHEGAN INQUIRY.

Rockets Were Fired, But Lifeboats Were Long in Getting Out.

London, Nov. 14.—The Mohegan enquiry was continued on Saturday. A member of the coastguard testified that he fired a rocket and gave every possible warning to the Mohegan when he saw her danger. Undoubtedly, he said, the current from the Manacles was setting inshore.

The coxswain of the Falmouth lifeboat explained the delay in launching the boat. He said that the boat cruised around all night, but never found the Mohegan.

The coxswain of the Lizard lifeboat said he believed that they could have saved many lives if they had put off to the Mohegan immediately.

Surgeon Trevor testified that he conversed with Capt. Griffiths at 5.45 p.m. on Sept. 14. He was in the best of spirits and greatly pleased with the ship's behavior.

Boatswain Crulkshank was called to the stand and said that every effort was made to get out the boats. The chief officer, he said, ordered him not to wait to loosen them in the ordinary way. It was impossible to launch the boats owing to the list of the ship. The enquiry was adjourned until Nov. 24.

Kaiser Will Not Land.

London, Nov. 14.—A despatch to the Observer from Berlin says the German Imperial party will not land at any Spanish port. Owing to Spain's interpretation of the visit as a manifestation of sympathy with Spain in her present difficulty, she will have to forego the pleasure of a formal visit from the Kaiser.

Li Hung Chang Shelved.

Pekin, Nov. 14.—Li Hung Chang has been ordered to proceed to Ts Nan, capital of the Province of Shan Tung, to concert measures with the Viceroy of Shan Tung to prevent further inundations of the Yellow River (Hoang Ho). This appointment is regarded as virtually shelving Prince Li.

Enterprising Japs in B.C.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 14.—For some months Japanese fishermen have been working up a big trade in salted salmon from British Columbia to the Mikado's kingdom. Saturday 25 Japanese fishermen left for Seattle to embark on the Vuppon-Musen-Kaisha steamer for home. They are sending 900 tons of fish on the same boat. It is expected that this trade will increase to great proportions, and it is proposed to charter vessels especially adapted for the work to ply between Vancouver and the Orient.

Coal Mine Disaster.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 14.—There has been another disaster at the coal mines. A report from Nanaimo says there was a gas explosion in No. 1 shaft of the Vancouver mines. The gas severely burned the manager, W. McGregor, Donald Ferguson, Edmond Edmonds, James Price, George Lee, Peter Hugh and Fred. Hurst, about head, face and hands. George Lee had one of his legs broken. The mine was ordered to be closed for a few hours by the coal mine inspector.

THE WESTMEATH LOSS

The Captain of the Ill-Fated Vessel Tells the Story.

TWO BRAVE STOWAWAYS.

They Were Perfectly Sober, But Intended to Stay on Board and Have a Good Time With the Provisions and Wine for 42 Men for Six Months—One Man Lost.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Here is the story of the master of the Westmeath. Captain Johnson said: "We left Antwerp Oct. 29., and had some very heavy weather, but all went well until Nov. 2, at 6.40 p.m. The weather had moderated shortly before, but just at that hour the tail-end shaft broke in the stern tube. From that time until Nov. 6 the vessel labored helplessly at the mercy of the high sea running. On the 5th a vessel westward bound passed us, but owing to the flurries of snow failed to perceive our signals. We were in 52.50 N., 50.16 W., about 300 miles from Belle Isle, when the shaft broke, and when on Nov. 6 the Montevidean picked us up, we were in 53.04 N., 47.29 W., having been drifted to there by the wind.

The Montevidean at once made fast to us and towed us for nearly four hours, but could hardly get steerage on. In three hours and forty minutes she towed us 6¼ miles against a strong S.E.T. Then the 5½-inch steel hawser attached to 45 fathoms of cable broke, our screw had fallen out, but had jammed against the rudder post, and so our vessel would not steer. The Montevidean hung by for two hours and then ran under our stern and told us she could not tow us, and asked all hands to prepare to leave. We could only get away by the lifeboats, and she had to make four trips, the first at 10 p.m. and the last at 2 p.m., as we transferred all our men ourselves.

"When we got on board the Montevidean we called the roll and found four men missing. This was a surprise, as we had been under the impression that all were saved. However, Captain Macdougall at once sent his chief officer with a boat and crew and three of our men to search the Westmeath anew. One of the men subsequently turned up on board the Montevidean, and the other two, who were firemen, were found in the donkey room where they had stowed themselves away. When questioned they said that they figured that there were provisions and wine for 42 men for five or six weeks on board, and that it should last two men a long time, so they proposed to stay on board and have a good time. These men were perfectly sober.

"One man, however, we never found, a German-American sailor named Muller, from Baltimore. He and two others of the crew had broken into the storeroom and broached the spirits and were dead drunk. We looked after them the best way we could, and several men assured me that all three had gone in the boats, but evidently he had fallen overboard somewhere.

"It was very hard to keep track of the men, as they kept climbing up and down all the time.

"When we left the Westmeath she had 10 feet of water in No. 6 hold, and she is doubtless at the bottom of the ocean now. The screw must have punched a hole in her. She was loaded very deeply with sugar, cement and general cargo.

"We are now all told 41, and I desire to most heartily thank Capt. Macdougall and his crew for all the kindness he has shown us."

WILL HOLD THE PHILIPPINES.

The U. S. Cabinet So Determined on Saturday Night.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 14.—The Cabinet held a special session Saturday night at which instructions, understood to be of a positive character, bearing on the Philippine question, were drafted for despatch to the American Commissioners in Paris. These instructions were the outcome of the conference held earlier in the day, and instruct the American representatives to admit of no further discussion as to the right to consider the disposition of the islands, and state that on that point the instructions already sent must stand, the only matters for discussion from the American view being the manner of giving over the islands.

VIRDEN STRIKE SETTLED.

The Coal Company Makes an Agreement With the Men.

Carlinville, Ill., Nov. 14.—The differences between the Chicago Virden Coal Company at Virden and Auburn and the striking miners have been settled and the shafts will soon be in operation. The company agreed to pay the State scale of 40 cents per ton, but did not want to tear down the stockade. Finally the company accepted the offer of the miners that they would take it down and charge the company nothing for the labor. Over 100 witnesses have been summoned by the grand jury, which is now investigating the recent Virden riot, in which so many men lost their lives.

EAST CALGARY ELECTION.

Cross Gets the Seat Owing to Some Peculiar Work.

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—A confusion of green and blue special marks on ballots has reversed the result of the East Calgary election. The first returns gave James Reilly the election by a good majority, but on Saturday the returning officer declared A. E. Cross elected by 63 majority. Sifton's majority in Banff has been reduced to 20 on the recount, and Dr. Brett says he will protest the entire vote cast at one poll.

The Ill-Fated Infanta Teresa.

Nassau, Nov. 14.—The tug Potomac from Santiago de Cuba, which has been visiting the stranded cruiser Infanta Maria Teresa, off Cat Island, has arrived here in order to obtain a permit to work on the ship. She will return to Cat Island immediately. The cruiser is lying one mile off shore, and in two fathoms of water. The natives have destroyed the temporary deck and have carried away everything moveable.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—Now Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURMER.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

THE MUNICIPAL SLATE.

Next year the town of Peterborough comes under a new regime in municipal matters. The electors of the town will be called upon to elect a council for the whole town and not ward representatives. The people voted for the change and the people should be taking steps to see that suitable men are influenced to announce their candidatures. In the matter of mayor it is probable that, according to custom, a second term will be accorded to Mayor Davis. During his first term Mayor Davis has shown himself to be an energetic and capable head of the corporation. Under his rule the town has entered upon one of the most important steps since its incorporation, and that is the policy of permanence in our street improvements. Mr. Davis is still full of this subject and in fairness, apart from the usual custom, should be allowed another term in which to carry into effect and fairly establish the new and proper policy of doing right what we do in the way of civic public works. We shall have next January to practically elect nine other mayors, that is representatives who will have the standing of a mayor as far as receiving their mandates from the whole body of the electorate is concerned. It is quite unnecessary to point out that the very best available candidates should be placed early in the field so that their names may be placed before the larger constituency to which they will have to appeal. Under the ward system it was not so important to select candidates early—they were, as a rule, well known to all the electors in the ward and their capabilities and qualifications were also fairly well known. But under the new system four times as many electors have to be consulted. Our foremost citizens should be on the alert to secure the candidature of those citizens best qualified to serve the town in the capacity of councillors.

In the past too great apathy has been shown by the citizens. Instead of suitable candidates being selected, the candidates have, practically, selected themselves, and ambition and ward influences have been more important factors in determining candidatures than fitness for the discharge of the duties of the position. No reflection is hereby cast upon any council elected under such conditions. All the councils in the past selected under the ward system have been affected in their character and capacity for usefulness by the conditions mentioned.

The time has come for a new departure. The citizens should see it their duty to take a more active interest in municipal affairs, and this interest can be shown by a mutual and free interchange of opinion and careful consultation as to the best material to select for our new council. We need men of business experience and capacity; we want men of broad views, who are willing to serve the town, with the consciousness, if any inducement be needed, that while they are serving the best interests of the town, they are, at the same time, serving their own. It is unnecessary to say that they must be men of influence and standing, for, to secure election, they must be able to commend themselves to the favour of the whole body of the electors. It is to be hoped that our more public-spirited and prominent citizens will awake to the importance of the duty they owe to the town. Good candidates, who will make good councillors, will be more easily persuaded to enter the field if they have the assurance that they will have the sympathy and support of those who, by the conditions of large interests in the town and broad conceptions of its needs and requirements, are specially qualified to take active interest in the promotion of the public welfare, by the election of a council thoroughly qualified in every way for the important trust to be committed to it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is to be hoped that the Fortnightly Club will make an effort to keep the Chatham papers from reaching Rudyard Kipling. A Chatham debating club has decided that Kipling does not possess the qualifications of a great poet.

According to La Patrie, the new Liberal government of Quebec has done well thus far. It has not borrowed, it has not wasted, but by judicious economy it has succeeded in balancing the receipts and expenditures of the province, while at the same time taking measures to ensure public progress, agricultural prosperity, educational reform, and the development of colonization. The deficit of the last year of the Flynn administration reached the scandalous sum of $329,790, and in twelve months Mr. Marchand and his colleagues succeeded in reducing that to $249,280, while the next statement, it is confidently affirmed, will show a surplus.

There is much to be said in regard to Lord Aberdeen's suggestion that the salaries of judges should be made larger. The present salary is not sufficient to tempt the best men the profession to accept judgeships. An eminent lawyer makes more by the practice of his profession than he would receive in two or three years in the way of salary as a judge. And it is desirable that the very best talent should be placed upon the bench. We are justly proud of our judiciary under the present conditions, but it is evident that it would be no detriment to have our most eminent lawyers attracted to the bench.

The Imperial Board of Trade returns for October show the following increase in imports from Canada, compared with the same month of 1897: Wheat, $230,000; flour, $305,000; peas, $70,000; corn, $175,000; bacon, $60,000; butter, $455,000; cheese, $280,000; eggs, $30,000. In live cattle, horses and sheep, the month's returns show a decrease, but the total increases aggregate nearly $1,600,000 for one month. The reciprocal feeling fostered by the preferential tariff and the improved conditions under which Canadian goods can be placed upon the market, a condition brought about by the introduction of the cold storage system both on land and water, and the vast amount of interest that has been aroused and practical information that has been disseminated by the Minister of Agriculture through his department, and by his personal efforts this summer in England, are early bearing fruit. It will now be in order of course for Opposition journals to explain that all this has nothing to do with the improvement, which they will doubtless show is directly traceable to the National Policy.

THE SOURCE OF CORRUPTION.

Globe.

Members of the Legislature on both sides have been unseated, and in some cases the corruption was gross, and indicated a lack of sound public opinion in the affected constituency. The overwhelming majority of electors are doubtless persons who would scorn to take a bribe; but if there are 2,000 honest electors on one side and 2,000 on the other, and 100 floaters, it is not difficult to forsee that a large amount of electoral work will be concentrated on the floaters. What is the remedy? It is certainly not to be found in the childish expedient of howling against corruption on one side and condoning it on the other. The Mail, which is shedding tears of outraged virtue over bribery committed in the interest of Liberals, said when its candidate, Mr. Calder, was unseated in South Ontario, that he had been the victim of a conspiracy, that he had been unfairly pursued, etc., and the general impression left by its article was that Mr. Dryden was the guilty party. There is no magic in the name of Liberal or Conservative to charm away corruption; but there are some things which tend to check and some things which tend to increase corruption, and it may be useful to consider them.

A small constituency, the mass of whose honest electors are fixed in their political opinions, is the happy hunting ground of the corruptionist. He naturally reasons in this way:—"I know how the honest men are going to vote; I know that very few of them can be turned from one side to the other by argument; I shall, therefore, concentrate my efforts on the dishonest and venal." The honest men on both sides, by their obstinate adherence to party ties, unconsciously play into the corruptionist's hands, giving certainty to his calculations.

The cause of this rigid adhesion to party, again, is bitter party spirit, combined with an absence of great issues. Both parties claim to be in favour of honesty, economy and the other essentials of good government, and the electors see, in this respect, nothing to choose between them, and no reason why they should change sides. Great issues, differences about great principles, being wanting, the Liberal continues to vote Liberal and the Tory to vote Tory. If the party spirit is bitter, and it is likely to be all the more bitter the less there is to fight about, then the Tory will be disposed to look charitably on Tory corruption, and the Liberal on Liberal corruption.

Great issues, of course, cannot be manufactured to order, but when they do arise they are the deadliest foes of corruption. They bring to naught all the schemes of the briber. In the constituency we have imagined the 2,000 honest Liberals and the 2,000 honest Conservatives become uncertain quantities, and the 100 dishonest votes lose their importance. The politicians are compelled to address the honest voters with arguments, feeling that every argument may mean a vote. Appeals to reason and conscience take the place of bank notes and flasks of whiskey. More independence, more discussion of principles, less bitterness and obstinacy of partisanship, are among the best means of destroying the power of corruption. Our young men's clubs, Liberal and Conservative, are beginning their meetings for the winter. The more they encourage plain speaking, the more they break away from the old moorings, the more adventurously they sail upon new seas of political thought, the more they will weaken the power of money and of the corrupt use of money in elections.

ELECTRICAL ENERGY TRANSMITTED WITHOUT WIRES.

Nicola Tesla, the celebrated electrician, has announced the results of some important experiments which will lead him to attempt the transmission of electrical energy through natural media, without the use of metallic conductors. The basis of his claims rests in the fact that rarified air is a conductor of electricity. To carry his scheme into actual practice he proposes to produce electrical pressures of enormous voltage by means of transformers having high tension coils of great length and a large number of turns. One terminal of the transformer is to be connected to the earth, while the other terminal will be elevated by balloon or otherwise to a height such that the atmosphere will serve for a conductive path for the current to a second elevated terminal, over the distant point to which the energy is to be conveyed. The phenomenon involved will be that of true electrical conduction. A second transformer will be connected, like the first, to the earth and the elevated terminal, so as to collect the current and step it down to a normal voltage. A current of very high frequency will be employed, and so small that the loss in transmission through the atmosphere will not be great.

26 TO 1.

Their Lordships Consider the Orr Charges Without Foundation—Adjourned Till Dec. 19.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—On Saturday Mr. Justice Street announced that the Orr charges in the West York election petition petition case must be considered without foundation and Mr. Justice Falconbridge concurred in his learned colleague's decision. This places the score at 26 to 1 in favor of Hill. And now a long farewell to the whole business till the court meets again on Monday, Dec. 19.

William Gilman was recalled on Saturday morning, when the judges delivered their dictum to the above effect in the Orr matter and his cross-examination was renewed. He swore he had made no bet as to the result of the trial. It was Tuesday night, not Monday night, that he had been at Nurse's Hotel. It afterwards transpired that he had got very drunk on that occasion, had sung songs and, in fact, knew very little of what happened except that he woke up in his chair at home at 5 o'clock next morning. He considered the bargain with Hill perfectly honest. Witness complained that he was being watched all the time he was around the court room and he didn't relish the idea.

George Wilkinson, a boy who had seen the interview of Hill and Gilman, remembered overhearing the former remark, "I'll get you the money." He had told this to St. John afterwards in Gilman's hearing.

As the evidence for the defence could not be heard before adjournment it was not proceeded with. The trial was adjourned till Dec. 19.

They Ask for $2,500,000.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14. — The French Steamship Company has filed a suit in this city against the British ship Cromartyshire to recover $2,500,000, the value of the lost French steamship La Bourgogne, her cargo and freight, which were sunk on the morning of July 4 off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, by colliding with the Cromartyshire. The United States authorities seized the Cromartyshire Friday night and took charge of her. The owners of La Bourgogne claim that the collision was due to the neglect of those in charge of the Cromartyshire.

The Burt Jury Disagreed.

Owen Sound, Nov. 14.—Friday night's session of the Burt libel case was taken up by the addresses of H. G. Tucker, solicitor for defendants, and Crown Attorney Mackay. Court adjourned at 11 p.m. On resuming on Saturday morning Justice Robertson reviewed the evidence impartially. The jury were out nearly four hours and failed to agree.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS' PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N.B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

Catarrh

Is a climate so variable as ours—extreme heat and extreme cold—the very nature of Catarrh makes it the most common disease of the Canadian people; thus it is that medical statistics compile the alarming figures that nine hundred in every thousand are in a greater or lesser degree victims to its ravages; and with all the searching after truth and the many so-called Catarrh remedies, there is but one to-day advertised and the sole sought for to the Canadian public which publishes a guaranteed to cure—that is Japanese Catarrh Cure. Were it an untried and untested remedy, this could not be done; were it not that many cases of Catarrh, from one year to twenty-five years' standing, had been permanently cured and their unsolicited testimony is in the hands of the compounders, this would be vain boasting, but the constant testing only proves the constant truth—that it will cure.

Japanese Catarrh Cure prints in every package a guarantee to cure. The directions are plain and simple. What it has done for thousands it can do for you. 50 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walker, as by mail.

SOUTH PERTH VACATED.

Ambiguity in the Ballots the Cause—Trial Not Concluded—Evidence Taken in Cross-Petition.

Stratford, Nov. 14.—The South Perth election protest case was resumed on Saturday morning before Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Meredith. The principal charge taken up was that regarding 14 misprinted ballots, claimed for Monteith (Conservative) and so regarded by the county judge, but which were rejected by Mr. Justice McLennan on appeal.

After argument, their Lordships announced that they had decided that the election should be void, because it was not having been a fair one, owing to the misprinted ballots. They attached no censure to anyone for the occurrence. The counter-petition was then taken up and several cases of bribery testified to in Mr. Monteith's behalf, the money for which, it was alleged, was furnished by Mr. Graham of St. Mary's, secretary of the Conservative Association.

William Tobin, a bartender of St. Mary's, acknowledged having paid out various sums to voters, which he said were furnished by Graham. This Graham denied on oath.

The judges decided that no corrupt practice had been proved on the part of the Conservative candidate, but that the votes of those who had received bribes should be thrown out. Mr. Bristol asked for a scrutiny of these votes, eight in number, which will be taken up when court resumes at 1 p.m. to-day.

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE.

Several Thousand Dollars' Worth of Destruction at River de Loup.

River du Loup Station, Que., Nov. 14.—A terrible explosion of dynamite, which caused damages to the extent of several thousands of dollars, took place here Saturday at about 11 o'clock in the evening. A house on the Station Hill, in which was stored a large quantity of dynamite, the property of the Waterworks Company, caught fire, and caused the dynamite to explode with terrific force. Some of the houses nearby have been badly shaken up, and some of them have but few panes of glass left in their windows, besides other damages. At the station of the L.C.R., also, several panes of glass were broken, the freight shed doors burst open, and at the repair shop all the windows on one side of the building were completely demolished. Fortunately the house was away out in an open field, otherwise there might have been some loss of life. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

OUR NEW GOVERNOR.

The Earl and Countess of Minto Arrive in Canada.

THE CEREMONIES AT QUEBEC.

Departure of Lord and Lady Aberdeen on the Steamship Labrador—Their Excellencies Leave Quebec and Proceed to Montreal—Their Son, Viscount Melgund, Ill With Bronchitis—On to Ottawa.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—His Excellency the Earl of Minto, with Lady Minto and family, arrived here yesterday afternoon by the Dominion Liner Scotsman, but owing to Lord Minto's son, a boy of 6 years, being ill, the party remained on board. However, there was a guard of honor on the wharf, and Mayor Prefontaine went on board and welcomed the Governor-General of Canada to Montreal.

Viscount Melgund Has Bronchitis.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Lord Minto, the new Governor-General of Canada, Lady Minto and the other members of the vice-regal party, were on board the Scotsman, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, having come up from Quebec, instead of going right through to the capital, as was intended.

The change was necessitated by the illness of Viscount Melgund, the Governor-General's son, who, on the trip across, contracted acute bronchitis, and at one time was very ill. He is still very weak, but is convalescent, and it is expected that he will be able to leave the ship in a few days.

The Governor-General and Lady Minto will remain with him on board, but the other members of the party left for Ottawa last evening.

ARRIVAL AT QUEBEC.

Inauguration Ceremonies at the Ancient Capital—A Distinguished Company of Statesmen and Others.

Quebec, Nov. 14.—The steamship Scotsman, with our new Governor-General on board, fired her guns at 1.30 p.m. Saturday and was moored at the G.T.R. depot, Levis, shortly after 2 o'clock.

When the Dominion Liner was sighted off the Island of Orleans the busy telegraph announced the fact to Premier Laurier, who proceeded at once to the Queen's Wharf, accompanied by General Lord Seymour and staff, Hon. Messrs. Borden, Fielding, Tarte, Blair, Dobell, Fitzpatrick, Sifton and Scott, Lieut.-Governor Jette and staff, Premier Marchand and the Provincial Ministers, and Hon. Mayor Parent.

Here the Government steamer La Canadienne, handsomely decorated for the occasion, was in waiting, and after embarkation the party cast off for the Levis shore, towards which the steamer was majestically proceeding.

After introductions, Lord Minto, accompanied by Her Excellency the Countess of Minto and the vice-regal party, embarked on La Canadienne for the return voyage to Quebec.

At the Queen's Wharf were drawn up a guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Artillery, under Major Benson and Capt. Thacker, with the band of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars and a mounted escort of 24 men from the latter corps, under Capt. Turner.

The vice-regal party proceeded immediately to the Legislative Council Hall in the Parliament Buildings.

The new Governor was received with great enthusiasm and many flags were hung out in the streets through which the party passed. The Terrace and other prominent points were also lined with people eager to get a glimpse of the new Viceroy and his wife.

The Legislative Council Hall had been tastefully decorated with flowers and bunting for the occasion. The chamber presented a brilliant scene, one side of the chamber lined with uniforms of the officers of the militia regiments, amongst which were deputations from the Governor-General's Body Guards of Toronto and the Governor-General's Foot Guards of Ottawa.

His Excellency Lord Aberdeen was already at the throne when Lord Minto arrived and he greeted his successor with words of cordial welcome.

The inauguration ceremonies were imposing and witnessed by a large number of the Ministers of the Dominion and Local Parliament, Lieut.-Governors Jette of the Province of Quebec, Daly of Nova Scotia and Forget of the Northwest Territories, the Lord Bishop of Quebec, Right Rev. Mgr. Begin, Archbishop of Quebec, the members of the consular body, the judges of the District of Quebec and the judges of the Supreme Court, Judges Sedgwick, King, etc., etc.

After the reading of the Royal Commission, calling Lord Minto to the fulfillment of the high functions of Governor-General of the Dominion, the new Governor-General was sworn in by Judge Sedgwick of the Supreme Court.

Then Lord Minto ascended the steps of the throne, accompanied by the ex-Governor-General, and took the chair.

Afterwards Lord Aberdeen introduced to his successor the three Lieut.-Governors and the members of the Federal Cabinet present.

After the ceremony of inauguration Mayor Parent presented His Excellency Lord Minto an address in both languages, in behalf of the city, and Lady Minto with a splendid bouquet of roses.

Lord Minto answered very happily to the address, in the French and English languages. After these imposing ceremonies Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Minto were escorted by the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars to the Queen's Wharf, where they crossed to Levis to take passage on board the Scotsman for Montreal.

Their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Aberdeen, went from the House to Spencerwood, being the guests of Lieut.-Governor Jette and Lady Jette. They were given an escort from the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars as far as the toll gate, and were met there on their return and escorted to the SS. Labrador at 6 o'clock p.m. for Liverpool, taking with them from Canada the good wishes of the entire Dominion, from the greatest to lowest.

A royal salute of 21 guns was fired from the Citadel after the installation of the new Governor-General and the departure of Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

A complimentary dinner was given to Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, in the Garrison Club at 7.30 last evening, and was attended by some 85 guests, including the Dominion Ministers in town.

Facts About Clothing.

There has been so much juggling with quality that the public has learned to look with suspicion upon all clothing that is not backed by good reputation. Grafton clothing has been good clothing for over a quarter of a century. It is good to-day. It is all that the best tailors, best cloths, best linings and best manufacturing methods can make it. When it comes to cheapness remember that that which is best is cheapest. Grafton & Co's, clothing is the cheapest.

Respect the Ladies.

"A woman can't pick out a good cigar."
"So much the better for a woman; but she has a keen scent for a bad one."
Married or single, few women object to the odor of a good cigar. Why, then, will men smoke rank, vile cigars? It is injurious to themselves and an annoyance to all with whom they come in contact. The elegant lines of imported Havanas kept on sale by C. LeGros cannot offend the most sensitive tastes. Men who are at all particular what they smoke, are advised to to look for the "blue label," which always accompanies first-class brands, such as LeGros keeps.

A Watch Lost and Found.

On Saturday Mr. Alex Henry, of Emily, about eleven o'clock, found a lady's gold watch on Charlotte street, near the Grand Trunk Railway track. Being honest and anxious to discover the owner he very properly went to a newspaper office and discovered that a lost watch had been advertised, and by this means the time piece was restored to the owner. Virtually, the newspaper was the means of the prompt recovery of the watch by the lady who lost it. When you want to do right it's always safe to go to a newspaper office—you will always find help.

"Cleanest and Brightest Fruit he Ever Used."

Mr. Harry Long, of Long Bros., has been in the confectionery business in Peterborough for 28 years, and has few equals as a pastry cook and confectioner. Mr. Long has used a fruit cleaner, which is a brush slave machine used by all grocers and others, for cleaning raisins and currants, but they required a thorough washing afterwards. Lately he tried the Cleaned raisins and currants sold by E. F. Mason & Co., which are cleaned, washed, cleaned and dried by their new process. Mr. Long states positively that they are the cleanest and brightest fruit that he ever used. The price is no more than uncleaned fruit sold elsewhere.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

INTERESTING CHURCH CHIMES—YESTERDAY'S SERVICES.

The Music Which Was Rendered Yesterday and Notes of Interest Concerning Other Religious Subjects.

"Sun of My Soul" was sung as an anthem in the Murray street church last evening.

Dr. Hooper, of Toronto, preached two powerful sermons in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday.

"Fear ye not, O, Israel" was finely rendered as a solo by Miss Falconer in St. Andrew's church last evening.

Miss Clara Bellegham sang "The Gift of God's Love" as a solo very effectively yesterday in the George street church.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang "The Star of Bethlehem," in splendid voice in the George street church yesterday.

The anthem "Thy will be done," was most harmoniously rendered in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning.

The morning anthem in St. Paul's church was entitled "Rejoice Greatly." The solo was well taken by Mr. J. Dawson.

Mrs. P. A. Kerr presided at the Charlotte church organ with great acceptance at both the morning and evening sessions yesterday.

As a morning anthem, "Happy Day of Rest," was sung in the George street Methodist church. The solos and duets were taken by the Misses Bellegham.

Miss Martha Stephens' voice was heard to advantage yesterday in the Charlotte street church, when she took the solos in the anthem, "Saviour Thy Dying Love."

The foundation has been laid and the walls erected for the new Baptist church at Indian River. It will be ready for occupancy by about Christmas or New Years.

Rev. Mr. Burns, of Stirling, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's church at both services yesterday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, who is at his old home in Kingston.

In the anthem "Light of the World," which was rendered last night in the Charlotte street Methodist church, Miss Flossie Hall took the solo, and Messrs. W. J. Squires and A. L. Davis the duet.

"Saviour Source of Every Blessing" was the title of a well rendered anthem in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday morning. The solos were taken by Miss Hutchinson and Mr. G. K. Martin.

Rev. O. C. Elliott conducted services at the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church yesterday morning, the Park street church pulpit being occupied in his absence by Mr. Geo. Williamson, of the Y. M. C. A.

Last evening the male voices of the George street choir sang in excellent style the chorus "The Song of the Heavenly Land." Mr. Walden sang the solo passages in splendid voice. The accompaniment was played by Mrs. Morgan.

Crossley and Hunter are now conducting union evangelistic services in Clinton with their usual success. Hundreds are beginning the Christian life. No church is large enough to hold the crowds, and so "double headers" are frequently held in two churches at the same time, each evangelist speaking in both churches. The evangelists begin a union campaign in Minneapolis, Minn., on Nov. 13th.

LECTURES TO MEN.

The series of lectures to men was continued in St. John's church yesterday afternoon, when the character of Joseph, the great prime minister of Egypt, was considered. The temporary residence of the children of Israel in Egypt was a matter of prime importance to their national growth. In consideration of the destiny outlined by God for them the contact with Egyptian civilization of the day was an experience best calculated to improve these lawless sons of Jacob and weld them into a people capable of self-government. A famine throughout the land was the immediate occasion of this migration, but God had long predetermined that move. Of this great movement Joseph was the unwitting pioneer.

Sold by his brethren he became the most noticeable figure, the most prominent personage of his age. What was the secret of this success? The life of Joseph can only answer the question in one way, it was his integrity of character. In all things and on all occasions Joseph responded to the full capacity of his natural powers and capabilities. Men have no right to be conscious over natural gifts, but they incur a grave responsibility in neglecting to use them, and young men starting in life cannot learn too soon the secret of Joseph's success. Whatever you do, do it thoroughly and well. Slovenly work of any kind necessarily makes a man menial and dependent. It was such care of all his work that made Joseph serviceable and useful to Potiphar, and afterwards to Pharoah. For the young man who is complete and careful in the discharge of the duties of life, however small, there is a place for him to fill.

In Potiphar's house Joseph met the supreme test of his integrity. Following his example men must learn that the basis of conquest of temptation from outside must be laid by conquest of self within. Joseph's nobility of action and patient suffering in this case are both remarkable. In his attitude to his brothers and in control of the famine stricken people Joseph exhibits a great wisdom, great power, nobility and magnanimity.

In conclusion the lecturer touched upon the many points of wonderful resemblance between the life of Joseph and the life of Joseph's great anti-type, Jesus Christ.

LORRAINE HOLLIS COMPANY.

"Forget-Me-Not," To-night.

To night, at Bradburn's Opera House, the Lorraine Hollis Company will commence a week's engagement, opening with a splendid production of the famous comedy drama, "Forget-Me-Not." In speaking of this company the London Advertiser, September 20th, says:—"Miss Lorraine Hollis and her talented company opened a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House last night, and delighted all who were in attendance. The piece presented was the charming comedy drama "Forget-Me-Not." The role of the clever adventuress, 'Stephanie,' is a very difficult one, but Miss Hollis gave it a most capable interpretation. She is the possessor of a most charming appearance and is an actress of exceptional power. The support was all that could be desired. Mr. O. Caldara made a most capable Sir Horace, and the other roles were all well taken. Altogether it is a well balanced company and is deserving of liberal patronage." To-morrow night Miss Hollis will present the successful New York comedy, "Where's my Wife?" Prices 15, 25 and 35 cents. 1d

Large Receipt of Currants.

By far the largest consignment of new currants shipped to any one retail grocer in Peterborough for many years, was received to day by Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co. Over one hundred cases and twenty barrels of this seasonable fruit were piled up on the sidewalk in front of their premises, giving one some idea of the quantity of currants, independent of raisins and other fruits, which this firm expects to handle before Christmas.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIENCE.

How Cheap Meals and Beds can be Made to Pay.

The first day of this month was the anniversary of the opening of what is known as The Mills House No. 1. This institution is an hotel in New York, established by Mr. Mills, the well-known millionaire. The characteristic feature of the hotel is the economy with which it is run and the cheapness at which the patrons are enabled to obtain board and lodgings. The hotel contains over 1,500 rooms, and so popular has it become that the manager reports that they have not had a vacant room for months. Guests are being turned away in great numbers all the time. The hotel is in no sense a charitable institution. It is self-sustaining and produces an income on the capital invested. The building is constructed in the most substantial manner, well ventilated, well lighted and well heated, while the meals are not only clean and wholesome but well prepared and nicely served. Twenty cents per night is the regular price for a sleeping room, and a good meal may be obtained for 15 cents. The men who patronize the Mills House are said to be well dressed, well behaved and intelligent people. Undesirable individuals such as drunken men and those who are unfit associates for self-respecting people, are not allowed in the hotel. The Mills House No. 1 has become an object of general interest. The manager has received letters from all over the country, and even from Europe, from people who are anxious to duplicate the institution in their respective localities.

A LETTER FROM MANILLA.

Mr. J. W. Moffatt, a young man from Baltimore, who went to the front in the late Spanish-American war, wrote the following interesting letter home, which the EXAMINER has been asked to publish:

Received your letter of June 24th. Pleased to hear that you were all well in the "Land of Snow." I am enjoying better health than I have for several years. I suffered from heat when we first arrived, but as the weather is cooler now I am getting along nicely. We are in full possession of Manilla and all Spanish prisoners disarmed. We have had a fine time and a very pleasant trip and are located in pleasant quarters in the heart of old Manilla, which is surrounded by strong fortifications and a good fleet commanded by one of the very best of commanders, Admiral Dewey, to whom we owe our safety, as he had the Spaniards scared to death before we arrived here and well they might be, as their sunken warships show what modern weapons well handled can do. The town which we occupy is inclosed by two heavy stone walls between which are marshes spanned by draw bridges and mounted with heavy guns, most of them ancient weapons, but were considered sufficient defence to withstand the natives or, as they call themselves, Philippinos. We may have some trouble with them yet, but do not think it will last long. I cannot see how the press can get the news that the American troops win one day and the Spaniards the next, I fail to see any next either on land or on water. They were badly outclassed in every respect. They have neither money nor credit, a poor navy and worst of all a rotten government, all of which is the reverse with us, as Uncle Sam has money to burn, credit without limit to get more, people governing themselves to suit themselves and as good fighting stock as history gives any account of. But with all would be rather at peace with the world, still sometimes forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

The natives are a good natured people, who have been treated worse than slaves and given little opportunity to better their condition. They are industrious and with proper training would develop into a fine race. Their complexion is dark brown. The women are homely and smoke and chew, which seem to be a peculiar habit of the people of this climate. The Spaniards are very surly and overbearing and spend their time driving around in cabs, while the natives do their drudgery. I see that the Peace Commissioners are talking of allowing Spain to hold these Islands. I will be greatly disappointed if they do. We have acquired them by conquest, with the expenditure of blood which cannot be replaced, and as Spain has shown that she is not fit to govern herself she should not be permitted to govern an unenlightened race, whom they have held down and robbed so long. I do not know that the United States have any particular use for them but could readily exchange with some other nation that would treat the natives like human beings. As far as any war indemnity is concerned we could well afford to say to Spain we have had satisfaction and also satisfied their (honour) and are willing to strike a balance, but will hold all possessions the American flag floats over, as it would be a disgrace to haul down an emblem of liberty and replace it with one of tyranny.

I do not know that I can tell you any thing that will interest you, as you get all the important news of the war in the press. I like the place better than I did at first, think there is a good opportunity for a business venture if the war is settled as it should be. If I can get mustered out may stay here for a short time and take in the Chinese principal city on my way home. I will send you some curios when I complete my collection. There are many of them here but they are bought up very readily. The sea shells are very pretty and rare; silks are quite cheap. Very little clothing is worn here—just enough to protect from the rays of the sun. Fruit and vegetables are of little use to Americans. Bananas and oranges just fair. Water is warm, we do not drink much as we are afraid of fever, but drink tea and coffee, which we soon get accustomed to. We expect soon to get orders to sail for home, which will please most of the boys, as they are homesick and exceedingly tired of lying around and doing guard duty; they would rather be figiting the Spaniards. There are many fine ponies here, not quite so fast as some Canadian ones, but very good drivers. You will please excuse the appearance of this page, as I am writing under difficulties, the field clerk post has fallen and upset my ink. Write again unless you see by the press that we are going home.

Gough's Great Sale.

In to-day's EXAMINER Gough Bros' repeat their announcement of their great lease-expiring sale of the Oak Hall stock, combined with a peremptory reduction of their over-loaded stock in their other two big stores on George street. They are determined to unload before January, 1899, and the reductions in the prices of these combined stocks during November and December will make this sale the crowning sale of the year. Last week, notwithstanding the unfavourable nature of the weather, each day of this sale was attended by unusual crowds of buyers, and people who had been hesitating about buying came and bought freely. Gough Bros. are determined to make this sale a go, although a loss is inevitable. There will not be an inch of material held in reserve, and it will be to the advantage of everyone to make selections as early as convenient. The transformation in prices ought to keep the big store crowded, "not in spurts, but all the time." Now is your chance to procure really dependable winter garments, boots and shoes, hats and furnishings at figures slashed to a sacrifice. Prices are on the gridiron at Gough's for the next two months—just in the nick of time, when winter comforts must be bought. Necessity has no law—so pile in and clothe yourself from head to foot at Gough Bros'. Great End-of-the-Year Sale. 311w

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases, free.

Although practically none of the advertising matter for the lecture by the famous chaplain of "The Maine," has as yet been distributed, the matter is already well known, and half an hour after the plan of the opera house had been opened at Lynch's drug store, there were many applications for seats. People realize that if they want good seats they must get them early. No effort is being spared to make the affair a great success. The other attractions which will be incidental to the occasion will be announced later. Father Chidwick is expected back here this week. His recent lectures in New York State have been tremendously successful. The date of his lecture here is Nov. 25th, and those intending to be present are advised to secure seats at once. 2d

TWO OF A KIND.

Patrick O'Mara, a private in the Ninth U. S. Regulars, went to the colonel of his regiment and asked for a two weeks' leave of absence. The colonel was a severe disciplinarian, who did not believe in extending too many privileges to his men, and did not hesitate in evading the granting of one.

"Well," said the colonel, "what do you want two weeks' furlough for?"

Patrick answered: "Me wolfe is very sick, and the children are not well, and if ye didn't mind, she would like to have me home for a few weeks to give her a bit of assistance."

The colonel eyed him for a few minutes and said: "Patrick I might grant your request, but I got a letter from your wife this morning saying that she didn't want you home; that you were a nuisance and raised the devil whenever you were there. She hopes I won't let you have any more furloughs."

"That settles it. I suppose I can't get the furlough then?" said Pat.

"No; I'm afraid not, Patrick. It would not be well for me under the circumstances."

It was Patrick's turn now to eye the colonel as he started for the door. Stopping suddenly, he said:

"Colonel, can I say something to you?"

"Certainly, Patrick; what is it?"

"You won't get mad, Colonel, if I say it?"

"Certainly not, Patrick; what is it?"

"I want to say there are two splendid liars in this room, and I'm one of them. I was never married in my loife."

My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

FORESTRY.

How Poor Farming Soil Can Make Profitable Forest Areas.

The celebrated Scotch forester, James Brown, in his great work, "The Forester," states it as a general rule, verified by his own experience in England and Scotland, "that land which is from various causes unfit for high farming, will, under wood, at the end of 70 years, under good management, pay the proprietor nearly three times the sum of money that he would have received from any other crop upon the same piece of ground." He cites numerous instances of pine and larch crop that grow to a value in 70 years, of $500 and upwards, per acre, being an increase of over $7 per year. The most recent English writer on forestry, Dr. William Schlich, in his Manual of Forestry, says that it pays 2½ per cent. compound interest per annum to plant Scotch pine on land of third quality, provided the land can be purchased for $62 per acre.

This should give some idea of the desirability of retaining and preserving our Canadian forests. There are large areas of country which are almost worthless for agricultural purposes, which should be kept as forest preserves. The Ontario Government is wisely moving in this direction. In Manitoba a strong effort should be made to preserve our forests from destruction by fires, and make them permanent features of the country. If a fire causes a few thousand dollars of loss in one of our towns it is considered a matter of some importance. Millions of dollars' worth of proper y have been destroyed in Manitoba within the past fifteen years in forest fires, and scarcely a thought is given to the matter.—Commercial.

Early Accidents

Cause Lifelong Suffering.

A Case that is Causing Talk.

When a lad about eight years of age I fell into a cellar a distance of ten feet, striking on my head, and causing concussion of the brain. I was taken to a London, Eng., Hospital, the first seven days not recovering consciousness. I am now 35 years old and from the time of my accident until I began taking Dr. Ward's Pills five months ago I had been subject to fainting spells, never being more than two weeks without an attack of fainting. As I grew older these spells became more frequent, lasted longer, and left me with less vitality. I was weak, had no strength or stamina, always very low-spirited and down-hearted; imagined that every thing and every person was going against me, and life only had a dark side for me. My appetite was poor most of the time, but I am now happy to say that, since taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, I have only had one fainting spell, shortly after I began taking them, so I have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Ward's Pills cured me. Before taking these pills I always looked for a fainting spell not more than two weeks apart; now, I would be greatly surprised at a recurrence of these spells. Life is now bright—the constant, morbid, down-hearted feeling is gone, being replaced by a contented, hopeful feeling. I feel like working. My appetite is good, and in every respect I have experienced the health and strength restoring properties of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. They certainly have proved a great blessing to me. Yours truly, (Signed), Thomas Stanton, Brighton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Doctor Ward Co., Limited, Toronto.

DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany, while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and, made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.

Story of Lincoln.

This Lincoln story is told in Short Stories: A New York firm applied to Abraham Lincoln some years before he became president for information as to the financial standing of one of his neighbors. Mr. Lincoln replied as follows:

Yours of the 10th inst. received. I am well acquainted with Mr. X. and know his circumstances. First of all, he has a wife and baby; together they ought to be worth $50,000. Secondly, he has an office, in which there are a table worth $1.50 and three chairs worth, say, $1. Last of all, there is in one corner a large rathole, which will bear looking into. Respectfully yours, A. LINCOLN.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Mr. J. P. Raven of Owen Sound the Defendant in a Suit Which Presents Many Phases.

Owen Sound, Nov. 12.—At the Fall Assizes, being held here before Hon. Justice Robertson, yesterday's sessions were monopolized by a rather sensational case, that of Mr. and Mrs. Burt, charged with extorting securities from J. P. Raven, private banker, of Owen Sound. The offence was committed only 10 days ago.

Raven's evidence was to the effect that, having a chattel mortgage on the household effects of the Burts, believed his security was diminishing, pressed for payment, and was asked by Mrs. Burt to look over the chattels; that on Wednesday, Nov. 2, he went to the Burt homestead, and was conducted by Mrs. Burt through the house until the bedroom was reached, when Burt sprang into the room, covered him with a revolver, and accused him of improper conduct with his wife; that he managed to grasp the weapon, and in the struggle he was knocked senseless by Burt. After recovering he was coerced into signing a cheque for $2,000 and $800, and an I. O. U. for $1,000. He was also made to sign a statement that he had had improper relations with Mrs. Burt.

Burt was the next witness. His story was that under instructions, his little niece, who lived with him, called at his place of work and informed him that Raven was at the house; that he came home and found Raven and his wife in the bedroom in a compromising position; that he tried to shoot Raven, but was prevented by his wife. He swore Raven proposed the payment of money to keep the matter a secret.

The cross-examination of Burt took place yesterday forenoon, and was not much shaken.

Mrs. Burt was on the stand the balance of the day, corroborating most of her husband's statements, and admitting guilty relations with Raven for over a year.

The case is unfinished.

ROUGH TIME ON LAKE HURON.

Three Barges Adrift at the Mercy of the Gale—Man Overboard.

Sarnia, Ont., Nov. 12.—The steamer Curtis arrived at Port Huron Thursday during the great storm and reported losing her tow off Sand Beach by the parting of the tow line. The tow comprised the barges Fenetia, Reed and Holland. The former anchored and her crew were taken off by the lifeboats from Sand Beach. The last seen of the Reed and Holland they had hoisted a small sail and were making for the St. Clair River. Late last night it was reported that a barge had anchored off the lightship, but it was impossible to tell whether it was one of the Curtis' tow or not. The schooner Holland was brought into port about 10 o'clock yesterday morning by one of the river tugs which had been on the outlook for the vessels that were adrift. She was waterlogged and gave every appearance of having had a rough time of it on the lake.

Early yesterday Mr. Henderson of the G.T.R. at Point Edward found the body of a man on the beach at Point Edward, having been washed ashore. The body was that of a sailor, aged about 28 years, and was lashed to a plank. The drowned man was subsequently identified as James Trone of Buffalo, the sailor who was lost off the schooner Holland.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the night mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 21 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, Illustrated.

Serious Blaze at Deloraine.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Fire broke out in Deloraine yesterday and destroyed property valued at about $22,000; losses and insurances respectively are: Queen's Hotel $4,000, $2,800; Rocket, harness, $3,000, $1,250; Maynard's, clothing, $800, $600; Henry Bros., livery, $3,000, insurance light; Boyd & Co., hall and store, $3,500, $1,800. The fire is under control.

The Big Bannockburn Ashore.

Kingston, Nov. 12. — The Montreal Transportation Company was advised yesterday that its steamer Bannockburn, with 70,000 bushels of wheat, is ashore near Kincardine, Lake Huron. She was en route from Fort William to Kingston.

In Tahiti.

"In Tahiti," says Sir John Lubbock, "a person not properly tattooed would be as much reproached and shunned as if with us he should go about the streets naked." The Papuans of the southwest coast of New Guinea think that clothing is fit only for women. In the Andaman islands the women think the same thing about the men.

ANOTHER PERMANENT CURE.

THIS TIME OF A RUNNING SORE.

B. B. B. Cures Mr. D. Burch of Renton, Ont., of a Bad Sore on the Leg in 1892.

IT HAS NEVER BROKEN OUT SINCE.

Look around you and see if you can find any other remedy with such a record of permanent cures to its credit as Burdock Blood Bitters.

Not a little patching and mending up of the system to last a short time, but a thorough renovation, whereby disease is uprooted completely and health permanently restored.

Take the case of Chronic Sores of all kinds, which everyone knows are hard to heal with ordinary remedies.

To make a thorough and permanent cure the blood must be cleansed so that pure nutritious blood shall be supplied to the affected part, and supplant the decaying tissues with healthy flesh.

Sores or ulcers, no matter how large or how long standing, heal up readily when Burdock Blood Bitters is applied externally and taken internally according to directions.

The statements of Mr. D. Burch of Renton, Ont., given below, prove this, and again establish the claim made for B. B. B. that it is the greatest remedy in existence for not only giving temporary relief, but making permanent cures.

This is the letter written by him, dated February 9th, 1894:

"In the year 1888 I was taken ill with Typhoid Fever. When I had recovered from the fever I got what the doctors called Phlebitus, which left my ankles a very dusky color, and my leg was swollen to the knee all the time until the spring of 1892 when it broke out half way between my knee and the ankle joint.

"I went to the doctors and they prescribed for me but to no effect. I quit taking any medicine for a while when I was persuaded by some friends to try Burdock Blood Bitters.

"I had not much faith that it would do me any good, but after using it for three days I could see that my leg had started to heal up.

"I kept on using the B.B.B. until I had taken five bottles in all, when my leg was healed up completely, and as sound as ever it was. If any one wants more particulars let them write to me enclosing a three-cent stamp for return postage and I will gladly answer them."

(Sgd.) D. BURCH.

The following letter, written June 30th, 1898, shows how permanent the cure made in 1892 has been:

"Burdock Blood Bitters, made a permanent cure in my case and I have the greatest regard for that remedy. It healed the sore on my leg in 1892 after doctors failed, and there has been no sign of it breaking out since.

"I never fail to recommend B.B.B. to persons suffering from any similar trouble and believe it to be the best remedy for purifying the blood. If there is any way I can be of service in making known the merits of B. B. B. I shall only be too pleased to do so."

(Sgd.) D. BURCH.

A robust, manly son and a cooing baby-girl nestling in her bosom — what more can any womanly woman ask? It is a boon that Heaven intended should be granted to every woman.

Thousands fail of this because they have neglected to look after their health in a womanly way. The health of a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health during the period of prospective maternity. The prospective mother cannot be too particular about her physical condition. If she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or loss of vigor and virility, her children will be weak, puny and sickly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only unfailing cure for all weaknesss and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of maternity. It makes these organs strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It makes the prospective mother strong and cheerful. It robs maternity of its perils. It insures a baby constitutionally strong. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful specialist, who has had thirty years' training in this particular branch, during which time he and his staff of physicians have prescribed for many thousands of women. Medicines dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge you to accept an inferior substitute merely for the little added profit he may make thereon.

"I am the mother of a nice baby four and a half months old," writes Mrs. J. B. Clough, (Box 224,) of Lisbon, Grafton Co., N. H. "I cannot give too much praise to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

A GLIMPSE OF ITALY.

STRANGE WAYS OF DOING THINGS IN THAT SUNNY LAND.

A Peculiar Custom Which Would Bother an American—A Roman Funeral Is a Strange and Startling Sight to a Stranger.

An old adage says, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do," but it is a question whether the average American tourist ever learns the customs of the Romans. Even people who have lived in the Eternal City fail to observe many of the traits and ways of the Romans in their daily life. An Englishman who was an old resident of Rome was put to shame by an American schoolteacher of 23 who asked him if he knew why they chopped so little wood in Italy. He had taken upon himself the office of general dispenser of information among the guests, and, not being willing to confess ignorance, he blurted out:

"Ah, yes; I fawncy it must be the want of wood hand the smallness of the hax."

But the young woman—and she came from New York city—explained to him that the real reason was that they sawed most of the wood. She showed the guests how the Italians hold the saw between their heels and knees and draw the log across the teeth. These are little things, but they go to make up a people's personality and are curious facts for foreigners.

When one vehicle passes another in Italy, the driver keeps to the left. The pedestrians act in the same way. Some foreigners go through Italy from Naples to Milan and at the end wonder why it was that the Italians persisted in getting into their way.

The native Roman eats two meals a day, one, the colazione, or breakfast, at noon; the other, the pranzo, or dinner, from 7 to 9 in the evening. Black coffee is a favorite drink among the women at the cafes, but tea is seldom used. It costs usually 10 cents a cup. Italian bread is made without salt, which is under a heavy tax and is classed with tobacco and stamps. Wherever one is sold there also you may purchase the other two commodities.

As for the owners of bicycles, they have a hard time. Each rider must take out a license for himself. He can ride no other wheel but his own and should he permit his brother to use his wheel without a license the authorities would seize and retain the machine until a heavy fine was paid.

Another peculiar custom is the way in which an Italian will beckon with his hand. In America people wave the hand toward them when they desire a person's approach. In Italy it is just the opposite. When an Italian waves a goodby to you with his hand, you imagine he is calling you back, and if he wants you to approach he motions with his hand as Americans do in making a gesture of repulsion.

In New York there are morning and evening papers with a liberal outflow of extras between. In Italy the papers reach the public about 9 o'clock at night.

About every school door when classes for the day have been finished you will see a gathering of men and women. These are the parents, who come to carry home the books of their children.

When the family wash is ready, the mother carries the basketful of clothes on her head to the public washhouse, ready for action. Every one loves the queen. She is very devout and every now and then steals from her palace dressed in plain black and mingles with the worshipers in the churches. As for the king—well, that is another story.

Bananas and peanuts are never seen in Italy. As for hand organs and the festive monkey, they are seldom seen in the city streets. A peasant from the mountains bringing in vegetables to sell to the city folks must pay a tax at the gate before he can enter the walls. At the first sign of snow Roman schoolboys have a holiday.

There are a great many suicides in Rome, and the favorite way is to throw oneself over the Pincian wall or to go to the Suicide bridge out on the Alban hills and leap from it on to the rocks 200 feet below. And when a person has thus ended his life the natives think it proper to cut a small cross on the spot where he or she plunged to death. As many as 11 crosses have been counted in as many feet, and the bridge is rather long.

To refuse a pinch of snuff is a grievous insult. To walk in the sunlight is to chase yourself with dogs and barbarians. To enter a shop and to walk out without making a purchase is to call down upon your head the wrath of an Italian tongue, whose superlative curses would make a New York truckman green with envy. The reason of this is that the windows of the store contain everything in stock with marked prices, and the shopkeeper hates to talk unless there is a sale in prospect at the end. He may have done nothing but sit and doze for an hour before you enter, and he may do nothing else after you leave, but should you fail to buy he considers himself the most abused man in the city, whose time is lost upon fools in general.

It is not always the native guide that is the best. One day at the Church of St. Peter in Rome a party of American schoolboys were watching the crowds come and go when a swarthy faced man approached and asked in the purest Italian if they wished a guide. On the spur of the moment one of them answered him in Greek. The fellow gave them a keen look; then, with a broad grin and a still broader brogue, said:

"Arrah! Now, phwat are ye givin me? Sure, an I know ye are Americans, an it's mesel' that's Pat Bannigan." And that man could tell you more about Rome in five minutes than a native could in a month.

One grows careless in traveling, and many things slip the memory, but there is one thing that it takes months to get accustomed to—a Roman funeral. Of all sights a burial procession in Italy is the strangest. It startles a man to turn a corner and to come suddenly into a gloomy street where the yellow glare of funeral torches throws grotesque shadows along the house walls. There is a quick glitter of censers, a low wail from the mourners, a measured tread of white robed, chanting priests, a smell of incense hanging in the hot air, and behind it all rises a great high object in black, and along its top lies the coffin. Flowers are piled around the dead, and following the hearse is a crowd of mourners, jostling one another as they meet in the narrow passageways. It is a sight that is apt to come to a man in his sleep, and the dreams that follow it are not always the most pleasant.—New York Sun.

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Women's Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest discovery of this great scientist, are put up to sell 25 doses for 25c. All dealers.

WASHINGTON RELICS.

Articles of Priceless Worth Kept in the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 2½ feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington—three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 28 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shadbelly coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.

Factories Without Chimneys.

The statement that a chimney, the third or fourth tallest in the world, has just been completed at a cost of $53,000, and the announcement that the most gratifying success has attended the use of forced draft, without any chimneys whatever out of the ordinary, appear in contemporary journals. The experiment of forced draft gives promise of great economy in fuel, as well as doing away with the expensive and unornamental chimney. The draft arrangement consists of a large fan, which is connected with a 4 by 4 double cylinder engine. The fan has a wheel 54 inches in diameter and runs at almost any rate of speed desired. The draft is something prodigious and makes it possible to employ fuel of a lower grade than any heretofore used. Instead of the best Cumberland coal, a mixture of Cumberland and screenings has been tried. The cost of operating the fan, even with imperfect apparatus, is something like $800 per annum. The smokestack is scarcely taller than the roof of the building and of less capacity than that heretofore used for such purposes.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 2, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS.

Stiff silver bracelets, plain, elaborately carved or in the semblance of a rope, are much in evidence.

In seals for men's silk fobs, dark green jade furnishes a handsome innovation, while amethysts, topazes, agate and carnelian are very effectively employed.

Burnt ivory and silver combined form some beautiful umbrella handles. Colored enamels are also much used, the head of a parrot being one unique design thus carried out.

Simplicity of ornament as a bridal fashion seems destined, by the way, to rapidly become a thing of the past. A recent bride, certainly to the manner born, wore a pearl necklace, a diamond pendant and two bracelets—one of opals and diamonds, the other of pearls and diamonds.—Jewelers' Circular.

His Gun Behind the Door.

I put away the gun when they come out and sued for peace;
It wasn't me, you know, that set to have the fightin cease;
I'd only jist got well warmed up, as fur as that's concerned,
When old Sagasty meekly said he'd got his lesson learned,
And so I put the gun away, as I have said before,
But, by ginger, it's still loaded, if they've got to have some more.

It ain't no time to fool around when biness is on hand,
By argufyin questions any fool could understand;
Sagasty's old diplomacy ain't goin to diplome,
And he may as well take notice and jist call his fellers home,
If it's only their intention fer to git me in a fix
By their everlastin talkin and their diplomatic tricks.

I've been doin some hard trainin and I'm down to fightin weight,
And I've got a muscle on me that is somethin simply great!
I'd rather not have trouble, but I'm ready if I must,
And I'm askin nothin, either, that ain't sensible and just,
So I'll tell you right this minute that my gun's behind the door,
Within easy reachin distance, if they've got to have some more!

HUSBAND AND WIFE.

The Pathetic Story of a Tragedy of the Alps.

Many years ago I read a pathetic story, which is constantly recalled to mind as the duties of this compilation compel me to read the records of past years and reperuse the long closed letters of my beloved and live over again the happy days when we were all in all to each other. I do not remember all the details of the incident which so impressed me, but the chief facts were these:

A married couple were crossing one of the great glaciers of the Alpine regions, when a fatal accident occurred. The husband fell down one of the huge crevasses which abound on all glaciers—the rope broke, and the depth of the chasm was so great that no help could be rendered, nor could the body be recovered. Over the wife's anguish at her loss we must draw the veil of silence. Forty years afterward saw her, with the guide who had accompanied them at the time of the accident, staying at the nearest hotel at the foot of the glacier, waiting for the sea of ice to give up its dead, for by the well known law of glacier progression the form of her long lost husband might be expected to appear, expelled from the mouth of the torrent about that date. Patiently and with unfailing constancy they watched and waited, and their hopes were at last rewarded.

One day the body was released from its prison in the ice, and the wife looked again on the features of him who had been so long parted from her. But the pathos of the story lay in the fact that she was then an old woman, while the newly rescued body was that of quite a young and robust man, so faithfully had the crystal casket preserved the jewel which it held so long. The 40 years had left no wrinkles on that marble brow. Time's withering fingers could not touch him in that tomb, and so for a few brief moments the aged lady saw the husband of her youth as he was in the days which were gone forever.—C. H. Spurgeon's "Autobiography."

TO WEAR NEXT THE SKIN.

Comparative Merits of Several Materials From a Hygienic Standpoint.

What are the comparative merits of silk and flannel for wear next the skin? Some say flannel in winter, but not in warm summer weather. Flannel, we are told, is apt to engender the eruption known as "prickly heat." Nevertheless it is probably a question of the personal constitution. In any case, those who wear flannel in winter should be careful about leaving it off in summer, as it prevents chills. The nonconductor of heat in clothing is chiefly the air in its pores, and a thick, heavy clothing is not necessarily so warm as a light but porous vestment which incloses a layer of air in its tissues. This last protects the body against cold in winter and heat in summer.

Perspiration, by evaporating the liquid of the body, tends to cool it and counteract the heating effect of sunshine, but if it is excessive a chill may ensue, for instance, by suddenly going into a cool place, and flannel tends to prevent this result, by absorbing the perspiration as in a reservoir, and checking the excessive action of the skin. A thin cloth would not act as a regulator, and it is probable that many benign colds or worms by wearing flannel and woolen underwears. Recent experiments of M. Leo Vignon, a well known chemist of Lyons, however, show that silk is even more absorbent of water than wool.

It is a fact, in fact, that 100 grains of cotton flannel and silk absorb respectively 400 and 371 grains of water in the same time.

The "specific heats" or power of heat required in a body to raise the temperature one degree, which has been fully found with regard to the wools, but not to the cottons and silks mentioned, and have formed, especially all flannels, to recommend to skin which is more sensitive to variations of temperature. Wool is therefore recommended to those who are weak in constitution, although experiments, not perhaps as yet sufficiently numerous, have shown that cotton flannel or spongy silk is also good.—London Globe.

Fascinating Power of Snakes.

Dr. A. J. Harrison, chairman of the Bristol and Clifton Zoological society, read some observations on the so called fascination of snakes before the recent meeting of the British association. His observations had extended over many years, he said, and he had come to the conclusion—confirmed by others—that there was no fascination exercised by snakes over their prey. Ducks, hens, rabbits and rats placed in the cages of snakes on feed played about, hopped on the snakes, pecked at them and showed no signs of fascination or alarm even when they saw their colleagues swallowed or crushed to death. Much of the popular belief about snakes—their size and their powers of fascination—was due to the myths of ancient history and poetic literature. The largest snake now in existence, or that probably ever existed, was only 25 feet long.—London Times.

Facts About Water.

There are some strange features about water. For instance, the more muscular a man is the more able to take care of himself on land, the harder it is for him to keep afloat. Fat men and women—all, not the fat ones in particular—float readily.

It is possible to float ten hours.

A man has been known to stay under water 4 minutes, 46⅕ seconds. Another man swam 218 feet under water. The 100 yard record in a tank is 1 minute 1 second; in open water, 1 minute 7 seconds.

A man swims faster under water if he can see no light, and underwater records are made with the eyes closed.

FANATICAL CHINESE.

SUPERSTITION RULES THE RACE FROM CRADLE TO GRAVE.

All Business and Family Matters Directly Controlled by This Unreasoning Influence, Which Makes Brutes of Its Slavish Devotees.

No race in the wide world is more controlled by superstitious notions than the Chinese. They enter into every act of a Chinaman's life, and their influence is more lasting than that of his religion. He cannot move hand or foot without their agency, and from the earliest moment of his life down to the last detail in connection with his burial their power and influence are the guiding motives of his acts. All business and family matters are directly controlled by superstitious sentiments, both rich and poor, young and old, being slaves to their force.

To the average Chinaman his religion is a mere negative factor in his mode of life, to be followed or disregarded at will, but no true son of Han dares to act otherwise than in accordance with the strict precepts of those spiritual powers which directly control his life.

There are some amusing superstitions connected with Chinese entertainments. A dinner party is an ordeal which once experienced is never forgotten. It consists of from 40 to 50 distinct courses and occupies the greater portion of a day. During the whole of these repasts and notwithstanding the endless variety of dishes served the invited guest retains the same plate throughout. The explanation of this strange custom is an old proverb, which has now become a superstition, that "he who changes the plates kills the housewife."

Chinese proverbs explain several of the superstitious notions with regard to women. It is considered unlucky for a woman to mix with the builders of a house or other edifice during its erection, and to avoid any possibility of one straying into the premises all approaches are carefully guarded by watchmen, and a fence is erected around the proposed building as soon as its foundations are laid.

The explanation of this is the saying, "Women mix ill with wood, and death lives in the house over whose foundations a woman has walked." There is a similar horror of the fair sex interfering with any public matter of national interest or in any business transactions where men are concerned. "Women tie knots," says the Chinese proverb. "Let them remain at home."

No funeral can take place until astrologers and professional fortune tellers have been consulted. These unscrupulous diviners decide the place of burial, and in the event of disagreement no final interment can take place. This accounts for the number of unburied coffins which are seen about the country districts in China. Sometimes the coffin is temporarily deposited in a temple or kept in the house of the heir of the deceased. Among the poor as often as not it is conveyed to some sheltered spot and covered with a mat.

When in course of time (by aid of additional fees) the diviners can report that all objections to final burial are removed, the funeral takes place amid rejoicing and profane excesses. The mode of propitiation generally prescribed by astrologers is the purchase of some stone or piece of iron, to which an elaborate ritual of prayer and sacrifice is made, or, if the client is wealthy, the building of a pagoda is suggested, in connection with which the mercenary fortune teller doubtless reaps a large commission.

The last species of superstition to which we will call attention forces us to place China among the half civilised and brutal nations. One of these superstitions is that the soul of a dying person takes possession of the bed and room in which the invalid is lying. To obviate such a curse as this the relatives of the dying person, as soon as they perceive his end approaching, forcibly remove him from his bed and place him almost naked upon a board. If by chance a man should expire in his bed, it, together with all the furniture in the room, must be burned and many atonements offered before the room is considered fit for habitation again.

Many strange and inhuman ideas are associated with the illness and death of children. If a child sickens and dies before the age of 12 years, its last moments are hastened by the horrible cruelty of its parents. So long as hope is possible the parents do their utmost to save their child, but as soon as the doctors abandon hope the child is stripped naked and placed against the outer door of the house. When the end has come, the corpse is thrown out into the street to be picked up by the passing dead cart.

The reason for this brutality is this: If a family loses a child before it has grown to maturity, its parents refuse to regard it as their offspring, but rather as some evil spirit who has worked its way into their home in order to bring ruin and misfortune upon it and them.—St. Peter's.

A GUN ACCIDENT.

The Discharge Injures Mrs. Brown of Stouffville.

Stouffville, Ont., Nov. 14.—A rather peculiar shooting accident occurred on Saturday morning at the home of John Brown, farmer, who lives about a mile east of this village. Mr. Brown owns a breech-loading rifle and his son had loaded it and brought it into the bedroom and laid it on the bed. A little while after Mrs. Brown and her daughter entered and started to tidy up the room, and the daughter, seeing the gun, took it off the bed and in so doing accidentally pulled the trigger and discharged the gun. The charge took effect on Mrs. Brown. Dr. Rowan of Stouffville being hastily summoned, found the bullet had pierced the top of the lung and gone through the shoulder blade. Although the wound is serious, Mrs. Brown is in no immediate danger.

Mrs. Wicklins—You and your husband and Mr. and Mrs. Caddaley seem to be very good friends.

Mrs. Dimpleton—Yes. You see, Mr. Caddaley and I used to be engaged.

Mrs. Wicklins—But I don't understand why that fact should make you enjoy each other's society now.

Mrs. Dimpleton—Well, of course, I can't speak for him, but he married a woman who is at least five years older than I am and not half as good looking, if I do say it myself. You don't know what a comfortable feeling takes possession of me when we are together and I see him glancing first in her direction and then in mine.—Cleveland Leader.

SHE YIELDS TO FORCE

The Unhappy Predicament of Most Unhappy Spain.

POSITION OF UNITED STATES.

The Republic Has No Alternative But Complete Annexation—No Compromise Possible With Wisdom—What Spain Would Do if Uncle Sam Weakened—Cable News.

London, Nov. 15.—The morning papers comment editorially upon the Peace Conference crisis and the American naval preparations, reiterating their conviction of the hopelessness of Spanish opposition and recognizing that the United States have practically no alternative, especially after the elections, but complete annexation, and that, if Spain continues obstinate, the United States must send a fleet to Europe, an action which no power but Great Britain would welcome, though none would be likely to interfere in Spain's behalf.

The Daily Telegraph says: "We cannot believe that President McKinley favors a compromise that would leave Spain a portion of her far Eastern possessions. Such a policy would combine the evils of both alternatives confronting America, since Spain would speedily sell the remnant."

UNHAPPY SPAIN.

She Yields to Force What She Would Perforce Keep.

Paris, Nov. 15.—The lot of Spain is indeed unhappy. There was no joint session of the Peace Commission in Paris yesterday, the Spanish Commissioners finding it impossible to get their memoranda ready. The U. S. Commissioners granted the delay asked, and it is expected sessions will be resumed Wednesday. Meanwhile the Americans will not recede from the position taken regarding the Philippines, and the Spaniards will acknowledge their helplessness, seeing they cannot resume the war.

A Madrid depatch says, on the authority of officials there: "If the United States persists in their present claims, Spain will accept the conditions after formally announcing at a session of the commission and in a circular to the powers that she yields to force, and owing to the impossibility of renewing the war without unobtainable assistance in defence of her rights."

The Spanish Commissioners point out that they dare not face their country if they accept the American conditions, fearing official degradation and even mob violence.

Added to this trouble is internal dissatisfaction. Catalonia and Aragon provinces demand decentralization of the Government, saying that the "Anglo-Saxons of America, aided by the Anglo-Saxons of Europe, have obliterated half of Spain from the maps."

THE GUINEA PIGS.

Sir William Marriott Calls Hooley's Statements About Him Pure Inventions and Abominable Lies.

London, Nov. 15.—The examination in bankruptcy proceedings of Mr. Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, was resumed yesterday morning.

Sir William Marriott took the stand and declared that Mr. Hooley's statement that he had paid the witness £1,000 for introducing him (Hooley) to the Carleton Club was "a pure invention and an abominable lie." Sir William added that he knew nothing at the time about Mr. Hooley's alleged donation of £10,000 to the Conservative party funds through the Marquis of Abergavenny, though Mr. Hooley told him afterwards that he had given the Marquis £10,000 for the "fighting funds" of the Conservative party, which, Sir William Marriott explained, had nothing to do with the Carleton Club. The witness also said he had helped Mr. Hooley in political and financial matters, but had always declined remuneration for his services.

Later, Sir William Marriott said Mr. Hooley told him in December, 1896, that he was engaged with an American syndicate, which was going to raise an enormous loan for Cuba, and said he (the witness) had been appointed counsel to the company's commission, which was to visit Cuba, and that his fee was to be £10,000, in view of which Mr. Hooley paid him £1,000 on account.

On cross-examination, Sir William Marriott admitted that he had received a cheque for £50,000 from Mr. Hooley, which he handed to representatives of the Conservative party. Mr. Hooley believed this would secure him a baronetcy at the Jubilee, but he was informed that he could not have it and the cheque was returned to him.

During Sir William Marriott's examination Mr. Hooley made a scene and threatened to pitch the witness out of the box. While Sir George Lewis, Q.C., was cross-examining Sir William the witness several times got angry and refused to answer questions put to him.

Mr. Hooley, on cross-examination, flatly contradicted the evidence of Sir William Marriott. He reiterated his statement that he had promised and had paid to Sir William £1,000 for an introduction to the Carleton Club. Sir William, Mr. Hooley added, told him that he did "all the dirty work" for the Conservative party. Sir William suggested the giving of £50,000 by Mr. Hooley for a baronetcy, and he was to get £10,000 if Mr. Hooley was made a baronet.

Turkish Soldiers Have Quit.

Canea, Island of Crete, Nov. 15.—Chakir Pasha and the last Turkish soldiers left here yesterday. The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern passed Cretan waters at 4 o'clock in the morning. The despatch boat Herta entered Suda Bay in order to fetch despatches for Emperor William.

Belgians Capture Dervish Post.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Chronicle this morning says: "We are reliably informed from the Congo Free State that the Belgians have captured Bohr, a Dervish post 90 miles north of Rejaf, on the White Nile."

France Adding to Her Navy.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Mail says yesterday that the French naval construction programme for 1899 includes two battleships of 14,500 tons each, with very powerful armament and protection; two cruisers of 4,000 tons each, two large torpedo destroyers and eleven torpedo boats.

LAST VISIT TO SOUTHPORT.

The New Viceroy of India and Lady Curzon Say Good-Bye to His Lordship's Constituents.

Southport, Eng., Nov. 15.—The visit to this place yesterday of Lord and Lady Curzon of Kedleston led to a remarkable demonstration of good-will for His Lordship, who has represented this division in Parliament since the last general election, in 1895. All the city functionaries and the county bodies participated in it, the streets were decorated with flags and crowded with people, and at the railroad depot the public officials, in their robes of office, presented an address of congratulation to His Lordship on his appointment to the Viceroyship of India.

The Lady Mayoress presented Lady Curzon with a bouquet of orchids in a silver holder, and with a ribbon attached to it, inscribed in gold letters, "Presented to Lady Curzon by the Lady Mayoress, in behalf of the Southport Division."

A procession was then formed and Lord and Lady Curzon proceeded to the municipal buildings amid the cheers of the people, mingled with the pealing of church bells. Lord and Lady Curzon afterwards held a reception.

After the presentation of a eulogistic address from the Conservative Association of Southport and a handsome and massive silver bowl, weighing over 200 ounces, and a pair of gold spurs, Lord Curzon made a speech, during which he formally bad farewell to his constituents.

A Galt Lawyer Shot.

Galt, Nov. 15.—E. J. Beaumont, town solicitor of Galt, and member of the law firm of Beaumont & Irwin of this place, lies in the Galt Hospital suffering from an accident which occurred on Saturday night about 10 o'clock. He had just completed the task of cleaning his 32-calibre revolver, which he laid on the top of the bureau in his bedroom, when in some manner it slipped and fell, and, on its way down struck the knob on one of the bureau drawers, discharging the weapon. The bullet entered the lawyer's right leg, a few inches below the knee, fracturing and splintering the bone.

War Tax Will Stay.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 15. — The Washington Post states that the war tax will not be abolished at the coming short session of Congress and that there will be no revision of the tariff whatever.

BAD ACCIDENT AT BOWMANVILLE.

G.T.R. Express Ran Into a Freight—Engineer and Fireman Hurt.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Last night the Grand Trunk express, No. 7, due at Toronto at 9.15, ran into the rear end of a freight train near Bowmanville, demolishing the van of the freight and shaking up the passengers of the express considerably.

The engineer and fireman of the express, who jumped before the crash came, were both seriously injured. Engineer F. Warren was hurt internally and Fireman T. Casey had his right leg hurt and was also cut about the head and face. The van was empty at the time, and consequently the freight crew escaped injury.

BELLE THREW A LAMP

Result: Dawson City Had a Fire That Cost $500,000.

NUMBER OF MEN INJURED ALSO.

List of the Principal Buildings Destroyed—No Insurance, and Not Enough Lumber and Glass to Warrant Building This Year—Second Fire by the Same Woman in Same Manner.

Vancouver, Nov. 15.—The steamer Cottage City brings news of a disastrous fire at Dawson City, which happened on Oct. 14. The fire started in the Green Tree Saloon, Belle Mitchell throwing a lighted lamp at another woman. Four of the chief city buildings were destroyed. The citizens fought the flames heroically, and a few men were injured.

Following is a list of the principal buildings destroyed:

Wardner Hotel, loss $50,000; Pathom's saloon, $40,000; post office, $10,000 (all mails were destroyed); Green Tree saloon, $35,000; Empress bakery, 40,000; McPherson & Johnson, $20,000; Vancouver Hotel, $25,000; John Sargeant, $3,000; New York store, $21,000; Case & Gilsey, $3,000; Maison Horioni, $43,000; Hibbard's store, $3,000; Meier's store, $16,000; John M. Donald, $6,000; George Brunett, $3,000; Foley's, $5,000; Seattle Restaurant, $9,000; other small stores, $30,000; 12 cabins, $18,000.

There is no insurance. The heart of the city has been wiped out by the flames, and there is not enough lumber and window glass for rebuilding this winter. People must live in tents.

The total loss is calculated at close upon $500,000. Some of the buildings contained cartridges, and occasionally a fusilade would make the crowd scatter, but no one was killed or fatally injured.

Among the fire-fighters who received injuries were: Pte. Mullins of the Infantry, contusions, sprains and burns; G. O. Ellis, contusions on head and a shattered shoulder; Dan Millen, scalp cut and skull cracked; W. A. Jones, head battered and burned; Constable Tipp, burns and sprains; Pte. Enfield, face and arms burned; Al. Haikens, leg badly wrenched. A number of men lost eyebrows and whiskers.

The fire of a year ago was caused by the same woman, who threw a lamp at a man with whom she had a quarrel. A month ago she burned her own place on Third avenue in Dawson, by throwing a lamp at a woman, and now she has caused a conflagration by again losing her temper and wielding another lighted lamp.

WHO SHOT JAMES SMITH?

He Was Heading for Toronto and Says Jim Jones Did the Shooting.

Orangeville, Nov. 15.—James Smith, who claims to come from Brantford, passed through here on Thursday on a tramp to Toronto, and was seen alone at Mono Mills on Saturday, has told a sensational story of attempted murder. He claims that when about three lots south of the latter place he was called into a vacant house by a man named Jim Jones, whom he met in Orangeville, and that Jones shot him twice, once in the head and once in the bowels. The balls have not been located.

Some think it was an attempt at suicide, there being only the track of one man visible in the snow outside the house. Constable Marshall thinks the shooting was done by a second person from the location of the bullet holes. Smith says he worked as a laborer with the Massey-Harris Company about three years ago. He gives no reason for the shooting, but says it was done without provocation. The doctors say he will die. The revolver, with two empty chambers, was found near him in the snow.

Later.—Another page has been added to the Mono Mills mystery. Smith, who was shot, has a charge of horse stealing to face, should he get better.

RECIPROCITY TACKLED.

High Commissioners at Washington Considering That Question.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Anglo-American Joint High Commission held no meeting yesterday, having adjourned over until to-day, but the Reciprocity Committee, composed of Lord Herschell, Sir Louis Davies, Messrs. Charlton, Fairbanks, Dingley and Kasson, was in session. The main attention is now being directed to reciprocity, and the feeling prevails that if the parties could be brought together on it the remaining questions would not take much time for determination, although a complete adjustment might not be reached on all of them.

Klondike Express Wrecked.

Havelock, Ont., Nov. 15.—No. 179, the Klondike express, going east, was badly wrecked at Blairton, four miles east of here, at 4.25 p.m. on Monday. The whole train was thrown into the ditch while going at 40 miles an hour. Baggageman Joseph Campbell had his leg severely injured by the safe falling on him. W. Edgworth of Smith's Falls; Mr. Raymond, brakeman; Mr. Price, porter of the Pullman, and Mrs. Clapper of Dunmerie were injured. The cause of the wreck is unknown.

Lord Aberdeen's Parting Gift.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The last official act of Lord Aberdeen before he sailed from Quebec was the presentation to Canada of the chapel attached to Rideau Hall, erected at his expense, for the use of future Governor-Generals. The presentation was made in the presence of Lord Minto, on board the SS. Scotsman. Lord Aberdeen also recommended that the sum of £5,000 sterling be raised in Canada for the aid of sufferers by recent floods in the West Indies.

Frank Queen Sent to the C. P.

St. Thomas, Nov. 15.—The police raided a gambling house and arrested about a dozen frequenters and the keeper of the den. Yesterday Acting Magistrate Davidson imposed a fine of $20 on each of the ambitious speculators, and sent Frank Queen, the keeper of the place, to the Central Prison for six months.

COLD STORAGE.

An Important Means of Facilitating Marketing of Goods.

The purpose of agriculture is to produce foods. The surplus foods, above what are consumed on the farms, form the basis of commerce in Canada. The carrying on of commerce is the exchanging of something for something else. It has come to be mainly the exchanging of some product, or article, or service for money. In such transactions, from the production of a crop of wheat to the serving of bread on the table of the consumer, and from the the care of a pasture field to the filling of butter dish on the table, different interests are concerned. In considering how the original producer and the ultimate consumer can both obtain the largest measure of value and service, for their labour and what else they have to give in exchange, the interests of other labourers must be recognised.

Besides the producers—those who grow cereals, fruits and other things, those who make butter, fatten cattle and swine, poultry, etc., etc.—there are those who buy and collect these products. The interests of the buyers or collectors of farm products are not identical with those of the producers, but both can obtain larger profits when all the commodities sold by the one and handled by the other are of excellent quality, and in the very best condition. When food products become spoiled to any extent the value is lessened, and consequently, a loss falls on somebody.

The interests of the carriers or transportation companies are directly concerned in the quality, condition and value of the products to be handled.

The interests of the wholesale dealers, who are sometimes a separate class from those who buy and collect the products, and also sometimes a separate class for those who retail or sell the products, in small quantities, are relatively large, and the business chances from them also are improved when products are of good quality with the least possible risk of deterioration while in their possession.

The interests of the retail merchants—the distributors—are most important in the development of agriculture. Where these merchants—provision merchants, fruit merchants, green grocers, butchers, bakers and others—can obtain a steady supply of Canadian products of first class quality, not likely to spoil in their possession, they have a chance for fair profits, and are likely to push the sale of these goods with their customers, more than they would push the sale of goods of irregular quality which are liable to create fault-finding, or goods likely to go out of condition, increasing the risk of loss.

Finally, there are the interests of the consumers. When they obtain a fine quality of farm products in the best condition, larger quantities of them are consumed. The class of customers who live in towns and cities, and who are well able to pay high prices for such products, select only those which are to their taste, in composition, in condition and in appearance.

In planning to provide or assist in providing a system of cold storage, regard must be had to all these interests. Men are concerned with the production of wealth and the progress of the country in these different capacities. The middlemen, the buyers, the collectors, the transportation companies, the wholesale merchants, the retail distributors, are quite essential to the carrying on of the nation's or country's business with profit, as are those who are called the producers of consumers. The labourers who are producers of commodities, or render service in any capacity, become the consumers in relation to those who do likewise in another capacity. The farmer is a consumer to the manufacturer of furniture and clothing, as much as the carpenter and the shoemaker are consumers in relation to the farmer.

HOGS SHOULD BE SOLD ALIVE.

An Interesting Letter on the Subject Sent out for the Benefit of the Farmers.

The following interesting letter has been received from the George Matthew Co., [illegible], in which they give some of the reasons [illegible] things should be sold alive:

[illegible] 9th inst.:—Since last writing you [illegible] had a great [illegible] to reasons [illegible] as if you [illegible] we will [illegible] as they exist [illegible]

It might be of interest for your readers to know that the bulk of Irish, Danish and Canadian bacon is sent to Scotland in what is known as Wiltshire cut. This is the whole side, ham on, and in packing it each side has to be measured and weighed and sorted out, so that in each box when packed the sides must all be within an inch of the same length, the same thickness of fat and must all weigh within two pounds of each other—these boxes are never opened by the selling agents but sent direct from the dock to the purchaser and the agent looking over his invoices divides his selections according to the demand from the different parts, so if a dealer in the West End of London wants best weights, leanest selections, he may get it, and of course has to pay the highest price for it, while the light and heavy weights and fat bacon, off just as good pigs, cured and handled exactly the same, goes to the country. We mention these points to impress on our farmer friends the fact that more attention must be paid to getting the hogs in proper condition, and then selling at the right time.

THE BEST PAYING HOG.

If we take in, say, 2,000 hogs this week and have only 500 that we can make first selected stock from, you can readily understand that we cannot pay as much money as though we got 1,500 firsts. Many say, if hogs are too fat for bacon they will make barrel pork. So they will, but hogs for barrel pork are not worth within a dollar a hundred of bacon hogs, and we desire to encourage the farmers in producing the hog that is going to realize the most cash, knowing that the more profitable it is to them, the more they will raise, and the more they raise the larger prospects we have in business.

This summer the Canadian packers sending the product of thousands of hogs weekly to England did not make enough barrel pork to keep local trade supplied—why? For the reason that we could make more money out of the bacon in England, and so paid at least $1.50 per 100 lbs. more to the farmers in July and August than if we had been making stock for local trade, so we imported American pork for home trade and exported Canadian bacon to England.

If the farmers can give us the right class of hogs steady through the year and any increase in quantity let it be at the time of year when bacon is most in demand—July and August, then we can guarantee a steady market that they can depend on. At present we are spending $15,000 a week for hogs, quite $12,000 of which goes away from the Peterboro' district. We would be happy if every dollar of it stayed close to home, and if hogs increase beyond our capacity we are prepared to double it and find a market for all the hogs that can be produced in the neighbourhood.

We are always glad to answer enquiries as to breed of hogs, time of selling and will be happy to quote prices by wire or letter.

The Cured Lady Says: "Paine's Celery Compound Made Me a New Woman."

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

Gentlemen—Ten years ago I was attacked with neuralgia, and though treated by six doctors, the disease grew worse and nearly drove me insane. I was for one summer an out-door patient at the hospital here, but only got temporary relief.

I was sleepless for nights, my digestion was bad, and I would feel a pain in my stomach every time I ate anything. Day after day I endured the most intense agony and I often wonder I didn't go crazy. I took endless medicines given to me by medical men, but grew worse. I became utterly discouraged.

If it was only health, we might let it cling.

But it is a cough. One cold no sooner passes off before another comes. But it's the same old cough all the time.

And it's the same old story, too. There is first the cold, then the cough, then pneumonia or consumption with the long sickness, and life trembling in the balance.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

CROW'S NEST RAILWAY.

It Is to Be Handed Over to the C. P. R. To-Day.

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—Mr. M. J. Haney, in charge of the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, passed through the city yesterday morning from the coast. The railway has not yet been handed over to the C.P.R., but will be to-day.

The appointment of a Deputy Attorney-General will be considered by the Ministers to-day.

The wheat statement at Fort William for last week is as follows: Receipts, 370,000 bushels; shipments, 276,000 bushels; in store, 1,056,000 bushels.

Mr. Robert Montague of Dunnville, Ont., Cured of Ulcerated Itching Piles.

Mr. Robert Montague of Dunnville, Ont., writes:—"Was troubled with Itching Piles for five years and was so badly ulcerated, they were very painful, so much so, that I could not sleep. I tried almost every medicine known when I was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and from the first application got relief. Have used two boxes and am now completely cured."

Averse to a Suit For Damages.

Some old fellow living in the southwest part of the state got into a scrap with a railroad conductor on account of the irregularity of his tickets. He lost a portion of his whiskers and was ejected from the train. He was so grieved over the affair that he engaged Joe Waters as his attorney to bring suit against the road.

Joe made up his suit and presented it to Baile Waggener, the attorney for the Missouri Pacific. Waggener declared that he had never heard of the case and knew nothing about the affair. But Waters pressed him so closely that a compromise of $500 was finally agreed upon and paid. Joe then wrote to his client, inclosing half of the sum received, saying that he had settled with the Missouri Pacific.

His client wrote back that he was satisfied with the amount received, but it wasn't the Missouri Pacific he was riding on, but a branch of the Southern Kansas.—Emporia Republican.

Jurors and Juries.

That the general grade of jurors, especially in our large cities, can be raised to the ideal standard, there can be no doubt, and generally the existing statutes are ample. Too great exemptions are allowed, too paltry excuses accepted, and the very men who by their weight and character would leaven the whole lump, escape altogether. Jury duty is a great political and public service, as much so as voting or military service or the payment of taxes, and no fit men ought to be allowed to escape from the liability to perform it.—Joseph Choate

SPANISH SOLDIERS MUTINY.

Demand Their Overdue Pay Before They Embark for Spain.

Key West, Fla., Nov. 15.—Private reports from Puerto Principe and Nuevitas, Cuba, say that 7,000 regular soldiers mutinied, demanding their pay before embarking for Spain. About 4,000 armed soldiers, the report adds, presented themselves in front of the palace, calling on the Military Governor, Emilio Marsh, for their overdue pay. Thereupon Gen. Marsh drew his sword and ordered them to disband. The soldiers, however, refused to obey, and some of them, armed with loaded rifles, threatened the life of Gen. Marsh, who returned the sword to its scabbard, crying out: "Do you wish to kill me? Well, kill me!"

The soldiers, in reply, shouted: "No, no; we only want our pay before embarking for Spain."

Gen. Marsh then promised them that they would be paid, and the soldiers returned to their quarters peaceably.

The disturbances are momentarily over. Everything is quiet and regular. Spanish troops are patrolling the city.

It is reported that 45 ringleaders and promoters of the mutiny on Thursday have been arrested and imprisoned in Morro Castle, but it is understood that none of them will be court-martialled.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

Mr. H. J. Pettypiece Safe in East Lambton—The Ottawa Case Transferred to Toronto—Other Cases.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Yesterday was a busy day at Osgoode Hall in election case matters. Five were dismissed, viz.: West Middlesex, North Bruce, North Middlesex, South Grey and Lambton; the two Ottawas were transferred to Toronto, and Centre Simcoe and London are probably to be added to the same list. Particulars from East Elgin were filed. East Lambton remains the editor's.

East Lambton still belongs to Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, according to the decision of Justices Osler and Ferguson yesterday. The case was partially tried at Sarnia about six week ago, when two charges of having supplied students with railway tickets were proven. The case was adjourned, and transferred to Toronto, in order to obtain evidence on a third similar charge, but as the expense would have been great to do so, the petitioners determined to abide the issue on the ground already established. Their Lordships, however, held that, though the charges were proven, no agency had been established. They, therefore, dismissed the case.

Mr. Justice Osler in Chambers yesterday morning ordered the transference of the two Ottawa election cases to Toronto, and the dates to Dec. 6 and 13. This means that another saw-off has been practically carried into effect, as a Liberal and a Conservative hold the two seats.

The East Simcoe case will be disposed of in Toronto on the 17th inst., instead of the 26th, if the judges agree to sit at he new date.

MARVELOUS OLD AGE.

Mrs. Margaret Davis of Jordan Lived 110 Years and Eight Months.

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Margaret Davis, who was by more than 10 years a centenarian, died yesterday at her late residence, near Jordan Station. She was aged 110 years 8 months and 10 days.

Mrs. Davis was born on Lord Downshire's estate in the County of Down, Ireland, where 18 children were born to her. About 46 years ago Thomas, her youngest son, who lives on the Thorold road, in this city, came to America, and was soon followed by his two brothers, John and Joseph. They settled in Louth on a farm. Thomas afterwards moved to St. Catharines, and in the summer of 1872 he sent for his mother, who was then living in Glasgow with other sons and daughters. Mrs. Davis was then 85 years of age, but she braved the Atlantic to come to America, and on July 4, 1872, she landed in New York. Until a few years ago she was very active, and in the warm weather she would do some of the chores around the farm. She lost the sight of one eye some years ago through an accident, but the sight of the other was good until the time of her death. She was seldom ill. The human mechanism simply played out after 110 years.

Deceased was a staunch Presbyterian. The funeral will take place to the Louth Cemetery to-day.

MILITARY TROUBLE IN HAVANA.

Third Company of the Orden Publico Force Protest Against Disbanding.

Havana, Nov. 14.—The Orden Publico force, cavalry and infantry regiments, was disbanded on Saturday after a part payment of arrears had been made. The Orden Publico organization has ceased to exist since Saturday. The trouble leading to the disbandment of the force began with the protest of the third company on Thursday morning before the palace.

Gen. Arolas, Military Governor of Havana, ordered more than 4,000 troops quartered in the outskirts of Havana to march into the city, where they arrived at nightfall. At the head of a portion of these troops Gen. Arolas marched toward the Orden Publico quarters, where the protesting third company was drawn up in the street under arms. The regulars refused to charge or fire upon their brother soldiers when ordered to do so in the hope of intimidating the men, who were finally persuaded to retire to their quarters.

The military precautions in this city continue, regulars doing patrol duty being quartered in the squares and streets of the town. It is understood the ringleaders in Thursday's rising will be arrested.

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000 which matured on the 6th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,594 98

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low lying rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Another Man Made Happy.

Yesterday Mr. W. H. Green, the general eastern representative of the Newcombe Piano Company, sold to Mr. Charlie Dunn, Victoria street, inspector in the Auburn Woollen Co., one of the Newcombe new scale high grade pianos. Mr. Green is, of course, elated over is sale, but Charlie is the happiest man of the two. This instrument is an expensive mahogany finished work of art, possessing tone and volume of unusual richness, and representing the most recent developements of scientific piano construction. It has a full swing front with desk desk and Boston fall.

A Good Play Well Put On.

It is many a day since so good a play and so well well presented was put on at the Opera House, as that with which the Lorraine Hollis Company opened their week's season last night. "Forget-me-not" is a sterling play, and it was capitally played. The title role, taken by Lorraine Hollis, was presented in the life, and all her support alongside up to concert pitch. The setting was charmingly natural, the dresses appropriate, and everything consistently well staged. The company, though somewhat lacking in timber, is without a "star" in it, that is well worthy of patronage.

Miss Melville will hold her Annual Christmas Opening on Wednesday evening, November 16th. A very large and fascinating display of the finest Novelties of the season will be shown. The elaborately decorations of the store will be specially interesting. A visit of inspection is cordially invited. Will be open in the evening from 7 to 10 o'clock.

At 4.45 this morning train No. 5, engine 722, Engineer Brady, Conductor Purden, in passing from the single to the double track at Murray Hill, took the east bound track in the face of switch and signals set against it, and proceeded until it collided with train No. 25, engine 712, Engineer Ireland, Conductor Deavitt, one and a half miles west of Murray Hill, badly wrecking the two engines, Engineer Brady and his fireman were killed, together with Engineer Casey, who was a passenger on No. 5, and three other passengers on No. 5, and fourteen passengers were injured. WRECKED NEAR HAVELOCK.

The Klondyke Express Goes Into the Ditch While Running Forty Miles an Hour—Few People Injured.

No. 172, the Klondyke express going east was badly wrecked at Blairton, four miles east of Havelock, at 4.25 p.m. yesterday afternoon.

The whole train was thrown into the ditch while going at forty miles an hour.

Baggageman Jos. Campbell had his leg severely injured by the safe falling on him. Mr. W. Edgworth, of Smith's Falls; Raymond, brakeman; Mr. Price, the porter of the Pullman, and Mrs. Clapper, of Dunmorie, were also injured.

The accident was caused through the switch at a siding at Blairton being left open. The train ran off the siding into the ditch, but the main line was not obstructed in any manner.

The statement in the Toronto papers to the effect that the afternoon express did not reach that city until after midnight was incorrect. It was a special train, awaiting for connections at North Bay, which reached Toronto at so late an hour. The afternoon express was only five minutes late. The ditched train was replaced on the siding again by an auxiliary from Havelock.

TWO WEDDINGS.

The Larmer—Seaton Nuptials, and that of Miss Emma Hunter and Mr. Duggan Gray.

On Wednesday quite a number of relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. Isaac Larmer, near Centreville, to witness the union in marriage of his second daughter, Miss Zillah Larmer, with Mr. Henry Seaton, of Cavan. They were married by the Rev. Jas. McIntosh at 7 p.m. The groom was supported by Mr. Alex. Kelly, and the bride by her sister, Miss Annie Larmer, and she received many valuable tokens of regard.

On the same day as the above there was a wedding party at the home of Mr. Samuel Hunter, Cedar Valley, to witness the marriage of his youngest sister, Miss Emma Hunter, with Mr. Duggan Gray, of Hope. They were married by the Rev. Wm. Johnston, of Millbrook. The groom was supported by Mr. David Hammill, of Hope, and Miss Annie Hutchinson supported the bride, who received many beautiful presents. After the marriage ceremony, which took place at 2 p.m., the happy couple took the five o'clock train at Fraserville on a wedding tour to St. Catharines and other cities.

Respect the Ladies.

"A woman can't pick out a good cigar." "So much the better for a woman; but she has a keen sense for a bad one."

Married, or single, few women object to the odor of a good cigar. Why, then, will men smoke rank, vile cigars? It is injurious to themselves and an annoyance to all with whom they come in contact. The elegant Blend of imported Havanas kept on sale by Robinson cannot offend the most sensitive nostrils. Men who are at all particular what they smoke, are advised to try a sample of the "Blue Label," which combines first-class brands, such as [illegible]

HUNTING NOTES.

Later News From the Sports in the North Country.

Mr. Gus Hay has returned from a hunting trip in the vicinity of Eagle Lake. Other members of the party were Mr. Geo. Chalmers, of town, and Messrs. Tully, Fred Morgan and Dick Choate, of Warsaw. Coming down into Gold Lake one day last week, Gus and George had quite a chase after a deer, which was swimming across. Before it landed Messrs. Dickson Hall and Dickson Davidson joined in the chase, and as the deer scrambled up the beach, a fusillade of bullets went over its head. The Eagle Lake boys got the buck, however, Gus Hay bringing him to his knees just as he was disappearing over a ridge, and giving him another shot a minute later, which finished him.

Bobcaygeon Independent:—The very atmosphere is clammy. All summer long farmer Ruby, of Harvey, potted a couple of deer that were around in his woods. He salted them, and put out tid-bits, and so fall came on they grazed in the turnip field, ran with the cattle and were as fat as butter. Rube used to sit out on the seeder and think about those two deer. He would lean against the pig-pen and meditate on the flavour of browse fed mountain mutton; and at night while nestling in his straw tick would dream of pans of venison steak spluttering on the open fire. November the 1st he was out bright and early, but he was not just early enough. Other eyes had watched those deer; other lips had smacked with pleasurable anticipation, and at that moment it was some other vest that enveloped those delicious steaks. Some heathen Chinee had been out on October 31st. That is why the moon is sanguinary; that is why Rube was in town this week and blew himself to the extent of one pair of chickens and three bags of turnips.

FIRST ACCIDENT IN THE HUNTING FIELD.

"BOB" WINDSOR, THE GUIDE, SHOT AND KILLED.

His Brother-in-Law Was Shooting at a Deer, but the Bullet Found Another Billet.

The report to the effect that Mr. Robert Windsor, the well-known guide, was accidentally shot last week in the north country, turns out, unfortunately, to be only too true, his death taking place, it seems, the same evening.

"Bob" and his brother-in-law, Mr. Patterson, were hunting near Big Cedar Lake, and were working up towards Gold Lake, when the accident occurred. A deer was sighted, and both men were anxious to get it. Patterson got a clear view of it first and states that he told Windsor to stoop and keep out of range. Whether the unfortunate guide did not hear him, being partially deaf, or whether he was too anxious to see the effect of the shot, is not known, but just as Patterson pulled the trigger of his rifle, Windsor moved within range and the ball went ploughing through his neck.

The deceased was well known in Peterborough, having many friends here. Last season he acted in the capacity of guide for the LeBrun party, in the vicinity of Stony Lake.

PERSONAL

Mr. Walter J. English has returned from Montreal, where he has been on a business trip.

Miss Lou Sullivan is at present the guest of her friend, Miss Minnie McHugh, in Lindsay.

Miss Fanny Grundy, Water street, is in Toronto visiting her brother, Mr. Richard Grundy.

Miss Hattie Davidson left to-day for Toronto, where she will remain a few days visiting friends.

Mr. D. A. Carey, Grand President of the R. B. A., was in Lindsay on Monday evening and delivered an address.

The Misses Bennett, of Ashburnham, who have been home from New York, visiting, for the last few weeks, returned to the Metropolis to-day.

Mrs. G. T. Gerrans left this morning by the 11.30 train for Montreal, where she will sail for England by the steamer Lake Superior of the Beaver Line.

Mr. J. S. Potter, the sailors' missionary, left Kingston the other afternoon on his western trip for work on the lakes. Of Mr. Potter's devotion and love for his work there can be no doubt, and his services so long rendered to the sailor-boys and many others along the wharves from Montreal upwards to the great lakes, are much appreciated.

The Lindsay Post says: Miss Fennellson of Peterborough, is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Parkin. It may be interesting to note that Miss Fennellson has crossed the Atlantic seventeen times, and knows England, Scotland and the continent much better than some Lindsayites know their own Province.

The Denver (Col.) Daily Hotel Bulletin makes the following reference to Mr. J. P. Stanton, formerly conductor on the G. T. R. between Peterborough and Belleville:—"J. P. Stanton, of Chicago, representing the Hotel Cabinet Co., of that city, is a guest of the New Markham Hotel. Mr. Stanton has placed a number of these handsome cabinets in hotels in this and adjoining States. Having known Mr. Stanton for over twenty years, a gentleman well known in hotel circles in this city and State says of him:—"You can vouch for Mr. Stanton in every way He is a gentleman of the highest integrity and one you may go on the bond of for any amount asked. I do not know the company he represents but I know he would not work a minute for a firm that was not as reliable as himself. I understand that he has been with the Hotel Cabinet Company for the past six or eight months. This is sufficient for me to feel that I can not only recommend Mr. Stanton, but can vouch for the company he represents. I only hope that Mr. Stanton will meet with the success his integrity and energy deserve."

WAS RETIRED

After Holding a Position on the Farm For Over Sixty-three Years—His Relatives in This Vicinity.

The Warminster and Westbury Journal (Eng.) contains an item concerning the retirement of Mr. Jas. Carpenter, of that place, who is an uncle of Mr. Geo. Carpenter, of Curtis Brickyards, and of Mr. Albert Carpenter, farmer, of Douro. He is also well known to many residents in town, whose place of nativity is in the vicinity of Warminster. The items reads as follows:

James Carpenter has just given up the post of head shepherd in Rye Hill farm after an active and faithful service of over fifty years as such. He commenced regular work on the farm in the spring of 1835 as a driver of one of the ox teams for Mr. Theophilus P. Coles. He was afterwards placed with the sheep and rose to the position of under shepherd and in the spring of 1848 on the summary discharge of the head shepherd, was advanced to that office by Mr. Edward Jeffreys, the occupier of the farm at that time, a selection he has held with credit ever since. Of his family his only son is a prosperous butcher in Queensland, and his two surviving daughters are married and doing well in Canada. Through his own frugality and a legacy lately accruing to his wife, we are glad to hear he retires with a comfortable competency, and we hope the old couple may live many years and enjoy it.

The EXAMINER is indebted to Mr. F. J. B. Mitchell for the copy of the Warminster and Westbury Journal, containing the paragraph.

People realize that if they want good seats they must get them early. No effort is being spared to make the affair a great success. The other attractions which will be incidental to the occasion will be announced later. Father Chidwick is expected back here this week. Gough's Great Sale.

In to-day's EXAMINER Gough Bros', repeat their announcement of their great lease-expiring sale of the Oak Hall stock, combined with a peremptory reduction of their over-loaded stock in their other two big stores on George street. They are determined to unload before January, 1899, and the reductions in the prices of these combined stocks during November and December will make this sale the crowning sale of the year. Last week, notwithstanding the unfavourable nature of the weather, each day of this sale was attended by unusual crowds of buyers, and people who had been hesitating about buying came and bought freely. Gough Bros. are determined to make this sale a go, although a loss is inevitable. There will not be an inch of material held in reserve, and it will be to the advantage of everyone to make selections as early as convenient. The transformation in prices ought to keep the big store crowded, "not in spurts, but all the time." Now is your chance to procure reallly dependable winter garments, boots and shoes, hats and furnishings at figures slashed to a sacrifice. Prices are on the gridiron at Gough's for the next two months—just in the nick of time, when winter comforts must be bought. Necessity has no law—so pile in and clothe yourself from head to foot at Gough Bros'. Great End-of-the-Year Sale. 3t1w

The Lindsay Post says: The Peterborough Hockey Club is a successful and prosperous institution because it has the support of the people of the town. Last year's receipts were $377.27, and the expenditures $332.61. We have the material here for a first-class team, and the officers recently appointed know how to make use of it; all that is needed is that our people should patronize the games and take a little proper pride in the team because it represents Lindsay.

Harold Armstrong has been chosen captain of the Colts. Besides being one of the Colts best players, he is very popular with all the boys and no better choice could have been made.

The following match and team committee has been appointed—Hubert McBain, Ross Dobbin and the Captain.

The Colts will come out in fine new uniform this winter. Black jerseys with bright red collars and cuffs, with a winged skate in white on the front, white knickers, stockings, lower half red and upper black, with monogram of the club worked in white on the front.

McBain, Eddie Graham and a number of the other boys have already gone into training and will be in great shape by the time the ice comes.

A QUEER CALCULATION.

The Power That Would Be Required to Move the Earth.

Statisticians sometimes have queer ideas. One of them has amused himself by calculating how much energy, water and coal it would take to move the earth a foot, supposing that it was subjected throughout its mass to a force equivalent to terrestrial gravitation. This is a gratuitous supposition, for in spite of its enormous mass the earth weighs nothing.

Starting with the fact that the earth's mass is about 6,100 million-million-million tons, our statistician calculates that we should require 70,000,000,000 years for a 10,000 horsepower engine to move our globe a foot. The boiler that should feed this engine would vaporise a quantity of water that would cover the whole face of the globe with a layer 800 feet deep. The vaporization of this water would require 4,000 million-million tons of coal. This coal carried in cars holding ten tons each and having a total length of 30 feet, would require 400 million-million cars, which would reach 80,000,000 times around the earth. This train, moving at the rate of 40 miles an hour, would take more than 5,000,000 years to traverse its own length. It would require for storage a shed that would cover 7,000 times the area of Europe.

If we realise that this fantastically huge amount of energy is nothing at all compared with what the earth possesses in virtue of its rotation about its axis, its revolution about the sun, and its translation in space with the solar system, of which the earth is but an infinitesimal part and which itself is but an infinitesimal part of the universe, we may get some idea of the importance of man in the universe and estimate his incommensurable pride at its just value. —Nature.

DANGEROUS PIGS.

The Peccary Is Wholly Fearless and Will Fight Man or Beast.

A writer in the St. Louis Republic says that the most vicious and fearless member of the brute creation is the peccary, or wild hog, of Mexico. This animal seems utterly devoid of fear and displays an intelligence in fighting man strangely at variance with its apparently complete lack of mental attributes.

Their ability to scent man is particularly marked. The only thing to do when they get after you is to run away from them as fast as a horse can carry you, and then there is no certainty that they won't catch you. They are nearly as swift as a horse, and their endurance is as great as their viciousness.

A friend of mine encountered a drove of them in a wild part of Mexico a few years ago, and his escape was almost miraculous. He very foolishly shot and wounded a number of them. Then he took refuge in a tree.

The peccaries kept him in the tree all that day and through the night. They circled round the tree, grunting and squealing their delight at the prospect of a feast. He soon exhausted his ammunition and brought down a peccary at each fire, but this had no terrors for the beasts.

Toward morning they began to eat those he had killed, after which they formed in line and trotted off. If they had not had some of their own number to devour, they would have guarded that tree until my friend, through sheer exhaustion, dropped from his perch and allowed them to make a meal of him.

The wildcats and tigers that infest the Mexican wilds flee from the peccaries with instinctive fear, and even rattlesnakes keep out of their path.

A Bit of London Weather.

Our weather is grown decidedly good for the last three days—very brisk, clear and dry. Before that it was as bad as weather at any time need be. Long continued plunges of wet, then clammy, glarry days on days of half wet (a kind of weather peculiar to London, and fully uglier than whole wet)—a world of black sunless plaister [a soft mixture, neither one thing nor another], very unpleasant to move about in! The incessant travel makes everything mud here, in spite of all that clats [a clat, a wooden scraper] and besoms can do. A kind of mud, too, which is as fine as paint and actually almost sticks like a kind of paint. It took, at last, into the country, with [illegible] clothes and trousers folded up. There the mud was natural mud, and far less of it; indeed little of it in comparison with other country. We dry again in a [illegible] of brisk wind.—Carlyle Coll. in Atlantic.

PLAYED A WAR GAME.

HOW THE BIG MAN FLEECED THE SUBSTITUTE BROKERS.

The Tricky Six Footer Worked His Physical Defect to the Limit and Reaped a Rich Harvest While the Opportunity Lasted.

During the civil war in what was then a pretty village of Michigan and has since become a city without losing any of its beauty lived a strapping six footer who looked as hard as nails, dressed well, talked smoothly and was set up like a soldier. He had no means of support visible to the naked eye in the village which he called home, but he would make occasional trips from which he returned with plenty of money and a fund of interesting talk about some section of the north. The people thought him a mystery, but he was a pleasant one, and curiosity never went further than to ask ingenious questions that were just as ingeniously parried. After his harvest was at an end the mystery explained himself without reserve, and no one expressed serious disapproval of the way in which his wits had won him his money.

"It was a simple case of diamond cut diamond," he laughed. "I've been taking fleeces from the fellow that went out to shear. I'm not an Apollo Belvedere, Diomedes or Samson in appearance, but I pass in a crowd as a fine specimen of physical development. The truth is that I'm a whited sepulcher. I was born with a defective heart and would not take three minutes of real violent exercise for all the money you could load on a freight train. I take things easy all along the line, and the engine keeps pumping up to requirements.

"When I could see the end of what property was left me, and it was not far away, I cast about for some light work to do and concluded to deal with the substitute brokers. There was no chance of meeting the required medical examinations, so I took another tack. Whenever I visited a place in my business, I'd manage incidentally to fall in with the broker. I'm better than a raw hand as a jollier, and I'd soon have some mutual friends as innocent parties in the play.

"When it came in naturally, I'd chaff the broker about his business and ask what kind of a soldier I'd make. He would either jump open mouthed at the proposition or chaff back under an impression that I would never think of going to war. In either case it would usually come to some kind of a proposition from the broker. Then the other fellows would guy me, intimate that I was a bluffer and wonder how I was to get out of the thing without a clear funk.

"Here's where my fine work came in. I'd demand a retainer, and I'd put it high enough just to make the broker think that I was trying to escape him. If he would pay me a specified sum down, I would agree to appear at the recruiting office the next day and offer my services, but I gave notice that I assumed no chances. If they would not have me, the broker must stand the loss. The idea of my being rejected always raised a laugh and only tended to confirm the broker in the belief that I was trying to escape him. When the doctor turned me down, I went into the dumps, became nervously timid, aroused the sympathy of those with whom I had become acquainted and snapped an order to the disgruntled broker to keep clear away from me.

"The best haul I made was in Pittsburg. A coal baron there who could not well enlist and who had not been drafted wanted a representative in the army who would make a name honorable to that of the principal. He was after a big, handsome, intelligent fellow of whom he could be proud and put the whole matter into the hands of a shrewd little broker. I managed to meet him at the Monongahela House, and I worked around to the main subject in the manner I have described, but I could see that he was sharp and did not like to run any chances.

"While he went to dinner, after which we were to resume our talk, I went out and had a short conference with a huge truckman. When I again met the broker, that truckman insisted on bothering us and, after showing a proper amount of patience, I threw him half way across the office, and he went limping out, while all observers grew wide eyed in their wonder. I did not exert enough strength to throw a half grown boy five feet, but the truckman knew his business, and was paid $20 for attending to it.

"That apparently cool courage and gigantic strength removed all doubt from the mind of the broker. I was the man he wanted, and he wanted me badly. I stuck out till I got $2,000 as a 'retainer,' and then was rejected. I felt like giving the money back when the millionaire came around to condole with me and tell how disappointed he was in not having me for a substitute, but I didn't. It would have been an admission that I was not in a legitimate line of business."—Detroit Free Press.

HEART PAINS

The Heart and Nerves are Often Affected and Cause Prostration of the Entire System.

A Kingston Lady Testifies to Her Experience in the Use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

People who suffer from any disease or disorder of the heart nervous system, such as Palpitation, Skip Beats, Smothering or Sinking Sensations, Sleeplessness, Weakness, Pain in the Head, etc., cannot afford to waste time trying various remedies, which have nothing more to back up their claims than the bold assertions of their proprietors.

These diseases are too serious to permit of your experimenting with untried remedies. When you buy Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, you know you have behind them the testimony of thousands of Canadians who have been cured by their use. One of these is Mrs. A. W. Irish, 92 Queen Street, Kingston, Ont., who writes as follows:

"I have suffered for some years with a smothering sensation caused by heart disease. The severity of the pains in my heart caused me much suffering. I was also very nervous, and my whole system was run down and debilitated.

"Hearing of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills being a specific for these troubles, I thought I would try them, and therefore got a box at McLeod's Drug Store.

"They afforded me great relief, having toned up my system and removed the distressing symptoms from which I suffered. I can heartily recommend these wonderful pills to all sufferers from heart trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills CURE NOVEMBER ILLS.

GENERAL DEBILITY CURED.

From the Advertiser, Hartland, N. B.

Ralph Giberson, postmaster of Monquart, Carleton Co., N. B., is also known as a prosperous agriculturist and enthusiast in his line. Now stalwart and rugged, weighing 250 pounds he scarce would be recognized as the man who six months ago was the picture of one suffering the terrible symptoms of general debility. He was run down in health, suffered much from dizziness, almost blindness, general dullness and depression of spirits. He had a poor appetite and such food as he ate gave him great distress. He was incapacitated for the work that fell upon him and was well nigh utterly discouraged. The symptoms bordered on to those by which hypochondria is manifested. Through reading the Advertiser he learned of the particular benefit that several of his friends in this vicinity had received by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the hope held out by their testimonials he secured a supply and took them according to directions. The result was almost magical; soon his symptoms became less disagreeable and he steadily gained until now he is perfectly free from his old troubles. He gladly and freely gives this testimonial, that all who may read it may know the remedy if ever they are troubled with general debility.

WEAK AND RUN DOWN.

Among many in Ottawa and the vicinity who have been benefitted one way or another by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the Journal has learned of the case of Mrs. Gilchrist, wife of Mr. T. V. Gilchrist, of Hintonburgh. Mr. Gilchrist keeps a grocery at the corner of Fourth Ave. and Cedar street, and is well known to great many people in Ottawa as well as to the villagers of this suburb of the Capital. Mrs. Gilchrist states that while in a "run down" condition during the spring of 1897, she was greatly strengthened and built up by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Speaking of the matter to a Journal reporter, she stated that while able to go about at the time she was far from well; her blood was poor, she was subject to headaches, and felt tired after the slightest exertion. She had read at different times of cures affected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. She was benefited by the first box and continued their use until she had taken five boxes, when she considered herself quite recovered. Mrs. Gilchrist says that she always strongly recommends Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a builder and strengthener, when any of her friends are weak or ailing.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Mr. M. Carroll, of Roland, Man., writes:—"While living at Sydney, Man., I wrote you informing you that your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured me of rheumatism of twenty-five years standing, after many other medicines had failed. I am pleased to again write you and say that the cure has been permanent, as after a lapse of several years, there has been no return of the trouble. I sincerely hope my experience will be the means of helping some other poor sufferer."

CURED OF SCIATICA.

Mr. C. Thornton, Bluvale, Ont., says:—"About seven years ago I rented my farm, and moved into this village, where I have since carried on business as a pumpmaker. In the fall of 1895 I was attacked with sciatica, and for more than a month suffered intensely. I took medical treatment but it did not help. Then a druggist advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; under this treatment the sciatica was banished, and I have not since felt any return of it."

GAINED TWENTY-THREE POUNDS.

Mr. Arthur Piper, Dixville, Que., says:—"Last autumn I became very weak, my whole constitution seemed to be undermined, and I lost flesh rapidly. I had no appetite, the least exertion tired me, and the words 'felt miserable' will best describe my feelings. Having read so much concerning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I determined to try them, and the results were most beneficial. Astounding as it may seem, I gained twenty-three pounds in three weeks, and I am now feeling as well as ever I did in my life. To those who feel as I did, I would say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will speedily cure them."

WASTING AWAY.

Mrs. J.N. Gordon, Cataraqui, Ont., says:—"If I could not have got Dr. William's Pink Pill I believe I would not now be living. I was wasted away to a shadow, and my hands were literally transparent. I had a hacking cough, could not sleep and could scarcely eat. Doctors having failed to help me, I determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and was soon gratified to find that they were helping me. I continued their use for several months, and am thankful to say that they have fully restored my health. I consider Dr. William's Pink Pills a blessing to humanity."

November Ills.

November is a dangerous month. The cold, the damp, the sudden changes that foretell the coming winter attack those unprepared for their assault.

Sohley to Get Sea Duty.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 14.—Admiral Sohley, having asked again for sea service, has been promised the command of the European squadron, which will be reestablished in a short time with some of the finest cruisers in the navy, to exhibit the American flag creditably to the European nations.

Hard on the Reporters.

"I had a strange dream the other night," said the major.

"What was it?" asked the young thing.

"I went to heaven, and as an old newspaper man was interested in their journal up there. It was a miserable thing; not a well written story in it, and I told St. Peter so."

"What did he say?"

"He said: 'It's not our fault. We never get any good reporters up here.'"—Philadelphia Press.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

RETROSPECT.

When you were here, I often sat
Love silent with you half the day;
There was small need of speech in that
Sweet converse of the blended way.

Now you are gone, and hour by hour
I muse of things I long to share;
There's not a bud, a leaf, a flower,
But helps me miss you everywhere.

My lonely heart enspheres the past
With ether caught from heaven's gold;
I dream of bliss too sweet to last,
And then I waken, starved and cold.

For by that solitary path
That outward leads from mortal ken
You walked, and here am I and faith
And jostling crowds of careless men.

I've touched the inmost core of pain
In creeping days, each day a year,
Yet might I sit tongue tied again
If you were here, if you were here.

CHESS CLOCKS.

There Are Specially Constructed Ones Used in the Game.

Hourglasses or sand glasses were formerly used for the purpose of measuring time at chess matches, but now specially constructed clocks are in general use for this purpose. These clocks consist of two clocks, mounted on a common base, which moves on a pivot, the two clocks therefore being on the arms of a sort of seesaw. The beam or base is so constructed that when one clock is elevated it stands perfectly perpendicular, while the depressed clock lies over at an angle, but as the mechanism of each clock is so constructed that it only moves when the clock is perfectly perpendicular it follows that when the upright clock is going the depressed clock is at rest.

Another and more modern variety has the two clocks fixed on the same level, but with a small brass arm reaching from the top of one to the top of the other. This arm acts on a pivot and can be brought down into actual contact with one clock at a time by a touch of the finger. When it is thus in contact, by an ingenious device the clock is stopped and the desired result is attained. The working of the clock during a match is simplicity itself. At the commencement of the match the hands of each clock point to 12. Then at the call of "time to commence play," the clock of the first player is started; then, as soon as he makes his first move, he stops his own clock, either by depressing it or by touching the arm referred to, the same motion starting his opponent's clock. So it goes on during the entire course of the game, each move being marked by the stopping of one clock and the starting of the other.—Leisure Hour.

The Pony Express.

W. F. Bailey contributes to The Century an article on "The Pony Express," between St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco. Mr. Bailey says:

At first the schedule was fixed at 10 days, an average of 8 miles an hour from start to finish. This was cut down to 8 days, requiring an average speed of 10 miles. The quickest trip made was in carrying President Lincoln's inaugural address, which was done in 7 days and 17 hours, an average speed of 10.7 miles per hour, the fastest time of any one rider being 120 miles, from Smith's Creek to Fort Churchill, by Pony Bob, in 8 hours and 10 minutes, or 14.7 miles per hour. Considering the distance and difficulties encountered, such as hostile Indians, road agents, floods and snowstorms, and accidents to horses and riders, the schedule was maintained to an astonishing degree. The service created the greatest enthusiasm not only among the employees, but also in the ranks of stage employees, freighters and residents along the route. To aid a "pony" in difficulty was a privilege, and woe be to the man who would so much as throw a stone in the way.

The Neapolitan and His Horse.

The Italians are not remarkable for kindness to animals, but rather the reverse. They have, however, a story of a Neapolitan driver notorious for his ill treatment of his horse. After death the man presented himself at the gate of paradise, but was refused admittance. He was recommended, however, to apply at the neighboring paradise of animals, if haply he might find favor there. The driver did so, and, lo, the door was opened to him by the very same poor, starved, wornout old hack on which he had been wont to shower his blows and curses, now transformed into a celestial steed of wondrous beauty. But, alas, the horse had not yet learned forgiveness, and here, too, the driver met with rejection.—Westminster Review.

He Wasn't Afraid.

Little Tommy and his younger sister were going to bed without a light. They had just reached the bottom of the stairs, when Tommy, after vainly endeavoring to pierce the darkness, turned round and asked:

"Ma, is it polite for a gentleman to precede a lady when they have to walk in single file?"

"No, my son," replied the mother, "the lady should always take the lead."

"I thought so," said Tommy delightedly; "go ahead, Sue."—Pearson's Weekly.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

Biliousness, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, disturbed sleep, nervousness, headache, giddiness and drowsiness, wind and pain or fullness of the stomach after meals, cold chills and flushings of heat, shortness of breath—these are the blank cheques of physical bankruptcy. Take them to a physician and he will fill them up with the name of some more or less serious disease. Every time that you carry one of them to him you draw out some of your funds in the Bank of Health. Keep it up, and there will soon be no funds in the treasury.

The man who suffers from these disorders and neglects them will soon be in the relentless grasp of some fatal disease. If he is naturally narrow chested and shallow lunged, it will probably be consumption; if his father or mother died of paralysis or some nervous trouble, it will probably be nervous exhaustion or prostration, or even insanity; if there is a taint in the family blood, it will be blood or skin disease; if he lives in a new or a low, swampy country, it will be malaria; if he lives a life of exposure, it may be rheumatism. There is just one safe course for a man to follow who finds himself out of sorts and suffering from the symptoms described. It is to resort to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine makes the appetite keen, corrects all disorders of the digestion, renders assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and builds firm, healthy flesh and nerve tissue. It cures almost all diseases that result from insufficient or improper nourishment of the brain and nerves. Bronchial, throat, and even lung affections, when not too far advanced, readily yield to it.

"I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for Eczema," writes J. W. Barnhart, of No. 446 De Witt Street, Buffalo, N. Y., "and it completely cured me."

CHERRY RIPE.

There is a garden in her face
Where roses and white lilies grow;
A heavenly paradise is that place
Wherein all pleasant fruits do flow.
There cherries grow which none may buy
Till "Cherry ripe" themselves do cry.

Those cherries fairly do inclose
Of orient pearl a double row,
Which when her lovely laughter shows
They look like rosebuds filled with snow.
Yet them nor peer nor prince can buy
Till "Cherry ripe" themselves do cry.

Her eyes like angels watch them still,
Her brows like bended bows do stand,
Threatening with piercing frowns to kill
All that attempt with eye or hand
Those sacred cherries to come nigh
Till "Cherry ripe" themselves do cry.

THE SLY POLAR BEAR.

How He Gets His Dinner of Seal or Walrus Meat.

In his native home the polar bear does not often meet with small boys anxious to treat him to buns and other dainties. The consequence is that bruin has to devise many curious ways of securing his food, and none is more strange and interesting than that related by two trustworthy travelers in Greenland, that country of strange sights.

They have known the polar bear to take a stone or a huge lump of ice in his fore paws and from a favorable height, as a cliff or a precipitous ice hill, to hurl the missile down upon the head of a walrus, an enormous brute often twice the size of the bear, and so stun him that bruin could rush in and complete the destruction at his leisure, thus securing a month's rations.

The most usual food of the ice bear, as the Germans very appropriately call this beast, is the common seal of the arctic regions. The latter is the wariest animal of the north, and both Eskimo and polar bear need their best strategy to catch it.

In the summer time, when the snow is off the ice of the ocean shore and inlets, the seals can be plainly seen as black dots on the ice, probably asleep, but always near their holes, which lead down through the thick ice to the water below, and into which they can throw themselves by the least movement. Bruin, seeing one afar, walks up as near as he deems safe and then begins crawling on his wary prey.

The seal, if the weather be sunny and pleasant, takes short naps, relieved by shorter moments when it is scanning the vicinity for signs of an enemy's approach. During these times the bear is very quiet and as still as death itself, with eyes apparently closed, though really a corner of each is kept open, and in this way he hopes the seal will take him for a heap of snow, an appearance which his coat readily helps him to assume.

During the naps he creeps forward with greater or less rapidity, according to his nearness to the seal and consequent fear of being heard or seen. When but 10 or 12 yards away, and the seal is in the depths of a good nap, the bear rushes upon him and with a single blow of his powerful paw knocks the smaller brute senseless and, so far away from the hole that he cannot escape by that way, even if the blow received is not immediately fatal.

In winter time the ice is covered with snow, and this is hollowed out by the seal into a snowhouse, covering the hole in the ice and connecting at the top of the dome with an aperture about the size of a shilling, called the blowhole, for it is through this that the seal breathes when he is in want of fresh air.

Here the bear watches for many a long hour if necessary, and when the snorts of the seal are heard he crushes in the fragile dome of the snowhouse with his paw, impaling the seal on his curved claws, and proceeds to practically demonstrate how polar bears can subsist in a arctic winter.—London Telegraph.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE

It Suited.

The other afternoon I was in a gentleman's outfitting shop when a customer came in to purchase a hat. He tried on several and was evidently hard to please, the counter becoming covered with the rejected. At last the salesman picked up a brown felt bowler, brushed it round with his arm and extended it admiringly.

"These are being very much worn this season, sir," he explained.

"Are they?" said the customer thoughtfully, surveying himself in the mirror, with his hat on his head. "Do you think it suits me?"

"Suits you to perfection, sir, if the fit's right."

"Yes, it fits very well. So you think I had better have it?"

"I don't think you could do better, sir."

"No, I don't think I could, so I won't have a new one."

The salesman had been praising up the old hat.—Pearson's Weekly.

A "Steele Bargain."

Adam Steele of Shelby county once rented a tanyard to a Mr. Jones on shares. His idea was to risk in the business only the use of his tanyard and not to incur any further liability.

So he protected himself by the following safe clause in the contract:

"If anything is made, the said Steele is to have it, and if anything is lost the said Jones is to lose it."

And this is known in Shelby as a regular Adam Steele bargain to this day.—Lexington (Ky.) Gazette.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

The Making of Citron.

The making of candied peel or what we call citron is a complicated process. A correspondent in Italy of The Table in London gives an account of a visit to a factory devoted to this industry. The fruit from which the finished product is made is like a large lemon eight or ten pounds in weight. It grows in groves in Corsica and Calabria upon trees about six feet in height. The first process is to cut the fruit in halves and take out the cores, which are discarded. The peel is then sealed in barrels of salt water for two or three weeks. It is then withdrawn and soaked for 21 days in a succession of sirups, beginning with eight parts of sugar to 20 of water until the final one contains 90 parts of sugar to one of water.

The fruit thus treated is then cooked in a number of large caldrons, where it simmers for 24 hours. When cool, it is skimmed, cooked again with fresh sirup, cooled and cooked a third time. While still hot it is packed in wooden boxes, in which it is sold by wholesale. The peel thus treated will keep for ten years, although the fresher it is the better. The slightly bitter flavor of preserved citron is caused by the soaking in salt water. Two hundred people are employed in the factory. The women receive 18 cents a day.

Not Very Pathetic.

An Ohio woman visiting Boston for the first time has been doing the sights. "I had my greatest thrill down at Copp's Hill burying ground," she said.

"Yes, that's just the place for the historic emotions," commented her interlocutor. She smiled.

"As soon as my sister-in-law and I got into the place," she said, "I found myself almost stepping upon a grave with an inscription on a queer little iron cover sort of tomb. I jumped back, feeling the way you do when you step on a grave, and read the inscription, just three initials, no name or date. 'Isn't it pathetic?' I said to my sister-in-law. 'Oh, I don't know,' she answered, 'B. W. W. means Boston Water Works.'"—Boston Transcript.

Hourglasses In a London Church.

Nearly everybody is aware that at one time it was the custom in many churches to regulate the length of the sermon by an hourglass, which stood on the pulpit immediately fronting the preacher. Quite a number of these curious relics are preserved in various ecclesiastical edifices throughout the land, but the British and Foreign Sailors' church, situated in what was formerly Ratcliff highway, is the only one possessing four. They are in perfect preservation, and are fixed all together in a framework of solid brass.—London Fit-Bits.

It is said that 95 per cent of Chinese children suffer from throat worms, which is attributed to bad weather and eating vegetables raw.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment...

Endorsed by Dr. C. M. Harlan of the American Journal of Health

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE....

He says:—Among the proprietary medicines recognized in Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Piles, Eruptions and Eczemaic Skin Diseases, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

MR. O. P. ST. JOHN, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

A CHICAGO DUN'S WRINKLE.

Use of a Young Woman In Collecting a Bill From an Obstinate Debtor.

"Speaking of collecting bills," said the man from the west, "we have a most effective method in Chicago. There instead of young men they employ young women. I tried it myself, and it worked like magic. A fellow by the name of Green owed me a small bill, a matter, I think, of $17 or so. It seemed impossible to make him pay it, so I engaged the services of a pretty and stylish girl. I sent her around to his office. He was out. She called again. He was still out, but, nothing daunted, she made the third and the fourth call. The fourth time he was in, but he firmly refused to pay the bill.

"'Look here, Mr. Green,' said the girl, 'I will make a proposition to you. If you will pay 5 cents a day on this bill, I will call each day and collect that amount until you have paid it in full.'

"But Green was a hard party. He again refused, and the girl left the office apparently crestfallen. The next day she did not call at his office, but she did call at his house. The door was opened by the servant.

"'Is Mr. Green in?' asked the young woman.

"'No, ma'am.'

"The girl left, but it seems that the servant duly reported the call of the pretty and stylish young woman who was so anxious to see Mr. Green to his wife. The next day when the young woman again called the wife hung over the banisters, taking a peep at the caller on her own account. The young woman asked if Mr. Green was in.

"'No, ma'am,' answered the servant, 'but his wife is.' The wife had told her to say this, of course.

"'His wife!' stammered the girl. 'Why, has Mr. Green a wife?'

"The wife, hanging over the banisters, heard this. She turned pale and gasped for air, while the girl, seemingly very much confused and distressed at her discovery, went on down the steps and into the street. It is impossible to say just what happened at that house that night, whether pokers and curling tongs were hurled or the furniture torn from its foundations and flung madly about or the roof was raised skyward, but one thing I do know—the next day Green promptly paid the $17, and the girl didn't call at his office for it either. He came around and handed me the money himself, and he seemed to think he was getting off pretty easy at that."—New York Sun.

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Welcome the Coming, Speed the Parting, Governor.

The arrival of the Earl of Minto, at Quebec on Saturday, a few hours in advance of the departure of the Earl of Aberdeen, was very opportune, as it enabled Lord Aberdeen, who has so completely won the esteem of Canadians, to join with in welcoming their new Governor-General and to assist in the inauguration of his successor. The Earl of Minto, as Governor-General, was then also enabled to take part in Canada's farewell to Lord Aberdeen, so that nothing was lacking in the double demonstration by which the old obligation to welcome the coming and speed the parting guest was carried through. The Earl of Minto, though a comparatively young Governor-General, is an old friend of Canada, for quite a long period in the life of so young a nation as the Dominion has sped by since the Earl of Minto, as Lord Melgund, was military secretary to Lord Lansdowne during the early part of his regime, and as chief of the staff to Sir Frederick Middleton in the beginning of the North-West rebellion served Canada and the Empire in Canada with honour and distinction. During their stay in Canada Lord and Lady Melgund made many friends, who will gladly welcome them back, and they will as the representatives of Her Majesty the Queen, be warmly received by all the people. Lord Minto will have the advantage of being thoroughly acquainted with Canada and its people and his high office, to which in a manner he has been trained. This was Lord Minto's only colonial service, we believe, but as a soldier he had served the empire in Afghanistan, in South Africa, in Egypt and in Turkey, as well as in the Canadian Northwest, for which he holds the medal and clasp. Many of Canada's governors have also been Viceroys of India. Lord Minto will connect Canada with India, as his great grand-father, Sir Gilbert Elliott, was viceroy of India early in the century.

Man's Life is a Game of Cards.

First it is "cribbage." Next he tries "to go it alone," in a stiff of "cut, shuffle and deal" pace. Then he raises the "game" while his mother "takes a hand in," and, contrary to Hoyle, "beats the little joker with her fives." Then with his "diamonds" he wins the "queen of hearts," tired of playing "a lone hand," he expresses a desire to "euchre" his fair "partner," "throws out his cards," and the clergyman takes a ten dollar bill out of him for a "pair." Also "gathers him up" to build the fire. Like a "flower" he joins the "ghits," when he often gets "high or too low." If he keeps "sublime" he is sometimes "flush." He grows old and "stiff," sees a "deal" of trouble, and oh last he "shuffles off his mortal coil and "passes in his checks," and he is "raised in" by a "spade." Life's game is ended and he waits the payment of Calpha's "trump" which shall "order him up."

AN IRISHMAN ON DREYFUS.

"I see be th' pa-apers," said Mr. Dooley, "that Colonel Hanbury, th' man that sint me frind Cap'n Dhryfuss to th' cage, has moved on. I suppose they'll give th' Cap a new thrile now."

"I hope they won't," said Mr. Hennessy. "I don't know anything about it, but I think he's guilty. He's a Jew."

"Well," said Mr. Dooley, "ye'r thoughts on this subject is intherestin', but not conclusive, as Danny said to th' Polack that thought he cud fight him. Ye have a r-right to ye'r opinion, an' ye'll hold it anyhow, whether ye have a r-right to it or not. Like most iv ye'r fellow citizens, ye start impartial. Ye don't know anything about th' case.

"If ye knew anything ye'd not have an opinyon wan way or th' other. There'as niver been a matther come up in my time that th' American people was so sure about as they ar're about th' Dhryfuss case. Th' Frinch ar're not so sure; but they'as not a pottheen in this counthry that can't tell ye where Dhryfuss was whin th' remains iv th' poor girl was found. That's because th' thrile was secret. If 'twas an open thrile an' ye heard th' tistmony an' knew th' languages an' saw th' safe afther 'twas blown open, ye'd be puzzled an' not sure a rush whether Dhryfuss was naked in a cage or takin' toy with his uncle at th' Benny Brith Club

"I haven't made up me mind whether th' Cap done th' shootin' or not. He was certainly in th' neighbourhood whin th' fire started, and th' police dug up quite a lot iv lead pipe in th' back yard. But 'tis wan thing to suspect a man iv doin' a job, and another thing to prove that he didn't do it. Me frind Zola thinks he's innocint an' raised th' divvle at th' thrile.

"I've heard that whin th' judge came on th' bench an' opined th' court, Zola was settin' down below with th' lawyers.

"'Let us proceed,' says th' impartial an' fair-minded judge, to th' thrile iv th' haynious monsther, Cap Dhryfuss,' he says.

"Up jumpe Zola, an' says he in French, 'Jackuse!' he says, which is a mane thing to say to anny man, an' they thrun him out.

"'Judge,' says th' attorney f'r th' difinse, 'gintlemin iv th' jury,' he says.

"'Ye'er a liar,' says th' judge. 'Cap, yer guilty, an' ye know it,' he says. 'Let us proceed to hearin' th' tistimony,' he says. 'Call all th' witnesses at wanst,' he says, 'an' have thim hey' it on th' flure,' he says.

"By this time Zola had come back, an' he 'umps up, an' says he, 'Jackuse!' he says, and they thrun him out.

"'Th' court,' says th' judge, 'is always r-ready to difind the honor iv France,' he says, 'an' if larned counsel will constrain,' he says, 'to step up here f'r a minit,' he says, 'th' court'll put a sthrangle hold on him that'll not do him a bit iv good,' he says. "'Call Col. Hinery,' says th' court.

"'He rayfuses to answer.'

"'Good, th' case is clear. Cap forged th' will. Th' court will now adjourn f'r doole, an' all indith' officers iv th' army not in disgrace already will assimble in jail and commit suicide,' he says.

"What's he charged with?" Mr. Hennessey asked in bewilderment.

"I'll niver tell ye," says Mr. Dooley. "It's too much to ask."

"Well, anyhow," said Mr. Hennessy, he's guilty, ye can bet on that."—Peter Dunn, in "Chicago Evening Journal."

MANY GO INSANE

Women's Burdens are Heavy and Hard to Bear.

Unless Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used, Then Diseases of Women are Cured, and Suffering Ceases—Mrs. Ellen Dowson's Case.

Toronto, Nov. 14—The daily papers from day to day contain reports of the wrecking of once happy homes, through the insanity of mothers, whose reason has been destroyed by illness.

Women's burdens are many and heavy, and hard to bear. They are, as a rule, borne in silence, for women don't want to incur the expense of calling in the doctor; they don't want to worry their husbands. They continue suffering in silence, while their ailments are sapping their strength, undermining their health and reason, and hurrying them to the grave.

It is needless to call in a doctor in most of such cases. The suffering woman can cure herself at very small expense. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the remedy she needs.

In ninety-nine of every hundred cases of "Female Complaints," the trouble has its origin in diseased Kidneys. Very soon the urinary, and reproductive organs are involved, and the sufferer becomes a frail and wasted shadow of her former self.

By restoring the Kidneys to sound health and so assuring their prompt and proper action, "Female Complaints" can be quickly, thoroughly and permanently cured.

Mrs. Ellen Dowson, 640 Gerrard St. E., has discovered the value of Dodd's Kidney Pills in these cases. She writes: "For over six years I suffered intensely with Palpitation of the Heart and Female Weakness. One of Toronto's best doctors attended me, and I used many different medicines, but got no relief, till I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have taken eight boxes, and am completely cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills will do for all suffering women what they did for Mrs. Dowson. Test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

ELEVEN WERE KILLED

Terrible Accident on the Grand Trunk Railway.

A SCORE OF PEOPLE INJURED.

A Passenger Train Dashed Into a Freight Owing to a Misplaced Switch Near Trenton—A Dozen Dead Bodies Taken Out—Passengers Buried Beneath the Wreck.

Trenton, Nov. 16.—The Grand Trunk train which left Montreal for the west on Monday evening at 8 o'clock met with terrible disaster at Murray Hill, a couple of miles west of this town, shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning. When running at full speed, the express, which is known as No. 5, crashed headlong and head on, into an eastbound freight, which was heavily loaded. The result of the collision was simply appalling. The driver and fireman of No. 5 met instant death, the former dying with his hand on the lever, while by a mere miracle the engineer of the freight—Thomas Ivens, driver, and Alex. Topping, fireman—only saved their lives by jumping in answer to a brakeman's warning that the express was upon them.

But it was among the passengers of the second-class car that the hand of death was dealt. Nine persons in this car were killed outright and a score were wounded, several perhaps fatally. Nearly all the dead were so frightfully mangled that identifications were made most difficult. Several bodies are still unidentified.

Roll of the Dead.

William Brady of Belleville, driver of the passenger train.

John Macdonald of Belleville, fireman on the passenger train.

John Casey of Belleville, engine driver, going west, as a passenger.

William Lunness of Toronto, drover.

Charles Goodchild of Toronto, drover.

—. Conlin, father of the Conlin family, (German).

—. Conlin, mother of the German family.

—. Conlin, daughter of above.

—. Conlin, daughter of above.

One man, unknown.

One woman, unknown.

Those Who Were Injured.

George Paulin, cattle dealer, of Cheslay, Ont., now in General Hospital, Toronto; injured about the head and body.

William Kinnear of Prescott, laborer; ear partially torn off and other injuries.

Alexander Walker of Belleville, fireman, G.T.R.; leg broken, scalp wound, thighs bruised.

James Newman, 141 John street, Toronto, G.T.R. trainman; scalp wound, lip badly torn.

Albert Tracey of Toronto, farm hand; slight injuries.

John McNamara of Brockville, G.T.R. fireman; probably fatally injured.

L. Leblanc of Montreal, G.T.R. baggageman; head badly crushed.

A. Carey of Cobourg, cattleman; injuries probably fatal.

Frederick Cain of Welland, seriously injured.

John Powers of Orono; severe scalp wound.

Frederick Conlin, German, compression of skull.

C. A. Winter of Montreal, express messenger; bruises.

Fred. Tuck of Montreal, mail clerk; arms injured.

Alexander Beatty of Toronto, mail clerk; legs injured.

N. Sloan of Toronto, mail clerk; wrist injured.

How It Happened.

All went well till No. 5 ran into Trenton, at 4 a.m., sharp on time. Between Sydney and Murray Hill, about two and a half miles west of Trenton, is a piece of single track, connecting the double tracks. No 5 ran along the south of the double track, over the single track, and, instead of taking the south of the double tracks, the train took the north of the double tracks on which was the freight running east. Here was where the fatal error occurred. The official report of the accident sent out from Montreal says that Engineer Brady of No. 5 took the eastbound track in the face of switch and signals set against it, and proceeded until it collided with the freight on the eastbound track. There are several versions as to how the passenger train crossed the switch to the wrong track, the truth of which will come out at the inquest, which opens at Brighton this morning.

The Fatal Car.

No. 5 express consisted of an express car, mail car, baggage car, second-class car, first-class car and two Pullmans. The two locomotives, when they crashed together, were struck into a solid mass. The man on the express car, C. A. Winters of Montreal, escaped with slight bruises; the mail clerks, Fred. Tuck of Montreal, Alexander Beatty of 114 Sherbourne street, Toronto, and N. Sloan of 71 Rose avenue, Toronto, escaped death, as also did Baggageman Leblanc in the baggage car, but in the second-class car, where there were about 30 passengers, the disaster was awful. This car, in the middle of the train, was smashed to splinters and no man, woman or child escaped death or serious injury. Those in the first-class car and the two Pullmans received only a shock, but none of these passengers were hurt.

Caring for the Wounded.

It was very dark when the collision occurred and all was chaos. The trainmen on the freight who were uninjured, immediately joined those who had escaped on the passenger train in the work of rescue. Lights were procured and the dead and wounded taken out of the wreck. Doctors were sent from Belleville and Trenton and the wounded taken to the hospital at Belleville, while the bodies found were removed to this town. The passengers who escaped were sent on to Toronto.

Organizer Smith on Board.

On the ill-fated train was Liberal Organizer Smith of Toronto. "I occupied a berth in the rear Pullman," said Mr. Smith, "and was asleep. The shock threw me forcibly against the roof of the car, and then out into the aisle. I picked up my clothes, and ran out to the front. The cars in front were a mountain of debris, and the moaning was frightful. Entering the door of the first-class car, I found that the baggage car had been driven through to the fourth seat, after being telescoped clean through the intervening second-class, and ripping out all the lamps. Bonfires were now flaring at the roadside, and we could see to do the work of rescue.

"The coolness of the G.T.R. hands was admirable, and doubtless saved a number of lives. Among the best workers was Major D. Robertson of the 48th Highlanders."

The Official Report.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—The following is the official and corrected report of the railway accident near Murray Hill yesterday morning:

At 4.45 Tuesday morning train No. 5, engine 778, Engineer Brady, Conductor Purdon, in passing from the single to the double track at Murray Hill, took the eastbound track in the face of switch and signals set against it, and proceeded until it collided with No. 96, engine 712, Engineer Ivens, Conductor Deavitt, one and a half miles west of Murray Hill, badly wrecking the two engines.

Engineer Brady and his fireman were killed, together with Engineer Casey, who was a passenger on No. 5, and three other passengers on No. 5, and 14 passengers injured.

Doctors were immediately procured from Belleville and Trenton and attended to the injured, who subsequently were taken in charge of Dr. J. A. Hutchison, chief medical officer, to Belleville, where they were placed in the hospital.

The Inquest.

Brighton, Nov. 16.—The coroner's inquest in connection with the Murray Hill disaster opens here at 10.30 a.m. to-day.

Six Years for McInerny.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—James McInerny, the Dundas man convicted of an unnatural offense a week ago, came before Judge Snider for sentence yesterday. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, McInerny solemnly declared that he was innocent. The judge said that the evidence left no doubt in his mind of prisoner's guilt. The offense was a brutal one, accomplished by cruelty, and the sentence was that McInerny go to the Kingston Penitentiary for six years. Prisoner's wife, mother and sister were present, and a painful scene ensued.

The Banquet in the Toronto Pavilion Complete in Its Success—Between Four and Five Hundred of the Leading Liberals of Ontario Present at the Demonstration—The Speeches.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—The Liberalism of Ontario was militant last night. Hon. Mr. Hardy is a fighting chieftain, and his supporters gathered from every corner of the Province to do him honor, to testify to the esteem in which they hold his leadership, to show, too, the spirit in which they face the political duties of the present hour. The Ontario Liberal Association and the Toronto Reform Association were the Premier's joint hosts, and the 450 men who tested the Pavilion's accommodation showed that it was Ontario as well as Toronto that greeted the Premier. Fully one-half of the guests came from outside places, and every corner of the province which Mr. Hardy administers sent its quota to cheer him. The tribute to the Premier's high qualities was an absolute success. It was a success not only in the unprecedented numbers who attended, and in the distances from which they traveled, but in the high level of the speaking.

HON. A. S. HARDY.

The Premier's Speech.

The Premier's speech was a splendid effort, calm in point of delivery, powerfully conceived, uncompromising in its championing of Liberal principles, and keen in its analysis of the attacks to which he has been subjected. It was in Mr. Hardy's best fighting style. A brilliant array of speakers supported him.

Hon. Clifford Sifton.

Great interest attached to Hon. Clifford Sifton's appearance, and the Minister of the Interior gave his audience an exceedingly fine example of the practical man dealing with practical subjects. The stirring tale of the way in which was grappled the great work of opening up Canada's resources, of removing the obstacles which have stood in the way of her progress, was told in an admirably lucid manner, and was listened to with profound attention. A feature of the evening was Mr. Hardy's tribute to Mr. Sifton, and the burst of applause which the mention of his name elicited.

Other Great Speakers.

Hon. Mr. Mulock and Hon. William Paterson dealt with several aspects of Dominion affairs in excellent style, and Hon. Mr. Ross, as usual, showed himself a consummate after-dinner speaker in his handling of political issues. Not a hitch marred a splendidly-managed and most enthusiastic demonstration, the political and the personal significance of which were evenly balanced.

A Well-Arranged Affair.

Completness and attention to detail marked every point in the arrangements, and the smoothness with which everything passed off reflected the greatest credit upon Mr. E. T. Malone, the untiring Secretary of the Committee of Arrangements. The decorations, with their color scheme of white and chocolate, were those of the dinner to Lord and Lady Aberdeen a week ago, with the addition of a gigantic "Hardy" in the colored electric lights which lit up the guest table from behind, and which was draped in Union Jacks. While the general decorations were simple, and indeed massive, the tables were exceedingly dainty in their setting. Baskets of roses and wreaths of ferns and roses set them off, while candles surmounting graceful iron candlesticks gave an exceedingly pretty finish to the scene. Not only was the arrangement aesthetic, it was also practical, for every man's seat was allotted beforehand, and a system of letters and numbers obviated a confusion.

The bill of fare was of the best, and its merits were enhanced by the well-trained corps of waiters, whose efficiency caused it to be one of the best-managed affairs of the kind which the Pavilion has seen.

A Large Attendance.

But the most impressive thing about the dinner was the men who were there. Mr. Hardy found in it perhaps the most gratifying feature of a deeply-gratifying tribute. The occasion was a record so far as the seating capacity of the Pavilion was concerned. There were fully 450 guests present, and the tables were packed with a closeness which made the deftness of the waiters all the more creditable. They came from everywhere.

South Brant's Badge of Victory.

South Brant sent a splendid delegation, adorned with the badge which they carried to victory in March last—a badge which Mr. Hardy wore—and occupying a coign of vantage in the centre of the hall, from which pealed forth at intervals their Hardy war-cry. As for the rest—the list of those present is the best evidence of the extent to which all Ontario was represented in the throng. The elite of Ontario Liberalism was present, and Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. JOHN LA PAGE, 240 Church St., Toronto, Ont.

THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

The crusade in favour of good roads is being pushed in different quantities and by different agencies. The Ontario Government, which devotes such special attention to the interests of the farmers in helping them to raise better crops, acts quite consistently in assisting in providing facilities for getting these products to the market. With a good crop, bad roads to the market town mean practically a considerable reduction in the net profit from the crop. The appointment of Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Inspector of Roads, requires no justification either in point of policy or personnel. The good roads crusade, to be effectively beneficial, must be systematically conducted, and a skilled inspector is a necessary complement of a good system. The extent to which Mr. Campbell's services are demanded, indicates that the country, both urban and rural, is awaking to the importance of improvements of streets and roads. The Provincial Inspector of Roads, is engaged upon the preparation of plans, etc., for the improvement of the roads in the town of Renfrew. Some time since delivered an address at Renfrew, upon the subject, and the municipal council contemplate expending a large amount on the improvement of the roads and the construction of artificial stone walks in accordance with the plans in course of preparation by Mr. Campbell. A bylaw authorizing the expenditure will be submitted to the ratepayers in January. At the request of the Farmers' Institute of West Huron Mr. Campbell has arranged to deliver an address on the subject of making and maintaining roads at a special meeting of the institute to be held at Kintail on 30th instant.

While one corporation is considering the pursuit of a policy of permanency in street construction, it might not be amiss for us to draw upon Mr. Campbell's knowledge and experience. He might be invited to Peterborough and his presence in consultation with the city fathers in regard to the best methods to pursue in the making of new streets would have the most beneficial results. Mr. Campbell, in addition to being a duly qualified civil engineer, is specially qualified by the special interest he has taken, the special experience he has had, the special investigation he has made into the best methods of constructing permanent highways. It would be advisable at least to have Mr. Campbell meet the new council that will be elected in January next. We are on the eve of making a new departure in street construction. Everything depends upon starting right, and in order to start right it is advisable to take advice and especially when we can have the advice and services of Mr. Campbell, our energetic and capable Inspector of Roads, for the asking.

We all know that an inexperienced person who happens to be in the council, does not, by that fact, know any more about building streets properly than when he was a private citizen. We have had a succession of chairmen of our streets, who thought, doubtless, that they knew all about it, and the results are evident in the deplorable waste of money and the disgraceful condition of our streets. Occasionally a chairman would arise who had something like the right idea, and for that year there would be an improvement, but from lack of the adoption of a proper system, the good work of one year would be neutralised by the slop work of the next. Let us begin right; let us decide upon adopting a rational system of road-making, and then, and then only, shall we have anything like value for our money, and anything like streets of which the wilds of Haliburton would not be ashamed.

DISHONEST CRITICISM.

The prophecy made some weeks ago to the effect that the same tactics of unscrupulous misrepresentation and calumny would be adopted by Opposition papers towards the Doukhobortsi that had been shamelessly employed towards the Galicians, has, unfortunately, been amply verified. What is still more unfortunate, the lessons of the past do not appear to have had any effect, for deliberate misstatements, both respecting the immigrants themselves and the action of the Government in reference to them, are being made as recklessly as ever. For example, a news despatch this week from the west stated that the new comers were to be quartered for the winter in the immigration sheds at Brandon, Regina, Portage la Prairie, Dauphin and elsewhere, and that the Government agents had already contracted for the supply of large quantities of vegetables, etc., for their use. Without taking the trouble to make any further inquiry apparently, Opposition orgins at once devote valuable space to the expression of their righteous indignation at the outrageous policy of the Immigration Department in undertaking "to support several thousand paupers dumped down here to be a burden to the country and a detriment to its development and institutions." The Department has no intention of doing anything of the sort. It has not been gulled into taking several thousand paupers off the hands of Mr. Maude and his fellow philanthropists and keeping them all winter;" but is simply doing for the Doukhobortsi, respecting whom, by the by, most excellent reports have been received from unprejudiced quarters, exactly what it and its predecessors have been doing for imigrants for years, with this exception, that the $5.00 bonus hitherto paid to the continental agents is in this case paid to the society that is organizing the immigration departmental bonus of $1.50 per head, in accordance with an arrangement made with the society and announced.

It is perfectly true that these people will be housed the Government sheds through the winter, and so will all other late comers, following the recognised and long established procedure. It is perfectly true that the Government agents through the West, in touch as they are with the railways and the farmers, are purchasing supplies in large quantities, but they are paid for by the consumers. It is not true that the Government is providing these supplies or that the country will pay one cent towards the support or care of these people beyond what they are paying for all immigrants coming in, according to a scale that has long been in use with the approval and endorsation of both parties.

The attention of those so anxiously interested, and so solicitous for the future of our common country, is respectfully called to the action of the Port Arthur town council in deciding after an exhaustive discussion to use every effort to secure the settlement of a colony of Doukhobortsi in their vicinity. The town is evidently very much in earnest over it and is prepared to offer considerable inducements to secure these new comers who have been so continually romanced about in certain quarters.

FIRST LESSON TO BE LEARNED.

The United States, before they enter upon a big scheme of imperial expansion, might profitably reserve their energies to settle a few home troubles that indicate anything but a satisfactory condition of the national domestic household. A Texas paper has a trade article that advocates buying home products as against foreign products—the products of other states of the Union. This does not look like the idea of national indivisibility that is represented by the term, union. This may be a small matter, but it shows an absence of the cohesion that should characterise a stable aggregation of states. The condition of affairs in North Carolina, where one section of the population sits upon the weaker, destroys its property, takes life and drive citizens out of the State, shows that the race problem has not by any means reached a solution. This may seem a small matter, too, but it indicates the lack of desirable national qualities similar to those suggested by the trade incident quoted. We should consider it a mighty serious thing if, say in the town of Peterborough, the numerically stronger nationality should brutally set upon, shoot and massacre the representatives of a numerically weaker race, and end by driving them out of town and compelling them to seek the aid of the Federal authority. The dominant citizenship of a nation that cannot govern itself according to the most primitive canons of civilisation, can't be consistently expected to teach civilization of a very high order to the Philippines.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases, free.

Liverpool and Chicago Markets Were Both Weaker—Toronto Live Stock Market—The Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 15.

Liverpool wheat futures opened strong this morning, but eased off later, closing ⅛ to ¼d lower than yesterday. Paris wheat closed unchanged to 10 centimes lower, and Paris flour 5 centimes lower to 10 centimes higher. Antwerp was unchanged.

Chicago futures to-day weakened and closed half a cent a bushel lower than yesterday's final figures. The bearish features were the lower cables, the large receipts and the tremendous increase in the world's available supply, as reflected in Bradstreet's returns. A contrary influence was found in the large clearances and large takings for export.

Does Your Head Ache?

Are your nerves weak? Can't you sleep well? Pain in your back? Lack energy? Appetite poor? Digestion bad? Boils or pimples? These are sure signs of poisoning.

From what poisons?

From poisons that are always found in constipated bowels.

If the contents of the bowels are not removed from the body each day, as nature intended, these poisonous substances are sure to be absorbed into the blood, always causing suffering and frequently causing severe disease.

There is a common sense cure.

AYER'S PILLS

They daily insure an easy and natural movement of the bowels.

You will find that the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

with the pills will hasten recovery. It cleanses the blood from all impurities and is a great tonic to the nerves.

TRIBUTE TO PREMIER HARDY

the old guard, the men who can remember the pre-Confederation struggles and the days of the great union of hands to erect the political edifice under which we live to-day, rubbed shoulders with the youths who see the future of Canada expanding before them, who feel that it is indeed good to be young in these days when the wine of nationhood warms the blood of our people. It was a responsive audience, which cheered Mr. Hardy to the echo, and which showed itself quick to appreciate the manliness of Mr. Sifton's reply to his traducers.

A Bank of Ladies.

The audience was by no means exclusively male, for a bank of ladies occupied the gallery and listened with marked interest to the speeches. An uncommonly pretty incident occurred in this connection. Just before the speaking commenced Mrs. Hardy entered the gallery and occupied a seat in the centre, where she had an excellent opportunity to see and hear everything. Her advent was observed, and in a moment the men below were on their feet, and cheers rang out and the graceful Chautauqua salute was given.

The musical honors of the evening largely lay with the Sherlock Male Quartette, Messrs. J. M. Sherlock, Robert Gorrie, W. G. Armstrong and J. F. Howitt, who rendered several selections. In particular they sang Mr. Conmee's "The National Flag," Mr. Arthur Blakely having arranged it. Mr. Robert Gorrie, Mr. John Turton and Dr. Hart contributed to the solos, while Glionna's orchestra provided the music.

Hon. George A. Cox presided in a manner that left nothing to be desired in this respect.

A Very Serious Crime.

Orangeville, Nov. 16.—High Constable Marshall of this place arrested and landed in the county jail here last night one Thomas Olliver for a very serious offence, committed on a 12-year-old girl named Florence McKintry of Mono. Both worked for James Haverty of Mono. The girl is a cripple. She refused to tell her mother what was the matter and was brought to town, where she confessed to Dr. Henry her intimacy with Olliver, and said he threatened to kill her if she told. On returning home her mother confronted Olliver with his guilt, which he admitted.

Who Killed the Old Man?

Beaverton, Ont., Nov. 16.—William Murray, an old man who lived alone in a small house here, was found dead on the floor of his house. His head was crushed in and lay in a pool of blood on the floor. Evidently he had been murdered by blows with a blunt instrument. He was last seen alive on Saturday. An inquest was begun on Tuesday. A 14-year-old boy named Edward Elliott has been arrested and charged with the crime.

Mr. Hays and the Telegraphers.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—An important conference took place yesterday afternoon between General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk and the representation of the G.T.R. telegraphers. They presented their demands, Mr. Hays promising to give them consideration.

Montague of Dunnville, Cured of Ulcerated Itching Piles.

Mr. Robert Montague of Dunnville, Ont., writes:—"Was troubled with Itching Piles for five years and was so badly ulcerated, they were very painful, so much so, that I could not sleep. I tried almost every medicine known when I was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and from the first application got relief. Have used two boxes and am now completely cured."

HIS FAITHFUL WIFE

Has Won a Victory for Dreyfus on French Soil.

THE DECISION OF THE COURT.

It Will Notify Him by Telegraph That He Will Have a New Trial, and That He Will Have to Prepare His Own Defence—Chamberlain Speaks—Cable News.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Court of Cassation has informed the Minister of the Colonies, M. Guillain, that it has decided that Dreyfus be informed by telegraph that the revision proceedings have commenced and that he prepare his defence.

This action on the part of the Court of Cassation is due to the efforts of Mme. Dreyfus, the faithful wife of the unfortunate prisoner of Devil's Island, who, as cabled from Paris on Friday last, applied to the Minister of the Colonies that day for permission to send her husband some warm clothing for his return home.

The request was refused, and at the same time the authorities read her a letter from her husband, in which the prisoner said that, having for five months addressed appeals for a revision of his sentence to General de Boisdeffre (until recently chief of staff of the French army) without receiving any reply, and being weary and exhausted by his useless appeals, he would write no more to his family or anybody, and described himself as ill and dying, and bequeathed to the "generosity of my country the care of re-habilitating my memory."

Mme. Dreyfus then asked permission to cable to her husband the decision of the Court of Cassation, to review the trial, and this request was also refused.

Mme. Dreyfus then, through a friend, applied to President Faure, with no better result, whereupon her counsel brought the whole matter before the Court of Cassation, with the result indicated.

Dreyfus in Good Health.

The Minister of the Colonies has received a cable despatch saying Dreyfus is in good health. The decision of the Court of Cassation to inform the prisoner that the revision proceedings have commenced and notifying him to prepare his defence is very significant, as it has hitherto been generally admitted that no innovation should be introduced in the Dreyfus proceedings.

Questions will now be drafted and posted to Dreyfus, who will formulate his replies.

Premier Dupuy Was Firm.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Courier du Soir says that M. Caviagnac, former Minister of War, and M. de Rouledo, one of the most violent opponents of Dreyfus revision, called upon the Premier, M. Dupuy, yesterday, and asked him not to execute the decision of the Court of Cassation to notify Dreyfus to prepare for defence.

M. Dupuy refused to comply with their request. Information as to the decision of the court ought to reach Dreyfus on the Isle du Diable within two days.

When the news was imparted to Mme. Dreyfus she was so overcome with joy that she was unable to utter a word.

UNFRIENDLY FRANCE

Furnishes a Text Upon Which Mr. Chamberlain Hangs a Most Eloquent Speech at Manchester.

Manchester, Nov. 16.—At the National Liberal-Unionist Conference here yesterday Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, made his first public speech since his return from the United States.

Mr. Chamberlain, who was much more explicit on the subject of Anglo-French relations than any of his colleagues in the Cabinet, said it was the hope of every friend of peace that the French withdrawal from Fashoda is indicative of their acceptance of the principle of British control of the whole valley of the Nile, regarding which there cannot be any discussion whatever.

Going on to recite a series of unfriendly acts perpetrated by France in various quarters of the globe during the last 10 or 15 years, he said: "If better relations are to be established, it will be necessary for French politicians to abandon tactics whose object has been to hamper and embarrass British policy, even in quarters where the French have no interests to protect. I refer especially to Newfoundland, where, despite the fact that the French fishery interests have declined to a comparatively insignificant point, the demands of the French have continually increased, and their interference with the development of the colony has increased. At the present moment Newfoundland is seriously suffering from an intervention which is of no advantage to France, although a serious detriment to the British colony.

"If the Fashoda incident only serves to disabuse foreign statesmen of the erroneous conception that the British will yield anything to pressure, it will be a blessing in disguise."

After referring to the "thorough and complete sympathy so noticeable between the Motherland and her colonies," Mr. Chamberlain continued as follows:

"What is of equal importance, our American kinsfolk—(loud cheers)—have began to understand us better. If we have had differences in the past, I believe they have arisen entirely from the want of proper mutual understanding; but now the American people know that in the late trouble our hearts went out to them—(cheers)—and they have heartily reciprocated our good feelings.

"I shall not attempt to predict what may follow this better feeling, but I may at least hope that in the future the understanding of which I have spoken may be perfected and that in the face of that understanding we two may be able to guarantee peace and civilization to the world." (Prolonged cheers.)

The Kaiser at Malta.

Valetta, Island of Malta, Nov. 16.—The Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the Emperor and Empress of Germany on board, arrived here yesterday, escorted by the German warship Hela and the British torpedo boat destroyers Ardent and Banshee. The forts and ships exchanged salutes with the Hohenzollern.

COLD CURE

Twenty Russians Drowned.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16.—The frozen surface of the River Suchona at Velicti-ustug, broke yesterday while a number of people and vehicles were crossing the stream. Twenty persons were drowned.

GEORGE STARTS FOR HIS JOB.

New High Commissioner for Crete on the Way—Rejoicing at Canea.

Trieste, Austria, Nov. 16. — Prince George of Greece, the High Commissioner of the powers in Crete, started yesterday for that island.

Rejoicings in Crete.

Canea, Island of Crete, Nov. 16.—The population of this town is holiday making, there is great rejoicing everywhere. The Christians are behaving well and there are no signs of ill-feeling among the Mussulmans.

It appears that Chakir Pasha, the last Turkish commander to leave Crete, refused at the last moment to allow the transport to sail, claiming he must wait until he received decisive orders from the Turkish Government. Thereupon Admiral Portier, the French naval commander, despatched the torpedo boat Vautour to exercise the necessary pressure upon the Turkish commander, threatening to adopt forcible measures unless the transport put to sea. Chakir Pasha then yielded and the transport departed.

SPAIN WILL NOT ACCEPT.

Her Commissioners Instructed to Resist United States Conditions.

Madrid, Nov. 16.—According to semi-official statements here the Spanish Peace Commissioners will maintain their present attitude in regard to the Philippine Islands, and will certainly not accept the conditions of the United States. Further, if the discussion does not return to the limits of the protocol, as viewed by the Spaniards, the Spanish Commissioners have decided, in spite of contrary reports, not to sign a treaty of peace. It is also learned from the same sources that complete accord prevails between the Spanish Government and its Peace Commissioners.

DON CARLOS LOANS.

Said That England Is Abetting Civil War as American Did in Cuba.

Madrid, Nov. 16.—The Imparcial yesterday, commenting upon the loan which Don Carlos, the pretender to the Spanish throne, is said to have raised in London, says:

"Evidently the English are abetting an outbreak of civil war in Spain with the object of securing additional territory at Gibraltar."

The Imparcial adds; "The Americans employed the same methods to become masters of Cuba."

The Carlists Will Rise.

London, Nov. 16.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "A leading Carlist tells me that he will be astonished if a formidable rising does not occur in Spain within a month after the peace treaty is signed. The Carlists have abundant supplies of money, and my informant says, 'Only something very big and unexpected can prevent a rising.'

"This appears to agree with the news that Don Carlos has succeeded in raising an important loan in London, and in Paris, and that wealthy Carlist families are insuring their property against war risks."

The Khartoum Honors.

London, Nov. 16. — The Khartoum honors have been gazetted. Captain Keppel, Lieut. Montmorency and Private Byrne of the 21st Lancers, and Captain Smyth of the Second Dragoons received the Victoria Cross; Lieut.-General Sir Francis Grenfell and Major-General Lord Kitchener are made Knights of the Grand Cross of the Bath; Slatin Pasha is made a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George, and many other received various decorations.

A BIRD FROM THE WEST.

We lingered over Ulster storm and wild.
I called: "Arise! Doth none remember me?"
One turned in the darkness murmuring,
"How loud upon the breakers sobs the sea!"

We rested over Connaught, whispering, said:
"Awake, awake, and welcome! I am here!"
One woke and shivered at the morning grey,
"The trees, I never heard them sigh so drear!"

We flew low over Munster. Long I wept:
"You used to love me. Love me once again!"
They spoke from out the shadows wondering,
"You'd think of tears, so bitter falls the rain."

Long over Leinster lingered we. "Goodby,
My best beloved, goodby for evermore!"
Sleepless they tossed and whispered to the dawn,
"So sad a wind was never heard before."

EIGHTEEN MONTHS PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N.B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

Watching Plants Grow.

Procure a little collomia seed. Take one of the seeds, and with a razor cut off a very tiny slice, place it on a slide, cover with a glass and place under the microscope. The instrument must be in a vertical position. When it is well focused and lighted, moisten it with a drop of water. The seed will absorb the moisture and throw out a very large number of spiral fibers, giving the appearance of veritable germination. Beginners will find it easier if one applies the moisture while the other looks through the instrument.—Microscopical Journal.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded

BRUTAL MURDER AT BEAVERTON.

An Old and Well-Known Citizen Beaten to Death With a Bludgeon.

On Tuesday an old man named William Murray, of Beaverton, who lived alone in a secluded house, was found dead. It appeared that the life had been beaten out of him with a club. Two warrants have been issued and are being served.

INQUEST TO-MORROW

Into the Death of the Late Stella Munchen, who Died Recently in North Monaghan.

An inquest will be held to-morrow afternoon in connection with the death of Stella Munchen, aged three years.

On the 9th inst. Dr. Brown was summoned to the residence of Mr. Wm. Facey in North Monaghan and was asked to give a certificate of death for the child, being told that it had come to its death through falling from a chair upon its head. As Dr. Brown had not been in attendance upon the child he could not conscientiously give the required certificate and reported the case to Coroner Bell. On making an investigation Dr. Bell learned that the little girl was the child of Mrs. Albert Valois by her first husband and while she was ill in the hospital Mr. Valois sister, Mrs. Facey, had offered to take charge of the little one. A number of bruises found on the body after death were accounted for by Mr. Facey stating that the child had fallen down stairs twice recently.

Although considerable gossip was indulged in when these bruises were noticed by some women, who were laying out the remains, the Coroner could ascertain nothing of a suspicious character, such as would warrant him in holding an inquest. The County Crown Attorney was anxious for an investigation, but Dr. Bell declined to take the oath, which is peremptory in its terms, to the effect that the coroner shall have good ground for suspecting that the death was not a natural one. The County Crown Attorney has now issued an order requiring the inquest to be held, and it will take place to-morrow, as stated.

Coroner Bell can see no motive for a crime being committed as the care of the child was assumed voluntarily on the understanding that if she was any trouble she was to be taken by Mr. Valois' relatives in Ashburnham.

A HAPPY RE-UNION.

The Priests of Bishop O'Connor's Old Deanery Pay Him a Visit En Masse.

It is doubtful whether this is a happier day for His Lordship Bishop O'Connor or for the half dozen priests who visited him to-day and enjoyed the genial warmth of episcopal hospitality. These reverend gentlemen had parishes in his Lordship's deanery, when he was Rural Dean of Barrie, before the purple fell upon him. They consist of Rev. Dean Egan, of Barrie, his Lordship's successor; Rev. Father Kiernan, of Collingwood; Rev. Father Moyna, of Orillia; Rev. Father Gibney, of Alliston; Rev. Father Guerin, of Flos; and last, but by no means least, Rev. Father Labereau, of Penetang, well known as the founder and builder of the splendid memorial church erected at Penetanguishene in memory of the noble martyrs, Lallement, Brebeuf and other early Jesuit missionaries, who laid down their lives for the Faith, enduring martyrdom with an excruciating refinement of torture and exalted heroism of endurance unexcelled in the annals of martyrology.

The distinguished visitors were most hospitably entertained by the Bishop and a most enjoyable time spent in the revival of the associations of other days.

OBITUARY.

Death of Sister Agnes in St. Joseph's Hospital This Morning.

The demise occurred this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital of Sister Agnes, after an illness of six weeks' duration, of typhoid fever.

Sister Agnes had been a member of the Order for the past eight years, being amongst the first in this young community. She was a most devoted and painstaking nurse, and her patience at the sick bed will long be remembered by those who were under her tender care.

Sister St. Edward, who teaches in the Lake street Separate School, is a sister of the deceased, who was formerly a Miss Gormly of Cobourg.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 9.30 o'clock from the hospital

SEWERS ALL RIGHT

As far as the Committee has Investigated on Aylmer Street:

Yesterday afternoon the mayor, Councillor Langford, Inspectors Logan and Bartlett and representatives of the contractors made an inspection of the Aylmer street sewer, which was constructed by Messrs. Kennedy & Wade.

As will be remembered, statements were made in the council to the effect that the construction was faulty and a report was made by Inspector Logan concerning large quantities of sand which he found in the pipes, giving ground to the belief that the pipes had given way.

After the inspection of yesterday, those present were convinced that so far as they examined, everything was perfectly satisfactory. The water appeared to be running freely through the pipes at a rate of about eight miles an hour, and what deposit there was in the bottom appeared to be a mixture of sand and ordinary sewage, which can, it is estimated, be easily flushed out.

The Metropolitan Grocery's Fruits.

The customers at Messrs. W. H. Hamilton & Co's Grocery, who have been enjoying the comforts of perfectly cleansed raisins and currants since the beginning of the year, have shown their appreciation by telling their neighbours and sending them to the "Metropolitan" Grocery for their fruit. In this way Mr. Hamilton has experienced a very marked increase in business—not in fruits only, but in general groceries as well—the result of the special advantages offered by cleaning his fruits. It was creditable to Mr. Hamilton to be the first in the Midland district to invest in the necessary plant for this purpose, and he is now reaping the reward of his enterprise. A treat is in store for all who place their orders for Christmas fruits at the Metropolitan Grocery, Simcoe street. The best is none too good for this store, and no other is handled. See their window display of thoroughly cleaned, bright and fresh fruit, ready for immediate use.

A PRESENTATION

To Mr. Charles Kindred by his Mates at the Lock Works.

That the Lock Works boys never do anything by halves, was instanced yesterday afternoon, when the employees presented one of their shopmates, Mr. Charles Kindred, with the best double set of butchers' implements that could be procured.

Mr. Kindred, who has been connected with the Lock Works for the past eleven years, is leaving to enter the meat business with his brother, and his many friends in the works took advantage of the occasion to demonstrate the esteem in which he is held by them.

The appended address was read by Mr. John O'Brien:

Mr. Charles Kindred, Peterborough, Ont.:

DEAR CHARLIE,—Having learned that you are about to sever the pleasant relations that have existed between us, during the past ten years, we, the undersigned, on behalf your shop mates, cannot permit the occasion to pass without expressing our very sincere regrets at your departure, and, as a slight reminder of the high esteem in which you have ever been held by us, we beg you to accept the accompanying "Outen implements of war."

We sincerely hope and trust that the business in which you are about to engage may be successful, and that you may be as fortunate in moulding to good opinions of your future customers as you have been as a moulder here.

Now that you are laying aside for the present the "flask" that has been so necessary in your daily occupation here, we hope that you may not find it necessary to have with you in your new business that other kind of flask that is so often resorted to.

Again expressing our regrets that you are leaving us, and wishing you every success in your new venture, we are,

Wm. Rushton,	C. J. Taber,
Wm. McAuliffe,	R. Shelton,
R. R. Ward,	F. Brundrette,
Geo. A'Hern.

November 15th, 1898.

The presentation took place just as the men were leaving work at five o'clock, and when Mr. Kindred was invited into the shipping department he was so genuinely surprised that he could with difficulty find words to express his thanks for the very appropriate gift. In voicing his appreciation of the remembrance he wished his shopmates a continuance of the prosperity which they were enjoying.

Mr. Charles Grant afterwards made a very neat speech, bearing witness to the integrity and uprightness of Mr. Kindred since he had been given employment at works, as a boy, eleven years before.

GOLD LAKE HUNT CLUB.

The Members Secured Twenty-Tw Deer this Season.

The Gold Lake Hunt Club has broken up camp for the season, and arrived in town last night with their entire outfit.

This year the club was unusually successful, killing in all twenty-two deer, besides a large quantity of small game. Mr. J. B. Pentland is credited with getting the biggest buck of the season. It was weighed this morning, and with the entrails removed tipped the scale at 319½ pounds. It has a fine set of antlers and a magnificent head, well worth mounting.

One incident of the hunt caused much amusement to all the members of the camp but two, viz., Arthur Blade and Herb Hall. They had shot a buck near a small lake near Gold Lake, and when portaging on their way to camp carried the buck on a stretcher. On reaching Gold Lake the stretcher was placed across the thwarts of the canoe, with the result that as soon as the two hunters stepped in, the frail bark capsized and threw them into the water, together with the deer. The ducking was the only ill result, nothing being lost.

The members of the Hunt Club who were back in the woods this year were Messrs. Wm. Snowden, Arthur Blade, Thos. Rutherford, Samuel Ray, J B Pentland, D W. Dumble, Lawrence Steele, J H Yelland, G M Roger, W F Johnston, J Herbert Hall, Dickson Hall, Dickson Davidson, E. Bennett, Fred Stimpson and Fred Green, cook.

WON'T PAY IT.

Charles Londerville's Lawyer's Letter to the Council has a Peculiar Effect.

At the meeting of the Street and Bridge Committee held last evening with Councillor Dawson in the chair, the matter of Chas. Londerville's account for ditching was taken up in connection with a letter from Dumble & Johnston, regarding it. The committee decided not to pay the account and to cancel a cheque which had been issued for half the amount claimed.

The street inspector was instructed to make a report on the condition of the Smith street bridge and estimate as to the cost of the timber required for replanking.

REV. H. SYMONDS' PAPER ON THE POET DANTE.

READ BEFORE THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

A Critical Consideration of the Great Poet's Work—Dante, the Mirror of His Age—Poet, Politician and Theologian.

The meeting of the Fortnightly Club last evening was one of the largest in its history, the large hall being completely filled, and a number seated in one of the rooms opening off the hall proper. Sheriff Hall took the chair and after a few words called upon the reader of the evening, Rev. H. Symonds, who read a most interesting and instructive paper on the great Italian poet, Dante.

Dante, or Durante, was born in 1265, and died at the age of 56. He received the higher education of his times, consisting of grammar, logic, rhetoric, arithmetic, music, geometry and astronomy. He was to the end a scholar and a thinker. Dante married at 20. He became the father of seven children, but being exiled in 1302 he was separated from them forever. Dante is one of those who in every age are the spokesmen of their era, and who represent in themselves the characteristics of the age. He is the impersonation of his age—a mirror of the mind, the heart and the will of mediæval Europe. The Italy of Dante had developed its national characteristics—sympathetic and generous, violent, passionate. For two centuries it was the world's stage. Love of God and man were coupled with egotism and treachery. Cruelty and sensuality were rampant. To understand Dante one must remember that he was a politician as well as a poet. At that time Western Europe was under the Emperor as temporal head and the Pope was spiritual head, each supreme in his own sphere. "One Pope, one Emperor, one law, one faith, one Kingdom of God upon earth, with Emperor as its chief for temporal ends and the Pope for spiritual. This was the mediæval conception of church and state." Ideal in its conception it was never realized that these two heads of the whole frequently engaged in the deadliest conflict. Dante vigorously denounces the Pope for interference in temporal matters and almost all the 19th Canto is occupied with this subject. On these lines Dante wrote De Monarchia, which, on account of its attack on the temporal power of the Pope, was placed upon the Index, but although denying temporal power, he was a devoted Roman Catholic. He was exiled in 1302, and became a Ghibeline. I.e., an adherant of the Emperor's party as opposed to the Pope's. An inspiration of his whole life was his love for Beatrice—a love purely lofty and ideal. In fact he hardly ever spoke to her. She married another and died at 24, but Dante never forgot her. In the "Comedia" she stands for divine wisdom and love, and he states that he wrote the work to perpetuate her name and her memory. His great work styled "Comedia," to distinguish it from tragedy, is divided into the Hell, Purgatory and Paradise. The first being more striking in its imagery, but most critics prefer Purgatory. Paradise abounds in beautiful passages, but is full of obscure theology. The poem is written in threefold rhyme, consisting of triplets, the second line of each triplet rhyming with the first and third of next triplet. The poem is that of a series of visions similar to and being in this alike to the visions of writers of both the the classic period and the middle ages, but incomparably superior. Here the poet aims at instruction and seeks to inspire others from what he has seen. It was one of the first works written in Italian and occupies a relation to Italy and the Italian language similar to that which the English Bible occupies to England and the English language in the matter of determining the manner and method of the Italian tongue. Carlyle says:—"Through all objects he pierces, as it were, down into the heart of being. I know nothing so intense as Dante." He is extremely fond of similes, and they are both pointed and picturesque. The subject of the poem is the destiny of man according to his moral life—man as affected by sin or as he strives against it and attains the perfection of his being. "Midway upon the journey of our life I find myself within a forest dark," says Dante. Before him rises a mountain of virtue, but, in his pathway a panther—the latter representing, politically, the city of Florence which banished him and, morally, worldly pleasure. He sees also a lion—politically the power of France and morally ambition—but most deadly of all, a she-wolf, representing the power of the papacy and avarice. These are the obstacles of progress—sensual pleasure, ambition and love of money. Virgil brings to him the comfort of worldly wisdom and conducts him through the Inferno, while Beatrice or heavenly wisdom leads him through paradise. In the Inferno Dante makes direct connection between the sins of earth and the punishment of hell. Sin is followed inevitably by punishment. Those were merely neutral on earth are neither in heaven nor hell, but ever in suspense, subject to petty torments. The first circle of the Inferno is Limbo, the border reserved for the punishment of those who have never received Christ, but have never rejected Him. Here is found Dante's beloved Virgil. The punishment is unsatisfied longing. In the second circle with Minos at the entrance, are the unrepentant sinners. Sin is divided into incontinence, bestialism or unspiritual malice. He deals profoundly in the nature and consequences of sin. The sin of earth inevitably brings its punishment in kind in the next world. "Such as I was living am I dead." His pictures are sometimes obscure, but every line has its object and meaning. Dante, in advance of his own age and of ours, teaches "It is not in the eternal infliction of pain that the punishment of the lost consists, but rather in his having carried over his life in that very condition to which by virtue of his own free will he had developed and formed it while on earth." In the lowest point of Hell sits Judas Iscariot, with other traitors to benefactors. This is a frozen region, portraying the coldness of treachery. In the Inferno the same earthly passions exist but no means are there of gratifying these base pleasures. Purgatory occupied a large space in the mediæval mind and Dante's purgatory is pure and inspiring. Purgatory consists of seven stages—on each terrace the sinner is purged of one of the seven sins, sins consisting of an abuse of Love. These sinners are cheerful as they are hopeful whereas those in the Inferno have no hope. These in purgatory are ascending step by step and finally enjoy the Beatific Vision forever in Paradise. The value of the poem is not lost even to those who reject Dante's view of Hell and belief in purgatory. The torments of Hell are in a sense not from God but from man himself. Purgatory represents spiritual discipline and Paradise a state of bliss springing from a will entirely harmonized with Good. If the doctrine of purgatory has been rejected by Protestantism, Dante's ideas find full recognition in our literature and is fully set out in the work of Mr. W. T. Harris, of Boston, in "The Spiritual Sense of Dante's Divine Commedia." In fact the use of suffering, even if brought on by sin and error, is the burden of our best works, as in George Eliot's "Middlemarch," etc. Even now, at the expiration of seven hundred years, Dante's poem is still a living force.

Mr. Oscar Browing says that the saint of the future will not be trained on the ascetic counsels of Thomas a Kempis, or Milton' "Paradise Lost," but "on the verse of the poet, theologian and philosopher who stands with equal right in the conclave of the doctors and on the slopes of Parnassus, and in whom the ardor of study is one with the love of Beatrice, and both are made subservient to lift the soul from the abyss of hell, along the terraces of purgatory, to the spheres of paradise, till it rests upon the ineffable revelation of the existence of God himself, who can only be apprehended by the eye of faith.

At the conclusion of a paper which kept the undivided attention of the audience, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Mr. E. B. Edwards and Sheriff Hall made a few remarks, and Mr. Edwards read a few lines from the Italian text.

THE MIDLAND COLTS CURLING ASSCIATION.

THE PRESIDENCY GOES TO NORWOOD THIS SEASON.

Two New Clubs are Admitted, Making Ten in all—The Playing Time of Members Extended for Another Year—Officers Elected and Other Business.

The annual meeting of the Midland Colts' Curling Association was held at Lindsay on Monday evening last, when officers were elected and the different clubs arranged in groups.

On account of the difficulty of access to Lindsay the clubs to the south were not represented as well as at former meetings of the association, those present being:

Lindsay—J. H. Hart.
Peterborough—Geo. S. Matthews.
Bellevilla—T. W. R. McRae.
Beaverton—H. Logan.
Fenelon Falls—T. W. Greer.

President Jack Hart, of Lindsay, occupied the chair, and in welcoming the delegates expressed his pleasure at seeing Beaverton and Fenelon Falls represented for the first time.

THE PRESIDENCY.

As Mr. Fred Ashe of Norwood, held the office of Vice-President last year, it was felt that Norwood was entitled to the President's chair this season, but as there was no representative present from that club, no choice was made, the Norwood curlers being asked to make their own selection. The mantle of president would, of course, have descended upon the shoulders of Mr. Ashe, except for the fact that he is now residing in Carleton Place.

The other officers were elected as follows:

Hon. Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggar, Belleville.
1st Vice-President—A. Dobson, Beaverton.
2nd Vice-President—J. R. Hand, Fenelon Falls.
Secretary-Treasurer—T. W. R. McRae, Belleville.
Representative Members of Executive:
Peterborough—Geo. S. Matthews.
Lindsay—T. Wesley Grier.
Port Hope—G. F. Clarke.
Cobourg—G. F. Bickle.
Campbellford—D. H. Douglas.
Norwood—The President.
Belleville—T. W. R. McRae.
Kingston—G. H. Allen.
Fenelon Falls—J. H. Hand.
Beaverton—A. Dobson.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

It was decided that the next annual meeting be held in Norwood.

In view of the fact that two new clubs were admitted to the Association, the time of the members of other clubs was advanced another year.

The secretary, T. W. R. McRae, reported that after viewing tankards in both Montreal and Toronto, he could see none suitable for the Association for the price to which he was limited, viz., $25

He was authorized to expend $30 and to use his own discretion as to whether a banner or a tankard would be the most suitable.

The groups were arranged as follows:

Group 1—Fenelon Falls, Beaverton and Lindsay. To play at Lindsay.

Group 2 — A—Peterborough and Norwood. To play in Norwood.

B—Port Hope and Cobourg. To play at Cobourg.

Winners of A and B to play at Lindsay.

Group 3 — Campbellford, Belleville and Kingston. To play at Belleville.

The place and date of the final matches will be fixed by the president.

The representatives present were taken to witness the presentation of "A Trip to Coontown" in the opera house, after which the meeting took place. At the conclusion of the session the Lindsay curlers extended hospitalities in the way of an oyster supper.

TWO CHARGES DISMISSED.

The Prisoner is Being Tried this Afternoon on Two Similar Ones.

Mrs. Allen was tried before Judge Weller, this morning, on two charges viz: the theft of a number of articles from Miss Lillie's residence and the receiving of the articles knowing them to have been stolen.

The first charge was dismissed there being no evidence to show that the woman was near the house. In the second charge the only link connecting her with the crime was the finding of some of the articles in her house. Hector Smith, who is already convicted of the theft of the goods, swore that he sold them to her and the prisoner, herself, stated that Smith said at the time that the bedding, etc., belonged to his mother who was giving up housekeeping.

After hearing this evidence Judge Weller dismissed the second charge.

Mrs. Allen is being tried on two similar charges this afternoon in connection with the gold watch which was found in her possession.

County Crown Attorney Wood is conducting the prosecution and Mr. W. A. Stratton is acting for the defense.

Gough's Great Sale.

In to-day's EXAMINER Gough Bros'. repeat their announcement of their great lease-expiring sale of the Oak Hall stock, combined with a peremptory reduction of their over-loaded stock in their other two big stores on George street. They are determined to unload before January, 1899, and the reductions in the prices of these combined stocks during November and December will make this sale the crowning sale of the year. Last week, notwithstanding the unfavourable nature of the weather, each day of this sale was attended by unusual crowds of buyers, and people who had been hesitating about buying came and bought freely. Gough Bros. are determined to make this sale a go, although a loss is inevitable. There will not be an inch of material held in reserve, and it will be to the advantage of everyone to make selections as early as convenient. The transformation in prices ought to keep the big store crowded, "not in sparts, but all the time." Now is your chance to procure really dependable winter garments, boots and shoes, hats and furnishings at figures slashed to a sacrifice. Prices are on the gridiron at Gough's for the next two months—just in the nick of time, when winter comforts must be bought. Necessity has no law—so pile in and clothe yourself from head to foot at Gough Bros'. Great End-of-the-Year Sale. 3d1w

The ladies are reminded to come out and attend Miss Melvilles annual Christmas Opening, this evening. A very large and fascinating display of the finest Novelties of the season will be shown. That's interesting so far as it means lower prices to you. We purpose making this store an outlet for quantities of merchandise at less than actual cost of production. That's a bold statement but we think we can prove it. Read this list carefully, bring it to the store and compare every item. These prices are for Thursday, Friday and Saturday:

VIM—to work and to win—to keep a sane mind in a sound body—to laugh at worry.

VIGOR—to ward off disease—to conquer obstacles—to transmit health and strength to your posterity.

THIS EVIDENCE IS AMPLE PROOF.

Before using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills I felt weak, nervous and run down. I had lost weight steadily for some time; my circulation was poor; hands, feet and limbs were cold. I always felt weak and my muscles trembled. Now, after the use of one box of Dr. Ward's Pills, I feel like my old self. I have gained five pounds in weight and 100 per cent. in cheerfulness. I now walk firmly, my muscular system is strong and my blood circulates vigorously. I have more comfort than I have experienced in years. Dr. Ward's Pills have done more for me than any medicine I ever took.

SNAKES AS DECORATIONS.

Samoan Dancing Girls Wreathe Themselves With Reptiles.

For the most part the Pacific islands are destitute of snakes. That is absolutely the case in Hawaii. In New Zealand, equally free of these reptiles, the only knowledge which the Maoris had of snakes may be found in a legend of a monster called the taniwha, concerning which authorities differ as to whether it is the ancestral and dim recollection of a snake or of an alligator. All the eastern islands of Polynesia between these two outposts are snakeless.

Samoa seems to lie just on the boundary line of snakes in the Pacific. In the eastern islands of the archipelago no snakes are to be found; in Upolu a few are seen at rare intervals; in Savaii, only a few miles to the westward, they are common and attain great size, in the case of some kinds at least. None of them is venomous, and the islanders neither fear them nor exhibit any of that repugnance to their presence which is commonly called instinctive.

This indifference to the reptiles is made most markedly manifest at the hamlet of Iva, on the northeast coast of Savaii. Here are to be found small snakes of a most brilliant red color. They are so common that a basketful may be easily picked up in any banana patch. The dancing girls of this town are in the habit of employing these gaudy snakes for personal adornment in their dances. They tie them about their necks, their ankles and their wrists, festoon them in their headdresses and tuck a few extra ones in the belt in readiness to replace such as escape in the dance. At their best these sivas danced by the Samoans are either dull or revolting shows of savagery. It can easily be imagined that they are made no more attractive when the taupou or village maid and her crew of attendant girls go careering about with an assortment of writhing red snakes. Still the Samoans, who have no stock of snake prejudices, look upon this as one of the most successful and artistic dances in their islands.—San Francisco Examiner.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

AN EXPORT DEMAND

Caused Wheat to Advance in Chicago, and a Decrease in European Visible Made a Rise in Liverpool

Monday Evening, Nov. 14.

Liverpool wheat was strong to-day, the spot article advancing ¼d and futures about 1d per cental. Paris wheat closed 15 to 20 centimes higher and flour 20 to 25 centimes higher than yesterday.

Chicago also ruled rather stronger to-day on the higher cables, the good demand from the seaboard, the smaller world's shipments for last week and the reported decrease in the European visible. Though receipts were large, this and next month's deliveries turned a full cent above Saturday's final figures.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 2,194,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 288,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 477,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 42,474,000 bushels, against 41,080,000 bushels a week ago and 62,133,000 bushels a year ago.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, Nov. 14.—Cattle—The market was in a generally satisfactory position, with 240 loads on sale and a fair attendance of buyers. Smooth, fat, handy butcher cattle were in comparatively light supply, active demand and sold stronger, but the under grades dragged somewhat, and were weak and irregular. There were 20 loads of Canada stockers, besides about 30 loads over from Saturday. The U.S. inspectors seized several loads of Canadas for alleged undervaluation, and, while the situation was doubtful to buyers, the Canada stocker market was unsettled and 10c to 15c lower, for after the releases were in force the market was advanced beyond the point where there was most interest in the trade. Good to best, smooth, fat export cattle, $5 to $5.25; good to best, $4.75 to $5.10; good to choice butcher steers, $4.00 to $4.85; common to good butcher bulls, $3 to $3.40; good to best fat heifers, $4.25 to $4.50; fair to good heifers, $3.50 to $4; fat cows, good to choice, $3.75 to $3.90; common to good do., $3 to $3.20; stockers, choice to extra quality, $3.50 to $4; common to good do., $3.40 to $3.65; feeders, good to extra, $3.90 to $4.15; common to good, $3.65 to $3.75; fresh cows, choice to extra, good bags, $50 to $60; good to choice, $45 to $50; springs, good to extra, $35 to $45; calves, choice to extra, $7.50 to $8.25; good to choice, $7 to $7.75; calves, heavy fed steers, calves, good color, $4.50 to $5; common, $3 to $3.50.

Sheep and Lambs—The offerings were moderate, compared with the active demand, there being 60 loads, including 4½ loads of Canada lambs. Prices were firm and 10c to 15c higher. Sheep here were slow and a shade easier. Lambs, choice to extra, were quotable at $5.50 to $5.65; good to choice, $5.25 to $5.50; common to fair, $4.75 to $5.25. Sheep, choice to extra, $4.25 to $4.50; good to choice, $4 to $4.25; common to fair, $3 to $3.75. The supply of feeding lambs was light, and, with a fair demand, they were quotable at $5 to $5.25.

Cheese Markets.

Canton, N.Y., Nov. 14.—At the produce market here, 1002 boxes of cheese sold at 8⅞c and 60 tubs of butter sold at 19c.

THE NAMING OF JOHN BULL.

Dr. Arbuthnot Was the Man Who Thus Dubbed Great Britain.

Dr. John Arbuthnot, one of the many royal physicians to whom the Scotch city of Aberdeen has given birth, was the author of John Bull's being. Almost forgotten now by all but the erudite, who remember him as the intimate of Pope and Swift, Arbuthnot christened the British nation in bulk as John Bull in the political strife incidental to the dismissal of the Whig ministry of 1710, when the able and avaricious Marlborough saw the beginning of the decline of his brilliant fortunes.

"The History of John Bull" was a satire on the political events preceding the treaty of Utrecht in 1713, written by Arbuthnot. In 1704 he had been created physician extraordinary to the queen in recognition of his services in saving the life of Anne's husband, Prince George of Denmark. He had become the queen's medical attendant, a position of no mean importance at a time when so much depended on the succession to the crown, and he was closely in touch with court life.

"For the better understanding of the following history the reader ought to know that Bull in the main was an honest, plain dealing fellow, choleric, bold and of a very inconstant temper. He dreaded not old Lewis, either at backsword, single falchion or cudgel play, but then he was very apt to quarrel with his best friends, especially if they pretended to govern him. If you flattered him, you might lead him like a child. John's temper depended very much on the air; his spirits rose and fell with his weather glass.

"John was quick and understood his business very well, but no man alive was more careless in looking into his accounts or more cheated by partners."—New York Herald.

Boxing a Bride's Ear.

In Lithuania, a province of Russia, it is customary that the bride's ears should be boxed before the marriage ceremony. No matter how tender hearted the mother may be she always makes it a point of administering a hearty smack to her daughter in the presence of witnesses, and a note is made of the fact. The mother's intention is a kind one, though the custom itself is bad. The reason for it is to protect the bride should her marriage prove an unhappy one. In that case she will sue for a divorce, and her plea will be that she was forced into the marriage against her will, and on that score the verdict of the judge will be in her favor.

His Style of Riding.

Gambrel—Oh, I've seen worse riders than you, but why do you jump up and let in daylight between yourself and the horse at every step?

Snaffle—That's all you know about it. I don't rise from the horse. He drops down from me. I keep right in the same position all the time.—Boston Transcript.

STOP IT NOW!

Before it is too late, stop that succession of colds that means nothing more nor less than catarrh. Stop the suffering. Stop the disagreeable catarrhal discharges that are so humiliating to you and offensive to your friends. Don't let it run on until your condition causes you to be ostracised as if you were a leper. Don't neglect yourself until consumption makes its fatal appearance. You can be cured—not merely relieved, but absolutely and perfectly cured.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder

will restore you to complete, perfect health. It gives relief at once. It cures in an incredibly short time. Hundreds of cases of from 5 to 20 years' standing have been cured—cases that physicians had pronounced incurable. The catarrhal powder acts like magic, not only in catarrh, but in colds, sore throat, tonsilitis, hay fever, loss of smell, deafness and all similar diseases.

Mr. C. G. Archer, of Brewer, Maine, writes as follows:—"I have had catarrh for several years. Water would run from my eyes and nose for days at a time. About four months ago I was induced to try Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and since using the wonderful remedy I have not had an attack. I would not be without it." At druggists.

Dr. Agnew's Cure or the Heart cures all cases of organic or sympathetic disease of the heart—relieves in 30 minutes. HARP AND BANJO STRINGS.

The Best and Finest Grades Are Made in Italy.

"It has always been believed that violin, harp and banjo strings were made out of the viscera of the cat," explained a teacher of music to a Star reporter, "but I have considerable doubt that there ever was a string so made. The gut of a cat is no more suitable for such use than that of a mouse and as far as my investigation goes has never been so used. Violin strings are made of many kinds of skins, but principally out of sheepskins. The secret is in curing the skins, which has always been kept in Italy, where all the finer and better grades of strings are made. There are, however, several concerns in this country which turn out musical strings, and they make a very good grade, though they do not compare as yet with the Italian strings.

"All the poets who have sung of the musical insides of the cat were wrong. Even Shakespeare, who was phenomenally correct generally in his productions, fell into the prevailing error, probably because he did not take the trouble to look into the matter and accepted the general opinion. The various metallic or wire strings are improving constantly and are used in very large quantities and by the best musicians. They have one advantage over the skin strings when used out of doors in that they are not affected by the weather. In damp weather skin or gut strings, as they are generally named, are affected very much, and, notwithstanding all the tightening, they are very frequently flat in tone. The wire string escapes that influence, though there is a certain effect, a timbre, technically speaking, that can be got out of a skin string that no wire string yet made will give you."—Washington Star.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR,—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 00
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ruling rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Moralists may prate, and doctors prose, and science about from the housetop, but just so long as the birds sing and the flowers bloom, and a maiden's lips are cherry-red, and a young man's eyes look love, just so long the lads and lassies will kiss—and kiss again.

And where, good men, is the harm if the trissers and kissees be healthy, and true love stands sponsor. It is only when ill-health has blasted the sweet cleanliness of youth that death lurks upon its lips. The deadly germs of dread consumption are as harmless as June-time butterflies to the young man or woman who is thoroughly clean, sweet and healthy in every fiber and tissue. The germs of disease only attack that which is already partly decayed.

There is a great medicine that is a sure and certain protection against all germs and a speedy cure for all germ diseases. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives youthful zest to the appetite. It corrects all faults of the digestion. It aids assimilation. It fills the blood with the vital, life-giving elements of the food. It builds sweet, clean, healthy tissues in every part of the body. It drives out all disease germs. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of bronchial, throat and lung affections if taken in time. All good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

Mr. Jos. Henderson Dirblan, of 544 Josephine street, New Orleans, La., writes: "I was ailing for some two years, suffering from dyspepsia, a tired feeling, and loss of energy and appetite. I tried one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and found great relief. I took two more bottles, three in all, and one or two vials of the 'Pellets,' when I was in good health again. I recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to do all that it is claimed to do."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

IN A TIGER'S MOUTH.

OUT OF THE JAWS OF DEATH WAS THIS MAN PLUCKED.

A Grewsome Encounter With One of These Fierce and Daring Man Eating Brutes That Terrorize the People of India.

The most strictly accurate and graphic accounts of man eating tigers in India fail to convey an adequate sense of the awful terror which these terrible brutes inspire in the breasts of the unfortunate villagers, whom they haunt like evil demons. In ordinary cases the tiger or leopard attacks the village herds more or less openly, and the herdsmen, finding that the enemy will, as a rule, retreat on being shouted at with vigor, are not in bodily fear all the time, although I have known instances of the herdsman being killed by a tiger that he had presumed to interrupt while enjoying a meal from one of his cattle.

They become more dangerous when they have tasted the blood of their victim and are not usually disposed to give it up without a fight. I remember the case of a survey officer in India, who, being told of a "kill" near his work, went to inspect it unarmed. The tiger, disturbed at his meal, rushed out suddenly at the party, and in his headlong flight the officer, most fortunately for himself, tripped and fell into some long grass and bushes. The tiger's attention being drawn to the natives, who were climbing trees like monkeys in a hurry, he made for them, allowing the officer to crawl away in fear and trembling as quietly as he could.

But in the case of the man eater everything is different. Having discovered his power to kill the genus homo more easily than a big ape, he takes every possible advantage of it at every turn. Neither by night nor by day are they safe, and life becomes one long terror, for whether the natives are working in the fields or fetching firewood from the forest or water from the well, they know not at what turn they may be seized.

I know of one man eater in Mysore that was credited with over 500 victims, and the government offered a reward of 500 rupees for his skin. He was so bold as to think nothing of bounding into a crowd of travelers on the high road in daylight and of carrying off either a pedestrian or the driver of a bullock cart from his seat. He was not content with the usual tactics of seizing his prey outside, but used to break into huts to get at it. Two English officers, friends of mine, who went after this scourge, were shown a hut outside a village inclosure where a poor Dher, a low caste man not allowed to dwell within the village precincts for fear of polluting them, had lived with his wife and infant. He was blind and one night, being awakened by a strange noise, began to crawl and grope about the hut. He put his hand suddenly on the man eater, which had pushed the door open, killed the woman and child and was drinking their blood when the man's hand was laid upon him. Doubtless suspecting a trap, he bounded out of the hut without touching the man. What a picture for a Landseer!

But among the multitude of such stories I venture to think that the following bears away the palm for grewsome horror, and its truth has been confirmed from many sources. I had it from a relative, the owner of the tea estate in Assam where it occurred. S—— B—— was not many years ago—and, for all I know, still is—the manager of a tea garden in Assam, where a man eater was in the habit of carrying off the estate coolies for his dinner, probably finding them much less trouble than a deer or a pig. At last, emboldened, no doubt, by unhindered success in obtaining victims, he took to carrying off coolies who were sleeping in the verandas of the manager's bungalow. Many traps had been laid for him, the bodies of his victims poisoned, watchers with guns on the lookout over the killed men, but so great was his cunning that he had escaped them all.

Everything having failed, things had become desperate, and B—— and some of his planter friends determined to sit up for the tiger in the veranda with native blankets disguising them, an exceedingly exciting business, for, be it remembered, no lights were allowed, and the brute cared nothing for numbers, so that his appearance might be too sudden for unsteady nerves. One of the planters after they had sat a long time in breathless suspense entered the house for something that he wanted, and while looking for it was startled by a sudden terrible uproar in the veranda, which he had just left. Seizing his rifle, he rushed out to find all the party gone, but from the dark tea garden he heard the voice of S—— B—— calling out in agony: "Help! For God's sake, help! The tiger's got me! Help! Help!"

Fixing his bayonet, he ran toward the spot and in the dim gloom made out the outline of the tiger dragging B——, who was walking by its side, his hand in the brute's mouth. Without a moment's hesitation he rushed up to the tiger, plunged the bayonet into its side and at the same time pulled the trigger. The tiger fell, releasing B——, and both rushed back to the house, but before they could reach the steps the tiger was upon them and again seized poor B——, biting and clawing his back and shoulders in a terrible manner. It was mercifully an expiring effort, for the brute fell dead before it could kill B——. It then transpired that the tiger had stolen in upon the watchers like a shadow, without the slightest warning, and had seized the nearest one, who happened to be B——, by the hand, which he had raised to defend himself, and had commenced to drag him off. In his agony he rose to his feet, and after descending the steps of the bungalow was actually walking off with his hand in the tiger's mouth, to be devoured, when his friend, by his courage and presence of mind, rescued him from an awful death. The other watchers, utterly panic stricken, had made for the nearest door, and had it not been for the coolness of his brave rescuer B—— would have been added to the long list of the man eater's victims. After being ill for many months B—— recovered to tell the awful tale of how he had been "led away to be eaten."—Colonel G. H. Trevor in Wide World Magazine.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

SMOKING IN EUROPE.

American Devotees of the Weed Have a Hard Time of It.

The smoking American has a hard time of it on the continent. In several of the countries, notably in France, Spain and Italy, the trade is in the hands of the government, or so enormously taxed that it is virtually a government monopoly. Whatever may be the benefits to the national exchequer, there are certainly none to the consumer, and if a nationalist or state socialist wants arguments to support his theories let him shun the subject of European tobacco.

Pipe smokers will find no plug tobacco abroad. They can get American brands of long cut or fine cut only at exorbitant prices. Where the monopoly prevails the common smoking tobacco offered for sale will cure the habit if anything will. Italian cigars are about the meanest cigars man ever perpetrated on a suffering community. French cigars are not much better. Havanas can be bought in the Latin countries at high rates.

The Germanic races come nearer understanding what is good in the tobacco line. Cigars are cheap in Switzerland, cheaper in Germany and dog cheap in Holland. In fact, Holland is the paradise of smokers. Tobacco is absolutely free of duty there, if I understand right, and partly by reason of the fact that Sumatra is a Dutch possession. Holland leads the world in some branches of the tobacco trade. So the discreet smoker will bring home from Holland as many cigars as he can. In Rotterdam or Amsterdam he may buy for 2 cents apiece cigars that in many American cigar stores would retail at 10 cents straight, and for 5 cents he can get luxury that in America a millionaire would deem extravagance.

The cigarette habit prevails in France, Italy and Spain, so decent cigarettes can be bought, but Turkish or Egyptian cigarettes are not given away. In Germany and Austria pipe smoking is more common, and in Great Britain it would seem as if most men smoked a pipe, both indoors and out.—Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

The Nerves Never Grow Old.

Commenting on the common causes of nervous disorders, Professor W. H. Thompson says: The message of modern science about the nervous system is more hopeful than ever. It tells us that the nervous system has a greater store of reserve vitality than all the other bodily systems put together. It is the only texture that is found not to have lost weight after death by starvation, as well as after death by any cause. It is the last to grow old; and as to the mind, it need not grow old at all, provided it be steadily applied with that mighty spiritual element in us which we call interest. Even the muscular system can be wonderfully sustained by interest; for should a man attempt the same muscular work on a treadmill which he lightly endures along the mountain brook after a trout, he would faint dead away. But the mind will by interest grow steadily, even while bone and sinew are wasting through age.

POWER IN OUR POWDER.

A Shot From a 12 Inch Rifle Sufficient to Lift a Battleship Eight Feet.

"Velocity and pressure," explained the powder mill superintendent, "are the two main requisites in proving powder. The government is very specific in its contracts. It demands that when fired under service conditions in the gun for which it is intended powder must give to the projectile a muzzle velocity of at least a certain number of feet per second without producing a pressure of more than a certain number of tons to the square inch. For modern guns the velocity required varies from 2,000 to 2,300 feet in a second, and the pressure is not allowed to exceed 15 tons to the square inch. In some of our guns of the present day the amount of energy stored up in the powder charge is so tremendous as to be almost incredible. The limit of energy upon the projectile cannot be estimated, so vast are the possibilities.

"For example, I may cite the Oregon's 13 inch rifles. Five hundred and fifty pounds of powder in these guns impart to an 1,100 pound shot a velocity of 2,100 feet per second, and the energy of the projectile is nearly 34,000 foot tons. This power is sufficient to lift such a vessel as the Oregon eight feet out of the water.

"Those screens between the cannon and the breastworks are electric chronographs 100 feet apart from each other and the cannon, and they register the time of the projectile's flight with absolute accuracy."

"And absolute accuracy is—what?"

"The millionth part of a second."—San Francisco Call.

"Scouring the Land."

I have just been examining an old book containing the accounts of the charity estate of West Haddon, embracing the years 1778-1850. Under date Aug. 17, 1776, is the following entry:

"Paid Richard Worster seven days' work, cutting thorns and scowering and stoping of gaps, 10s. 6d."

The term "scouring the ditch" is used on Jan. 8, 1781, and appears many times after this date, the last instance being on April 28, 1830.—Notes and Queries.

Corrected.

An English member of parliament who was addressing a political meeting some time ago, hoping thereby to create a little enthusiasm among the workingmen, exclaimed, "When the polling day comes, you good fellows must stick to me like bricks!"

A hardy son of toil, who knew from experience that bricks had no adhesive property, rose in the middle of the hall and said, "You mean like mortar, don't you, sir?"

Roars of laughter greeted this correction of the ignorance of the candidate.—Manchester Guardian.

Nasty Skin Disease Permanently Cured.

B. B. B. is making medical history. No other remedy anywhere can produce such cases of "permanent cures" as are being published from time to time.

Even in the severest and most chronic diseases of the skin and blood, where other treatment has utterly failed, Burdock Blood Bitters makes cures so thorough and perfect that after many years there is no sign of the disease returning. We don't ask you to accept our statement that this is so. Here's proof from Mr. N. Mitchell, Carman, Man.:

"During the winter of 1892-93 I was covered with pimples on the inside of my right leg, between the knee and ankle. As I never had anything of the kind before I was anxious about it, and sought medical advice, but getting no relief from the doctor, I tried a bottle of B. B. B., applying some of it to my leg, as well as using it internally, and to my surprise the nasty disease, whatever it was, disappeared within three weeks, and I am thankful to say it has never reappeared to this day."

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Little Boy's Terrible Eczema. Mass Running Sores From Head to Foot.

Not an Inch of Body Unaffected. Skin Came off With The Bandages.

Screams Were Heart-Breaking. Four Doctors and Medical Institute No Avail.

Improvement After the Second Application of Cuticura. Now Completely Cured.

My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse, until we could not dress him any more. They finally advised me to try a certain medical college, but its treatment did not do any good. At the time I was induced to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, he was so bad that I had to cut his hair all off, and put the CUTICURA (ointment) on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. He was one mass of sores, and the stench from him was frightful. The bandages used to stick to his skin, and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but, after the entire contents of CUTICURA (ointment) I began to see signs of improvement, and with the sores and itch beginning the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but it finally yielded to the treatment. I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES for his blood, and now I am sure that he is entirely well, and a stronger and healthier boy you never saw than he is to-day.

Mr. Herb Kent, superintendent of the telephone company, New Westminster, is indeed a "live wire." Though only eight weeks have elapsed since the great fire in which among other things the telephone office and plant were burnt, a complete new system has been erected and is in working order. Everything is new, up-to-date and of the best. The restoration involved the erection of 100 new poles and over 150 miles of new wire.

NAVIGATION NOTES.

Lockmaster Collins reports business briskly inclined on the southern section of the Trent Valley Canal.

Last night the Eclipse came up with two scows, bringing a cargo of cordwood for Calcutt's brewery, a lot of hogs for the Matthews Company, and a lot of cattle for Mr. H. P. Kennedy.

The Eclipse expects to bring up a couple of cargoes of wheat for Mr. C. B. McAllister, who has got a large quantity of wheat in Harwood, from which these shipments principally come.

To-day the North Star brings up a cargo of cordwood.

The height of the water is better now—about the normal height for this time of year. It is several inches higher than it was a few weeks ago.

Our Glee Club is furnishing the programme for a concert to be given at Villiers on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Patrons of Industry of that place.

It is much to be regretted that certain persons are so unscrupulous and lose principle as of late appropriated to themselves certain fowls which they found in their neighbours' poultry houses, some for gravy and others for grabs. Such people should be, as they are well identified by nearly every one, and in such a case are morally condemned, though not legally.

Three coaches left the track as well as the baggage car and tender. Mr. Campbell, baggageman, had his leg hurt and the passengers were badly shaken up.

$90,000 WORTH OF GOODS ON THE GRIDIRON!

This is PEREMPTORY! These Great Combined Stocks must be sacrificed—or we'll be in the hole It's a duty we owe to ourselves to forestall trouble. That's the why and the wherefore of this Stupendous Sale inaugurated to accomplish two prime objects:—It must clear out completely, root and branch, every vestige of the Oak Hall Stock before the lease expires—and it must reduce the enormous load of Stocks in our Two Big Stores by ONE-HALF, before the 8th of January, 1899.

Lose money we must, but it pays to lose—sometimes. Better to lose one eye than—

GO IT BLIND!

What is the lesson to you? Gough's need is the buyers' opportunity. The Prices we are slaughtering these Combined Stocks for tell the tale of severe loss to some one—but the early purchasers are reaping benefits, of which these are a fair sample:

An Inquest Opened on the Disaster at Brighton.

WHERE DID THE BLAME REST?

Placing the Blame—The Railway Switch System Explained to the Jury—Robbery of the Dead—Large Sum of Money Taken From Lunness' Body—Burial of the Dead.

Brighton, Nov. 17.—The coroner's jury is hard at work fixing the responsibility.

The proceedings proper began yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when a G. T. R. special with the investigators aboard ran from Brighton to the Murray Hill scene. In the coach were Coroner Dr. Sanford of Brighton, Crown Attorney J. Kerr of Cobourg, G.T.R. Solicitors Bell and Pope, Lawyer J. Gordon, representing Switchman Murphy of Murray Hill, District Supt. Herbert and the members of the press.

The train quickly made to the sickening mass of ruins. It was still made up of shattered "moguls," cars, keel upwards, broken wheels and the car full of red and yellow rags, which acted as a buffer and saved the lives of the railway hands in the freight caboose. Out of the smoking mass were removed the human remains terribly mangled.

A little more than a mile further east stood out the red-roofed switch shanty.

A long freight train here approached from the east and the jury stooped down to watch its wheels as they rolled over the cross line.

The white signal and disk were displayed, and, like clockwork, the train took the southerly course. Had the red light flared out the cars would have been run onto the northern track, the passage of Tuesday's ghastly tragedy.

Standing there looking anxiously on, with his hands in his pockets, was Switchman Murphy, the occupant of the little red shanty on the grey, fateful morning. He is a short, dark, gentlemanly looking chap of about 25, and has a small black mustache. When approached Murphy said: "I feel too bad to speak. Whatever the jury says in this case goes." The 24 jurymen had their feelings too much aroused to keep mum and expressed themselves freely. They declared the mechanism of the switch perfect and decided that there were three questions for them to take into consideration:

1. Why was the red light shown?
2. Why did Brady not see it?
3. Why, when he had passed the red light, did he not notice that there was no track on his right and pull up his train?

The scene now shifted back to the Brighton Town Hall. Coroner Sanford presided at the inquest, and grouped around were lawyers, detectives and railway men.

The first witness called was Frederick Zimmerman, a Russian, who landed in Montreal last Sunday with the ill-fated Cohn family and would have accompanied them on the deadly second-class car but for his money being 12 hours slow in arriving. He identified the dead.

Murphy, the switchman, is looked upon by the G.T.R. lawyers as being blameable, though in a less degree than Brady, the dead driver, and to Lawyer Gordon, who defends Murphy, G.T.R. Solicitor Pope said that he did not notice that after the accident Engineer Brady, as he hung lifeless over the cab, showed that he had been the worse for liquor or undressed. Lawyer Gordon's defence of his client seems to be that Brady was under the influence of drink and was busy undressing himself when the accident occurred.

G.T.R. Surgeon J. Stevenson of Trenton referred to the mangled body of Lunness and said that he saw another body in the ruins without head or legs and bearing a resemblance more to a sheep than anything. This is so far not identified.

Joseph Lunness of Toronto, sworn, said that he believed the remains to be his brother, William Lunness, whose residence was Toronto, King street west. The body was torn into two pieces when he saw it about 5 p.m. at Trenton, in a combination car. Mr. Pope and the coroner, Dr. Sanford, were there. He recognized a coat and a ring on his hand, and a pass book and several papers, the latter he would swear positively to be his brother's. He also recognized a valise, and said his brother ought to have a large amount of money on his person, as he was returning from selling cattle at Montreal, and it was customary for local dealers to carry large sums. He said that he would have between $875 and $925. The witness had learned that his brother had cheques cashed at Point St. Charles.

William Atkinson, county constable, said that he got the ring believed to be Mr. Lunness' on his finger Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock, when all valuables were taken off the bodies and a memorandum made of them. Several small sums were produced, baggage tickets, keys and pocketbooks. One pocketbook was handed Mr. Atkinson by a hotelkeeper that contained a small sum of money.

The inquest adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock a.m. on Thursday.

Funerals of the Victims.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—The funeral of W. H. Brady, G.T.R. engineer, who was killed in the smash-up near Brighton, will take place from his mother's residence in this city this morning.

The funeral of McDonald and Casey, whose remains were brought to the city last night, will take place to-day, that of the former being under the auspices of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—The bodies of the late Charles Goodchild and the late William Lunness arrived here yesterday on the 3.10 train. The funerals of both the victims of the railway accident will be held at 3 o'clock to-day.

The other Toronto victims, Messrs. Fred. Tuck, George Paulin, Beatty and Sloan, are recovering from the effects of the shock and injuries received.

Man in Front Killed.

St. Catharines, Nov. 17.—Capt. Charles Coons of this city was on the wrecked G.T.R. train at Murray Hill, having just laid up his boat at Kingston. A man in the second seat in front of him was killed. A peculiar circumstance is related by him. A bride and groom had just boarded the train and were sitting opposite him. All those in front of them were killed, but the newly married couple escaped.

THIS GAS WELL ROARS.

Will It Prove a Rival of the Wells at Kingsville?

Chatham, Nov. 17.—While A. Markham of lot 7, concession 8, Tilbury North, was boring for water, he was suddenly surprised to see a stream of water shoot up in the air fully 60 or 70 feet. The water was accompanied with oil and gas. The well is 115 feet deep, and of this depth about six or eight feet is in the rock. The escaping gas, when not lit, shoots up in the air quite a distance. There is over 100 pounds weight on the mouth of the pipe. The roar is incessant and can be heard for a long distance. The question arises, has a gas well been struck that will prove a formidable rival to the famous gas wells at Kingsville?

HAS HE CONFESSED?

Rumor That Young Elliott Admits Murdering Old Man Murray.

Beaverton, Nov. 17.—It is rumored that the lad Elliott, who is under arrest, accused of the murder of the old man Murray, has made a confession.

At the coroner's inquest yesterday a brother of Elliott testified to his having said that he had been to Murray's house on Saturday and found the man drunk. He also testified as to finding a key in his bed room, also occupied by his brother, which was identified as the key to the murdered man's door. The court has adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. A warrant has been issued for the apprehension of one John McHattie in connection with the affair.

GETTING TOGETHER AGAIN.

G.T.R. and C.P.R. Trying to Settle Their Differences Amicably.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—Negotiations are again in progress looking to a settlement of the passenger rate differences between the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railway. It may take some days before any conclusion is reached, but, as is usual in such cases, a satisfactory outcome of the negotiations is hoped for. The difficulty had reached such a stage that there was nothing else for the interested roads to do but come together again, and try once more to bring the trouble to an end.

NOTES OF POLITICS.

North Simcoe Reformers will meet at Stayner to nominate a candidate on Nov. 28.

Hon. George W. Ross will address a meeting at Wallaceburg on Thursday next.

At Warkworth on Wednesday Dr. Willoughby was unanimously selected as the Liberal-Conservative candidate in East Northumberland. The convention was most enthusiastic and harmonious.

Civil Servant Dead.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Mr. A. N. McNeil, chief clerk in the Department of Indian Affairs, died yesterday, aged 52. Mr. McNeil began life as assistant clerk in the Royal Navy, serving in the Pacific squadron. He was afterwards clerk to the Provincial Legislature of Prince Edward Island, entering the Dominion civil service in 1874.

TO BUY THE ISLANDS.

American Forecast of the Future of the Philippines.

$20,000,000 TO $40,000,000.

The Enormous Sum That May Be Paid by the United States to Spain—Meanwhile Aguinaldo, the Insurgent Leader, Is Making Trouble and Predicting Much More.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Up to this point, the discussion at Paris having touched on principle, there has been no attempt to give exact figures in relation to the amount of money that might be paid to Spain by the United States on account of the Philippines, such; for instance, as the statement that the United States would reimburse Spain "for pacific expenditures" made on account of the Philippines, for no one here at the time had an exact knowledge of what these expenditures amounted to in the aggregate.

This has been ascertained, however, to the satisfaction of the American Commissioners at least, and they will name the exact amount of money which the United States is willing to pay over to Spain on this account. What is proposed is a cash payment to the Spanish Government, for the United States does not purpose to enter into any relations whatever with any of the holders of any of the bonds issued by Spain, notwithstanding the efforts of some of the European powers to bring this result about. As to the amount which will be offered to Spain the officials here are mute, but it is believed to lie somwhere between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000. The American Commissioners do not look for an unconditional rejection of our offer, but believe there will be an attempt on the part of the Spanish Commissioners to secure a liberal increase of the amount named.

The Filipinos Are "Children."

London, Nov. 17. — General Wesley Merritt, the commander of the United States forces in the Philippine Islands, in discussing the Filipinos, refers to them as "children," and says it would be impossible to establish United States government in the islands; they must have some form of colonial government, similar to the British colonial governments. Regarding the complaints of the Filipinos, the General said: "It was impossible to recognize the insurgents, and I made it a point not to do so, as I knew it would lead to complications. Admiral Dewey, after my arrival, pursued the same course. What was done before is not for me to comment on."

Filipinos Will Fight Americans.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 17.—Captain John Barneson, commander of the United States transport Arizona, has arrived here from Manila, on leave of absence.

Capt. Barneson said the general impression among army officers was that when the Peace Commission concluded its labors the United States troops will have serious trouble with the natives.

Admiral Dewey told him that Aguinaldo was not only unreliable, but treacherous. It is said that Aguinaldo has promised his men that immediately upon the withdrawal of the Spaniards he will declare war against the United States. He says he will kill off United States soldiers faster than the United States Government can ship them to the islands.

Aguinaldo Can Say "No."

Manila, Philippine Islands, Nov. 17.—General Otis, the commander of the American forces, recently proposed to Aguinaldo that he release the friars and civilians held in captivity throughout the provinces. The insurgent leader denied their maltreatment and refused to release the prisoners, claiming that the civilians had enlisted as volunteers and, therefore, were legitimate prisoners of war. Aguinaldo also denied that women and children were detained, but said some women and children had voluntarily accompanied their husbands or fathers into captivity.

As to the friars, Aguinaldo argues that they are prohibited by the Pope from accepting parochial appointments; that they are only permitted to follow monastic life, and that the parishes are entrusted to ministers of the independent monastic orders. But, he adds, the Philippine clericals have deliberately and systematically deceived the Pope, pretending the country was barbarous, unfit for the regular ministry and that it was necessary that the monastic orders should administer the parishes. Therefore, Aguinaldo continued, he considered it necessary to detain the friars until the Pope is undeceived.

Surrounded by Insurgents.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Reports of a somewhat disquieting nature have been received from General Otis, in command at Manila. He says the Province of Iloilo in the island of Panay, which is technically occupied by the Spaniards, is surrounded by the insurgents and that fears are entertained that the Spanish population and garrison will be massacred by the insurgents. The capital of the province is 355 miles from Manila, but this and the other islands, with the exception of Manila and its adjacent country, is not under control of the Americans.

MURDERS NEAR SANTIAGO.

$1,000 in Gold Offered for the Names of Those Implicated.

Santiago de Cuba, Nov. 17.—Sergt. Rafael Ferrer, chief of the provincial mounted police; one of his men, a negro belonging to the Ninth Immune Regiment; Jose Roman, a planter, and Emilio Beehan were all killed in a shooting affray with drunken negro soldiers belonging to the Ninth Immunes, the Twenty-Third Kansas and Eighth Illinois regiments on Monday night at San Luis. Several soldiers were wounded and a Cuban and a baby were each shot through the body. The row occurred between a Cuban and two negro soldiers over the ownership of a pig, and General Wood has offered a reward of $1,000 in gold for the names of the men implicated in the disgraceful affair.

The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. E. GREY, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

BENEFICENT RESULTS OF APPLIED LIBERALISM

TO THE GOVERNMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF ONTARIO.

As Set Forth in Premier Hardy's Grand Speech at the Grand Banquet—A Review of the Record of the Liberal Administration.

The following is the concluding portion of the great speech delivered by Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier of Ontario, at the banquet given in his honour at the Pavilion, Toronto, on Wednesday night.

After referring generally to the record of the Ontario Government, Mr. Hardy said:

Sir Oliver Mowat found the laws as skeleton. He filled them in. To day there is no country, there is no Province, there is no State on this continent with a fuller body of good laws to meet every exigency and every situation. Within the Province of Ontario he found our boundaries unsettled, he found our frontiers unknown, he found our territory in the possession of the enemy—not Manitoba, because Manitoba refused to take it when offered to her. Our constitution he found invaded with impunity, our rights were usurped and constantly thrust aside. That is what he found when he took possession of the reins of power in 1871. These questions have all been settled. If there is one feature in the rule of the Liberal party during the past quarter of a century more prominent, more pronounced, and that affords more gratification than another, it is that the Liberal party, almost since the beginning of Confederation and since the organization of this Province, have had the settlement of these great constitutional questions affecting Confederation, affecting its basis, affecting the Dominion on the one hand and the Province on the other. And they have been settled according to the true contentions of of the Liberal doctrine, as Liberals contended and believed when Confederation was adopted. and when it became the constitution of this country. (Cheers.)

SETTLED FOREVER.

They are settled forever. They are fixed, they are determined as if mortised in granite, and they will remain as long as we have a Province, as long as we have a constitution. (Cheers.) We are proud of the fact that we may claim that during all these years we have upheld the doctrine of the equality of all before the law, equality of opportunity to all. These have been great planks in the Liberal platform. Pride, too, may be felt that in no case, however great the provocation, has the Liberal party during all that time descended from its high pedestal by an attempt to arouse religious animosities, by an attempt to snatch a verdict. They have defended their principles; they have stood by the weak against the strong; they have upon all occasions and upon every occasion taken a straightforward course, relying upon those great underlying principles which Liberals in England and in this country have advocated for a century or two centuries past. (Cheers.) During all that time the Liberals have proclaimed one doctrine, that of justice, tolerance and liberty. They are the three great policies which underlie the Liberal platform, as they are the three great lights which have guided the Liberal party since Confederation in this Province. In this country we have two races, we have two creeds. It to weld them together, to help to harmonize and to do away with sectarian differences; to build up a homogeneous people, and a homogeneous nation. (Cheers.) This has been our effort, and during all the time that I have mentioned we have never allowed ourselves to be swerved aside even when attacks were made upon us, unjust in their origin, unjust in their presentation; attacks which, as I have said, however, led to no good results to those who originated them. (Cheers.) I need not refer to Sir Oliver's successes in the country; you know them all; they are matters of history. He failed only twice. Before he became Minister of Justice of the Dominion he had submitted to the Court of Appeal here the question of the right to appoint Her Majesty's Queen's Counsel. The court decided in favour of the Province. When he went to Ottawa he felt it his duty to carry that decision on appeal to the Privy Council, and he was defeated. We beat him. The fisheries, too, the great fisheries question, had been submitted to the Supreme Court, and they decided largely in favour of the Province. I had charge of the fisheries department of the Province at that time, and I think I may claim some credit—I know that Sir Oliver will not grudge it to me—for the submission of that case, and for taking part in its preparation. The decision, as I said, was in favour of the Province. When Sir Oliver became Minister of Justice he

HAS BEEN THE POLICY OF THE LIBERAL PARTY

FELT BOUND TO CARRY THE CASE

to the Privy Council, the court of the highest resort. We beat him. It was only when Sir Oliver found himself in opposition to the Ontario Government that he met his downfall, just as his predecessor, Sir John A. Macdonald, had found it before him. It is not for me upon this occasion to undertake to outline a future for the Government of this Province, suffice it to say, that there is sufficient work for the future, I mention first and foremost, I always mention first and foremost, the great cause of labour, its further development and more beneficient legislation, lifting as far as possible those who are themselves more or less dependent on the good will of the community; the protection and development as well of our fisheries in the great lakes and in our inland waters; the further protection of our timber limits, the reforestry of our pine already begun, the farther development of our mines and mining industry, and the development of this great and mighty north and northwest country, which fills our hearts, and fills our minds as we survey it from a distance or as we travel through it. Rocky along the coast it may be, but as you penetrate into the interior, whether it be north or west, you find giant growths of mighty timber, excellent farming land and people by the hundreds of thousands who have gone in there and taken possession in the last few years.

A Canadian to-day cannot but feel proud of this rapid which has so sprung into existence during the past few years in this country. A Canadian sentiment means a patriotic sentiment, and it has swollen beyond its bounds, it has filled the hearts and the lives of the people of this country. (Hear, hear.) They have only now begun to realise and ascertain and to know the future that lies before this country, they have only begun to realize the great and vast and mighty heritage which God has given them as the Canadian people.

What other five millions of people in the civilised world possess such a country as the five millions of Canadians possess in Canada? From her eastern coasts, with her coal and iron, traversing up her mighty river, one of the proudest and most glorious of this continent, on through these great lakes which penetrate into the heart of the American continent, and which spread and diffuse comfort, health and wealth, which make it possible to live in the heart of the great country lying between here and the Rocky Mountains, and which bear on their bosom the commerce which, as I have said, promotes the comfort, health and wealth along their coasts of this great Province of Ontario, its woodlands, its plains, its fertile territory, its mines, on into the prairies lying between our western boundary and the Rocky Mountains—the mountains which to-day are bringing forth and their wealth unknown, the fringe and very edge of which we have but just touched, and which was looked upon as a barren desolation, as almost insurmountable, certainly as inhabitable and unproductive. The Kootenays to-day are pronounced, apart from the Yukon and our territory around the Lake of the Woods, in our own Province, the richest mining centres in existence. And on further we find the Yukon with its undeveloped wealth, with its unknown stores of gold to which people are rushing to-day and every day in the year. These are new developments; they were unexpected a few short years ago—they add to our resources, to our wealth, to our reputation abroad, which we are achieving in the continental countries of old Europe.

While I am speaking upon that point, sir, permit me to say that the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was fortunate, that this country was fortunate, in having in its Cabinet one who was acquainted with this country, one who is a young man—(Loud cheers and musical honours)—not unknown to fame before. A man who had the eye of a seer, the soul of a statesman: a man capable of grasping events as they they arise, of taking hold of the helm, of saying those slumbering riches shall slumber no longer. The moment they have been discovered, and we have ascertained something of what they are, we will penetrate into their interior with roads, with population and with railways. (Cheers.) Well will send it governing bodies. The Yukon until it was provided with a Governor and Government, with soldiers, with cavalry, with mounted policemen and with law, because there was a man in the Cabinet who knew something of the country—a man with a mind, the soul and the vision to grasp the situation. (Cheers.) It is because of that we see him traduced, that we see him maligned; and if the Reform party of this Province or of this Canada of ours, lend a willing ear to interested traducing, to interested defamation, then they will listen to what has been said with an open ear; otherwise they will know the interested source from which it comes. (Cheers.) We are only, after a lapse of thirty years, beginning to understand Confederation as the mighty achievement of Mr. George Brown and Sir John A. Macdonald. (Cheers.) I shall not discuss to-night who was entitled to, they are both deserving of, credit. It is welding us together as a nation, and all, even in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where they denied the name for many years, are now proud to call themselves Canadians. (Cheers.) Ontario is as she was, the bright particular gem of the constellation of Confederation, is the fit and well endowed leader of all the Provinces of the entire nation. (Cheers.) I say to my colleagues, I say to the representative men of Ontario whom I see here, she must be kept so for all time. (Cheers.) That is the mission of the Liberal party of this Province, and that they will respond to the call I am satified. Unalterably determined as we are to and to have some share in the authority and the power wielded by the mightiest empire since the dawn of time, and in the glory which attaches to her history, we are, notwithstanding, distinctly Canadian, and grow more so with British training, British sympathies, a fixed loyalty to British connection, and as part of the mighty empire which circles the globe with her colonies and her possessions in both hemispheres, on every continent, in every clime, in every zone. She is great in Europe, nearly as great in Asia, nearly as great in America, Africa and Australia and in the islands of the sea. Of what other nation now or in the past could be said with truth, "Her flag floats on every sea, and she is unconquerable and triumphant wherever it floats?" (Loud applause.) With an invincible spirit, boundless enterprise and adventurous souls, Britons and British stock stand for liberty and good free government in every quarter of the globe. Nowithstanding this, she loves peace rather than war. Her triumphs are those of peace rather than those of war. She is emphatically a nation of peaceful arts and pursuits, and in time of peace she has attained to a great battleship of war. In a time of trying calm and motionless, but in the time of action arrives she comes in swelling pinions, puts on all her regalia and heavens and collects her scattered elements of power, awakening her dormant thunder. (Cheers.) The incidents of Fashoda (cheers)—and the Transvaal were occasions which aroused her from her attitude of peace. In a moment she ruffled her swelling plumage, put on all her beauty and her bravery and collected the scattered elements of her power, and if she did not actually awaken her dormant thunder, it was only because the would-be invaders of her rights had seen enough and heard enough to lead them prudently to haul down their flag of defiance, to muffle their war drums and to sound the retreat.

MAINTAIN BRITISH CONNECTION

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded

WANTS FRIENDSHIP,

But, With the Aid of Any Colonies Great Britain Can Stand Alone—Hope in Newfoundland.

London, Nov. 17.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, who was the guest of the Conservative Club in this city last evening, in replying to a toast to his health, said that almost all international troubles of recent years had arisen from the competition of nations for the undeveloped territories on the world's surface in the possession of barbarous tribes or decaying nations. He predicted an "immense future" for Rhodesia and Great Britain's other acquisitions in Africa, even the Gold Coast and Lagos, when medical science has succeeded in overcoming malarial diseases.

He warmly defended the Government's Chinese policy, contending that "Great Britain had good reason to be satisfied with the results obtained as compared with other powers."

Regarding the contention that Great Britain ought to have an agreement with Russia, he said: "Experience has taught us that we require a better guarantee than a paper agreement to secure the policy of an open door. The best security, in my opinion, is the desire of other nations, like Japan, Germany and the United States, to preserve an open door. Japan is becoming an important power, with whom our relations throughout have been those of cordial friendship, while with Germany and the United States our relations, I rejoice to say, are now closer and more cordial than they have been for some time.

"Germany and the United States are the two great commercial nations whose interests are identical with our own. In what I have said I have not meant a permanent formal treaty or alliance, nor need I say this now, but that a speech of mine some months ago gave rise to misinterpretation.

"Those persons are very premature, very much mistaken, who think that Great Britain is in need of an alliance for her own security or in order that other powers may pull chestnuts out of the fire."

In an eloquent peroration, Mr. Chamberlain declared that if England ever needed an alliance, she would give as much as she received, but that she would never need more aid, in his opinion, than would be cheerfully afforded by her own children.

"I rejoice," he said, in conclusion, "at the change that has occurred in the relations between Great Britain and the United States. To us they stand in a relation different from that occupied by any other people. I know a hundred reasons why we should be friends, none why we should be otherwise, and I believe that has been the true feeling of this country towards the United States for many years.

"All misunderstandings have been happily removed, and the combination of the two English-speaking nations would fear no other alliance."

Not Altogether Approved Of.

London, Nov. 17.—Mr. Chamberlain's speech at the Conservative Club last evening does not meet with the unqualified approval bestowed upon the Manchester address. The disappointment felt concerns chiefly his manner of dealing with the Chinese question.

Le Temps Is Angry.

Paris, Nov. 17.—The Temps this morning, in an attack upon Great Britain and the United States, declares that neither can stand alone in the far East, and that "protectionist America will be compelled to accept the open door policy in the Philippines for the sake of British help in China."

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

SEVENTY LIVES LOST.

Terrible Marine Disaster in Chinese Waters—Steamers in Collision.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 17.—The Royal Mail steamer Empress of China arrived yesterday from Yokohama and Hong Kong. She brings news of terrible disaster in Inland Sea on October 28, when the steamer Kinshiu Maru came into collision with O.S.K. steamer Myajawa Maru off Kasami, 85 miles from the coast, with the result that the latter sank in a few minutes. Boats appeared to have been lowered from both vessels, and it is reported that as many as 180 persons were saved, but that quite seventy were drowned. The Myajawa sank in three minutes. So strong was the impact that the captain, who was on the bridge, was thrown into the sea. All the crew were saved and the captain also.

French Dabbling Everywhere.

Rome, Nov. 17.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by a report that a French warship recently landed an officer and some soldiers at Rabehta, in the Danakil country, on the west shore of Bab-el-Mandeb, the strait connecting the Red Sea with the Indian Ocean, and only re-embarked them after a protest by the Italian officers there. The feeling of irritation is increased by the fact that Russia has refused to recognize an Italian protectorate over Rabehta.

Wedded in London.

London, Nov. 17.—Lillian, the daughter of Governor McCallum of Newfoundland, was married yesterday to Percy Buckley of the Royal Engineers.

Boer Forces at War.

Pretoria, Nov. 17.—The Boer forces, after a heavy musketry and artillery bombardment, have stormed and captured the mountain stronghold of Chief Opefu of the Magatos tribe, in the Zoutansberg district. Opefu recently massacred a missionary and his family, and the Transvaal Government sent an expedition to punish the natives. The latter attacked the Boers, but were driven into the mountains. Two Boers were killed during the storming of the mountain stronghold.

Desires to Protract.

London, Nov. 17.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "I understand that Senor Sagasta desires to protract the Paris negotiations to the utmost because he fears, first, that the signature of a peace treaty will be the end of his public life, and in the second place, that he desires to stave off, if possible, the fall of the dynasty."

WHITE HOUSE GUESTS.

High Commissioners Entertained by President McKinley.

SIR WILFRID IS POPULAR.

An Elaborate Social Function—First Floor Rooms of the Executive Mansion Beautifully Decorated With Plants and Cut Flowers—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Makes a Speech for Unity.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 17. — The President and Mrs. McKinley entertained at dinner last night the Joint High Commissioners on the part of Great Britain and the United States. The dinner was the most elaborate social function at the White House for many months. The rooms throughout the first floor of the executive mansion were beautifully decorated with plants and cut flowers. The orchestra of the Marine Band furnished the music.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Popularity.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if he remains long in Washington, will become as great a popular favorite as he was in England during the Jubilee. He attended the opening lecture of the School of Jurisprudence and Diplomacy of the Columbian University last night in company with President McKinley and a number of members of the Supreme Court. Altogether unexpectedly he made a short address, which was received with great enthusiasm. After a general reference to the success of American diplomacy, and especially to the work of President McKinley in bringing about the conference now in progress, Sir Wilfrid said that whatever might be the result of the present mission, he expected to live to see the day when war between Great Britain and the United States would be regarded as no less monstrous and criminal than the civil war of 30 years ago. In the conduct of that war the people of the United States gave an example to the world and to history. Victory was tempered with moderation, and all the blood was shed on the field of battle, not one drop by judicial proceedings on account of the war. The United States was the only country that could show such a record. In closing, the Premier said: "While the union that was severed in 1776 can never be restored to the fullest extent, it can be restored to the extent of international friendship and confidence, and it is my wish that henceforth the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack shall float together, and that they shall go forth for no cause but for the freedom of the oppressed, for the defence of freedom, and for the advancement of civilization." The President did not speak, but he heard Sir Wilfrid's remarks with keen pleasure.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT OPENED.

Navy to Be Increased and Internal Reforms Submitted.

Rome, Nov. 17.—King Humbert opened Parliament yesterday, and in doing so referred to the rioting in Italy last spring. His Majesty said he was looking forward to the moment when he would be able to pardon those who were misled at that time.

Continuing, the King pointed to the acceptance of Italy's proposal regarding the Government of Crete and the Anarchist conference as proving the cordiality of her relations with the powers. The financial condition of the country, he asserted, was satisfactory, the navy would be gradually increased, and a series of internal reforms would be submitted.

In conclusion, King Humbert said Italy needed peace, and cordially adhered to the Czar's proposal to discuss the question of disarmament at the approaching congress.

May Not Go to Paris.

Paris, Nov. 17.—The announcement that two advocates will be sent to Cayenne, capital of French Guiana, to assist Dreyfus in the preparation of his defence, gives rise to the belief that he will not, after all, be brought back.

It is believed he has already received the Government's message announcing the revision.

The Court of Cassation will undoubtedly demand the secret dossier and, according to the Soir, the Government has taken the full responsibility for whatever measures may be necessary to prevent the dossier obtaining a publicity that would be dangerous from an international point of view.

Expelled From the Legion.

Paris, Nov. 17.—A commissary of police yesterday notified Francis de Pressense, the well known writer, political economist and Dreyfus agitator, of his formal expulsion from the Legion of Honor. This is a sequel to M. de Pressense's denunciation of certain officers for their treatment of Dreyfus. M. Francis de Pressense is the son of the famous French Protestant pastor and writer of the same name, who died in 1891.

A Brakeman's Serious Injuries.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 17.—James Ness, a brakeman on the Canadian Pacific Railway, met with a serious accident near Humber Summit yesterday morning. Whilst jumping from one car to another the train separated and he fell to the ground with great force. His back is sprained and his right leg badly broken in three places, caused by two flat cars passing over it. His left ankle is also broken. He was taken to Woodbridge, but it is thought the leg will have to be amputated. Mr. Ness is a young man and has a wife and small child here.

HOW TO CURE CONSTIPATION.

There is only One Remedy That Can do This.

That Remedy is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, the Only Medicine Known That Does not Aggravate the Trouble—But that Cures Positively and Permanently.

Constipation claims as its victims very nearly the entire population of this continent. It is, in fact, so common that it is underrated in its power to cause suffering.

Few people take the trouble to endeavor to get rid of this complaint. This is because nearly all the "remedies" advertised to cure it, have effect only while they are being used. As soon as their use is discontinued, the trouble returns.

Besides this, many so-called Constipation remedies make the trouble worse. There is no wonder, then, that people tire of using medicines that do no good, or that increases the evil.

It is in these points that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets differ from any other medicine. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Constipation. They do not relieve it only. They cure it, and cure it permanently.

It is not necessary to continue it indefinitely, the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They do their work thoroughly, and having done it, they need not be used longer. The cure continues, after you have quit using the Tablets.

In addition to thoroughly and permanently curing Constipation, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets tone the digestive organs, ensuring perfect digestion, banishing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, and all stomach diseases, except Cancer.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cost fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, at all druggists, or sent on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

K. OF L. CONVENTION.

Executive's Report Attacked the Judiciary of the United States.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Most of yesterday's session of the Knights of Labor convention was devoted to the reports of committees and that of General Master Workman Hicks.

The report of the Executive Committee said in part: "It seems next to impossible to secure the passage by Congress of a proper measure to regulate the immigration to our shores. The influence of the foreign steamship companies appears to be all powerful to prevent any such legislation.

"The judiciary, with a few honorable exceptions, are merely the hirelings of labor's oppressors, and legislation is necessary to reconstruct the courts. Injunctions, imprisonment, bayonets and bullets are awaiting the men who take any decided stand against the encroachments of capital."

General Master Workman Hicks, in his annual report, took strong grounds in opposition to the anti-expansion policy of President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

"No part of the territory where our nation's blood was lost, or the flag raised," said Mr. Hicks, "should under any pretext, be allowed to go out of our possession. Still, we should not, under the guise of humanity, either take for our own or turn back to Spain any portion of the scenes of our various battles, but make them all free and independent. Let us not fear the importation of their cheap labor, but rather let us educate them to our standard."

WAITING FOR A RISE.

The Ontario Farmer Still Has the Bulk of His 1898 Crop of Wheat—The Prices.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 16.

According to an estimate believed to be reliable, the percentages of this year's crop still remaining in farmers' hands in the two counties of Huron and Bruce are: Wheat 90 per cent.; oats, 75 per cent.; peas, 50 per cent. It is moreover stated that the same figures would fairly represent the state of affairs in other parts of the Province of Ontario, except perhaps in Essex and Kent and other counties bordering on Lake Erie where the harvests came in early. If the above estimate is well founded it is significant.

Liverpool wheat futures to-day closed ⅝d to ¾d lower than yesterday. Paris wheat declined 5 to 15 centimes and flour 25 to 30 centimes.

Minstrelsy is seen at its best, the presence of Bob Tasker, Jas. Williams, Martha Webb and Clarence Cisel, stars of undoubted ability, fully attests to the excellence of the performance. Mr. Allen May, the originator of illustrated songs, assisted by Prof. Abt, contributes a splendid feature. His rendition of the popular refrain in connection with a series of splendid stereopticon views, "Whisper Mother's Name," elicited enthusiastic applause. Miner and Neal, a clever song and dance team, and Prof. Abt's dissolving views are something worth seeing. Prices 15, 25 and 35 cents. Seats on sale Friday morning. 1d

Six Reasons.

Why you should use the Crescent Brand Currants and Raisins:

I.—You get what you pay for.
II.—They are the choicest fruit to be had.
III.—They save you time in cleaning and stemming.
IV.—They are washed cleaner than you could do them by any other means.
V.—They have lost none of the fine flavour by this process, as the water does not remain on them long enough to soak in.
VI.—You do dot pay a big price for dirt, stems and sand.

Crescent Brand Currants and Raisins cost no more than uncleaned fruit.

E. F. MASON & Co.

The Metropolitan Grocery's Fruits.

The customers at Messrs. W. H. Hamilton & Co's Grocery, who have been enjoying the comforts of perfectly cleaned raisins and currants since the beginning of the year, have shown their appreciation by telling their neighbours and sending them to the "Metropolitan" Grocery for their fruit. In this way Mr. Hamilton has experienced a very marked increase in business—not in fruits only, but in general groceries as well—the result of the special advantages offered by cleaning his fruits. It was creditable to Mr. Hamilton to be the first in the Midland district to invest in the necessary plant for this purpose, and he is now reaping the reward of his enterprise. A treat is in store for all who place their orders for Christmas fruits at the Metropolitan Grocery, Simcoe street. The best is none too good for this store, and no other is handled. See their window display of thoroughly cleaned, bright and fresh fruit, ready for immediate use.

New Store at Peterborough.

The Dry Goods Review for November has the following paragraph of local interest: "A. W. Cressman, formerly of Norwich, has opened up his new store in Peterborough and has made it one of the most up-to-date stores in the vicinity. It being an entirely new establishment, everything that is displayed for sale is new and stylish, a fact which, no doubt, accounts for the rush of ladies that daily visit the store. The attractive way in which it is laid out and the splendid manner in which it is lighted with electricity add additional brilliancy to the appearance of the store. The business is conducted on a cash basis, and Mr. Cressman buys direct from the mills in large quantities, thereby enabling him to sell at a reduced rate to his customers. On the first floor will be found on the south side staples, and the north side small wares. Then come the dress goods, silks and trimmings, which are imported direct. Further back are the housefurnishings. On the second floor is the millinery and mantle department. In this department, as in every department, everything up-to-date in every particular. In fact, Mr. Cressman has an establishment which is a credit to the town as well as himself, and cannot help but secure a large share in his particular line. The Dry Goods Review wishes him every success in his new enterprise."

THE MIDLAND FALLS INTO LINE.

A Train Derailed at Port Hope—Nobody Injured.

PORT HOPE, Dec. 16th.—As the passenger train leaving Toronto this morning at 8.05, and due to arrive here at 12.35, was nearing the Ontario street bridge, the engine under the charge of "Jimmy" Young jumped the track. Luckily the train had slackened its speed or the damage might have been much greater. The engine and tender were thrown completely off the track, the baggage car being left on the brink of the rail.

Great credit is due to Engineer Young for the prompt manner in which he brought his engine to a stop, not fifty feet from the bank of the creek. It is difficult to say how the accident occurred. No blame can be attached to any person. No time was lost in clearing the track, and by 4 p. m. the road was open for traffic. No damage was done to the engine or tender.

A NOTORIOUS FAMILY.

The Police Finally Succeed in Breaking up a Bad Gang of Thieves and Prostitutes.

The notorious Smith family, with their numerous connections, have been finally routed out of Peterborough by the police.

The family came to town last March from Gravenhurst, and the police of that town sent word to Chief Bossel to keep his eye on them, as they would stand watching.

A search warrant arrived shortly afterwards from Gravenhurst, and the Chief went up to the house to look for some things which had been missed in Gravenhurst. Nothing was found, but a warrant soon after was received for the arrest of a man named George Baldwin, who was also known as Lacea, alias Williams, alias Smith. He lived with the mother of the Smith family, which consisted of four sons—William, James, Hector and Henry, and two daughters. Two police officers went to the house to get Baldwin, but he was too quick for them, and jumping from an upstairs window escaped. The Smith's then moved to Wiarton and Chief Bossel sent word of the change of residence to Gravenhurst, and notified the Wiarton police to watch for Baldwin. The man was arrested at the latter place and on being taken to Gravenhurst, was sentenced to a year in the Central Prison on a charge of theft. The Smith's then migrated to Napanee, and from there came back to town sometime in August, James and Hector leaving again almost immediately for Napanee. It was at this place that they were arrested and brought back to Peterborough to answer to the charge of burglarising Miss Lilly's house. Thinking that Mrs. Allen had given them away they told a story to the Chief implicating her in the burglary, but after they had received their sentences and Mrs. Allen was brought on for trial, they went back on their story and she was exonerated.

In the meantime Beck, stated to be Mrs. Allen's husband, had been arrested and sentenced in connection with the Butcher robbery and the little boy, Wesley Allen, had been sent to the Industrial School for being implicated in the same matter.

Henry Smith was thought to know something and was arrested on a charge of vagrancy. Hearing that he had pawned a gold watch in Lindsay, the Chief asked him, straight, where he got it. The answer implicated Mrs. Allen, the young man stating that it was a gift from her. The watch proved to be the one stolen from the Salvation Army barracks and Smith was freed from the suspicion of taking it, as he was absent from town at the time it was missed.

Mrs. Allen, as stated in another paragraph, was sentenced to eighteen months in the Mercer for the theft.

The youngest Smith, Henry, has been warned to leave town, as have his mother and sisters, who bear none too good a name, the former having suffered Baldwin to live with her and the latter having followed all too closely in the devious footsteps of their mother.

THE WRONG CHANGE.

Gave a Five Dollar Bill Instead of a One on the Market.

On Saturday, November 5th, a lady in purchasing two pounds of butter on the market, gave the vendor a five dollar Union Bank bill, thinking it was a one. The woman who was selling the butter was evidently under the same impression, as the change handed back was only for a one dollar bill.

The matter has been explained to the police, and if the woman who sold the butter will leave the correct change at the police station it will be handed over to its rightful owner.

FATHER CHIDWICK'S LECTURE.

The Band of the 57th Battalion to Attend.

By the kind permission of Col Bell and the officers of the 57th Battalion, the band of the regiment will attend and will play several selections at the lecture in the Opera House on Friday evening, Nov. 25th, by United States Naval Chaplain Chidwick, the chaplain of the Maine.

SENT TO THE MERCER.

Mrs. Allen is Sentenced to Eighteen Months in that Institution.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Allen was arranged before Judge Weller charged with the theft of a gold watch and chain from an officer of the Salvation Army.

The timepiece was missed from the quarters, but its disappearance could never be accounted for until it was traced by the police to Mrs. Allen.

The prisoner stated that the watch was given to her by her little son, Wesley Allen, and the lad corroborated the story, saying that he had found it.

Judge Weller held that in converting the time-piece to her own use was sufficient evidence of the prisoner's guilt and committed her to the Mercer Reformatory for three months.

POLICE COURT.

Nov. 17th, 1898.

Robert Scriver was before Magistrate Dumble this morning for sentence on the charge of the theft of a canoe. He was again remanded until Saturday.

Henry Smith, charged with vagrancy, was remanded for sentence until Saturday. In the meantime he has been set at liberty with the intimation that it will be well for him to place as many miles as possible between himself and Peterborough before he is called for sentence.

John Clancy for causing a disturbance on Hunter street on Sunday, was fined $5 and $4.45 costs.

A young man, who has been indulging very freely of late, was given 15 days in gaol to cool off.

H. P. KENNEDY'S NEW STOCK YARD PLANS.

The Lots Which he is Soliciting a Lease of.

THEIR RELATION TO THE RAILWAYS

Sketch Plan of the Proposed Covered Stock Pens to be Erected.

A Bird's-eye View of the Situation for Those Interested—Convenience of Access to the Two Railways Demonstrated.

The application of Mr. H. P. Kennedy, the well-known stock dealer, for a lease at nominal rental of the four town lots, bounded by Stewart, Rink, Bethune and Perry streets, and touched by the G. T. R. and C. P. R. lines, for the purpose of stock yards, is a matter of no little importance to the town and a little detail as to the situation will be of value to the public whose interests are concerned.

The lease applied for covers four lots. The northwest corner of this block is cut off slightly by the C. P. R. track and the remaining northern half of lot 11 is at present occupied by the C. P. R. yards.

The new buildings, according to sketch plans of Mr. F. Bartlett, architect, are to occupy lot 11 on Perry street, and the south half of lot 11 on Rink street. They are 200x100 feet in area or rather of two buildings of the length of 200 feet and each 50 feet wide, separated by a planked passageway, 20 feet in width, running through from Rink to Perry street.

The buildings are divided into 20 covered cattle yards, 30x42 feet in area, each capable of accommodating a car of stock and each is provided with a water trough and feeding racks on two sides.

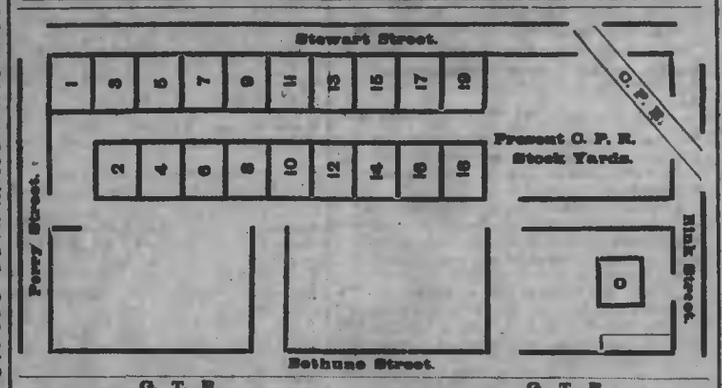
The second story of each of the two buildings is devoted to the storing of fodder for the use of the stock.

The existing C.P.R. stock yards are situated along the C.P.R. track, occupying the north half of lot 11 Rink street, and give convenient access to the proposed new stock yards. The remaining portion of the block of four lots, lying east of Bethune street, is divided by a passage way, as shown on the accompanying plan, which permits stock being directly run into the new yards from the G. T. R. tracks. The arrangement of the proposed yards, in relation to both lines of railway give the greatest possible facilities for shipping, off-board and on-board.

The northern half of lot 10, on Rink, is used for the office building, indicated by "O" in the plan, in connection with the proposed stock yards. There are to be therein three business offices and a private office.

The southern half, lot 10, on Rink, and lot 10, on Perry street, are not to be covered with buildings at present, but will be, if the business increases, as it is expected to do.

The plan of the proposed buildings is not quite to scale for typographical reasons, but it gives a correct idea of the situation of the proposed stock yards, both in relation to the existing stock yards, the two railways and the adjoining streets.



Present G. T. R. Stock Yards.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1898.

TO-DAY'S INQUEST.

It is in Session at the County Council Chamber.

The inquest into the death of the late Stella Munchin opened this afternoon in the county council chamber.

Although the facts as at first ascertained did not warrant an inquest being held, the later developments which came to the knowledge of County Crown Attorney Wood, fully justified him in issuing an order for the investigation.

The following jury was empanelled: H Rightmyer, R Redington, J. Solomon, D J Solomon, R Thompson, R J Lockey, W West, J Fowler, R Green, A Young, J Williams, R Grieves and E Green, foreman.

The jury examined the body before evidence was taken.

TWO RUNAWAYS.

Which Took Place Last Evening—Meldrum's Team Soloed From the Mill.

The team attached to the delivery wagon for W. H. Meldrum's mill, ran away last evening, smashing the wagon and scattering a load of flour over the street.

The team was standing in the lane next to the mill, when they became frightened and started off so suddenly as to unseat the driver, and dashed on out to Charlotte street, where they turned west, scattering the contents of the wagon along the street until they freed themselves from the wagon.

The runaway was witnessed by Constable Adams, who states that several collisions were narrowly avoided.

A buggy lies wrecked on Charlotte street, near Park, as the result of another runaway, caused by a horse belting belonging to a South Monaghan farmer. The damage was not extensive.

PROTESTANT HOME.

Reports Received and Officers Elected at the Annual Meeting.

At the recently held annual meeting of the Board of Management of the Peterborough Protestant Home, Miss Roper, the Secretary, presented the yearly report of the Board as follows:

In presenting the annual report for another year there is again very little change to report, other than the coming and going of those who have sought shelter for a short time. The majority of the inmates have been in the Home for a number of years. One who was a resident for twelve years died in June, while another inmate died in the hospital in April after a short illness. Otherwise all the inmates have enjoyed very good health, and the committee feel very grateful to God that no epidemic of any kind has visited the Home.

At present the Home is fully occupied, there being 21 men, women and children enjoying its shelter.

The committee regret that they are obliged to refuse so many applications, but owing to lack of room they are compelled to do so. They would strongly urge upon the proper authorities the necessity of fitting up a ward in the gaol in such a manner that the poor and infirm of our town could be taken care of in such a way that they would not feel that they were behind prison bars if they were obliged to seek charity from the town.

In December Miss Londreville, who filled the position of matron so ably for a number of years, was married, and her place has been taken by her sister, who carries on the work in the same quiet and harmonious manner.

The committee feel deeply grateful to our Heavenly Father for enabling us to do the little that has been done the past years, but many have been relieved from the distressing cares and worries of life and are spending their remaining days in a place of comfort.

Too much cannot be said of the great kindness of our clergymen and physicians, who, even in their busiest moments, can spare a little time in ministering to the comfort of the inmates. The editors of the papers, too, have earned our gratitude in their willingness to help us in any way through the press. Again we would ask for donations of clothing, as the cold weather is coming on and there are many outside the Home who receive help and clothing, so it is always most gratefully received.

M. C. ROPER, Secretary.

The treasurer's statement was presented by Miss Roger as follows:

LORD MINTO'S PROMISE.

His Popularity at Home—A Promise of Equal Popularity in Canada.

Canada has always been fortunate especially since the country secured the blessings of responsible government, in the Governors-General the Mother Country has sent out to us. Lord Aberdeen departed after a term in which he fulfilled the duties of high office with very satisfactory distinction and it would seem that Lord Minto, his successor, promises to achieve a similar success. Like Lord Aberdeen he is popular at home for qualities that will serve him well in his new sphere.

From the Kelso Chronicle, kindly supplied by Mr. Walter Wood, town, we learn of a hearty send-off Lord Minto received at Harwick, where the freedom of the city was conferred upon him—a jealously guarded honour which the historic city accords to very few and then only to those who have, by virtue of distinguished services, merited the honour. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a distinguished company in the old Town Hall, memorable as having in the past received within the walls such personages as Mary Queen of Scots, Grahame of Claverhouse, Cromwell, Prince Charlie, etc., Lord Minto was given a most cordial welcome and good-bye greeting, which are particularly interesting to Canadians as showing in what high esteem our new Governor-General is held where he is best known. It may be mentioned as of interest that Lord Minto was made a burghess of Howick partly for military services, and at the conclusion of his address he gave some good advice to the Volunteers, pointing out the necessity of discipline in the militia service. He will, therefore, it is to be expected, co-operate with our new commander-in-chief in making the Canadian volunteers the capital soldiers which their natural bravery and fitness for their duties cannot make them without efficient and capable administration of our Militia Department, which, with the best efforts of its civil head, needs the advice and direction of trained and experienced military officers.

THE GREAT HARDY BANQUET.

Peterborough Impressions of the Highly Successful Banquet and a Tribute to the Magnificent Speech of Premier Hardy.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, who with Mr. J. H. McClellan, represented Peterborough at the Hardy banquet on Tuesday night, was greatly pleased with the unexampled success of the brilliant affair, and was more than delighted with the heartiness of the fine tribute to Ontario's Premier, who by his bearing and the evidence of statesmanship and oratorical ability furnished by his great speech in the evening justified the appropriateness of the signal honour the occasion involved.

In speaking of the circumstances to the EXAMINER, Mr. Fitzgerald said:

"I have heard some of the ablest statesmen in Canada and out of it now, some of them on many occasions addressing large audiences upon questions of great moment to Canada, but never have I heard any one of them at their happiest moment express themselves in more vigorous, eloquent, beautifully rounded periods than did Hon. Mr. Hardy in his speech.

"In fact no report of it could begin to convey to a reader the impression it made upon the vast audience, who were held literally spell-bound during its delivery, which was distinctly heard all over the vast building. Even the large gathering of ladies in the galleries, who graced the occasion and whose fair forms and elegant costumes shed lustre on the scene, caught up the enthusiasm and shared in the succession of applause which greeted the Hon. Premier as he unfolded his position and the patriotic policy pursued by the Liberal party in the past and to be pursued by them in the future, not only in the Province of Ontario, but throughout the Dominion."

Mr. Fitzgerald also paid a high compliment to the admirable speech of Hon. Mr. Sifton, upon whom the Premier in his address passed so warm a eulogy.

The Toronto World says of Miss Adelaide Martin, "She has a personality that charms on sight. The richness and volume of her voice presage eminent success." At George street church, Friday, Nov. 18th. Tickets 25 cents.

Respect the Ladies.

"A woman can't pick out a good cigar."

"So much the better for a woman; but she has a keen scent for a bad one."

Married or single, few women object to the odor of a good cigar. Why, then, will men smoke rank, vile cigars? It is injurious to themselves and an annoyance to all with whom they come in contact. The elegant lines of imported Havanas kept on sale by C. LeGros cannot offend the most sensitive tastes. Men who are at all particular what they smoke, are advised to to look for the "blue label," which always accompanies first class brands, such as LeGros keeps.

SHORT WORDS.

They Are the Best When the Thoughts Are Worth While.

A dozen or less newspaper men were collected together, when somebody said something about Rudyard Kipling.

"I notice in the papers," said another, "that he is the best paid writer in the world at present."

"The Pall Mall Gazette people say they paid him $750 a poem for all they printed of his," ventured a third.

"And why not?" put in a fourth. "He is the best writer of English prose or verse now writing. That one line of his, 'A rag and a bone and a hank of hair,' describing a vampire woman, couldn't be stronger, I think."

"Good and strong," commented a fifth, "but Kipling is not the only man who has chosen monosyllables to give emphatic expression to his thought. If you will remember, Pope in his essay on 'Criticism' remarked, 'And ten low words oft creep in one dull line,' and before and after him there were others, who, as he, were scarcely dull and seldom crept. Hymn writers are strong in this. Take Watts in that well known hymn, for instance:

"Are there no foes for me to face?
Must I not stem the flood?
Is this vile world a friend to grace
To help me on to God?'

"Shakespeare found one syllabled words good enough for him, and you all know that passage of Young's:

"The bell strikes one. We take no note of time,
Save by its loss, etc.

"Bailey's 'Festus,' that makes its reader feel as if he had 'eaten of the insane root that takes the reason prisoner,' has many examples, and this one you will recall:

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths.
We should count time by heart throbs. He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

"And the Bible, the greatest of books, is filled with the short words. Right at the beginning of things we find, 'And God said let there be light, and there was light,' and at the end of things, so to speak, 'For the great day of his wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand?' and still further along, 'And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day, for there shall be no night there.'

"Oh, Kipling is all right! He knows he has plenty of authority for seeking short words when he wants strong ones."—Washington Star.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discouragner of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 21 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, Illustrated.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

In preserving berries or any other fruit liable to fall to pieces if a small lump of alum is added to the fruit while cooking it will make it firm.

If you use a wooden pail about your household and it begins to shrink and leak, fill it with water and then stand it in a tub filled with water. This will swell the wood so it will leak no more.

The backs and arms of chairs become very dirty with constant use. They should be washed with warm water in which there is a little soap and then the polish brought back by kerosene or turpentine.

A goodly amount of kerosene on a soft rag cleans shutters nicely. This takes off all the dust and brightens them as well. Brush well first, then apply the kerosene, rubbing hard, then polish with a dry flannel cloth.

THE HIGH COMMISSION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir James Winter and Mr. Coolidge Have Arrived at Washington—Reciprocity Question.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, and Sir James Winter, Premier of Newfoundland, arrived yesterday to take their seats in the Anglo-American Joint Commission. Mr. T. Jefferson Coolidge of Boston also came on, thus completing the American membership.

The commission had a brief session at 11 o'clock, and then gave way to meetings of the British and American members separately. These separate conferences were for the purpose of going over the ground on which reciprocity can be discussed. Attention is now centred almost exclusively on this topic. No schedules have been exchanged, but it has been considered best to take up each article separately and discuss the possibilities of tariff concessions upon it.

The expectation is that this work will proceed so that each side will know by the end of the present week just what articles the other side desires to incorporate in a reciprocity arrangement, and what reduction of rates is possible on these articles. It is realized by members of the commission that this is the most important branch of the work before them, and one on which the success or failure of the work on other branches depends to a large extent.

Although the strictest secrecy is observed, the general expressions coming from the members of the commission continue to be hopeful that some kind of reciprocity agreement will be reached, although it is appreciated that the present revenue needs of the United States Government incident to the war make it difficult to find rates which are open to concessions. From the Canadian standpoint also there is felt to be less urgency for gaining access to the American market than there was some years ago, owing to the foreign markets which Canada has developed. Thus far it is understood there has been no general basis for making up the lists of articles which the parties will present for incorporation into a reciprocity agreement, manufactured as well as natural products being considered open to incorporation on the lists.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS' PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N.B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

THE HAUNTED CITY.

Some heart's remembrance and regret
Fill every street with life profound.
This corner, where of old we met,
To me has since been hallowed ground.
I never pass in sun or rain
Now but I meet you here again.

We cannot go from where we dwell
And leave behind no lingering trace.
Where in the past our shadow fell
A shadow of us haunts the place.
Returning now, ourselves may there
Disturb some ghost of what we were.

The stones are thrilled by many a tread
That leaves no footprint where it strays.
Shades of the living and the dead
In silence throng the noisy ways.
Here where I meet in shower or shine
Your ghost, you haply meet with mine.

The air has sounds we cannot hear,
In dim with shapes that none can see.
Though dear the living voice and dear
The sight of living faces be,
With kindlier yearnings yet we greet
The friends we see not when we meet.
—A. St. John Adcock in Spectator.

HIS BOAT FOR A LIFE.

An Instance of Real Benevolence by a Poor Kanaka.

A very curious and beautiful letter was once written to President Lincoln that would certainly have given him peculiar pleasure if he had read it, but he never did. This is how it was: In 1863 some pirates from Peru captured and carried off some natives from the Marquesas islands in the south seas. One of them was a son of a powerful chief, and the father made a vow that he would, for revenge, eat the first white man who fell into his hands.

A man named Whalan, the first mate of a New Bedford whaling ship, was before many months captured by the Marquesans. He it was who must furnish a feast for the cannibal chief, but all the people he ruled over were not cannibals. Among them was a native missionary from Hawaii named Kakela. Kakela had just received a present of a boat from religious people in Boston, a valuable six oared boat that he needed much in his missionary work. He set about trying to save Mr. Whalan's life, but the chief would give him up only on one condition—that he should have the new boat in exchange for the captive. Kakela bought him at that price and helped him to leave the islands.

The story came to President Lincoln's knowledge, and he characteristically found time to send a message and a present to the poor south sea missionary. Kakela wrote a letter of thanks in return, which closed with these sentences: "As to this friendly deed of mine, its seed was brought from your great land by certain of your countrymen who had received the love of God. It was planted in Hawaii, and I brought it here that these dark regions might receive the root of all that is good and true, which is love. How shall I repay your great kindness to me? Thus David asked of Jonathan and thus I ask of you, the president of the United States. This is my only payment, that which I received from the Lord—'love.' May the love of Jesus Christ abound toward you till the end of this terrible war in your land."

Before the letter reached the White House President Lincoln had died.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

PEOPLE-IN-LAW.

They Are Necessary Evils That Follow In the Train of Marriage.

People-in-law are necessary evils. If people will marry, they must submit to the infliction of a number of new relatives. Sometimes this infliction is bitter, sometimes sweet, and sometimes it has very little taste, but generally it has a taste.

When a man and a woman join hands at the altar, they contract an alliance not only with each other, but, in an indirect way perhaps, with their respective families. Many do not attach much importance to this fact, but it is a fact nevertheless that no amount of sophistry can explain away.

A young woman has promised to marry the man who appears to her possessed of all the attributes that make up a manly man.

She has long ago made up her mind, however, that John's sisters are "loud" and his mother "impossible." She wonders how such people can have a son and brother like "dear John," and after marriage she intends keeping them at a distance.

The wedding day arrives, and she hears John's mother call her "daughter," but to her ears it does not imply much—is only one of the forms to be gone through on that happy day.

Then comes the honeymoon time, and for two whole weeks the bride has John all to herself. No thoughts of his relatives obtrude themselves on that blissful time.

When the couple return to town to take up their abode in the cosy home that "dear John" has prepared, Mrs. John finds herself greeted by her mother-in-law and sisters-in-law, as well as by her own mother and quiet schoolgirl sister. The two latter, however, are quite overshadowed by John's relatives, and Mrs. John resents the fact in her heart.

As the days go by she discovers that her people-in-law show no disposition entirely to relinquish John's society because he has married a wife. He is still the son and brother, although he has become a husband, and the first frown that she remembers to have seen on his brow is caused by a petulant remark of hers that she wishes his sister Flora would stop somewhere else than with them, while her own home is shut up during the temporary absence of the rest of the family.—Alan Cameron in Lippincott's.

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

The eyes of the birds that fly by night are generally about double the size of those of day birds.

In India elephants over 12 and up to 45 years of age are deemed the best to purchase and will generally work well until they are 80 years old.

It is stated that in the West Indies the lizards, from the large iguana downward, run erect on their hind legs when hurried. Pictures on rocks at the watershed of Guiana show lizards running erect. The Mexican iguanoid lizard and the "frilled lizard" of Australia also do so.

HORSES IN BATTLE.

How They Act When Wounded or Left Without Their Riders.

When horses are hit in battle, they stop, tremble in every muscle and groan deeply, while their eyes show wild astonishment. During the battle of Waterloo some of the horses, as they lay on the ground, having recovered from the first agony of their wounds, fell to eating the grass about them, thus surrounding themselves with a circle of bare ground, the limited extent of which showed their weakness. Others of these interesting animals were observed quietly grazing in the middle of the field between the two hostile lines, their riders having been shot off their backs, while the balls that flew over their heads and the tumult behind and before and around them caused no interruption to the usual instincts of their nature.

It was also observed that when a charge of cavalry went past, near to any of the stray horses mentioned, they would set off, form themselves in the rear of their mounted companions, and, though without riders, gallop strenuously along with the rest, not stopping nor flinching when the fatal shock with the enemy took place.

At the battle of the Kirb, in 1764, Major Macdonald, having unhorsed an English officer, took possession of his horse, which was very beautiful, and immediately mounted it. When the English cavalry fled, the horse ran away with his captor, notwithstanding all his efforts to restrain him, nor did the animal stop until it was at the head of the regiment of which, apparently, its master was the commander.

The melancholy and at the same time ludicrous figure which Macdonald presented when he thus saw himself the victim of his ambition to possess a fine horse, which ultimately cost him his life upon the scaffold, may be easily conceived.—New York Tribune.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low lying rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

Mankind needs a herald, like the heralds of old, to proclaim so that all may hear, the vital importance of health. The average man of to-day thinks it beneath his dignity to bother about his health until it is gone. Even then he only takes measures to restore it in an indifferent, contemptuous sort of way.

Men cannot learn too soon that health is the most important thing in life—in fact, is life. Without it the most brilliant man will be a failure, and the most robust man will rapidly become a physical wreck. The man who neglects the little headaches, the loss of appetite and sleep, nervousness, hot flushings, cold chills, heavy head, lax muscles, and the multitude of bad feelings that are the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It sharpens the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the assimilation of the food perfect, purifies the blood and enriches it with the life-giving elements that build new, healthy flesh. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is the best of all known remedies for nervous troubles. Thousands have told, over their own signatures, the stories of the wonders it has performed. Honest dealers will not urge a substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

Thomas Fletcher, of Clifton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes: "I suffered terrible tortures for ten years with 'gastralgia' (pain in the stomach). I then took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely cured me."

When the bowels are regular the body will feel good and the mind will be active. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. All good dealers sell them and have nothing else "just as good."

MONKEYS OF INDIA.

THE HAVOC THEY CAUSE BY THEIR WARS FOR WIVES.

Laughable Tactics Employed by the Natives to Disperse the Belligerent Packs—Little Chance For Male Monkeys at Birth.

Monkeys in India are an unmitigated nuisance, especially in the country. I have often come across in the jungles adjoining the villages of northern Bengal whole troops of them, whose depredations in fields and orchards were the despair of the unfortunate villagers. These troops always consisted of one huge male and about 100 females. The fact is, when a little monkey is born in the pack, it is suffered to live if a female, but instantly killed by the father if it happens to be a male. The mother, however, sometimes manages to hide the little one until he is able to get about and then sends him away before the big male catches sight of him. In this way it often happens that individual males are to be found living by themselves in single blessedness. Now, getting tired of solitude after a time and perhaps believing in union as a source of strength, these bachelors often join together and form a pack of their own—as a sort of club.

Then the fun begins. They want wives—very naturally. But how are they to get them? All the female monkeys of the country belong to the harem of some big brute or other. Clearly, the only solution is to attack such a harem, kill the gotha (the aforesaid big brute), and then divide the spoils. So an ultimatum is sent—and rejected. War is declared. The battle is a fierce one and often lasts several days. The party attacked always tries to retreat and often traverses several jungles, fields and even villages. But the pursuit is hot and vigorous, and at last a stand has to be made—sometimes in a village green or even an orchard of some country mansion. In the actual fight the females generally remain faithful to their lord and master and help him fiercely against his numerous assailants. But the result is a foregone conclusion, and the several widows, after a very short period of mourning—usually manifested by a show of ill temper—are consoled by the victorious males.

Now, these battles cause sad havoc to the fields and orchards of the country and often prove a positive danger to the people, for, though monkeys seldom attack men, woe to the luckless one who ventures to come near them in their deadly struggle. Moreover, when pressed by hunger, these packs are not to be trifled with. You may not mind even the damage done to your orchard by hundreds of monkeys gobbling up everything they can lay their hands on, but it is quite a different matter when you have to shut your doors and windows and stay in for days at a time because of the army outside.

Consequently the object of the natives is to break up these packs by capturing their leaders. Killing is against the dictates of conscience, but capture is not, especially as the monkey is liberated in a short time, as will appear presently. So, when a pack is about, the natives employ the following method: Close to an orchard a bit of level space is selected and a hole dug in it, about 2 feet deep and 6 or 8 inches in diameter. A noose is made at one end of a long, stout cord and placed over the mouth of the hole. The cord is then passed through a pulley or ring attached to a tree close to the house and the other end held some distance away by a concealed person. The noose and about 10 or 15 feet of the cord are covered with sand. Then a nice, tempting banana is placed in the hole, and a number of rotten ones—covered, however, with fresh skins—are strewn all over the ground near the hole.

When the pack comes, the females are too shy to venture out into the open space near the house, but the big gotha is a brave fellow. He sees the bananas on the ground, leaps down, takes up one, throws it away in disgust, then another, with the same result. Suddenly he notices the nice, tempting one in the hole, and plunges his arm in. Immediately the cord is pulled, the noose fastened on the arm close to the shoulder and the monkey dragged willy nilly to the tree where the pulley or ring is attached. Then the hiding shikari comes forth, and, circling round and round the tree with the cord held tight in his hand, binds the unfortunate monkey safe and fast, all but the head. The pulley or ring is introduced not merely to bind the monkey to the tree, but also because it would be highly dangerous to drag the infuriated brute right up to a person.

The monkey, however, is not killed. Instead they lather his head and face, no special care being taken in selecting the finest soap or the purest water. The operation is an interesting one and a source of great amusement—to the bystanders. The monkey, however, dodges his head about, only to get a good dose of soap in his eyes and mouth. Then he has enough of it, especially as he feels dreadfully achy all over and the cords cutting into his body every inch—to say nothing of the personal remarks and the highly adjectival language of the bystanders. He submits to his fate with eastern stoicism. His head is shaved clean as a billiard ball, and then the face as well, nice and smooth, like a baby's. Then they let him go. But alas, such is the vanity of life, his wives will not have him now that his beauty is gone. They disown him completely, cut him dead. Nay, they drive him away from the pack with contumely, with the ends of their tails—in the absence of domestic broomsticks. And thus, being without a leader, the pack is soon broken up.—Strand Magazine.

MRS. FOX'S EXPERIENCE.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are suffers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3 Matilda street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

LOUISIANA UNDER SPAIN.

How the Office of Hangman Is the Colony Went Begging.

When the court martial that Don Alessandro O'Reilly, the second Spanish governor of Louisiana, in 1769, had organized to convict brought in a verdict of death against Lafreniere and six of his companions as the leaders of the Louisiana revolutionists against the authority of Spain, to which country Louis XV of France had ceded the colony, O'Reilly sought in vain among whites and blacks in Louisiana for a man who would perform the abhorrent work of serving as hangman at the execution of the patriots. Not a man of the colony would answer the call. In this emergency O'Reilly was compelled to assign the congenial task of slaughtering the helpless creoles and Frenchmen to regular Spanish soldiers whom he had brought with him from Spain, and, instead of being hanged, Lafreniere and the others were shot to death by a platoon of grenadiers in a space of ground near the site of the present United States mint in New Orleans, which at that time was in the rear of the military garrison of the post.

The failure of O'Reilly to secure a hangman in the case of these unfortunate men recalled to old French residents of New Orleans of that day the interesting story of Jeannot, an African slave of the Mississippi company, or Company of the West, which 50 years previously had control of the colony of Louisiana under a charter granted by the regent of Orleans. The company offered Jeannot his freedom on condition that he would serve as public hangman of the colony. Jeannot appeared to agree to the proposition, but he afterward repaired to a secluded place and cut off his right arm with a hatchet. By this self inflicted mutilation Jeannot avoided the repulsive duties of hangman for the colony, but he also lost his opportunity for freedom. However, the agents of the company, not knowing in what way to utilize Jeannot as a laborer, appointed him overseer of all the slaves belonging to it. Poor Jeannot was rewarded for his sense of humanity and conscientiousness by receiving the respect and esteem of all the inhabitants of the colony during the rest of his life.—New Orleans Picayune.

Consistent.

They tell a story to the effect that when the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals proposed to establish a branch in a leading city of Spain the municipal body courteously accepted the proposal and offered to hold a grand bullfight at once to furnish the funds.—Troy Times.

As early as 1612 the French began to advertise in a paper called the Petites Affiches, and ten years later the first bona fide attempt at printing a newspaper was made in London. Among the very earliest mercantile advertisements to appear in England was one advertising the sale of tea. It appeared in The Mercurius Politicus.

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Inflammation of the Bladder, and a long list of Kidney diseases become seated and sooner or later in so many instances end fatally. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all Kidney troubles. Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box.

THAT TRANSFER NOT GOOD.

Sample Scene That Takes Place Daily In Nearly Every City.

The conductors on the Washington avenue line say they have more trouble than anybody else of their calling, especially from Finney and Vandeventer avenues out and in. The discussion heard a few days ago between a conductor and an irate woman will explain why.

"That transfer check isn't good on this car, madam," said the conductor courteously to a large, combative looking woman who had boarded the car with a big market basket.

"What!" she said, tossing her head like a warhorse sniffing battle from afar.

"This transfer check isn't good."

"I'd like to know why it isn't."

"Because it's good only on outward bound cars, and this is an inward bound car."

"The transfer man gave it to me."

"You should have told him in which direction you were going."

"I'd like to know why I should. It's his business to ask me if he wanted to know."

"It wasn't his business to ask you. It was your business to tell him so."

"Oh, it wasn't, was it? I am supposed to tell him where I'm going, am I? Perhaps you expected me to tell him that I was going to market, and what I was going to have for dinner, and how many there are of us to eat, and what we do Sundays, and if I"—

"Your fare, please, madam."

"My fare? Well, you stand there and hold out your hand till the crack of doom, and I'll not pay another fare. There is that exchange check. Take it or leave it, just as you like, but it's all you're going to get out of me. Throw me out if you dare! Your duty to collect fare? Your duty! I like that. You ought to write a tract and call it 'The Faithful Car Conductor; or, True to His Duty.' Just keep on doing your duty and you'll be happy. Sorry I can't help you along by paying my fare a second time. You ought to be on the platform now, attending to your business—your duty, as you call it! I've paid my fare, and I shan't pay it again."

And she didn't.—St. Louis Republic.

Women and Foreign Travel.

The matter of sex need not affect in the slightest the question of foreign travel. If an American girl wants to study art, music or languages and has the means, there is not the least reason why she should not go alone to Paris or Berlin or Vienna to do it. There is no greater fear of insult abroad than at home. The only difference I have ever heard of is that in Europe unmarried women with regard for their reputations do not go out in the evening without escort, but the same thing is true of the larger cities here.

In the mere matter of travel Europe offers far more comfort and convenience than America to women journeying alone or in parties without men. They need never touch their luggage unless they choose. At hotels and railway stations they will always be more courteously treated than men, and that is saying a good deal. And the "unprotected female" needs no protection. English women think nothing of taking their vacations on the continent, and a journey from New York to Los Angeles presents more terrors than one from London to Constantinople or Cairo.—Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

A BIRD FROM THE WEST.

We lingered over Ulster stern and wild.
I called: "Arise! Doth none remember me?"
Jess turned in the darkness murmuring,
"How loud upon the breakers sobs the sea!"

We rested over Connaught, whispering, said:
"Awake, awake, and welcome! I am here!"
Dee woke and shivered at the morning gray.
"The trees, I never heard them sigh so drear!"

We flew low over Munster. Long I wept:
"You used to love me. Love me once again!"
They spoke from out the shadows wondering.
"You'd think of tears, so bitter falls the rain."

Long over Leinster lingered we. "Goodby,
My best beloved, goodby for evermore!"
Sleepless they tossed and whispered to the dawn,
"So sad a wind was never heard before."
—"The Fairy Changeling and Other Poems," by Dora Sigerson.

A Sad but Glorious Day.

"Victory!" cried the Spanish minister. "Write out a proclamation at once authorizing our people to celebrate!"

"Why, your excellency, what has happened? Have your forces fallen upon the Yankee pigs and compelled them to cry for quarter?"

"No, but one of our battleships has just been scuttled and sunk before the cowardly swine could gain possession of it."—Chicago News.

Appalling.

"Don't you know," said the politician, "that some of those islands in the Pacific ocean are the work of coral insects?"

"What has that to do with our taking possession of them?"

"My friend, you are wholly deficient in the foresight that makes a statesman. Supposing some ships with a cargo of insect powder was to founder in the neighborhood?"—Washington Star.

PUT YOUR FINGER ON YOUR PULSE.

If it is Weak or Irregular don't Hesitate to Start the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at once.

The way the heart beats is an index of how the whole machinery of the body is going. With a strong, steady, regular pulse we may expect vigorous health.

With a weak, irregular, intermittent pulse we can tell at once the vitality is low—that Dizzy and Faint Spells, Smothering and Sinking Sensations, Nervousness and Sleeplessness and similar conditions are bound to ensue.

By their action in strengthening the heart and regulating the beat, toning the nerves and enriching the blood, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills relieve and cure all those distressing conditions just enumerated, and impart vigor and vitality to the system.

Mrs. B. Croft, residing on Waterloo Street, St. John, N.B., relates her experience with this remedy as follows:

"For some time past I have suffered from pallor, weakness and nervous prostration, I had palpitation and irregular beating of the heart so severe as to cause me great alarm. I was treated by physicians, but got no permanent relief.

"Finally I was recommended to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am glad to say that from them I derived the first real benefit that I ever got from any medicine. My appetite is improved, my entire system toned up, and I can do no less than cheerfully recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to all requiring a reliable heart and nerve tonic."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

UNION VOTED DOWN.

The Two Presbyterian Churches in Port Hope Will Not Unite.

There shall be no union. Such was the decision reached by a meeting held Tuesday night in the Mill street church, Port Hope, at which Rev. John Hay, of Cobourg, moderator of the Presbytery, presided. Much discussion was indulged on the resolution, but throughout the feeling of the members were decidedly against the union on the terms laid down, viz., that the Mill street communicants leave their own church and migrate to the First Presbyterian Church.

At a lay meeting of the members of the First Church, held the same evening, in their hall, Walton street, to consider the report of the committee appointed to draw up a basis of union of the two churches; after an informal discussion of the proposed terms of Union, and hearing the report of the moderator, the Rev. John Hay, of Cobourg, re the action of the Mill street church, the following resolution was unanimously carried:—

"That the First Church believing that union of the two congregations in Port Hope would would be in the interests of Presbyterianism, desire to express its thanks to the Presbytery for their efforts to bring about the same, and regrets that our sister congregation does not see its way clear to unite upon the terms agreed upon by our joint sessions and Board of Management."

The Moderator expressed the hope that there would be in the future, as in the past, the most kindly feeling toward and co-operation with the brethren of the Mill street church. The sentiment was heartily endorsed by members of the congregation present, and the hope earnestly expressed that both churches would continue to prosper.

MARK STREET CHURCH NOTES

The Ladies' Aid Held a Pleasant Gathering Tuesday Evening—Other Items of Interest

The Ladies' Aid had a pleasant gathering in the basement of the church Tuesday evening. It was the regular meeting of the society, and to it the members of the Parsonage Trustee Board and the husbands of the members had been invited. After the usual business had been transacted, a pleasing duet was rendered by Mrs. J. H. Smith and Miss Annie Smith. Mrs. (Rev.) Moore then gave a very appropriate reading, after which the chair was taken for a short time by Mr. M. W. Matchett, who called upon Mr. H. S. Armstrong, secretary of the Parsonage Trustee Board, to address those present. Mr. Armstrong in moving a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies for the work they had done since their organization last January, said the congregation owed them a debt of gratitude. Mr. T. Joy seconded the motion, adding some commendatory remarks. The motion was carried amidst applause. The occasion of all this was the fact that at this meeting the members burned a note of $75, being the first payment made on the parsonage debt by them. Although organized only last January, the ladies have raised over $100. They expect to pay off Mark street's share of the parsonage debt, and bid fair to succeed.

The president, Mrs. Moore, acknowledged the vote of thanks on behalf of the society, after which Rev. Mr. Moore also referred in complimentary terms to the assistance rendered by the ladies. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting and a very pleasant time was spent for an hour or so, after which the gathering dispersed.

On Monday evening the Missionary Committee had charge of the League meeting and presented an interesting programme. Mr. C. Crowe conducted the meeting and Mr. H. S. Armstron took up the topic—"Waiting Harvests." Next Monday evening Mr. Carton takes the topic.

Arrangements were completed on Monday evening, at a meeting of the Sunday school teachers and officers, for supplies for 1899; also for the Christmas tree and entertainment in the new town hall on Monday, Dec. 26. There will be a good programme, and the usual low admission fee.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 21, at Mrs. Joy's, at 3 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the W.M.S. will be held December 7th.

The church has been painted outside and now looks much improved in appearance. Those who have not seen Mark street for couple of years would hardly know the place, it has changed so much.

The Sunday school meets at 2.30 every Sunday, except Quarterly Sunday, when it meets at 3 o'clock. Young and old are always welcome.

The Sunday evening services for some time to come will be of an evangelistic nature.

Everything in connection with this church is now in very good shape, and a prosperous future ought to follow.

OBITUARY.

Death of John O'Grady in Westwood Last Week.

On the 12th inst., at Westwood, at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. John Doherty, there passed over to the great majority another of the old pioneers and landmarks of Asphodel and Otonabee, in the person of John O'Grady, at the ripe age of 89 years and 4 months. He was born in the town of Mallo, Ireland, on the 12th of August, 1809. He came to this country with his father in 1825, stopping for a short time in what is now the town of Peterborough, and helped to clear up where the main streets now are. In a very short time the family settled on part lot 19, in the first concession of Asphodel, where the father died, and Mr. O'Grady, on reaching his majority, settled on lot 27, con. 2, Otonabee, where he resided up to several years ago. In 1838 he married Miss Mary Purcel, and who preceded him to the land beyond by ten years. All their long life they never changed their home, and with industry and economy succeeded in not only making a good home, but considerable wealth beside. Eight children remain to mourn their loss, viz., John and Thomas of Otonabee; Timothy of Asphodel; Michael of British Columbia; Mrs. D. O'Brien of Douro; Mrs. W. Doherty and Mrs. John Doherty of Asphodel; and Mrs. T. Sullivan of Mount Pleasant, Mich.

The remains were interred in the R. C. Cemetery Asphodel, on Monday, Rev. Father Conway of Norwood officiating.

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The concert in the Palace skating rink, under the auspices of the High School Cadet Corps, though not largely patronized, as was hoped for, was in every other respect a grand success.

An "At Home" was held in the town hall Monday evening, the 14th inst., at 7.30, under the auspices of the Good Templars. There were games, refreshments and a good programme. A good time was spent during the evening.

On Saturday last the High School Foot Ball Team drove down to Warkworth and played a friendly game with the team of that place. The game was played in a heavy rain storm, and when both teams had worked hard for twelve minutes, they left the field with the score 2 to nothing in favour of the Norwood High School. The High School would like to arrange a match to be played here on Thanksgiving Day.

The rifles and belts have at last arrived and the High School Cadets may be seen daily parading in front of the school grounds.

Mr. J. A. Finlay has gone east on a business trip.

Miss May Brooks, of Brighton, spent Sunday at Mr. Wm. Richardson's.

Miss Bessie Scott is visiting her sister, Miss Lily M. Scott, in Toronto.

At the Methodist church last Sunday morning, Miss Palmer, of New York city, rendered in pleasing style a very difficult solo.

Mrs. Hall was summoned to Alles Craig a few days ago to attend the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Gillies.

Mr. Alex. Fraser has returned home from the North West, after spending the summer there. He intends returning to the North West in the spring.

Mr. Thomas Fraser left on Thursday last on his annual hunting expedition to the the north. Lawyer Stone, of Peterborough, accompanied him.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give their annual thanksgiving dinner on Wednesday, Nov. 16th, at 7 p. m. A good programme is prepared.

The butter plant is being put in position at the cheese factory this week under the supervision of an expert. Wm. Sinclair, of Campbellford, has been engaged as buttermaker.

Mr. W. Ross Cameron, of the Union Bank, and Mr. C. Gallagher were in Hastings on Sunday.

Mr. H. Andrews, of Havelock, was in town this week.

The High School Literary Society are now holding their weekly gatherings in the High School building. Last Friday evening they gave a good programme, consisting of solos, recitations and readings. The High School Cadet mouth-organ band is one of the special attractions at these meetings.

Mr. Robt. Wilson, who has for sometime past been confined to his bed, is able to be out.

Mr. A. Bailey, of the Union Bank, Hastings, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. J. Hendren's span of blacks, while standing in front of the McGregor House on Saturday, became frightened, and straightway started for home at a very rapid rate and with little damage being done.

The High School Hockey Club meet tomorrow night for organization. They intend entering a team in the Junior Series of the Ontario Hockey Association.

Uncle Tom's Cabin, the popular old play, will be in Norwood, on Wednesday, the 16th.

A. J. Robertson is in Peterborough this week on business.

Mr. John E. Roxburgh of Havelock spent Sunday with his parents at "Cressnock."

Mrs. W. E. Roxburgh is visiting her son in Peterborough this week.

Mrs. Coughlin of Hastings, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. M. McGregor was in Hastings on Friday.

Mr. Wm. S. Hall, D.D.S., was in Hastings Tuesday on professional business.

Married in Effigy.

The case of Scott vs. Harshaw has been engaging the attention of the Owen Sound assizes. It is an action for libel brought by Scott, and arising out of the popularity of Mr. C. P. Smith, a bank clerk, formerly of the Bank of Hamilton, Listowel, but now of Wingham. The plaintiff had some trouble with the banker and finally had one of the bank clerks arrested for filling in a blank check. He had signed a check in blank, but had crossed out his name and thrown the paper on the floor of the banker's office. The clerk, he said, filled it out for $1,500 and charged his account with this amount. The magistrate dismissed the charge of forgery, but the clerk, who had been transferred to Listowell, suffered the indignity of an arrest there and a journey to Owen Sound in a constable's charge. Being a very popular young man, on the evening of his acquittal a torchlight procession, headed by a band, paraded the streets in his honour, past Mr. Scott's house. In the procession was the effigy in question, and some of the boys sang, "We will hang old Scott on a sour apple tree." A motion for non-suit was made on the ground of no publication shown and no connection with the libel. The case was dismissed as to three of the defendants, who were not shown to have been present, but the court held that a prima face case was made out against the defendants, Harshaw and Dowding, who admitted in their examination that they were present and took part in the procession in honour of their friend.

GREAT LEASE-EXPIRING SALE.

A PEREMPTORY Clean Sweep of the Oak Hall Stock of High-Class Clothing.

Combined with the Deliberate Slaughter of Overloaded Stocks in our Two Big Stores on George Street.

$90,000 WORTH OF GOODS ON THE GRIDIRON!

This is PEREMPTORY! These Great Combined Stocks must be sacrificed—or we'll be in the hole. It's a duty we owe to ourselves to forestall trouble. That's the why and the wherefore of this Stupendous Sale inaugurated to accomplish two prime objects:—It must clear out completely, root and branch, every vestige of the Oak Hall Stock before the lease expires—and it must reduce the enormous load of Stocks in our Two Big Stores by ONE-HALF, before the 8th of January, 1899.

Lose money we must, but it pays to lose—sometimes. Better to lose one eye than—

GO IT BLIND!

What is the lesson to you? Gough's need is the buyers' opportunity. The Prices we are slaughtering these Combined Stocks for tell the tale of severe loss to some one—but the early purchasers are reaping benefits, of which these are a fair sample:

280 Men's Heavy Frieze Ulsters, in Black and Heather Mixtures, well lined with fancy plaid linings. Regular, $6.00, Gough's Peremptory Sale Price..... $3.75

325 Men's English Frieze Storm Overcoats, in Brown, Drab and Black, with storm collars, warmly lined. Regular $6 50, Gough's Peremptory Sale Price.. $3.90

225 Men's Fine Overcoats in Blue and Brown Beaver, finished with deep velvet collar; all sizes. A great seller. Regular $5.50. Gough's Peremptory Sale Price.. $3.90

600 Men's Superior Frieze Ulsters, made from Imported Harris and best Irish Friese, lined with shepherd plaid wool lining, high storm collar, ranging from $12 down to $6. Gough's Peremptory Sale Price.....$10 down to $4.50

965 Boys' and Children's Ulsters in heavy Tweed and Friese, very warm Coat. Regular $4 00. Gough's Peremptory Sale Price.. $1.99

650 Men's Double-Breasted Heavy Winter Suits—all shades and materials, in new and nobby patterns, manufactured to sell at $6, $7 and $8. Gough's Peremptory Sale Price..... $3.98

The Crowning Sale of the Year!

Come, therefore, to the Feast of Bargains! Now, when you must buy Winter Comforts for yourself and family. Surely there's Attractions enough during this Great Double Sale to prevent you passing our doors: Buy your Winter Overcoats, Suits, Boots, Hats, Underwear and Furnishings NOW—and get the full season's benefit out of them.

The Sale this week will unfold greater inducements than ever. Come and find us out by our works, if not our words. The makers say we are belittling labour to sell their Goods so low in price. Perhaps they're right; nevertheless hundreds of appreciative cusomers will thank us for this Economic Sale, just as the winters ushers in.

Back of all these facts, you have our guarantee:—MONEY REFUNDED IF NOT SATISFACTORY.

JURY BLAMES BRADY.

Engine Driver Responsible for the Murray Hill Disaster.

IGNORED ALL SIGNALS.

John Murphy, the Switchman, Who Admitted His Own Negligence in Failing to Turn the Switch, Not Censured by the Verdict—Evidence Taken at the Inquest—Company Censured.

Brighton, Ont., Nov. 18.—The adjourned inquest into the cause of the Murray Hill disaster on Tuesday morning was continued yesterday before Coroner Sanford.

Mr. Murphy, operator at Murray Hill, was called and sworn. He said that his sole business was that of telegraph operator, but admitted that he acted as switchman; that he had filled the position for the past six years; that his hours are from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. He said that he worked twelve hours and had no assistance while on duty. The day operator was Mr. Patrick Fox, and his hours were the same. The witness said he boarded with Mr. John Tait, about ten minutes' walk from the office. Mr. Fox lives in Trenton. Mr. Murphy was in the office all the time, unless attending to the switch or other duties. He said the office was about 12 by 12 feet, and contained a stove. His work, on going on duty, was to ascertain the locations of trains. He did not put up lights; that was the day man's work. During part of the year the lights were up and he did not interfere with them, except to take them down at 7 o'clock in the morning. The lights were all right during the night. The different colors were explained by Murphy. He said it was a single track from Trenton to Murray Hill. He was required to again explain the workings of the switch and lights. While stating that the red light indicated danger and the white light meant "go ahead," yet, under certain circumstances, it was not adhered to.

The explanation was that passenger trains obtained right of way and ran on schedule time, while freight trains ran by orders from despatchers. Mr. Murphy said that he was not advised of the coming of train No. 5, nor did he know of train No. 96 coming from the west.

Lawyer Gordon, Mr. Murphy's counsel, objected to the witness answering further questions, on the ground that his answers may tend to incriminate him or make him liable for civil proceedings.

Subject to this objection, the examination was continued. Mr. Murphy said that trains stopped unless they got signal "All right"; that he expected any and all trains to stop when a red light was shown. He said that the last train that passed before the accident was at 1.52 o'clock on Tuesday morning. He said he knew No. 5 would come and that No. 96 was on particular time. There is no time-table for freight trains. Passenger train No. 5 was due at 3.40.

The question was asked: "Why didn't you open the switch?" After some hesitation, the witness said: "It was an oversight."

He was then asked if he knew when the train left Trenton, and a negative answer was given. Witness said Brady should have stopped, and that the conductor of No. 96 knew when the express train was due and to look out for it.

"What did you do when you saw No. 5 was on the wrong track?"

Witness said he swung his light, and did not notify the company until directed to ask for a relief train. Sent the message to Despatcher Hopper at Belleville. It was about 15 minutes after the accident. He admitted that the switch was easily turned. He did not hear No. 5 coming until she arrived.

To Mr. Pope, G.T.R. solicitor, the witness said that he had been at Murray Hill six years. Mr. Pope asked him if his record was good, and he replied in the affirmative and said that he was an experienced operator. Mr. Pope asked witness if there was any necessity for a second man at Murray Hill. Mr. Murphy said that it would make it more sure, but admitted that the second man would get orders from the operator. Further questions brought out the fact that all trains are not on the time-table, but are run by special order from the despatchers. He said that all hands carried standard time and each employe got it every day and that all were required to carry watches that would pass inspection. Mr. Murphy said that he knew Brady and the fireman personally and that they were both accustomed to run over the road.

To Mr. Gordon he said that he could hear all messages sent over the road, and that his duties were to bring in coal, turn the switch, attend to the semaphore and do the necessary operating.

To Mr. Kerr he said the accident would not have happened if the switch had been turned. The west semaphore was up before the train came. A juryman asked several questions, which have been covered by answers given before by the witness.

To Mr. Pope Mr. Murphy said that there was no more work at Murray Hill under the present management than there was under the old system. He said that the train passed at 25 or 30 miles an hour.

Mr. Robert Purdon, conductor of No. 5, sworn, said that he took charge of the train at Kingston. The train consisted of seven cars—mail car, express, baggage, second-class, first-class and two Pullmans. The engines were changed at Belleville. He compared watches with Engineer Brady before starting, and requested him to be careful at Newtonville, Newcastle and Bowmanville. The reply was "All right."

Mr. Purdon after explaining each man's duty on a train, said he thought that the train was running at about 30 or 35 miles an hour when the collision occurred. Witness said Driver Brady was a peer among engineers. To Mr. Gordon he said the driver's duty was to keep his eyes on the track and the lines.

Mr. William T. Ivens, driver of train No. 96, that collided with train No. 5, gave evidence to the effect that he would have stopped at Murray Hill if he had not passed No. 5 before reaching said point. Saw headlight, but did not know which track the train was on. The train was coming at a high rate of speed. He called out for the men to jump, put on the brakes and jumped. He assisted in recovering the injured.

Mr. William G. Hopper, train dispatcher of Belleville, gave evidence as to the methods of handling trains.

The evidence of George Riley, operator at Trenton, and Mr. Hayne of Belleville, corroborated that already given as to time.

This concluded the evidence.

The Verdict.

The verdict was as follows:

We, the jury empanelled on Nov. 15, 1898, to enquire into the cause of the death of 10 persons killed 1½ miles west of Murray Hill, find that these 10 persons came to their death from being in a collision between G.T.R. express No. 5, westbound, and special train No. 96, eastbound. We hereby place the responsibility for the deaths of these 10 persons on Engineer Brady of No. 5 express, for passing signals set at danger at Murray Hill on the morning of Nov. 15, 1898. We also censure the G.T.R. Company for the actions of their present management.

Funerals at Belleville.

Belleville, Nov. 18.—The funerals of John Casey and John Macdonald, the Grand Trunk engineer and fireman who were killed in the Murray Hill disaster, took place yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance, including the members of B.L.E., the B.L.F., and the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which both men were members.

Victims' Funerals at Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Over 500 persons attended the funeral of the late William Lennox by following the remains to the grave, while thousands paid their respects at his late home on King street west. Stevenson Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and a contingent of the Night Owl Club attended in a body, and the burial was under Masonic auspices.

The funeral of the late Charles Goodchild was also attended by very many sorrowing friends.

THE BEAVERTON TRAGEDY.

Edward Elliott Denies All Knowledge of William Murray's Murder.

Beaverton, Ont., Nov. 18.—The inquest in the Elliott suspected murder case, in which William Murray was killed, was continued yesterday. Nothing of importance was made known. Joseph Elliott, father of the suspect, states that his son Edward was at home Saturday night. Edward Elliott so far has made no acknowledgement of knowing anything about the crime, and emphatically denies having had anything to do with the same.

The inquest has been again adjourned to meet this morning at 9 o'clock. Many witnesses have been examined, but no new developments have transpired. In the course of the evidence it was adduced that the boy Elliott, who is supposed to be the murderer, had confessed to Constable Smith and also to Reeve McMillan to having committed the deed, having first struck the old man with a poker, then with a heavy piece of stove wood. Elliott's story, as given to these witnesses, is that he had an altercation with Murray over the character of his sister (Elliott's), when Murray used an opprobrious epithet in reference to her, which the boy resented in the manner described. This he now denies, as well as other statements made by him in reference to the matter, but which sworn evidence appears to substantiate.

Nothing definite has been done by the Washington authorities yet towards punishing the Wilmington, N.C., rioters.

Log-Cutting in Michigan.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 18.—The logcut this winter of 1898-99 will be enormous, as compared with former years. It is estimated by lumbermen that it will exceed former years by anywhere from one hundred to one hundred and fifty million feet. The wages that will be paid this winter for chopping is placed at about $215,000 per month.

PROTEST OF A JUDGE

On the Dropping of the Haldimand Election Petition.

NO EVIDENCE AND NO COSTS.

Mr. Justice Osler Describes the Situation as Disgraceful—The Modus Operandi of "Sawing Off" Election Protests—Strong Criticism From the Bench on the Practice—More Dismissals.

Cayuga, Nov. 18.—The trial of the Haldimand election petition, Glenn v. Holmes, took place here yesterday morning before Mr. Justice Osler of the Court of Appeal, and Mr. Justice MacMahon. Thomas Snider of Cayuga appeared for the petitioner, William Glenn, and Mr. C. W. Colter of Cayuga and Frank Denton of Toronto were Mr. Holmes' counsels.

Mr. Snider was called and stated that he had no evidence to offer in support of the petition.

Justice Osler's Criticism.

Mr. Justice Osler then said: "There were particulars filed in this case, as in a great many others. When the petitioner filed this petition he swore he had good reason to believe, and verily did believe, that the charges in the petition were true and capable of being substantiated, and, more than that, and what I say now might be said in reference to other petitions, he swore the particulars were true to the best of his knowledge and belief. Every proceeding has been taken in this case, as in a number of others, for the purpose of bringing it down to trial, and when the case comes on for trial the petitioner stands aside, and nobody asks for costs.

"I feel certain that all this means that there has been something very disgraceful in the way of settling one petition against another. I think the judges can only draw one conclusion from the way in which these cases are being disposed of.

"I tried a case in East Lambton, in which, after two days' contestation, two charges of paying for bringing in voters to the constituency were proved, but agency was not made out. The case was adjourned, and more witnesses were to be subpoenaed, and when the case came on the other day before my brother, Ferguson, and myself, what occurred? The petitioner said he did not propose to offer any more evidence, and respondent's counsel said he did not ask for costs, and he would have been entitled to costs if he had asked for them.

"What inference can be drawn from such a course as that? But the courts are powerless to do anything; they can only try a case when it is presented to them. They cannot act as commissioners, and direct evidence to be sought for. But it is an unsatisfactory way of disposing of cases.

"Some seventy petitions were filed, and some seventy people swore that they believed that the charges in the petitions were true, and the result is that only about ten petitions have been tried. But the courts can do nothing except register a disposition of the case as it comes before them."

Hon. Justice MacMahon—Does the respondent ask for costs?

Mr. Colter—No, my Lord.

Hon. Justice Osler—The petition will be dismissed without costs, and the usual certificate will be sent in, and a special report will be made to the Speaker that a number of particulars were filed, but no evidence offered. Very much to the effect of what I have stated.

More Petitions Dismissed.

By an arrangement between the parties, petitions against the return of twenty-six members of the British Columbia Provincial Legislature have been formally dismissed.

The petition in the North Toronto election case was formally dismissed at Osgoode Hall on Thursday, and Mr. Marter is safe in his seat. There was no evidence.

The protests in North Hastings and North Renfrew have also been dropped. Mr. Allen has consented to resign in North Hastings and there will be a new election there. Mr. Andrew White holds his seat in North Renfrew.

The Centre Simcoe case has been adjourned.

THE PHILIPPINE DEBT.

Spain Places New Statements Before the Peace Commission—She Won't Tell Where the Money Went.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The clerical force of the American Peace Commission was busy nearly all last night in translating the Spanish memorandum presented at yesterday's joint session.

Spain has, it is said, made two other important statements: 1. That on the high ground of financial probity she cannot allow any discussion here of the validity of her action in pledging the resources of the Philippines for the payment of the Philippine debt.

2. That, in connection with the American proposal to reimburse Spain for her pacific expenditures in the Philippines she can not admit of any enquiry as to how she has spent the proceeds of the loans based on the Philippine pledges.

If Spain has assumed this attitude, and it is believed she has done so, she practically compels the American Commissioners to consider at least the entire Philippine debt and its assumption by the United States or the Philippine Islands as a condition to Spain's amicable surrender of her sovereignty over those islands.

From the Washington End.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The Administration feels encouraged now over the outlook for a successful termination of the labors of the Peace Commission at Paris.

The attempt of the Spanish Commission to induce the Americans to accept their construction of the meaning of the protocol, where it touches on the Philippines, has been a flat failure. The President himself was party to the preparation of the protocol. Having made the document, the President believes himself to be the person best competent to consider its meaning, and the American Commissioners are acting in conformity with his views.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. EDITORIAL NOTES.

PROF. DICEY, an Oxford law professor, is in Toronto. A very suggestive name to indicate the dicey uncertainties of the law.

HISTORY repeats itself. In patriarchial days, the plains of Abraham were turned over for Lot, and now the Plains of Abraham are to be turned over for lots also.

A MINT for Canada is being advocated in some quarters. Nominally the idea is a good one. We have a mint o' gold in Canada, and we have a Minto governor.

MR. WHITNEY, in his political infirmity, is very anxious to secure the services of Dr. Meacham, of Lennox. "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick."

THE Conservative orators and press assure us that the Liberal Government has broken all their ante-official promises. This breach of promise at the worst is "not a patch on" the broken promises these gentlemen made themselves that they would be back into office within six months of June, 1896.

MR. WHITNEY should feel complimented. Imitation is the sincerest flattery—the Democrats in the United States are claiming a victory in the recent elections, though their opponents have a majority in both houses. Extracting sunbeams from cucumbers is easy compared to taking comfort out of being kicked.

OUR tariff cannot be quite so bad as its opponents assert. We are able to compete with the manufacturing world. The Montmorency cotton mills are making large shipments of cotton to Zanzibar. When Canada captures a big cotton trade in Asia, (China) and in Africa (Zanzibar), we cannot complain of the enterprise of our manufacturers, or they of the tariff. Only the ex-tariff-tinkers are whining.

AT the present rate of importation the value of dutiable goods imported into Canada during 1898, will amount to one hundred million of dollars. With the all-round reduction of duty under the Liberal tariff of 2 4-10 per cent. this represents a saving to the taxpayers of the Dominion of $2,400,000, a saving of 50 cents a head for every man, woman and child, or $2.50 for the average family. This is not a very large amount, but far better than that amount added by higher taxation.

SIR WILFRED LAURIER seems to come to the front, no matter what company he keeps. He is achieving at Washington as great popularity as he achieved in England Jubilee year. Always a persona grata on account of his magnetic personal qualities, he is further recognized as a statesman, not a mere politician. He has made the name of Canada so respected among the nations that that is another reason why a premier of Canada who has so largely done this should be esteemed accordingly.

WHEN Banquo came to Macbeth's dinner party without invitation, Macbeth growled—"The time has been that when the brains were out men would die." The time was also that when a nation was beat[illegible] war it would "quit." But Spain still [illegible] up the fight with the United States. Gen. Merrian predicts that the peace negotiations will not result in agreement, and then—war. The prophetic general suggests that if Spain refuses to come to terms it means substantial hope of European backing—possibly Germany, and then there will be war—that is war, for he thinks England will take a hand in also—which might not be impossible.

It is not well to have too many postage stamps on hand or to accept many in payment as currency. The Government has discontinued the redemption of stamps. Their place as currency is taken by postal notes, which are procurable and payable in every money-order office in Canada. Though these postal notes have been introduced only three months, they have become very popular, the number used in August being only 2,773, and in October 15,146. If one wishes to remit a small amount by mail one has only to enter a post office, buy a postal note for the required amount, address it, post it, and the thing is done.

THE Opposition papers sometimes show a little life in objecting to the Liberal tariff and occasionally develop life enough to aim a groggy blow or two at the government on that head. The Toronto World declares that its worst feature of it is uncertainty—as to the chances of the Opposition having anything like a speedy chance of tinkering it. The present tariff has the element of certainty—under it trade has improved and manufacturing industries have developed an activity unprecedented since Confederation. The revenue is increasing, while the rate of taxation is lower. At what period of the last eighteen years rule of a high taxation Conservative party could such things be written truthfully.

DR. MEACHAM, Mr. Whitney's candidate in Lennox, is advocating the making of our school books by prison labour. A fine thing to be put in the hands of innocent children—school books bearing the thumbmarks of criminals. Nice thing, too, to rob the the honest printer of work to give it to a jail-bird—and all for the sake of saving a few cents and getting into office. Mr. Hardy, in his banquet speech, said the Liberal policy was to guard the rights of labour. Dr. Meacham and Mr. Whitney would guard their rights by putting them in the Central Prison in the hands of thieves. The electors of Lennox will today, doubtless, sit severely upon such political quackery.

GOOD AND BAD ADVERTISING.

The following from the Kingston Times is worthy of perusal by our business men: Business men are, at times, at a loss to know what to do as to the form and mode of their advertising. They are constantly being importuned by advertising agents to adopt schemes of various kinds, and the merchant's anxiety for enlarged business causes him to listen to the suggestions and give his order to the printer or his representative. The head of a large business house speaks thus sensibly on the subject:

The advertising fakes are after us again by morning, noon and night. Their importunities have become a perfect nuisance, to say nothing of the actual loss they entail upon us in the valuable time they consume. There ought to be some legal protection against this practice. As there is not, I have been thinking of circulating a paper in the form of an agreement not to patronize any fake advertising scheme, and I doubt not that every merchant in the city would readily place his signature to it.

No one believes more in legitimate advertising than I do. It is a part of my business. I give it a great deal of thought and invest a considerable sum of money annually in that way. But there is a wide line between the legitimate and the illegitimate, and it is high time for the poor, harassed merchant to observe the distinction, and to observe it closely.

The leading mercantile establishments are turning more and more to the columns of the newspaper as the most satisfactory medium of making known their goods and prices to the public. That portion of the public which does not take a newspaper, and read it, is small, and the purchasing is so limited that it hardly pays to risk money in securing the patronage.

OFFICER OF THE DECK.

The Position Carries Many Important and Responsible Duties.

Immediately upon stepping on board of a man-of-war a visitor sees an officer with a sword belt on walking up and down the quarter deck. Officers and sailors come up to this man so sprucely rigged out in his neat, handsome uniform, touch their caps to him, ask him questions, give him information and receive orders from him, and then they go away from him, and he paces his lonely beat, for he is the man who is on watch, who, while holding this position, has the charge of the ship. He is the "officer of the deck."

His position is one of extreme responsibility. He is held accountable for the safety of the ship and everything and everybody on board her. Every officer or other person in the ship, whatever may be his rank, who is subject to the orders of the captain, except the executive officer, the officer who ranks second to the captain, is subordinate to the officer of the deck.

This officer of the deck cannot leave his charge until he is regularly relieved by some other officer, whose turn it is to assume the responsibility, and he is strictly prohibited by the rules and regulations from engaging in any occupation which may distract his attention from his duty; hence his apparent dislike to engage in conversation, to crack a joke, to smile or to laugh.

A part of his duty is to be polite, though not necessarily agreeable, the law governing this phase of his conduct reading as follows: "He shall see that all persons coming alongside or visiting the ship are courteously treated." Of course he cannot personally attend, except casually, to the reception of the hundreds of people who visit the ship. He delegates this sort of duty to the men, only seeing that they behave themselves decorously and decently.

The officer of the deck is the one man in the ship for the time being on whom devolves the responsibility of properly conducting the affairs pertaining to the welfare of the small world living within the vessel. For four hours this position of dignity and importance is his. Then he goes off, and some other man succeeds to the hardships of the office.—New York Herald.

Montague, of Dunnville, Cured of Ulcer and Itching Piles.

Mr. Robert Montague of Dunnville, Ont., writes:—"Was troubled with Itching Piles for five years and was so badly ulcerated, they were very painful, so much so, that I could not sleep. I tried almost every medicine known when I was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and from the first application got relief. Have used two boxes and am now completely cured."

FRENCH SHORE QUESTION.

Great Britain Seen Likely to Raise It—Canadian Defence System to Be Reorganized.

London, Nov. 18.—(Toronto Globe Special).—The French shore question in connection with Newfoundland has been attracting a good deal of attention since Mr. Chamberlain's speech on Tuesday last. There is good reason to believe that the report of the commission, which has lately returned, will prove of grave import. The likelihood is that the question will be included with a number of others in the negotiations between France and Great Britain which are approaching.

There is good reason for stating that while the home and Canadian Governments intend completely reorganizing the Canadian system of defence, Major-General Hutton carried no special orders with him out to Canada.

I learn from an official source that the Imperial Government has no thought of further considering the question of the Pacific cable until Canada speaks.

Nothing has been done here regarding the fast Atlantic service since the Peterson scheme lapsed.

ANGLO-GERMAN EXCHANGE.

A Move Which Would Give Britain Her Cairo to the Cape Dream.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—A move evidently is on foot by Germany to acquire the Portuguese colony of Angola on the west coast of Africa. According to the colonial year book, Angola is on the brink of economic disaster, and should revert to a strong power. The book adds that the general collapse of the Portuguese Empire is only a question of months.

England is not expected to interfere in such an acquisition by Germany. In return it is proposed to cede to England a strip of territory along Lake Tanganyika, which lies just east of the Congo State, on the south coast of Africa. This juggling of territory would allow England to realize her dream of a British Africa extending from Cairo to the Cape.

THE PARTNERSHIP SHOWN.

British and American Flags Intertwined at the Launch of the Formidable.

Portsmouth, Eng., Nov. 18.—Thousands of people yesterday witnessed the launch of the ram battleship Formidable at the dock yards here. She is said to be the largest warship in the world, being of 15,000 tons displacement. She is 400 feet long, has 75 feet beam and draws 26 feet 9 inches of water. She cost over £1,000,000, and is estimated to steam 18 knots.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the First Lord of the Admiralty; Sir George Goschen and Admiral Sir Michael Culme-Seymour, were among those present.

A notable feature of the launch of the battleship was the entwining of the British and American flags on the official stand.

Where the Companies Differ.

London, Nov. 18.—Sir William Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in a letter addressed to Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, on the matter of passenger rates in Canada, says there is but one question at issue, which he declines to submit to arbitration. The C.P.R. maintains its right to quote a lower rate through Canada to Manitoba and the West than the Grand Trunk can through the United States.

Revolution at San Salvador.

Hamburg, Nov. 18.—A despatch to the Boersenhalle from Santa Ana, near San Salvador, the capital of the State of Salvador, of the United States of Central America, says a revolution has broken out at San Salvador. The uprising took place on Nov. 15, but no details have been cabled.

Appointment Only Temporary.

London, Nov. 18.—The Manchester Guardian publishes a despatch from Canea, which says that the appointment of Prince George of Greece as Governor of Crete is only temporary, the terms of the arrangement being that he shall serve two or three years under the suzerainty of the Sultan.

Chinese Soldiers for Britain.

London, Nov. 18.—The Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, has issued the necessary orders for the enrollment of a battalion of 1,000 Chinese, to serve under British officers at Wei Hai Wei, the recently acquired naval station.

Novoe Vremya Under Ban.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 18.—The Minister of the Interior has prohibited the retail sale of the newspaper Novoe Vremya, owing to its infraction of the press law.

Catholic Mission Burned.

Shanghai, Nov. 18.—The rebels have attacked and looted the town of Kwei Fu, in the Upper Yang Tse Kiang Valley, and have burned the Catholic mission there.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded

CANADA'S POSITION

In the Matter of the North Atlantic Fishery Question.

THE QUESTION IS DELICATE.

One of the Canadian High Commissioners Makes an Important Statement—The Bonding Privilege Discussed—The Treaty of 1818—The Canadian Interpretation Has Not Been Pressed Too Hard.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The reciprocity negotiations are progressing very well, and yesterday the most difficult and delicate question in the protocol, that of the Atlantic fisheries, has been taken up by the fisheries sub-committee. That the negotiations may fail to the ground as a result of serious disagreement on this issue is a possibility, but one that the British Commissioners do not care to discuss or even to refer to.

Canada's Position.

With the view of correcting false impressions the following statement was issued yesterday by a gentleman connected with the Canadian Commission: "The International High Commission will have a serious difficulty to settle in the North Atlantic fishery question. It is one which may give the commission some trouble. The position of the Canadian Government is not, I think, very well understood in the United States. The treaty of 1818 provides, roughly speaking, that the United States fishermen shall not have access to the inhabited coasts of the Canadian seaboard. On these coasts American fishermen are not entitled to land, except for four purposes specially named in the treaty, namely, for wood, water, shelter and repairs. The object of the treaty was obviously to give Canadians exclusive control of their own coasts as a base of operations for carrying on the fishery. Such has been the Canadian interpretation ever since the treaty was framed, and the United States has accepted it as the true interpretation. In 1854 the United States purchased the right to land on the Canadian coasts for other than the purposes named. American fishermen wish to buy bait in Canadian ports, to ship crews, to purchase supplies, including ice, and to bond their fish, that is, to tranship them in bond either to Canadian railways or to steamers bound for the United States, so that they may get rid of their cargo quickly and hurry back to the banks, instead of carrying it to Boston or Gloucester and going back empty, which would entail much loss of time. The United States purchased these privileges in 1854 by abolishing the duties on Canadian fish. It purchased them again, by giving free fish in return, under the Washington treaty of 1871. So also in 1888 the Bayard-Chamberlain project virtually granted free fish in exchange for these privileges. That project was defeated in the United States Senate, but the modus vivendi, which formed part of it and which is in existence to this day, provides that American fishing vessels which desire to have the benefit of the privileges can have them by securing a license from the Dominion Government.

The Bonding Privilege.

"It will thus be seen that the United States has all along accepted the Canadian interpretation of article 1 of the treaty of 1818 as the true interpretation. This being the case, the United States is, I think, debarred from now claiming the bonding privilege in Canadian ports for American fishermen is part and parcel of the general bonding system existing between the two countries. The fact is that under the treaty of 1818 American fishermen have no right to land their fish in Canadian ports. If they had that right, the Canadian Government would not hesitate for a moment to allow them to ship their fish in bond by rail or water. Nor is it a good argument to say that the United States permits Canadian fishermen to bond Canadian fish in American ports. That is quite true as a matter of fact, but then there is no treaty, as in the other case, specifically excluding Canadian fishermen from going into American ports for that and other commercial purposes. The present Canadian Administration, of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the head, has not, since entering office in 1896, pressed the Canadian interpretation too hard; indeed, it has virtually allowed American fishermen most or all of the privileges referred to whenever, under special circumstances, they have put in a request to be permitted to enjoy. This course of action is strongly disapproved, however, by Canadian fishermen. A Canadian fisherman and an American fisherman are fishing side by side on the banks. The American fisherman sells his fish free of duty, of course, in the United States. The Canadian fisherman, on the other hand, has to pay a duty on his fish going to the United States; and when in addition he is asked in the teeth of the treaty of 1818 to give his rival, thus favored by circumstances, all the easements and conveniences involved in the commercial privileges of Canadian ports, he feels that he is being asked to assist his rival in compassing his own injury. This, I suppose, is only natural, and it is only natural, too, that the Canadians should expect free fish, as in times past, in return for the concession of these easements. The Government of Canada is anxious to discuss a revision of the treaty of 1818 on the lines of mutual concessions."

A Legal Commission.

It is understood that there is some likelihood of a commission of American, Canadian and English lawyers being appointed to determine the meaning of the treaty of 1818, which governs these fishery rights. The suggestion of this international body has come, it is understood, from Lord Herschell. Should such a body be appointed, it would do away with the chance of any collision occurring between the Canadian officials and American fishing vessels during the approaching fishing season.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act so thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases, free.

OTTAWA NOTES.

Some Minor But Interesting News From the Dominion Capital.

A Toronto shooting party, just returned from the North, is strongly in favour of the Government rescinding the order which prohibits the shooting of deer in the water. They found numbers of dead deer in the bush which no one could follow up to take out, while in the water their bodies would be recoverable. It also struck them that the settlers are killing the deer indiscriminately. In several places they found that hogs and dogs were fed nothing but deer flesh. The truth is, the deer have more to fear from the settlers than from the excursions of amateur hunters. The game wardens should secure a few convictions.—Toronto Star.

INQUIRY INTO DEATH OF STELLA MUNCHION.

A CORONER'S JURY TAKING EVI DENCE YESTERDAY.

The Child's Body is Examined at the County Council Chamber—Inquest Adjourned until Monday next.

The Coroner's Jury which was empanelled to enquire into the death of little Stella Munchion assembled, yesterday afternoon in the County Council Chamber.

Coroner Ball conducted the inquest, Mr. R. E. Wood appearing for the Crown, and Mr. W. A. Stratton being present in the interests of Mr. and Mrs. Facey, with whom the child lived.

Dr. Brown was the first witness called. He stated that at about 2 p.m. on the 9th inst he was called to see a child in Monaghan. Mr. Facey came for him. He went out to the Hall farm and at the house found three ladies, one of whom was Mrs. Facey. Facey was with the witness. The child was dead at the time of his arrival. The body was still warm, life having been extinct for three or four hours, probably. He made an examination of the body. There was a large contusion on the back of the head in the occipital region, having a diameter of about three inches. The skin was not broken. From this contusion there was a redness extending to the right ear and down the side of the neck. The redness was caused by the injury to the head. It appeared to have been caused by inflammation just previous to death. The right eye was also very black, having been injured probably three or four days previously. There was a yellow coloured bruise over the right side of the chin, about an inch by an inch and a half in size. It probably had been there nine or ten days before death. Superficial bruises were also on the left shoulder, the left hip and the left knee. That on the shoulder was about an inch in diameter, the one on hip about an inch and a half and that on the left knee

WAS SLIGHTLY SCRATCHED.

All these bruises had been there for several days. The right hip and right shoulder were bruised similar to the injuries on the left side. Two dark streaks passed down the groin one on either side. The witness judged they were caused by violence. The one on the left side was three inches long and that on the right about two inches. Both were about three-quarters of an inch wide. Each of the buttocks were bruised. They were widespread bruises and not recently inflicted. A small bruise was found in the centre of the back. There were also other small bruises on various parts of the body. Witness could not state definitely what was the cause of death, as far as his examination went. He could not state how the bruises had been inflicted.

To the foreman the witness stated that the only bruise which could cause death was that on the back of the head.

Dr. Brown was authorised by the jury to proceed with a post mortem examination.

Wm. Facey was then called. He stated that it was he who came for Dr. Brown. The child had been living with him for about five months. It belonged to Mrs. Munchon, and was at his wife's aunt's residence in Ashburnham when his wife took it to keep her company on the farm. Albert Valois authorized Mrs. Facey to get the child. He was Mrs. Munchon's second husband and a half-brother to the wife of the witness. He last saw the child alive on Wednesday morning at half past four, when he left home to walk to the Hall farm which was about a mile distant. His wife came for him at half past twelve and said

THE CHILD WAS DYING.

He accompanied her home and found the child lying on the table. She was dead. His wife told him the child had fallen backwards out of the chair at the end of the table. The wife had not seen the child fall, being engaged in putting wood in the stove at the time. When he got to the house Mrs. Sage was there. The only bruise on the child that he knew of was caused by the little girl rising up under the table and bumping her head.

To Mr. Stratton, witness said that the child was well nurtured. The was well treated as far as he knew. The child was easily marked. A pinch given in sport would leave a mark. He had told Dr. Brown in his office about the fall.

Mrs. Elizabeth Coulter, sworn, stated that when at Mrs. Sage's two months ago the child used to come over there. She often complained, and one day when the little girl said she was very tired in her back, witness looked at her back and found a large bruise there. The child said she was hurt by falling down the stairs. Witness told Mrs. Sage of the occurrence. When leaving Mrs. Sage's witness asked Mrs. Facey if she was willing to part with the child, provided a good home could be procured for it, and Mrs. Facey said she would let it go, as she was tired of it. Mrs. Coulter reported this fact to the Children's Aid Society, but no action was taken.

Mrs. Wm. Sage, sworn, said she was the nearest neighbour of the Faceys. She remembered when the child came. She was in the house when the child died Mrs. Facey had come for her, stating that she was sure the child was dying. The houses were near enough to call from one to the other. When Mrs. Facey came over she was and crying that the child was dying, having fallen from the chair and hurt her head. She explained that the child had been eating breakfast, and in getting down from the chair, her foot slipped and she fell to the floor on the back of her head. Mrs. Facey stated that she had picked up the little girl, and asked if she was hurt, when the child muttered something, and placing her hand on her head, said, "There" The child was then put on the floor and Mrs. Facey had gone to put some wood in the stove. The child after taking a few steps, fell over, when Mrs. Facey ran over for the witness. Mrs. Sage picked the little one up and sympathised with her. The child was moaning. Mrs. Facey then went for her husband. The child died before her return Witness saw the bruise on the back of the head, and one above the forehead, which latter was swollen. There were other bruises. When the child was alive witness had seen bruises on the child which were caused, the little one said, by Mrs. Facey whipping her. At another time Mrs. Sage has seen bruises on her hips, and on several occasions she had seen the child with black eyes, caused once by falling on a stick of wood, and again by stumbling down stairs. Mrs. Facey said the black eye which the child had when she died was caused by

STRIKING HER FACE

against the table. Witness could not say anything as to the treatment of the child by the Facey's. She never heard any sounds from the house which would be an indication. Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Pinard had been sent for whilst Mr. Facey was gone for the doctor. They would not dress the body until the doctor arrived. They did not know whether the child had died from some disease or not.

To Mr Stratton witness stated that the child had accounted for a number of the bruises by saying that she had hurt herself, and again that others had been received through whippings administered by Mrs. Facey. Witness knew the child's flesh was easily marked and had suggested that something should be done for her blood. At the time the child died witness thought she might have had some infectious disease and warned others about it. She sprinkled carbolic acid around through the room to prevent infection. Mrs. Facey had wanted to go for the doctor first, but witness had told her to go for her husband. Neither Mr. or Mrs. Facey acted as though they were afraid of having a doctor see the child. Both had wanted to have one.

To Mr. Wood, Mrs. Sage stated that she had heard Mrs. Facey speak of sending the child to a good home, when the bruises on her face healed.

Mrs. O'Brien (sworn) said she was at Facey's home on Wednesday last. Mrs. Pinard had accompanied her. She was summoned by Mrs. Sage's little boy. She had lying dead on the table and had examined it. Mrs. Pinard said that the corpse was not a natural looking one and advised not touching it till the doctor came. Witness then described the bruises on the body.

Dr. Brown, after making his post mortem examination, reported that death was caused by the clotting of blood over the occipital region. The skull was not broken. On the skull being opened a large clot of blood was found at the juncture of the occipital and parietal regions, pressing on the brain. This was the cause of death. The injury might be caused by the child falling from the chair as described. The child was not well nourished. There were two inflammatory adhesions between the skull and the cap. These were not connected with the cause of death. The injuries to the groin extended through the muscle to the bowels, which were discoloured. The force to make such an injury must have been considerable. Witness stated that Mr. Facey had mentioned nothing about the child's fall to him. He had said the child had a swelling on the head and witness had stated at the time that this might be caused by water on the brain. Mrs. Facey had been the first one to mention the fall.

Mrs. Sage, recalled, stated that Mr. Facey did not examine the child before he went for the doctor. She did not remember exactly, but thought he had looked into its face and laid his hand on its head, saying it was dead. This was all he did.

To Mr. Stratton, Mrs. Sage stated Mr. Facey had looked at the child's head. It was open to view. He could see it plainly.

The jury then adjourned until Monday afternoon, at the request of Mr. Wood, all of the Crown witnesses not being available.

REMEMBERED IN DOURO.

Requiem Mass for the Repose of the Soul of the Late Rev. Father Connolly.

On Tuesday, Nov. 15th, a solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's church, Douro, for the repose of the soul of Father Connolly, of Hastings, who died a little over a year ago. Father Kelly pronounced a panegyric upon him and the work he had accomplished at Victoria Road, Emily, Campbellford and Hastings. He would never be forgotten by the people among whom he had ministered, nor by the priests, who enjoyed the honour and privilege of his friendship. He was one of nature's noblemen, and has worn through the 25 years of his priesthood, "the white flower of a blameless life." It is such men, added Father Kelly, who make the Catholic Church the power she is among people. With charity towards all and malice towards none, he always and everywhere lived the life of a perfect gentleman.

DIRECTORS MEET

Of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Stock Association was held last evening to revise the rules and regulations and prize list for the winter show, and for the transaction of other business.

Mr. W.C. Rightmyer, first vice-president, was in the chair. Quite a number of the members were present in addition to the directors.

After the reading of the minutes of the meeting, correspondence was read from Mr. H. Donovan, Poultry Review, Toronto, C J Daniels, Toronto, who has been appointed judge for the show here, and Chas Massie, Port Hope.

On motion John Robson was appointed superintendent of show, and the following committees were appointed:

Reception—Messrs. Winch, Head, Cullen and Goldie.

Coops, Feeding, etc—W C Rightmyer, F Land and Geo. Prstley.

Considerable additions were made to the classification in the prize list, especially in pigeons, which class will be shown in single bird entries, the same as in other poultry.

The canvassing committee appointed to secure special prizes, reported that they had not accomplished much yet, but would call on the business men in a few days, when they hoped to be very successful, as those who have given, have done so liberally. It is hoped the committee will be treated in a liberal manner, as it is always customary to offer special prizes donated in that way in all towns and cities, and they are very highly appreciated by the winners fully as much as the cash prizes in the regular list.

The secretary was instructed to write the general passenger agents of the G.T.R. and C.P.R., also the managers of the Dominion and Canadian Express Companies for the usual reduced rates for passengers and birds coming and returning at the time of the show—January, 17th to 19th, 1899.

The meeting adjourned to Dec. 1st.

THAT PROMISSORY NOTE.

It was Returned and the Case thus Settled.

At the Police Court this morning Chas. Beaucller was before Magistrate Dumble charged with the theft of a promissory note from Christopher Leary.

During the summer the prisoner was working for Mr. Frank Sanderson in Smith, and hearing of this Mr. Leary called at the house with a note given him by Beaucller, on which there was still $15 unpaid. Mr. Sanderson was out at the time and the note was left for him with the request that he would collect the amount due from Beaucller. Mr. Sanderson, however, misunderstood the message, and turned the note over to Beaucller, without receiving the money. When Mr. Leary heard of this he made an effort to recover the note, but Beaucller refused to give it up, hence the arrest.

This morning Beaucller handed the note over to Mr. Leary and paid $5 on it, also settling the costs.

Mr. R. E. Wood represented the Crown, and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the prisoner.

REV. MR. KENRICK'S RECEPTION.

His Parishoners Greet Him After his Return From the Old Land.

On Wednesday evening, in the Town Hall, Port Hope, the congregation of St. Mark's Episcopal church gladdened the heart of their rector in manifesting their gratitude by means of a public reception, on the occasion of Rev. C. B. Kenrick's return from a three months' sojourn in the Old Land in quest of renewed health.

A large company assembled at eight o'clock to enjoy the pleasure of renewing their friendly relations with the rector, hearing the programme of music and speeches and partaking of the light refreshments of coffee and cake, which the ladies, from the goodness of their hearts, had provided.

On the platform, in addition to the chairman, were Rev. E. Daniel and Rev. G. H. Broughall, to whom St. Mark's owes a debt of gratitude for the unselfish manner in which he assisted the church wardens during the absence of the incumbent. The proceedings commenced by the reading of an address of welcome to the rector by the wardens, Messrs. M. F. Smith and B. R. Heaslip, which was as follows:

To Rev. C. B. Kenrick, M.A.:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR,—It gives us the sincerest pleasure to tender you a most hearty welcome on your return to Port Hope. We are pleased to learn that your extended trip to the Old Land has been such a pleasant one, and that you have come home much refreshed in body and invigorated in mind.

As members of your parish we rejoice in the privilege of having you in our midst again, and we are looking forward with pleasant satisfaction to the renewing of these relations between pastor and congregation which have been so satisfactory in the past.

During your absence we have had abundant opportunity of testing your worth as a pastor and a worker amongst us. We have missed your kindly help and advice, and appreciate your constant interest in the welfare of our church. We realize that it is mainly through your efforts that we, as a church and congregation, have reached our present state of efficiency, and we feel satisfied that we need your continued co-operation to enable us to sustain the present high standard.

Again assuring you of a most hearty welcome, we remain, on behalf of the church,

M. F. SMITH,
R. B. HEASLIP,
Wardens.

Nov. 17, 1898.

Mr. Kenrick responded in appropriate terms, expressing his deep gratitude for the kindly feeling of the congregation, and his satisfaction at being once more with his parishioners, for whom he had always cherished a kindly thought when separated from them.

Rev. Mr. Daniel and Rev. Mr. Broughall also spoke, and assured the guest of the evening that they too, were glad to be present to share in words of welcome.

A programme of music was contributed by Miss Howden, Miss Metcalf, Messrs. Reid and Farquharson.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies, and after a pleasant social time the proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of God Save the Queen.

The ladies, in large numbers, took advantage of the unusually interesting opening display of fancy goods and ladies' work at Miss S. Armstrong's new store, from 2 until 10 o'clock on Thursday. This was Miss Armstrong's first public welcome to the ladies since moving into her handsome new premises, and was in every way a success. The store was crowded until 10 o'clock, at which time ladies were loath to withdraw from admiring the handsome display. The quantity and quality of the work shown exceeded any previous display which Miss Armstrong has made. The ornamental needle work done on the premises was very creditable to the clever assistants who did the work. A lovely lot of novelties and and pretty articles was also shown. Those who have not yet paid a visit should do so while the display is on.

ECHOES OF THE WRECK.

What Happened in the Cab of the Express Will Never be Known.

In referring to the recent wreck at Murray Hill, the Belleville Intelligencer says: Another fact which has been developed at the inquest is that both Driver Brady and Fireman McDonald knew before the disaster occurred that a collision was inevitable. It proves that Brady was not asleep at his post and that some other reason must be assigned for the danger signal. Brady and McDonald both had time to jump and save their lives after they saw the mistake that had been made. Their engine was stopped and the sand valve was opened, as is proved by the fireman of the freight train, who found sand on the track along the line that the express had passed over before it met No. 96 on the north track. The theory that Brady came to his engine at Belleville under the influence of liquor is exploded, for Brady was a non-drinking man, and Conductor Robert Pardon, who gave the orders at Belleville, says that the engineer was perfectly himself when he took hold of his duties. Brady was, according to the story of Conductor Purdon, a "prince of engineers." He was a man of considerable scientific knowledge, and had patents on improvements on engines, which he had invented himself. One theory as to the cause of the accident put forth by a practical engineer is that the steam valves in Brady's engine burst while climbing the Trenton grade, and, the engine being filled with steam while the driver was endeavouring to check the valves, he did not notice the danger signal displayed at the switch and ran along on the north track until too late to notice his mistake. Positive evidence as to what was amiss in the cab of the express will never be heard.

FUNERAL OF SISTER AGNES.

The Obsequies in the Chapel of St. Joseph's Hospital To-day—Thrilling and Solemn Ceremonies.

At 9 30 o'clock this morning the funeral ceremonies of Sister Agnes, of the Order of St. Joseph, who died on Wednesday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital, took place in chapel of the hospital.

The solemn Mass of Requiem was sung by Rev. Father Murray, of Cobourg, parish priest of the deceased. The deacon of the Mass was Rev. Father Chidwick, Chaplain U.S N., and the sub-deacon was Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan, of town, with the Rev. Archdeacon Casey as master of ceremonies. In addition there were present his Lordship, the Bishop of Peterborough, and Rev. Fathers O'Connell, of town, McGuire, of Hastings, and McCloskey, of Campbellford.

A number of the Sisters of the Order from Lindsay, Cobourg and other places were also present, together with several Sisters of the congregation of Notre Dame.

The mass sung by the Sisters, assisted by Mme. Rose d'Erina, who also presided at the organ, was the solemn Gregorian Requiem mass, than which nothing more grandly or pathetically beautiful was ever written; and sung, as it was, with all the feeling and expression of fervent Catholic hearts, was touching in the extreme. After the mass, the sermon was preached by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor, who also pronounced the final absolution, after which the coffin was borne to the hearse through double lines of the nuns, with veils down and each bearing a lighted taper.

Sister Agnes, whose name in the world was Miss Margaret Gormley, and whose home was Cobourg, had been a member of the staff of Sisters in charge of St. Joseph's Hospital almost since its inception, and recollections of her loving care were evinced by the large number of visitors and former patients who called to pay the last tribute of respect, and the number of beautiful flowers sent.

The funeral ceremonies were private, only the clergy, the nuns and immediate relatives and friends of the deceased being present, among whom were her mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Gormley, who is blind, her brother Mr. John Gormley of Cobourg, and her sister, who is Sister St. Edward, belonging to the same order as the deceased and attached to the Convent at Mount St. Joseph.

MR. STRATTON IN LENNOX.

The Record and Policy of the Liberal Government Presented.

During the present election in Lennox, Mr. Stratton has been speaking at different points throughout the riding. He and Hon. Mr. Hardy spoke last night at the closing meeting of the campaign in Napanee. The Globe in its report of the meeting, thus refers to Mr. Stratton's address:

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., of Peterborough, was the first speaker, and delivered a practical and masterly address. He compared the course pursued by Mr. Whitney and the Opposition with the progressive and able policy of the Government. He said that Mr. Whitney had no policy. He was only a common scold. The policy of the Government was to take the receipts and expend them in lessening the burdens of the people and in developing the country. He dealt with the financial question, showing that John Sandfield Macdonald left obligations that more than swallowed up the $3,800,000 in the treasury when he left office. He pointed out the manner in which the Government assisted the people, and in referring to the public works and buildings erected by the Government, he challenged the Opposition to point out one single building that should not have been built. The Opposition were going about the country attacking the Government for certain expenditures, while in the Legislature they approved of every dollar of them. He challenged them to point to any country in the world where the public institutions are managed as cheaply as they are in the Province of Ontario. He eloquently referred to the manner in which the Government provided for the care of the insane and the unfortunate. The Opposition say we are face to face with direct taxation owing to the extravagance of the Government. Of the sum of thirty-three millions expended by the Government the Opposition only objected to one-half of one per cent. The Government had reduced the expenditure. Had they ever heard of a Conservative Government that had reduced expenditure anywhere? The Ontario Government has in cash, trust funds and drainage debentures a surplus of $5,120,000. Mr. Stratton referred to the system of audit in the Province, the Government officials and the price of school books, and closed by calling upon them to elect Mr. B. E. Aylesworth, not with a majority of 43 but by 443.

COUGHED UP THE BULLET.

Mr. Perry Gets Rid of His Unpleasant Companion—Hardy Sentenced.

Tweed, Ont., Nov. 18.—Mr. B. S. Perry, who was held up in his own shop here three weeks ago Saturday night and shot in the face, is now relieved of the bullet, which lodged in his neck. Mr. Perry was advised by his physicians to leave the bullet where it was and to have no cutting done. He was able to feel the lump of lead in his neck with his fingers. On Saturday night Mr. Perry took a coughing spell and coughed up the ball of lead, which he now has in his possession, and which he took with him to Belleville on Tuesday to use as evidence at the trial, now in progress. The ball was somewhat disfigured, but not shattered. Mr. Perry is feeling and looking much better since he coughed up the bullet.

Frank Hardy, who murderously assaulted Mr. B. Perry, the Tweed butcher, was yesterday morning sentenced in Belleville, by Judge Lazier, to eighteen months in the Central Prison; twelve months for shooting, four months for robbery and two months for carrying weapons. Hardy, it will be remembered, was cleverly captured in Peterborough by the local police force.

Mr. W. Carnew made a strong fight for his client, and presented the case in such a favourable light that the sentence was much lighter than was expected.

A SUCCESSFUL CATTLE SALE.

Mr. John Haggart Sells a Fine Lot of Stock at Good Prices—Mr. H. P. Kennedy Takes the Bulk of Them.

Thursday Mr. John Haggart held a most successful sale of stock, consisting of 35 head of cattle from Mr. Thos. Bradburn's Harvey ranch. The stock consisted principally of well bred grades, which may account for the good prices obtained. Two year-old steers and heifers brought on an average about $30. The bidding was lively. The bulk of the sale was taken by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, one of our most aggressive buyers, and are offered on the Toronto market to-day. A few native cattle were in the lot and the difference in price should convince any farmer that it pays to breed a good strain of stock. The common cattle though costing about as much to raise, only brought about half the price of the improved grades.

INCALCULABLE GOOD,

AN EXPRESSION OF FAITH.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done me an incalculable amount of good. I think they are the best, surest and quickest acting cure for nervousness, unhealthy action of the heart, insomnia or sleeplessness, anemia or impoverished blood, loss of appetite, general debility and ill-health. For nine years, before I commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, my heart was weak and in an unhealthy state. Its action was so much impaired that I could not walk across the street without suffering great distress, my heart fluttering and beating so rapidly that I could scarcely breathe, causing faintness, loss of strength, and leaving my nerves all unstrung. My sleep was very much disturbed, I had no appetite and there was little strength or vitality in my blood; I was always excessively nervous.

I have now taken three boxes of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills and since taking them I have not been away from my business an hour. Before taking these pills it was a frequent occurrence for me to be away from business. As a result of taking Dr. Ward's Pills my heart is perfectly healthy and strong and gives me no distress or trouble whatever. They removed all nerve trouble, made my nerves strong and gave me healthy sleep. These pills also made my blood rich and strong and gave me a healthy appetite. Dr. Ward's Pills have given me perfect health, restoring my lost strength, in place of continual ill-health, weakness, heart trouble and nervousness. In justice I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine. Signed, Miss N. Millward, Walton St., Port Hope, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by THE DOCTOR WARD CO. Limited, 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

RUM AS IT IS MADE.

The Process of Manufacture of the West Indian Article.

West Indian rum is made from the refuse juice, scum and general impurities of sugar as that article throws them off in the process of boiling. In sugar making after the juice has been pressed out of the fresh cane it is put into great vats and boiled down for a long time, to clear it of waste and undesirable matter. During the boiling this refuse rises to the top of the vat in a thick, yellowish froth or scum. The West Indian negroes who are usually employed in the sugar and rummaking establishments stand by with implements like oars, which they wield backward and forward through the froth, continually sweeping it off the vat into receptacles placed at the sides to catch it.

When cold this scum changes its yellow hue for another and still more unpleasant one, becoming a striking imitation of the thick green slime which gathers upon stagnant pools. At this stage it is mixed with molasses, water and a certain quantity of "lees" or dregs from previous fermentations, and the whole compound is allowed to ferment for a week or two. Then distillation is begun, and the vapor which arises from the boiling mixture becomes when condensed a strong, colorless liquid, which is rum in its raw state. It is about 90 per cent pure alcohol, and, according to a northern man who recently tried it in that condition, "it burns like a torchlight procession." A tablespoonful was all he wanted, but the West Indian negroes and coolies drink it when they can get it by the half pint, and from long habit appear to be proof against both its fire and its intoxicating power.

To become the rum of commerce the raw, colorless product has first to be darkened to a rich golden brown by the addition of burned molasses, and must then be allowed to age. Like most other liquors, the older it becomes the finer is its quality. But those who have once seen the stuff of which it is made will, despite its final good appearance, have no small difficulty in forgetting its peculiarly unattractive origin.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discouragner of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

No Musician He.

Some one played a mean joke on a Chicago detective. He was sent to a house where lived a girl who was much given to practicing on the piano. He met the girl and asked her what she knew about "the affair." "I don't understand," she replied. "Why, you see," rejoined the detective, "we got a tip from the boarding house next door that somebody here has been murdering Wagner, and the authorities have sent me here to follow up the case."—Chicago Journal.

TAKING LIFE MASKS.

A Disagreeable Operation That Is Fraught With Some Danger.

One often observes when reading of the demise of a celebrity that a mask was taken by Mr. So-and-so, the celebrated sculptor, soon after the death, but really very few people know how this is carried out.

They might have some idea that plaster of paris is put over the dead man's face, but there the idea ends.

A mask from life is taken almost precisely in the same way as after death, save that much greater care has to be used, as the subject's life hangs on a very thin thread or, to be more precise, two small quills. It requires a great deal of nerve and patience to undergo, the sensation being most disagreeable. When a mask from life is about to be secured, the subject reclines on a long table, and towels are placed around his neck and forehead to prevent the plaster going where not intended. The face is slightly greased, but not enough to fill the pores of the skin.

Care has to be especially taken with the eyelashes, as otherwise in the subsequent operations these are likely to be pulled off, which would not be exactly pleasant. A small quill is now inserted in either nostril to allow the subject to breathe through, and cotton wool lightly pressed around the base to keep the liquid plaster from intruding.

A pair of scissors is always kept handy, so as to be able to cut off the tops of the quills should by any chance the plaster splash up and cover them. All being ready, a few cheering words are spoken to the unhappy victim and the plaster is mixed. This is carefully poured or sprinkled over the features. The plaster, through being mixed with warm water, quickly hardens, and in the course of about five minutes the mold is strong enough to be taken out. It has to be carefully done, as the subject is generally so very eager to get a mouthful of fresh air once again. A slight tap with the hand is given to the two side pieces, which relieves the joints made by the thread. The top or central piece is then lifted up and pulled slightly downward, so as to withdraw the quills from the nose as they come out with the mold. The sides are then taken off. Probably some of the hair may hold the mold, but with a little coaxing or by the insertion of the scissors it can soon be removed. Care must be used to get the ears, but without breaking either the subject or the mold. The ears are only taken on the front sides, cotton wool being placed at the back to prevent the plaster going around. When removed, the three pieces are put together and placed on the exterior to hold and strengthen them.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

SMILE PROMPTERS.

Shopping.

She screamed in terror when her purse
Was snatched from out her jeweled hand,
And hurled a modest semicurse
Toward the fleeing, bold brigand;
And when the copper caught the thief,
She seized the purse with anxious air,
And breathed a sigh of sweet relief
To find her treasures all were there.
A pencilled note
Her fellow wrote,
A sugar plum,
A wad of gum,
A hairpin (bent),
A copper cent,
A button hook
With broken crook,
A safety pin,
A curling tin,
A powder rag,
A sachet bag.
These were the treasures which she bore
Around with her from store to store
While on a shopping tour, to see
The many pretty things which she
Would love to buy if she but had
The cash, and, with a smile so glad
It almost made the copper sneeze,
She thanked him and, with sprightly ease,
Tripped on to seek another store
Or two where she could shop some more.

He Looked Wise.

He was one of those solemn, wise looking fellows who like to think they are deep thinkers.

"There are some things beyond our comprehension in mental science," he said impressively, "that we fail to understand."

"Yes," returned his companion with equal seriousness, "I have often noticed that we never can understand the things in mental science that are beyond our comprehension. In other words, when anything is beyond our understanding we experience considerable difficulty in comprehending it. And I find that this applies not only to mental science, but to any other old thing as well. Every now and then I find that I fail to understand things that I fail to comprehend, and that things that are past my comprehension are very often beyond my understanding. I find also that I am not familiar with things I don't know in many instances, and that"—

The glitter in the wise looking fellow's eye told him that it was time to stop.

On the Farm.

Well, boys, the corn is gittin dry
And huskin time is drawin nigh!
It does my wrinkled old heart good
To look out where the green corn stood
And see instead shocks turnin brown,
And punkins lollin all aroun'—
The old redskins! they spile my eyes
For anything but punkin pies.

I see the airly frost has come
And teched the patch of cabbage some;
I hope the winter wheat ain't hurt,
Last week it tuck a lively spurt;
So, with some snow to mat it well,
I reckon it can wait a spell—
D'ever think a grain of wheat
Looks like them "rolls" the town folks eat?

The turkeys is a-growin fat;
If them birds knew where they was at
They wouldn't stuff themselves that way,
Pervidin fer Thanksgivin day.
The crops is in; the fall is here—
And what a old rip snortin year!
It makes my wrinkled old heart swell
Sometimes to hear that dinner bell!

RHEUMATISM

BISMARCK'S EXPEDIENTS.

The Iron Chancellor Was an Adept in Tricks Like These.

The man of blood and iron was not above expedients when bloodshed and blows failed him or were unwise. He even was not above tears when orders, browbeatings and arguments were of no avail.

The council considering the feasibility of an invasion of Hungary by Germany was keen for the forward campaign. Bismarck foresaw the dangers. Cholera was raging and would rage more fiercely directly an army was thrown into the country. It was an unmapped, unfamiliar land. These and other cogent reasons he advanced. The council was determined and the prince in what seemed a hopeless minority.

He retired to an apartment separated from the council chamber by portieres. He threw himself upon a sofa and fell into a fit of violent weeping. The sound gave the councilors pause. They argued further and reconsidered, swinging finally into Bismarck's way of thinking.

As far back as the days of his lieutenancy, when he was with the Fourth Pomeranian uhlans at Treplow, he was clever at expedients—tricks is the nearer word.

The colonel issued an order forbidding any officer of the regiment "to walk in the streets with a lighted cigar"—milder and less closely worded orders against smoking in public having been evaded one way and another. Even the new order was disregarded and the facts were reported to the colonel by the burgomaster, who wished to ingratiate himself with the powers. Bismarck carried a bench through the streets, placed it on the pavement beneath the burgomaster's windows and, gathering a party of officers, smoked so furiously that the poor man was well nigh driven from house and home.

For this the party was brought before the colonel, who referred to the order against "walking in the streets with a lighted cigar."

"We were sitting in the streets with lighted cigars," said Lieutenant von Bismarck, and the matter ended.

Dealing With Cowards.

Very rarely indeed does a British soldier allow fear to overcome his sense of duty, but some old veteran will occasionally admit that he has known perhaps one such instance, and in reply to the question, "How is it we never read of such cases?" he will answer: "One dead man is a small loss to a regiment. Besides one man running off may cause another to follow him, and a panic may thus set in. Before any one has time to think about it or issue an order, depend upon it, one of his comrades for the honor of the regiment puts a bullet through him."

Sir Charles Napier had an effective method of dealing with cowards. On one occasion a flying soldier was stopped by his fellows, who were about to shoot him when the general intervened.

"Give the man another chance," he ordered. "Place him in the front rank, and if he turns again let him be shot."

The man eagerly embraced this chance of life, overcame his fears and fought bravely for the rest of the day.—London Mail.

Nearly Played Out.

One Sunday not long ago the minister of a small country parish in Scotland had the misfortune to forget his sermon and did not discover his loss till he reached the church. The congregation being already assembled, he was in a sorry plight.

Suddenly an idea struck him. He sent for John, the beadle, and instructed him to give out Psalm cxix (containing 176 verses), while he hurried home for his sermon. On his journey back to the church he saw the faithful beadle standing at the church door, waving his arms and shouting at him. On reaching the door he exclaimed:

"Are they singing yet, John?"

"Aye, sir," replied John, "they're at it yet, but they're chirping like sparrers."—London Judy.

Disquieting Effect in Paris.

Paris, Nov. 17.—The speech of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, at Manchester, yesterday, has had a disquieting effect upon French officials, where it had been expected that the evacuation of Fashoda would satisfy Great Britain. Mr. Chamberlain's statements are regarded here as indicating Great Britain's desire to discuss and settle all questions pending while she is in a state of preparedness to exert pressure in support of her views.

High officials suggest that the result of the British attitude may be a close understanding between France and Germany on colonial matters. They say such an understanding would meet with the support of Russia, would find ardent adherents among French officers and would be welcomed by the French nation at large.

Satisfaction at St. John's.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 17.—The speech of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, before the National Liberal-Unionists' conference at Manchester, Eng., in the course of which he condemned the French policy in Newfoundland, along the treaty shore, gives general satisfaction here. It is regarded as ensuring a speedy settlement of the question.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low ing rate of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

The dread and foreboding which almost invariably comes over a young wife, just ere the advent of the first little darling who shall call her mother, is one of the unnatural burdens which civilization has imposed upon the privilege of motherhood.

There ought not to be such an overwhelming sense of depression and weakness as a woman feels at this time and there would not be if she was in a perfectly strong and healthy condition. In thousands of cases motherhood has been divested of all its dangers and a large proportion of its pain by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is the most marvelous remedy ever discovered for restoring complete organic health and strength to the delicate special structure involved in motherhood. Taken early during the prospective time it makes the mother strong, energetic and cheerful and carries her through the period of trial with comparative comfort and ease. It increases the baby's natural, constitutional vigor and adds to the joys of motherhood the supreme satisfaction of a strong, robust, lusty infant. "Favorite Prescription" is also the best supportive tonic for nursing mothers. Every expectant mother will appreciate what is said by Mrs. Fannie M. Harry, of Galesburg, Ills., (45 Churchill Ave.) in a letter to Dr. Pierce she writes:

"I have used your medicines in my family for a long time, and find them to be all that is claimed. I cannot recommend them too highly. My confinement was made easy, as I experienced none of the pains such as others have at that period, and the first born the one that mothers fear so much. Besides, the medicine has helped me in many other ways. I would recommend all afflicted women to try Dr. Pierce's valuable medicines, and thus become well and strong."

FISH TRADE TRICKS.

HOW THE PROFESSIONALS LOCATE A "BITING" GROUND.

The Secret of Successful Fishing Off the New Jersey Coast—Marking the Good Spots For Future Catches and Dodging Rivals.

"Got the range, Will?"

"Looks like it, Si."

"See the walnut tree on the hill?"

"Yes; stands about west-northwest."

"And the church steeple sou-sou-west?"

"To the dot. No mistake about that."

"How heads Ludomus' cottage?"

"About due west."

"We ought to be nearly over it now, Will. Stand by to let go when I sing out. Steady, now; steady! Let her rip. Now! Now! Bully boy! Right over the middle of it."

That is how the professional fisherman along the Jersey coast finds his favorite "biting" ground. The latter may be 20 or more fathoms deep, and a dozen or more miles offshore; but, with the aid of such landmarks as trees, steeples and beach cottages, lying in various directions along the strand, these crack surfmen seldom make a mistake in "picking up" the ground sought offshore. It's no easy job this finding of some particularly good fishing ground that has no mark on the chart and is only fixed in the mind of fishermen by study of distances from the shore.

It is a well known fact that fish must be sought. They will not, as a rule, come to the fisherman, be the latter professional or amateur. Sea fish, as well as lake fish, like rocky bottom, and it is over this kind of bottom that the best catches are made. It is no easy task to locate a rocky bed along the Jersey coast, and even with ranges or landmarks one is not always certain to find it on another day's fishing trip. The ranges are manipulated this way:

In an ordinary surfboat, such as the majority of the Jersey fishermen use, the beach line that looks so white and extensive close inshore resembles a white thread at a distance of, say, 18 miles from the land. When the fishermen discover a new ground at or about that distance offshore, they generally pick three marks on land—one north, one south and the third directly to the westward. By bringing these three marks to a convergence the happy hunting ground is located.

As a rule these fishermen are a bit selfish when new grounds are discovered. They conceal the fact as long as possible from one another, for business reasons principally, for there is a ripe competition among these beach combers, and it is only by playing possum and keeping a weather eye open that one learns what his rival sometimes knows.

One day last season a reporter was in one of these surfboats 18 miles offshore from Barnegat. The fisherman in charge of the tiny craft was heading for a rocky bottom as far offshore as he dared to go without compass and provisions. When within a mile or so of the ground, another fisherman and his helper were seen at anchor. They were hauling up whacking big bass as fast as they could throw out, and altogether they seemed to be having a glorious time. After the two boats had separated sufficiently to permit a private conversation the professional in charge of the first mentioned craft said to his shipmate:

"Did you mark it?"

"Yes," answered the other. "The pier's to the westward, the life saving station is to the northward and the cottage of that old crank is to the southward."

"That's the way I made it," replied the first speaker. All this seemed like so much Greek to one of the amateurs in the boat who began to ask questions.

"That's a new ground," said the fisherman. "We didn't know that it existed. Yes, they are catching lots of fish. Why don't I go back and try it? Well, I do not like to imitate people—at least I do not care to let them see me copy them. I'll try it some other day."

It may have been professional pride or etiquette, this sharp bit of practice, but in other walks of life it would be called a trick of the trade. It's done all along the beach. Here's another trick of the trade that a surfman at Belmar taught this landlubberly reporter. There's a schooner that takes city folk from Asbury Park offshore to fish. She was anchored ten miles offshore this particular morning over a newly found ground, and there were half a dozen or more surfboats clustered about her. The biting was first class, but presently one of the big fishing steamboats from the Battery was sighted heading down the beach. There was an interchange of conversation on the part of the professional fishermen, but they suddenly pulled up anchors as if one man and began rowing around.

The schooner weighed her bower also and under her headsails and mainsail reached offshore. Naturally the amateurs wanted to know why a shift should be made, especially as the strikes were unusually lively. "That's the Hal Corster coming down," said one of the fishermen in a half whisper, as if those on the steamboat could hear him, although she was fully two miles away. "We have a good ground here, and we don't want her pilots to find the ranges. She'll keep to the southward, and we'll circle around until she gets out of the way. That's how we save our bacon."

And they did save it too. The steamboat kept to the southward for some little distance and finally, being unable to get the ranges or whatever ground her pilots had in view, came about again and stood to the northward, finally anchoring off Long Branch. She had no sooner done so when the fishing schooner and surfboats, after a mental and ocular struggle with ranges, were back in their original positions, with their amateurs fishing like mischief.—New York Mail and Express.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

Mr. M. T. Wigle

Of Kingsville, Essex Co.

CURED OF ITCHING PILES OF 23 YEARS STANDING

M. T. Wigle, better known to every one in the vicinity as "Uncle Mike," was troubled for over 23 years with itching piles. At times he was so bad he would have to quit work. The irritation became so intense with constant rubbing that they became ulcerated and would bleed. He had been treated by many physicians, but found nothing that gave him relief. Reading in the paper the cure of a friend who had suffered in a like manner, and been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, he procured a box. After the third application he got such relief that he had the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed in years. The one box made a complete cure, and he says he would not be without it for $50 a box if it could not be replaced. Mr. Wigle is a wealthy farmer, well known in the community in which he resides. It is over two years since he was afflicted, and he has never been troubled since.

Physicians fail to make a cure when Dr. Chase's Ointment gave Immediate Relief. . . .

POULTRY POINTERS.

Damaged grain or fermented food is very apt to induce bowel diseases.

To fatten geese rapidly feed boiled oats with milk two or three times a day.

From this time on through the winter early feeding will give the best results.

Removing to warm, dry quarters will prevent the biggest half of any disease.

It is not a bad plan to keep a nonsitting breed to lay when the sitters are hatching.

On the farm especially the most money is made in variety, keeping chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese.

Begin with a good breed, one that is medium in size, good layers, excellent table fowls and constitutionally strong.

If you will put a pan of whole corn in the oven and let it char, you will be having charcoal in the best form for fowls.

While it is more trouble to dress the fowl before sending to market, in nearly all cases a much better price can be obtained.

One advantage in keeping only one breed of chickens on the farm is that they can have unlimited range and in this way lessen the cost of keeping.

While quality is not always indicated by color of the legs or skin, as a general rule buyers prefer yellow, and producers should not overlook this point.—Exchange.

FURS

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

It's the first holiday of the season with the touch of colder weather that makes Fur so necessary. Furs like horses and diamonds must be bought either with knowledge or with trust. It is well then to buy where you can buy in confidence. In this store you are surrounded with all the precautions that years of training can suggest and have a perfect guarantee in addition.

A larger assortment of the kind of Furs you want has seldom been shown—Styles are Styles of to-day.

MANUFACTURING AT HOME has given a power to the matter of putting the prices as low as they can be pushed.

We claim no miracles of merchandising. Fur is Fur, but our prices are fair and reasonable and they are LOWER than other figures we have found on equal goods.

We have made special efforts in the line of SMALLER FURS and in the good and handsome, but not high-priced Furs. A few quotations would not be out of place, but style and the "put together" should be considered with prices :—

GREY LAMB RUFFS, $2.50 to $5.00; Gauntlets, $3.50 to $6.00; Muffs, $2.50 to $6.00. An assortment of cheaper Fur Ruffs, $1.00 up; extra choice Opposum at $4.00.

Alaska Sable Ruffs, good quality, $5, $6, $7, $8, $10; Gauntlets stand as low as $1.

Persian Lamb Gauntlets $7, $8 to $10; Seal $5 to $15.

Muffs $1, $2, $3; Sable Muffs $6, $7, $8 and $10; Bear $8 to $15.

LORD ABERDEEN PRESENTS MEDALS

To Messrs. McAllister and Waddell of Havelock, for Bravery

Mr. B. McAllister of Havelock, and Mr. J. Waddell were presented with the Royal Humane Society's medals by Lord Aberdeen at Montreal on Thursday afternoon last.

The presentation was made in the Board of Trade building, where several hundred gentlemen had assembled to witness the event.

Messrs. McAllister and Waddell were presented with the medals for saving the life of Mr. O. S. Perrault, secretary of the American Tobacco Co. of Canada, on the evening of the 17th of November last year, the particulars of which were fully detailed in these columns when the above gentlemen were presented with the Canadian Society's medals in the spring of this year.

After a few words from Mr. Crathern, president of the Board of Trade, who introduced Lord Aberdeen and gave the reasons for his presence, Mr. Henry Miles, through whose efforts chiefly the medals were procured, gave an account of the rescue. He said that he was familiar with all the details as few men were, and he considered that it was an act of heroism which richly deserved such a recognition.

Messrs. McAllister and Waddell were then presented to Lord Aberdeen and he pinned upon the breast of each the bronze insignia of bravery. There was much applause, and after it had subsided His Excellency said that he had, in the name of those assembled as well as himself, presented the tokens of the Royal Humane Society. Mr. Miles had given all the details, so it was unnecessary for him to repeat them. One feature which appealed to him particularly was the fact that they belonged to that great class known as railway men and that he himself could make some claims to being an amateur in this wonderful business. Many hours had he spent with the men in the cabs of locomotives, and not always were they passenger locomotives either.

Mr. Crathern then said :—Your Excellency, it now devolves upon me as President of this Board to perform two duties; the first is to thank you on behalf of the donors and recipients of these medals for having so willing undertaken (when asked some months ago), to make this presentation, and more especially for fulfilling that undertaking at this time so full of engagements connected with your departure from this country. I am sure that I voice the feelings of Mr. McAllister and Mr. Waddell in assuring you that they will regard their medals with additional pride and pleasure by reason of having received them at Your Excellency's hands, and I am charged by those gentlemen to pray you to accept their sincerest thanks for so honouring them.

Look them over carefully, you will find every kernel perfect.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Outline of Association Work for the Winter.

The Young Woman's Christian Association are opening the season with unusually bright prospects for the pleasure and profit of the members. All the departments—spiritual, intellectual, physical and social, are organized and equipped with efficient officers and instructors. The classes for Bible study will prove most helpful, the one on Saturday evening being under the charge of Miss Forsythe.

The Association has been fortunate in securing the assistance of Mr. Earle and Mr. Garvin, who will give semi-monthly talks on literature and topics of the day. The Y.M.C.A. gymnasium has been kindly lent for an afternoon and evening, the instructor being present to give lessons.

The topics and dates for the classes in literature will be given at a later date.

TORONTO CATTLE SEIZED.

Honesty is the Best Policy in the Long Run.

Six carloads of cattle shipped from Toronto last week to the Buffalo commission houses of Rice and Whaley, and Saddler, Huddleston and Co., have been seized by the United States Customs for alleged undervaluation. The loss to the shippers will be $2,000, besides a duty of $3.75 per head which had been paid. The Consul's invoice issued at Toronto valued the cattle at $14 per head, and duty was at first collected in Buffalo on this basis. When the cattle were examined they were found to tip the beam at about 900 pounds each, and the seizure at once followed. There were 143 head in the consignment, of which 86 were locked up to be sold by auction for the American Government, and the remaining 57 were turned over to the consignees, a penal duty being collected.

The Romance of a Midshipman..Clark Russell
Boston Neighbours.....Poor

The librarian reports the loss of several magazines from the tables and unless the taking of papers, etc., ceases the Board feels that the library will have to be closed at such times as the librarian is not personally present. It is not the loss of the single number but the fact that at the end of the year the volume cannot be completed without it and therefore there is a great depreciation in value. Any numbers which have been taken from the tables should be returned immediately.

SUCCESSION DUTIES PAID.

$140,000 Added to the Provincial Coffers so far this Year.

Succession duties amounting to over $30,000 were paid the Government of the Province on Thursday. The executors of the Wickstead estate, of Ottawa, paid in $6,000, though under protest. The executors of the Gzowski estate paid in over $24,000 on the estate of the late Sir Casimir Gzowski. Succession duties amounting to $140,000 have been paid so far this year, against $63,000 at the same period last year. The total amount paid last year was $228,818 and the estimate this year is $225,000.

A COMPANY THAT "GIVES GOOD SATISFACTION."

A TEN-STAMP MILL FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Hamilton Company "Puts Their Mills in First-Class Shape"—Machinery to be Moved Over Pathless Mountains.

From the Lillooet (B.C.) Prospector.

The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company has the contract for furnishing the Bend Or mines on Cadwallader with a ten-stamp mill. The mill has been shipped from the east and will arrive in Lillooet in a few weeks. Mr. Arthur Noel has the contract of taking the machinery from the lake to the mines and the most of the distance will take it over the snow. Mr. Robert Hamilton, manager of the company's business in the west, made a trip to the mine and after looking over the ground closed the deal with the Bend 'Or Company to supply them the necessary machinery.

The mill in all will weigh about twenty-five tons, the largest piece of machinery weighing about 300 pounds. It will be taken to the head of the lake on scows and over the summit to the mines on sleds. The route travelled will be from the head of the lake to Bridge river, 12 miles, and then up the river over the ice to Sucker creek, 40 miles, and from there over the trail again to the mines, 10 miles.

Mr. Noel is at present making the necessary arrangements for transporting the machinery. By the time freight is taken to the summit the sleighing should be very good. The whole freight will be moved along together and will not be scattered along the trail. It is expected that about two miles a day will be made. The moving of this amount of freight will be considerable work, but with experienced men it will be taken to its destination in good time.

It is fully expected by the company to have everything in shape for running the mill next spring and men will be at work shortly making the dam and putting up the necessary buildings for the mill. The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company gives good satisfaction with companies dealing with them, and they put their mills in first-class shape.

It shows considerable enterprise on behalf of the Bend'Or Company to put a stamp mill on their property at such a distance from transportation, taking their machinery over a trail to their mines. The company owns good property which justifies going to the expense.

It is hoped that the government will do something to aid in opening up a wagon road at the earliest possible opportunity. In the face of such disgraceful transportation facilities the Bend'Or company deserves the highest praise and credit for their enterprise in their undertaking.

SOUTH MONAGHAN MARRIAGE.

The Wedding of Miss Margret Whittington and Mr. Clarence Dawson.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A large number of friends met at the residence of Mr. John Whittington on Wednesday Nov. 9th, to witness the marriage of his daughter, Miss Margaret, and Mr. Clarence Dawson, youngest son of the late William Dawson.

Miss Annie Whittington, sister of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid, and Mr. Harry Barnard was groomsman.

The Rev. Thos. Steele, pastor of the Methodist church, tied the nuptial knot.

After the happy couple had received the congratulations of their friends all adjourned to the dining room, where a supper had been prepared that would tempt the most fastidious appetite.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson left about twelve o'clock for their future home, the Dawson homestead.

There were a large number of useful and costly presents, which testified to the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

Your correspondent joins their many friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

A BIG SURPRISE TO BRITAIN.

The United States' Mediaeval Navigation Law at Porto Rico.

CANADIAN SHIPPING KILLED.

The Daily Chronicle Also Wonders If Uncle Sam Will Shut the Door in the Philippines as Well—Spain Will Accept a Financial Solatium for the Islands.

London, Nov. 21.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: Following the advice of Austria and Germany, Spain will accept America's offer of compensation for the Philippines.

Is Something Graver Coming?.

The Daily Chronicle in an editorial on the Hispano-American situation this morning, after expressing "some apprehension that we may have been mistaken with regard to the Anglo-American entente," points to the "establishment of a medieval navigation law in Porto Rico," and asks: "Is a still graver disappointment coming on the closing of the doors to our commerce in the Philippines?"

The Chronicle then adds: It is a rather disquieting fact that no sooner is American authority formally established over Porto Rico than a mediaeval navigation law is passed, killing at a single stroke an important Canadian shipping trade with the island and making it impossible for any but American ships to trade between America and her new colony.

Through Spanish Spectacles.

Madrid, Nov. 21.—The Rappel predicts utter disaster to Spain. "The policy of England," the paper says, "has irritated Europe and excited the United States. After Cuba, Canada is very tempting, as are also Jamaica, British Guiana and Cape Colony. In ten years we shall see Great Britain caught by the United States. That day will be her death, and it will be her own doing."

GERMANY WANTS A TREATY.

Canada's Preferential Tariff Has Hit the Fatherland.

London, Nov. 21.—Following up the Anglo-German political compact in Africa and elsewhere, pressure is being put upon British Ministers to meet German views in the matter of a new Anglo-German treaty of commerce.

This pressure is warmly supported by the German semi-official press.

The Frankfurter Zeitung says that Mr. Chamberlain's friendly utterances on Wednesday respecting Germany should be translated into action in treaty negotiations.

The Vossische Zeitung relieves the British Government of blame for the delay. It says the British Ministers are not responsible for Canada's action in introducing a preferential tariff. It doubts whether the Government of Canada will permanently maintain its present attitude.

Canada is thus once more a pivot for British policy.

A DYNASTIC SHUFFLE.

Don Carlos Said to Be the Coming King of Spain.

London, Nov. 21.—A curious report in regard to Spain's future Government is current in diplomatic circles. It is that there will be a change of dynasty, but a peaceful change. The Queen Regent is said to be convinced of the hopelessness of her son ever reigning, and has, upon the advice of the Emperor of Austria, decided soon after the peace treaty is signed at Paris (and every one now regards this as only a question of days) to quit Spain with her family, and Don Carlos will be proclaimed King. Everything is reported to be already arranged and the army and clergy are alleged to be eager for the change. According to the programme, Don Carlos, so soon as things are running smoothly, will abdicate in favor of his son, Don Jaime.

WORKINGMEN'S COMPENSATION.

Mr. Chamberlain's New Act Stands the Appeal Court Test.

London, Nov. 21.—The Court of Appeal on Saturday decided the first important case under Mr. Chamberlain's new Workmen's Compensation Act. It related to the explosion on the Manitoba at Albert Docks in this city on last July 6. The owners appealed against the judgment of the County Court giving to the widows of two unloaders £300 each, and to each of the five injured men £1 a week for life. Counsel for the company argued that a ship unloading in dock was not "a factory" within the meaning of the Act, but this contention was rejected.

A FRIGHTFUL RUMOR.

To the Effect That a German Steamer Is Lost With All on Board.

London, Nov. 21.—A report entirely unconfirmed was in circulation yesterday that the steamship Ville de Coblenz (the Coblanz) of the North German Lloyd Line, has foundered at sea with all on board. Lloyd's agents have received no news on the subject and the owners of the steamer believe her safe.

Collectors of Cigar Ends.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The "Union of Collectors of Cigar Ends" has just issued its annual appeal to smokers to send in the cigar cuttings accumulated during the year. The appeal gives a list of the stations where the offerings will be received. These are chiefly the residences of women in the best of society. The union is now in its thirtieth year. With the proceeds of its annual collection of cigar ends a Christian entertainment is given to 1,900 paupers.

John Morley May Retire.

London, Nov. 21.—John Morley has written his Montrose Burgh constituents that in his opinion he can render the Liberal party no better service than in writing his life of Gladstone. He hints that if it becomes necessary he will retire from Parliamentary life in order to complete the work. Mr. Morley is now 60 years old.

BADEN-POWELL DEAD.

End of a Distinguished Career—Not Quite 51—List of His Political and Literary Achievements.

London, Nov. 20.—Sir George Smyth Baden-Powell, the eminent politician, economist and authority on colonial affairs, who has represented the Kirkdale Division of Liverpool in Parliament in the Conservative interests since 1885, died to-day in his 51st year.

Sir George, who was born at Oxford on Dec. 24, 1847, was a son of well-known Rev. Baden-Powell, Professor of Geometry in the University of Oxford, whose Magnum Opus was written to demonstrate that science and revelation are in harmony rather than antagonistic.

Sir George's mother was a daughter of the distinguished British Admiral Smith. He was prepared for Oxford at Marlborough, and graduated from the University with honors in 1868, winning the Chancellor's prize for the English essay. In the interlude between leaving Marlborough and taking up his University residence, he traveled in India and Australia, and visited the principal European cities, as well as the Cape.

The first year of his University career saw published his "New Homes for the Old Country." This important book was pronounced by The London Times a "standard work." The London Athenaeum declaring it to be "an encyclopedia of Australian knowledge." This volume was followed by two on political economy, "Protection and Bad Times," and "State Aid and State Interference."

In 1890 he went to the West Indies to investigate the effect of the sugar bounty system on West India sugar plant, and two years later Mr. Gladstone appointed him a special commissioner to report upon the administration, revenues and expenditures of Great Britain's colonies in the West Indies. His report, contained in five books, was regarded, when it was published in 1884, as a complete summary of West Indian affairs.

In 1885 he went to South Africa and joined Sir Charles Warren in Bechuanaland, assisting him in diplomatic negotiations with the native chiefs. At this time he made a tour of investigation in Basutoland, Zululand and other places in that part of Africa.

In the winter of 1886-87 he was in Canada and the United States drawing up a statement of details in the fishery dispute, of which Mr. Joseph Chamberlain was subsequently commissioned to negotiate a final arrangement.

In the autumn of 1887 the British Government sent him to Malta as the colleague of Sir George Bowen, who arranged the details of the new Malta constitution. It was at this time that he received the honor of knighthood.

In 1891 he was appointed joint commissioner on the condition of seal life in Behring Sea, and in the following year participated in the deliberations of the joint commission at Washington.

He was a most industrious and prolific writer, a keen sportsman, and, socially, a great favorite in the House of Commons.

Higher Tax on American Horses.

Bremen, Nov. 21.—The agricultural societies of the Duchy of Brunswick have begun an agitation in favor of higher duties on American horses and of a provision for three months' quarantine on all such as shall be imported. The agitation has already been carried to the length of petitioning the Imperial Bundesrath, or Federal Council, to take action on the matter.

London, Nov. 21.—The trade and navigation return of the United Kingdom for the month of October, just issued by the Board of Trade, shows a notable increase in imports from Canada.

ONTARIO'S NEW MINISTER.

Mr. J. T. Garrow, Q.C., Called to the Provincial Cabinet.

A FRONT RANK BARRISTER.

A Man of Great Natural Gifts, and of Sound Judgment and of Wide and Accurate Reading—Not a Flamboyant Orator, But a Forceful and Logical Public Speaker.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Oliver Mowat, has, upon the recommendation of Premier Hardy and his colleagues, called as a member of the Provincial Administration without portfolio Mr. J. T. Garrow, Q.C., of Goderich, since 1890 — until within a few days past—member of the Provincial Legislature for West Huron. The position is similar to that held by Hon. E. H. Bronson of Ottawa prior to the last election and before his withdrawal from the Government, when it became evident to him that his health would not permit of his longer continuance in public life as a member of the Government.

An Able Lawyer.

Mr. Garrow is a barrister in the front ranks of the profession, with a large and lucrative practice in the County of Huron and surrounding counties. He is equally able whether in the capacity of an advocate at nisi prius or in arguing strictly legal questions before the full court at Osgoode Hall. There are few men at the bar in Ontario to-day who are Mr. Garrow's equal when acting in either of the above capacities and fewer still who are his superiors. He is a man of great natural gifts developed by an extensive legal practice, of the soundest judgment, of wide and accurate reading, and if party men have looked upon him as possessing one fault of a political character it is that he concedes too much to his opponents and deals with them, if that is possible, too tenderly.

Not a Flamboyant Orator.

Mr. Garrow is not a speaker upon public questions of the flamboyant kind, but he speaks with ease and great force, logically and with precision, and with that argumentative skill which characterizes him as a leading advocate at the bar. He is a man who has always possessed both in his private and public life the entire confidence of all those who knew him, whether on his own or on the opposite side of politics. While there were a number of members of Parliament who might have been called upon, no better choice could have been made for the position which Mr. Garrow is called upon to fill. Mr. Garrow will not be a salaried member of the Government, and, as has been said, will not hold a portfolio. He would not have been in a position to accept a portfolio if there had been one to offer, as his large legal practice would preclude his acceptance of a portfolio unless he were prepared to make greater pecuniary sacrifices than he was able or willing to make, but he will sit in Council, and the Government will have both in Council and in the Legislature the advantage of his ripe and mature judgment, of his legal and business knowledge and of his industrious habits. He brings unquestioned strength to an already able Administration.

Mr. Garrow is of Scottish parentage, was born at Chippewa, Ontario, in 1843, was educated at the Goderich High School, was called to the bar in 1869 and made a Queen's Counsel in 1885. He has been Warden of the County of Huron and was elected to the Legislature of Ontario in 1890, 1894 and 1898.

QUEVILLY'S NARROW ESCAPE.

A Monster Meteor Falls in the French Barque's Path.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Captain Gartel of the French barque Quevilly, which arrived here yesterday from Rouen, France, says that on the night of Nov. 15, a huge meteor flashed out of the heavens and fell with a tremendous splash directly in the path of his vessel, throwing water high in the air and drenching every man who was on the deck of the barque. The entry in the log book states that the flash occurred when 40 miles east of Cape Henlopen. The crew, blinded by the fierce white glare, which surpassed the sun at noonday, fell fainting with terror to the deck. It was afterwards found that the enormous mass of white-hot metal had caused the temperature to rise from 54 to 85 degrees by the Fahrenheit thermometer on the deck. Incoming skippers say that the Quevilly attracted much attention in the river with one side blistered as though she had been through fire.

AN ADDRESS TO LORD MINTO

Presented by the Mayor and Corporation of the City of Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Lord Minto was presented with an address of welcome from the citizens of Ottawa in the City Hall on Saturday afternoon. Mayor Bingham read the address. In his reply Lord Minto spoke of Ottawa and predicted for it a great future.

His Excellency's Staff.

The appointment of Earl Minto's staff was gazetted Saturday. It is composed of Major L. G. Drummond, Scots Guards; Military Secretary and Governor-General's Secretary, W. F. Lascelles, Scots Guards, and Lieut. J. H. C. Graham, Coldstream Guards, A.D.C.'s to Governor-General, and Arthur Gusle, Controller of Household.

Daniel O'Connell's sarcastic and graphic description of a lady of stiff, cold and formal manners is very happy, "She has all the characteristics of a poker—except its occasional warmth."

This recalls the story of the two Irish servants who, discussing the stiff and unbending manners of the young lady of the family, agreed that "when she was a baby her mother must have fed her upon boiled pokers, underdone!"—London Standard.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSDEN.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

THE TERRIBLE MR. SIFTON.

The Toronto Star thus satirises the absurd position taken by the Mail and Empire in regard to the Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior. The Star of Saturday says, under the heading, "The City Under Arms":

Mr. Clifford Sifton has come to town. If you have read the Mail and Telegram of late, you will understand why Inspector Stephen has doubled the police force in the business section of the town to-day. You will not laugh at the rumour that the printer's devil on the Mail has received instructions to keep his eye always on the office vault. And it will seem an eminently wise precaution that the proprietor of the Telegram has locked up all the movable furniture of his office in his office desk.

When Jesse James and his gang visited a western city in the early days of civilization, the householders barred their lower shutters, barricaded their doors, and got their shot guns loaded in the attic. If you believe the Conservative papers, the worst of all outlaws is in Toronto. Beware of pickpockets. Leave your money at home in the oven. Unchain the bull pup. Muffle the door bell. And carry down town a loaded cane for Clifford Sifton, the wild man of the prairie—the awful, the unutterable bad man from the West.

MR. WHITNEY begged the electors of Lennox to give Dr. Meacham a renewal of their confidence. They did their best; they gave Dr. Meacham all the confidence they had, which was evidently a minus quantity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE swing of victory: Three bye elections and three Liberal triumphs.

THE Conservatives have dropped the election trial in London—the noted thousand and one bill of particulars included. The Liberals have, therefore, a four years Leys of the seat.

HON. RICHARD HARCOURT has always been pretty correct in his financial forecasts. He is also winning favour as an election prophet. He seems to be as good at figuring out the results of an election contest as he is in figuring out the estimates of the Province. The day before the East Wellington election, Mr. Harcourt said that Mr. Gibson would have a majority of 500. The recorded majority was 508. The day before the Lennox election Mr. Harcourt said that Mr. Aylesworth's majority would be 100. It is 109.

THE immigration work which is being carried on in the United States by agents of the Department of the Interior is meeting with a marked degree of success. During the present year over four thousand farmers from below the border have been induced to settle in Western Canada, and many more are preparing to go in next spring. A good deal of missionary work is being done by farmers who have gone out and seen the country, and who talk it up on their return home. From the State of Michigan alone 1,000 farmers, or two-fifths of the whole, have emigrated to Manitoba and the Northwest this year. Mr. M. V. McInnes, the chief Canadian Government agent, has his office at Detroit, from whence he carries on an active propaganda.

An English professor—Jeffreys—has a church composer gave us the secret of Britain's success in colonizing the country of life and property that accompanies her rule. We Canadians have inherited this quality. The Canadian Government's admirable administration of the Yukon is an example. There are said thousands of the most lawless fortune people gathered together, infatuated with the mania for gold and notoriously regardful of the claims of law and order. Yet, thanks to the prompt action of the Canadian Government, the spectre of British administration has resulted in the establishment of order and safety for life and property as perfect as in any settled community in older Canada. This is in striking contrast with the condition that exists in mining camps in the United States, where the revolver, the bowie knife and Judge Lynch's rope are the representatives of law and order. In the frozen Klondyke we have an example of the application of Britain's success as a colonizing power—life and property are safe.

STATE MACADAM ROADS.

How They are Constructed in New York State—How the Road is Made.

The following, condensed from the Buffalo Express, will be read with interest in these days of good roads agitation:

The first road to be built in the vicinity of Buffalo unde the good-roads law, which was passed by the Legislature last winter, is now under construction and is practically finished, for about one-fourth of the total length that is to be improved. The road in question is the White's Corners Road, leading from Buffalo to Hamburg. The part which is being improved at the State's expense is a trifle over six and a half miles long, leading from the Buffalo city line to Big Tree, near Hamburg.

The White's Corners Road is one of the very first anywhere in the State to be improved under the new law and the work that is being done there is watched with a good deal of interest by contractors and others concerned, particularly wheelmen, who think that the good-roads work is being done entirely for their benefit.

The work on the White's Corners Road is being done by Contractor H. P. Burgard, under the supervision of County-Engineer George C. Diehel. Mr. Burgard's bid for the work was a trifle under $31,050, and engineers say he will not make anything on it at that. As the ordinary cost of macadamizing a road is from $6,000 to $7,500 per mile, Mr. Burgard's figure of less than $5,000 a mile is very low, although the width macadamized (12 feet the total width of the road being 23 feet) is not as great as is customary.

The process which is being followed in macadamizing the road is this: First an excavation is made six inches below the grade of the surface of the road and twelve feet wide. This is smoothed off and levelled with a proper crown to throw the water to each side, and then a big ten-ton steam roller is run over it many times to pack the earth firmly down. Where boulders or stones are encountered in the excavating they are removed and an excavation is made to a foot greater depth than the hole which the boulder occupied. This hole is then filled in with gravel and rolled until it is firm as the rest of the roadbed. Where clayey bottom is found the clay is removed and gravel or loam substituted for it and rolled firm. The same is done where soft bogs or muddy spots are found.

When the Express man was out on the road yesterday, a gang of workmen were digging out some soft earth, the presence of which had been ascertained by its sinking under the big roller after the top layer of stone had been put down. The stone had been removed and preparations were making to fill in the soft spot in order to make the road as durable as possible.

After the excavation is completed, it is filled to a depth of four inches with broken stone. The specifications require this stone to average 2½ inches in its longest diameter and to present on all surfaces a clean fracture surface. No water-worn stone and no crumbly stone from the top layer of a quarry is accepted. Jamesthal stone is being used for this purpose. After the stone is in place, it is levelled carefully, sprinkled just enough to keep the subsequent rolling from causing too much wear by attrition, and then rolled. The ten-ton roller packs it down much more tightly than any farmer's vehicle is likely to do, and it is passed over this several times.

Then comes the second layer, consisting of equally good broken stone, but smaller, averaging one inch in its longest diameter. These are spread to a depth of one and a quarter inches, and then the big roller gets in its greatest work. The road is sprinkled so that the water penetrates clear to the bottom and the roller is passed over the surface of the road so as to cover every part of it at least 100 times. This results in packing the stone down as hard as possible, but the surface stones are still loose, so a final layer, consisting of gravel and screenings, is spread to a depth of three-quarters of an inch and the whole is then rolled again and again.

The macadamizing finished, the rest of the road is graded to accord with it. The five feet on each side of the twelve-foot macadamized strip is graded so as to slope shapely down to the gutters, having a fall of two feet in the five feet of width. This is rolled and packed as hard as a dirt road can be packed. Then the gutters are opened out, each being a foot wide, and packed hard, and the road is done.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Ball, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Ball, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases, free.

THE RECIPROCITY QUESTION.

The Question Still Under Consideration at Washington.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Anglo-American Commission held no session on Saturday, but the two sides held separate conferences for the purpose of arranging their data for the next joint session on Tuesday. Reciprocity continued to be the main subject of discussion, and it was understood that the lumber items was receiving considerable attention. It is probable that the free lists in the Tariff Acts of Canada and the United States will be incorporated in any reciprocity agreement which may be reached, and it is pointed out by members of the commission that this will be important in giving these free lists a permanent form as parts of a treaty, rather than in changeable form as part of the general statutes. Besides the articles on the present free lists, efforts are being made to extend these lists as far as possible on products in which the countries do not come into competition.

DESERTED 42 YEARS AGO.

Claims Maintenance From the Man Who Left Her and Her Babe.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21. — Hanna Griffin Johnson of Simcoe, Ont., has filed a bill in the Wayne Circuit Court against David H. Johnson, her husband, for a separate maintenance. She avers that he deserted her more than 42 years ago, came to this city and as a wagon maker acquired a fortune of $30,000 or upwards. She says they were married in Wingham, Ont., October, 1854, and lived together in Simcoe until the following June, when he left her, that soon afterwards a child was born to her, that for years she was obliged to work as any old kind of drudgery to support herself and child, that in September last she learned that the bridegroom of 44 years ago was in this city, that she came here and found him, and that he refused to have anything to do with her. She asks the court to decree that he shall pay all the costs of her suit, and give her a sum quarterly, sufficient for her maintenance.

ONE KILLED, ONE MAY DIE.

Crushed by a Derrick—Run Over by a Train.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Two accidents took place here Saturday, one fatal and the other of a very grave nature. William McDade, an English sailor on the look-out for a ship, was walking along the quays, and a derrick fell over and crushed the poor fellow to death.

The other case was that of Ferdinand Paradis, 40 years of age, who was run over by a C.P.R. train at the Hochelaga Stock Yards about 8.40. Both of his legs were terribly crushed just below the knee, and he will probably die.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

Margaret F.—A grease spot may be removed from the front breadth of a velvet skirt as follows: After spreading the garment out on your lap grasp a pair of sharp pointed scissors or shears firmly in the right hand. Jab one of the points in the velvet at the outline of the spot and cut around. This done, poke with your finger the soiled portion out of the aperture thus formed and darn over the hole.

Q. E. D.—No, Quey, a plebiscite is not a new form of blanc mange. It is not eaten with a spoon. Your informant was incorrect.

Phyllis K.—No, charlotte russe is not pronounced Charley Ross. When your friend did this the other night at dinner, he was either in a facetious mood or didn't know any better. We would suggest a nice little morocco English-French dictionary as a pleasant and appropriate birthday gift for him—that is, assuming he can read. If not, get an illustrated one.

Mrs. Soakem.—Yes, glass eyes still retain their old time popularity in the western states, where a person can never tell how long he is going to have both eyes, real. Owing to the war, however, glass eyes are now well up in price. Therefore we would suggest that for your own sake it might be better for you to continue wearing the patch until the peace commission has finished its work and gone home, particularly in view of the fact that your "man," as you say, isn't working.

Annie Evans.—No, we have never advocated the use of towels as tidies. When thus used, they lend a sort of barber shop or parlor car washroom air to a drawing room, no matter how well otherwise it may be appointed.

Florence E.—Moles on the chin or cheek may be removed with a cold chisel or a corkscrew. A douche of nitric acid has also been known to obliterate them as well as the other features. But to judge from the photograph which accompanies your letter, which you say is of yourself, we would suggest that as a relief—to your friends—it would be best for you to affix a piece of court plaster to the front of your head of sufficient size to cover your entire face.—Detroit Free Press.

Doing Too Much.

"That is the fourth paper I have seen that has a department headed 'What Women Are Doing,'" he exclaimed, throwing down the newspaper.

"Well, what of it?" she demanded aggressively, for she was one who might properly be classed as an advanced woman.

"What of it!" he exclaimed. "It's all together too broad and sweeping. Eight or ten years ago it might have been all right for a department, but now such a heading as that includes the whole paper. If they want to get up something off in one corner of the sheet somewhere, they ought to head it 'What Women Are Not Doing.'"—Chicago Post.

A Depressing Comparison.

"And what chance for success do you think my play has?" inquired the anxious young dramatist of the veteran manager.

The veteran manager balanced the manuscript on his knee.

"Of course," he said, "you don't want me to flatter you."

"Well, then," said the veteran with much gravity, "I think your play has about the same chance for success that reform has in China!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Creeping Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way.

It creeps its way along.

First, you think it is a little cold; nothing but a little hacking cough, then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats.

The suddenness comes when you have a hemorrhage.

Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping.

You can do it with

THE POPE'S SUCCESSOR.

Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore Will Be a Candidate, But Cardinal Gotti Is Now the Favorite.

Rome, Nov. 21.—The rapidly waning health of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII. brings the time for the selection of an occupant for the chair of St. Peter near. It is a rule that the election of the new Pontiff shall not take place until the Cardinals throughout the world shall have time to repair to Rome. This was not observed at the last election, owing to the precarious condition in which the papacy then found itself in the presence of the Italian Government. The election of the successor of Pius IX. was hurried through before most of the European Cardinals had time even to set out, but Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, has interposed a formal objection to the hurried gathering of the coming conclave. If alive, he desires to have an opportunity of being present. This, too, is the formal desire of Cardinal Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, although in his case it is probable that the request will not be granted. Unquestionably, Cardinal Gibbons will be a candidate, although it is thought that he has no chance of election. Of the other men who are prominently named—one of whom is almost certain to be Pope—these are Cardinal Parocchi, Cardinal Vannutelli and Cardinal Gotti, all men of fame in the Church of Rome. Leo XIII. himself has more than once of late expressed a judgment that his most fitting successor is Cardinal Girolamo Maria Gotti.

TROUBLE FOR UNCLE SAM.

Aguinaldo Demands Absolute Independence, or Fight to the Death.

London, Nov. 21.—There is much agitation among the Filipino representatives in Europe over the Philippine situation. Agoncillo, the representative of Aguinaldo, called a meeting of all the Filipinos in Paris and London to meet him in Paris, when a committee was formed with the object of doing everything possible to induce France to recognize the so-called Filipino republic. A telegram was sent to Aguinaldo asking for instructions, and the following reply is said to have been received:

"Insist upon absolute independence, otherwise fight to the death. We are all united and the Government is progressing smoothly. All the independent tribes of the mountains are submitting to Aguinaldo, and the chiefs are bringing in presents of gold."

A French Spy Sentenced.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The trial of a French spy, Lieut. Decou, for betraying important military secrets to France, was opened before the Imperial Court at Leipsig on Saturday. Decou's accomplices have not been traced, but the evidence points to German military men being implicated. The spy was eventually sentenced to six years' imprisonment, to 10 years' loss of civil rights and to police supervision. The public prosecutor said Decou was an agent of the French Intelligence Department.

ANOTHER CONFESSION.

Young Elliott Said to Have Again Admitted the Murder of Old Mr. Murray.

Whitby, Nov. 21.—Edward Elliott, the 16-year-old son of Joseph Elliott of Beaverton, was brought to the county jail here on Saturday night, where he will remain until the Spring Assizes to stand trial on the charge of murdering William Murray at Beaverton on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 12. The lad was before Magistrate Bruce on Saturday, the evidence upon which the coroner's jury found a verdict of murder being repeated, the result being that Elliott was formally committed for trial.

Nothing further was elicited at this court save the fact that Elliott had, in an interview with his father during the afternoon, and in the presence of the constable, reiterated his former confession, declaring that he had committed the deed, and no one was with him, adding the consoling fact that his unfortunate victim "died easy."

Talk With Inspector Murray.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Inspector Murray returned to Toronto on Saturday night. He was accompanied by Constable Smith, in charge of the prisoner Elliottt, the prisoner being on his way to Whitby.

"What do you think of the case?" he was asked.

"Well," said the detective, "this is a case somewhat similar to that of the Allison murder at Galt. Elliott looks like Allison. He has the same color of eyes and hair, that same low brow, showing a low order of intelligence, and he also has the same skull formation as Allison.

"The case against Elliott is strong," continued Mr. Murray.

"I don't think there is any doubt about his guilt. He has the worst record of any boy in Canada. And he is like Allison in his barbarous treatment of dumb animals. This boy Elliott will take a cat and dig out its eyes and use the eyes for bait. Then he will drown the cat. He has a record for shopbreaking and larceny, and is now under suspended sentence for horse stealing. All this charged to a boy not yet 16 years of age, and he's small for his age at that."

IDENTITY OF THE UNKNOWN.

T. McEvoy, a Montreal Tailor, May Have Been a Murray Hill Victim—Injured Doing Well.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The unknown man killed in the Trenton accident is thought to have been T. McEvoy, a Montreal tailor, who had been two weeks in the employ of F. Broderick & Co. of Belleville. McEvoy is supposed to have a family in Montreal. Mr. Broderick paid him off on Saturday night last, and it is thought that he was on the ill-fated train on his way to Toronto.

The Injured at Belleville.

Belleville, Nov. 21.—The injured in the hospital are all doing well. McNamara's condition is more hopeful.

Brady Always a Sober Man.

Peterboro, Nov. 21.—Mr. B. J. Brady of Ashburnham, a brother of Engineer Brady, killed in the Murray Hill disaster, has published a letter denying the allegation that his brother was intoxicated on the morning of the collision. He was always a sober man, his brother says. Mr. Brady also adds: "His regular trip was from Belleville to Brockville and return, and when called on Tuesday morning to take the westbound express he said to his wife that he hated that western trip, as he was not used to the road, but he supposed he would have to take it as there were several of the engineers off."

23 Missing.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Messrs. C. W. Wood and Arthur Goodchild, son-in-law and son respectively of the late Charles Goodchild, went to Belleville on Saturday to recover the valise and purse of the deceased victim. They got no trace of the valise, and recovered but $5 of the money the deceased had. Two pounds are missing, while any Canadian money he may have had has been lost track of.

Spain's Greatest Needs.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's Greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this great remedy is what his country needs. All America knows that its cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigour and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by all druggists.

A FREDERICTON LADY

Tells how Distressing Pains in Her Back and Kidneys have Vanished Since Taking

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mrs. K. Burns is well known in Fredericton as an enterprising business woman, who keeps a grocery store on King Street. By careful attention to business she has succeeded in building up a good trade, and is always anxious to satisfy the wants of her customers. She gave our representative an interview in the matter of taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and related the story of her experience with this remarkably remedy as follows:

"For over a year I have been afflicted with intense pain in my back, extending from the base of my spine up to my shoulders. I sometimes felt dizzy, and could scarcely venture up stairs without sitting down to rest. I ascertained that my distress was due in a great measure to the deranged action of the kidneys. My loins ached continually, and I could scarcely bend my back. I did not pay much attention to my trouble at first, thinking it would wear away, but in this I was disappointed as it gradually grew worse.

"Not getting any relief from the many home remedies I tried, I became more anxious about my condition, and began to look around for a cure. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box through Messrs. R. T. Mack & Co., druggists here; and before I had finished a month's treatment I was completely cured, and now I am feeling as well as ever, and my back is strong and without ache or pain. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for lame back and many distressing troubles arising from the wrong action of the kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Backache, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Kidneys in Children, Headaches, Numbness, Female Troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c. a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25. The Best Evidence.

The strongest proof that the Crescent Brand Currants and Raisins are the best is the fact that our competitors admit it and try to compare their fruit to it, but none equals the Crescent Brand, sold only by E. F. Mason & Co. See that the Crescent is on each package. All cleaned fruits are not Crescent Brand. dw

STELLA MUNCHION INQUEST.

CONTINUATION OF THE INQUIRY AT THE COURT HOUSE.

Another Witness Examined—What To-day's Evidence Discloses.

The inquest into the death of the late Stella Munchin was resumed this afternoon in the county council chamber at two o'clock.

The first witness called was Mrs Robt Thompson, who lives about two miles from the Facey residence. She stated that Mr. and Mrs. Facey and the child had been at her residence several times during during the summer. On the Tuesday before the child died, Mrs. Facey called at the house on her way home from Fraserville. On being asked where Stella was, Mr. Facey said she had been left at home asleep. She would stay asleep until her return. There was nothing wrong with the child beyond having hurt herself going under the table after a ball, when she had struck herself across the leg or the leaf of the table. The child was a horrible sight, she said, and would be kept in bed until it got better. She let it up every day for an hour or so to keep it from getting stiff. When it recovered she would keep it no longer, but would take it back to her aunt's, where she got it. Witness asked Mrs. Facey why she didn't see Miss Clarke, of the Children's Aid Society, about it. Mrs. Facey then went on to say that if she could not get rid of the child she would kill it, as she would not put up with its dirt. Witness remarked that whenever the child was at her house it was as clean as it could be. It was early in the afternoon when witnessed passed going into Fraserville. She returned at about three o'clock and remained talking to the witness until between four and five o'clock.

To Mr. Stratton—Witness stated that she had known Mr. Facey since his marriage, summer before last, or thereabouts. She had not a good memory. The child was a clean little child in her opinion. In her presence the Facey's were kind enough to the child. She knew of no unkind actions towards the child. Mrs. Facey brought the child to the threshing at witness' farm. The child was just recovering from a number of bruises. It told Mr. Wm. Thompson, in her presence, that it had got hurt by falling down stairs. Mrs. Facey talked as if she didn't want the child. She was going to see if she could get rid of it. The child had the appearance of being a delicate child, it had no colour in its face. It did not have the energy of ordinary children and appeared to be deficient in blood. The child was treated, in the presence of witness, as ordinary mothers treated their children. She heard nothing to the contrary.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Dr. Torrance returned this morning from Cobourg, where he conducted services yesterday.

Miss Hall's solo, "Never Alone," was fully appreciated in the Charlotte street church last night.

Rev. S. J. Shorey preached a powerful sermon yesterday morning from the text "Thy Will be done."

Mamma's "Dona Misericatur" will be sung in All Saint's church at the Thanksgiving Day morning service.

Mrs. Main took the obligato solo in the anthem, "The Souls of the Righteous," last evening in good voice in St. Paul's church.

A male quartette composed of Messrs. Crane, Main, Shelton and Nelson, sang a well received selection in St. Paul's last night.

Last evening the choir of the Park street Baptist church sang as an anthem the selection, "Come unto Me and I will give you rest."

"The Holy City" was splendidly rendered in All Saints last evening by Mr. J. Firth, of Toronto. Mr. Firth is the possessor of a very rich tenor voice, which was given full scope in the selection chosen.

Yesterday morning Mrs. (Dr.) Scott gave a fine rendering of the solo "The Voice of Angels," in the Murray street Baptist street Baptist church.

"Jesus, Lover of My Soul" was the title of the evening anthem in the Murray street Baptist church. The solo was well taken by Mr. Geo. K. Martin.

All Saints church was crowded to such an extent last evening that seats had to be placed in the aisles and some of the congregation accommodated with chairs in the vestry.

Miss Florence Hall and Miss Martha Stephens sang the duet in the anthem "My Shepherd," in charming voice in the Charlotte street church yesterday morning.

Rev. O. C. Elliott delivered a special thanksgiving sermon yesterday morning in the Park street Baptist church. He took as his text the words, "O give thanks unto the Lord," Psalms cvi, 7th ver.

Last evening in the Charlotte street Methodist church the anthem "Now the Day is Over" was finely rendered. Miss Florence Hall and Mr. A. L. Davis took the duet and Miss Stephens sang the solo parts.

Rev. Mr. Martin, of Tweed, conducted both services in St. Anarew's church yesterday in a most acceptable manner. Mr. Martin is a clear and forcible speaker and his two addresses were much appreciated.

Rev. Mr. King, of Kingston, occupied the pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church yesterday, both morning and evening. His morning text was "What do ye more than others," and in the evening he spoke from the words "And He took the blind man by the hand."

The special service of song by the choir of the George street church yesterday morning proved very delightful to the large congregation present. Shelly's beautiful anthem, "The King of Love my Shepherd is," was first rendered, the solo passages being taken by Mrs. Morgan, Misses Clara and Annie Belleghem, and Messrs. Frank Turner and Harry Goldie. Afterwards a trio was given by Mrs. and Miss Maguire and Miss Lumsden, and a duet by the Misses Belleghem. A solo and chorus was also well given by Mr. Frank Turner and the choir.

THE DEADLY LEVEL CROSSING.

A Dangerous Spot on Reid Street.

Last Saturday night there was a narrow escape from a fatal accident of a terrible character at the Midland Railway crossing at Reid street. A farmer going north had his horses' noses over the track when the outgoing express whizzed around the curve. A tremendous tug on the reins brought the animals to their haunches, a sharp turn to the left took them up the Hamilton Company's siding as the only way of escape. It was an awfully close call—so close that the driver stopped the train and backed down to see if anybody was killed. He could not understand how there was any escape.

This circumstance calls attention to the great danger of this crossing, especially coming from the south, where high buildings right alongside the track excludes the view of trains till they are at the crossing. And trains going out have to put on a pretty stiff headway to get up the grade, so that they pass the crossing in question at a pretty strong speed.

Something should be done to remove the danger that exists at this crossing—some sort of automatic warning of the approach of trains, or gates as there should be at every level crossing. Not long ago an old lady was killed at a level crossing, and there was for a time quite a stir made by the town authorities—who are evidently waiting for some one else to be killed before taking further action.

INTERNATIONAL MILITARY AMENITIES.

The Fifty-Seventh Officers Invited to Watertown.

The commanding officer and officers of the Fifty-seventh Rangers have received a cordial invitation from the officers of the Thirty-ninth Separate Company, National Guard, Watertown, New York, to attend a Thanksgiving Day ball. It will be remembered that the Rangers met the Watertown warriors at Kingston last May 24th, and the fraternization of that occasion is remembered in spirit in the invitation mentioned.

Lt.-Col. Ball on behalf of the local officers acknowledged the invitation, and stated that while they were unable to accept on account of the length of the journey, etc., they very heartily appreciated the spirit of international courtesy and amity that prompted the invitation, which revived the exceedingly pleasant recollections of the associations in Kingston last Queen's Birthday.

While the officers of the Rangers are unable to hob-a-nob on Thanksgiving Day, with their fellow officers in Watertown, they are to-night illustrating the spirit of international courtesy, and strengthening the entente cordiale between the two countries by entertaining at their quarters a distinguished member of the United States navy—Rev. Father Chidwick, who was chaplain of the Battleship Maine when she went up—and down—in Havana Harbour.

VICTORIA MUSEUM.

For the benefit of those who were unable to see the Victoria Museum during the week it was open, the committee have decided to open it during the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Anyone having articles they wish to deposit will kindly notify the Secretary, who will send for them. Or if they prefer to take them to the museum on that day they will be taken charge of by members of the committee.

DAILY TEMPERATURE RECORD.

The following are readings of the official thermometers for this morning, as well as the highest and lowest yesterday—shade temperature:—

	Highest.	Lowest.
To-day, 7 a. m.		38°
Yesterday	41°	26°

Genuine winter weather prevails in the Northwest, with temperature of 15 degrees below zero. We shall probably see some of it in the course of a day or so.

HON. J. T. GARROW.

By reference to our telegraphic columns it will be seen that Mr. J. T. Garrow, Q.C., of Goderich, who has represented West Huron in the Ontario Legislature, up to a few days ago, has been appointed a member of the Provincial Administration without a portfolio. His position is similar to that occupied by Hon. R. Bronson, of Ottawa, which became vacant on Mr. Bronson's retirement from the Legislature prior to the late general elections. Like all selections of the Ontario Government this is a happy one. Mr. Garrow, since his advent to the House eight years ago, has developed into one of the foremost members. Without being what may be called an orator he is a clear argumentative speaker, with an industry and quickness of grasp that put him in full possession of the merits of public questions. His legal experience of nearly a third of a century has given him a business aptitude which, coupled with a sound judgment, will make him a valuable adviser in the consideration of questions that must engage the attention of the Administration. Mr. Garrow's relations to his fellow-members during his term in the House, will bring forth hearty congratulations, in which the EXAMINER cordially joins, upon the recognition of his special ability and general qualifications implied in his elevation to the prominent position of a member of the Administration of the foremost province of Confederation.

In Every Way a Success.

The ladies, in large numbers, took advantage of the unusually interesting opening display of fancy goods and ladies' work at Miss S. Armstrong's new store, from 2 until 10 o'clock on Thursday. This was Miss Armstrong's first public welcome to the ladies since moving into her handsome new premises, and was in every way a success. The store was crowded until 10 o'clock, at which time ladies were loath to withdraw from admiring the handsome display. The quantity and quality of the work shown exceeded any previous display which Miss Armstrong has made. The ornamental needlework done on the premises was very creditable to the clever assistants who did the work. A lovely lot of novelties and and pretty articles was also shown. Those who have not yet paid a visit should do so while the display is on.

WEDDED IN STRATFORD.

Nuptials of Miss Evelyn Dobson, Formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. Chas. Dingman, of Chatham.

The Stratford Herald of the 16th inst. contains the following reference to the marriage of Miss Evelyn Dobson, daughter of Mrs. John Dobson, formerly of Weller street, town :

A very pretty wedding took place at two this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. John Dobson, Nile and Falstaff streets. The principals on the happy occasion were Miss Evelyn Dobson and Charles Dingman, of Chatham, formerly a member of The Herald publishing firm, who were united in matrimony by Rev. Dr. Hannon, pastor of the Central Methodist church. The bride, who was given away by Rev. C. Bartrop, of Appin, presented an attractive appearance, being gowned in white organdie, with chiffon and satin trimmings. She was attended by Miss Millie Dingman, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, who was attired in white organdie with lace. Miss Wilhelmine Dingman, niece of the groom, made a dainty flower girl in cream silk. The groom was assisted by George Dobson, brother of the bride. Miss Winifred Dingman played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. After the wedding luncheon was served, the happy couple left on the afternoon train for New York, via Toronto, on returning from whence they will take up house in Chatham. The wedding favors to the bride formed a rich collection and included a token of remembrance from the Sunday school class which the bride has faithfully taught for some years. The wedding was witnessed by about fifty guests, composed of relatives of the bride and groom and intimate friends. Those invited from distant points were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leonard, Mrs. John Campbell and daughter Madeline, Hon. Senator Cox and Mrs. Cox, Miss Maguire and Mr. J. A. Duff, Toronto; M. J. D. Maguire and Miss Maguire, of Lindsay; Miss Bragg, Bowmanville; the Misses Morrow, Miss Payne and Miss Findlay, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dobson, Picton; Rev. C. and Mrs. Bartrop, Appin; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith, of Myrtle; Messrs. J. Hough, of Montreal; W. G. Young, of London; M. C. Dingman, of Ottawa; F. J. Pope, M. A., and George B. Dingman, of New York.

AN OYSTER AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

The following autobiography of an oyster has been received from the South by the Spot Cash Grocery :

I am born without jaws or teeth; but I've got fine muscles, liver and heart. In each year of my life I produce 1,200,000; each of my children is 1-290th of an inch in length; so, 2,000,000 little ones can be crowded into a space of one cubic inch.

I am ready for the table in from one to five years after birth. You will never find me in the cold parts of the world. I dislike cold. In Ceylon I sometimes grow to a foot in length. One of me there makes a stew, when I am half a foot broad. I am not of much account in England, unless I am imported there from America. It makes me very sad to think of fetching up in the Strand—I, who was discussed by Tiberius and Julius. I have been the cause of much bloodshed. Men fight fierce battles for me all along the American coast, the Italian, and the coasts of Kent and Essex.

If you eat me raw you are not all likely to regret it, for I am, in a raw state, very nutritious and easily digested. As a fry, I am inclined to be uninteresting and heavy. So few know how to fry me. I am about the only animate thing that can be eaten with impunity in a raw state. Parasites cannot exist in me as they can in chops and steaks and fruits. I am a pretty good friend to man. And to woman—look at the pearls I've given her. Thackeray compared me in a raw state to a new baby. Yet I never kept him awake at nights.

I'm not half bad in a stew; but as a roast in the shell all the gaminy in me comes out. Then I sizzle with emotion, in butter, red pepper and a little sauce. The clam is like the driver of a hansom cab—not in it with me. The clam! That commonplace fellow! I avoid him as much as possible. I am not a snob, nor yet a cad, but I really must not be expected to fraternize with the clam, nor can I discuss him. The line must be drawn. He's not in the Four Hundred. Well,

I am,

REV. MR. HAY SPEAKS TO THE YOUNG MEN

FROM THE PULPIT OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

He Admonishes them to be Steadfast and to Stand by the Faith—A Practical Address.

Rev. Mr. Hay, of the Cobourg Presbyterian church, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's yesterday at both services, Rev. Dr. Torrance having exchanged pulpits with him for the occasion.

In the morning Mr. Hay delivered a sermon on missions, and in the evening addressed himself particularly to young men, taking as his text, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong." —I Corinthians xvi. 13th verse.

No section of the community, the speaker thought, was more worthy of receiving encouragement than the young men. The fact could not be emphasized too strongly, as the years would come when they would of their father and would take their seats at the councils of the land.

If any excuse was needed for delivering a special sermon surely this would be sufficient. The importance of the subject justified it.

In the text was found an admonition to be ever on the alert. It was addressed to the men of old as they stood on their vantage ground girt in their armour, but it was equally applicable to the Christian standing on the vantage ground of life. He should always be watchful.

A young man was often heard to express the opinion that the world owed him a living because he had been born in it. The young man who took that view of life is placed at a disadvantage at the offset. Whoever thinks he can rest quietly on that assumption and just drift through the world is making a vast mistake. He is carried away with the idea of his own self-importance and is thereby prevented from making the most of life. Others are passing him on every side, whilst he is standing still or even retrograding.

No ways are paved so gaily as those for the feet of young men. Battlements to stray are held out to him on every side and his only safety lies in saying to these things, avaunt!

THE YOUNG MAN

cannot make a success in life unless he lives by the lines of the foundations, which made our parents such noble men and women. He must fill his whole being with the solid teachings of the olden time and then he will be ready for the fray. He would make a success of life cannot attain his end by being out and consorting with others at night. He must lay his mind to his business, and in the evenings can master the details which will place him in possession of such knowledge that when an opportunity arises, he is the one who is chosen for promotion.

Be steadfast. One of the grandest examples of being steadfast was shown only the other day, when at the awful battle of Omdurman, the British soldiers stood shoulder to shoulder against the foe in bloody fight. None gave way. All were steadfast to the end. History could never record of that band of heroes that even one turned his back to the enemy.

No battle is so tremendous as the battle of the soul—no contest so awful as the battle mankind is fighting each day

UPON THE STREET.

Steady must the ranks be against discouragements and against difficulties, for it is the man who is steady in the face of adversity that eventually succeeds.

People will make light of the young man who goes to church or Sunday school, joins the Y.M.C.A. or the Christian Endeavour. He will be asked to remain away and stay out on the streets to have some fun, but there is no enjoyment worth tasting that leaves a bad taste behind.

Many young men in their college life just study enough to get through their examinations by the skin of their teeth. They only give their time to such portions of their work as they think they will be questioned upon. What success can they attain in life? Many are passing through life in the same manner—trying to get into heaven by the skin of their teeth. Will they be able to do it?

Not only should young men be watchful for the enemy, but be steady at close quarters.

"Quit you like men" says the text; otherwise, "be quite like men"—manly. To be manly, one must and do it to the best of his ability. That good book of Carlisle's, "Sator Resartus," is the expression of a manly man in a manly spirit. It has done much for the young men of England. They recognize the spirit which speaks through it.

"Be strong," but what is strength unless it is consecrated to some noble end. Youseff, the great Turkish wrestler, was strong, but he was swallowed up in the waves after astonishing the whole continent by his feats of strength. It is a good thing to feel the thrill of physical strength but it is as nothing if not held in abeyance and consecrated to the Most High.

Mr. Hay closed with a strong appeal to young men to stand fast in the faith.

During the evening Mr. James Dawson sang in superb style "Hosanna in Excelsis," his fine voice being heard to great advantage in the selection.

Grand Trunk Engineer Swears by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. George Cummings, for over 20 years engineer on Grand Trunk running between Toronto and Allandale, says:—"The constant duty with my work gave me excessive pain in my back, racking my kidneys. I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my firemen, Mr. Dave Cooley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. I recommend them to all my friends.

A PRESENTATION

To Rev. C. B. McLeod of the Gilmour Memorial Church, on his Departure.

On Wednesday, the 16th inst., after the regular prayer meeting of the church, the pastor was requested to remain, when the following address from the young people was read by Miss Rosa McGregor :

GILMOUR MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH, Nov. 16th, 1898.

Rev. C. B. McLeod,

DEAR SIR.—We, the members of the Y. P. S. C. E., wish at this opportunity to express to your our appreciation of your labour among the young people of this congregation.

You have laboured with untiring zeal to increase and deepen our interest in mission work, by the missionary talks which you have so frequently given us, and to establish more fully among us the spirit of Bible study by instructing us in the C. C. Courses. We feel that we have ever had your sympathy and that your help and advice have at all times been readily extended to us in every branch of our work.

We are assured that "love to God" has been the one prompter in all your efforts, and through such inspiration we know that you have been the means of accomplishing a work amongst us that shall not soon be forgotten.

Therefore, on behalf of the Society we wish to express to you our earnest thanks and heartfelt appreciation for the way in which you have laboured together with us for God, and we pray that the hand of God may ever guide you, and that His blessing may at all times rest upon you and yours wherever your lot may be cast.

Signed on behalf of the Society,

Laura Mann, Rosa McGregor,
Fred Scott, Eva Mann,
Norman Scott, Louisa Tindle.

FROM THE ELDERS.

Deacon Wm. Graham; on behalf of the officers and members of the church and congregation, then addressed a few words of appreciation. He spoke of the benefit they had derived from the pulpit ministrations, and from intercourse with the pastor during the past five years. He assured the pastor that they would long remember the many precious seasons they had enjoyed in the work of the Lord, and that their hearts were very sad at the thought of parting with him and Mrs. MacLeod.

It was the prayer of the church that God might direct him to a field of labour, and that the mighty God of Jacob might preserve and richly bless him and his family in the years to come.

On behalf of the church he presented to the pastor and Mrs. MacLeod a purse of money as a slight token of their esteem and love.

Mr. MacLeod, in replying to the addresses, thanked the young people for the kind words they had spoken and assured them that they would often serve to recall them when they were absent one from the other. He thanked them for all the help they had given him and for the inspiration they had been to him in the work. Tidings of their spiritual growth and their increasing devotion to the church to which they belong would be the best news that could come to him concerning them.

He thanked the church for the words they had spoken through Deacon Graham, and for the gift they had bestowed.

Looking back over the past years he remembered much that he had done which would have been better undone, and undone which should have been done. He thanked the church for its patience and for its sympathy with him in his work. He would never forget the five happy years which he had spent as pastor of the Gilmour Memorial church, and Mrs. MacLeod and he would cherish as long as life lasted many loving remembrances of the friends in Smith, both in and out of the church.

After the singing of the hymn, "God be with you till we meet again," the meeting dispersed.

THE PREMIER AND MR. STRATTON

ADDRESS THE ELECTORS OF LENNOX AT NAPANEE.

A Napanee Conservative Journal Refers to Their Presence and Addresses in Lennox.

The Napanee Beaver (Conservative) in reporting the mass meeting held in Napanee in the interests of the Liberal candidate, Mr. Aylesworth, says :

"It was announced that the Hon. H. S. Hardy, Provincial Premier, and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., of Peterborough, would address a mass meeting in the Opera House last evening. There was an excellent attendance, the large building being filled. The chair was occupied by Mr. T. Symington, president of the Liberal Association, who made a short speech while people were getting seated.

MR. STRATTON,

who was next called upon, made a lengthy and animated speech. He is a ready speaker and an experienced campaigner well versed in all questions to which he referred. He is said to be the coming member of the Ontario Government, and is now one of the ablest debaters of the party in the House. In many respects his was the speech of the evening. He went over a good deal of ground and strongly defended the Government in its various acts. He dealt at length with the financial question, giving many facts and figures in regard to the various annual expenditures, giving the amounts expended for public works, the maintenance of the various public institutions and other similar matters. He claimed that of the surplus of $3,800,000 left by the Sandfield Macdonald government every dollar, and much more, had been expended in ways outside of the yearly expenditure. His figures in regard to the annual cost of the administration of justice, the maintenance of our asylums, for education, for agriculture, for hospitals and the like, were given in an interesting manner. He claimed that in all these things the Opposition made no objection in the House when the estimates were being passed through from session to session.

HON. A. S. HARDY

next came on, and though the hour was late and his speech lengthy, the attention was excellent throughout. The speech was marred by too many personal allusions to Mr. Whitney and the published report of his speech here the evening before. He repudiated the idea that the province is on the verge of direct taxation. Mr. Whitney may see no other resource, but his Government did. In 1873 when Sir Oliver Mowat first came into power, the actual provincial expenditure amounted to $1 50 per head; in 1897 it was $1.54. In all that quarter of a century the increase had been but three cents per head. In the past two years at Ottawa, under Liberal rule, it has increased 25 cents per head. He claimed that the annual expenditure per head in Ontario was less than in any other Province of the Dominion, and is now the only province out of debt. One-fourth of our entire expenditure now was for the care of our lunatics and charities. Every dollar of what the province now owes is for the old of railways, and these grants were all made with the consent of the Opposition. In all the twenty-five years of Liberal rule in Ontario the people had never been directly taxed one dollar for provincial purposes. This was without a parallel in any other country of the same population. He strongly appealed to the electors to vote early and thus express their continued confidence in the present Government. No personal reference was made to Mr. Aylesworth.

REV. FATHER CHIDWICK'S LECTURE.

Standing Room Only Expected on Friday Night.

As the date of Father Chidwick's lecture for the benefit of the poor approaches, indications point that the Opera House will be crowded. The lecture will treat of the recent Spanish-American war, its causes and its results, and apart from the enormous interest this has for everyone, the fact that Father Chidwick was the Chaplain of the Maine, of whom so much has been said and written, and who was actually on board of that ill-fated vessel at the time of the explosion, his narrow escape from an awful and untimely death, and the expectation that he will doubtless treat of all this in his lecture, makes the occasion one of thrilling expectations. Already the seats are going rapidly and it would be well that those purposing to hear the gallant chaplain in the Opera House on next Friday should secure their tickets at once. Remember the proceeds are for the poor.

Killed in Montreal Police Station.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Isidore Bacon, 45 years of age, now lies dead in Notre Dame Hospital. He was arrested for being drunk on Saturday. In the same cell were two other men named John McGuire and J. B. Desrosiers. According to the latter, who was examined by Lieut.-Col. Hughes, Superintendent of Police, McGuire was drunk and was down on his knees saying his prayers when Bacon came in and at once attacked him McGuire in self-defence pushed him aside. Bacon fell over on his head, striking on the end of the coils and inflicting a severe wound. Blood flowed freely and the injured man was taken to Notre Dame Hospital, where he died soon after.

The final interment of the late Prince Bismarck will take place on Sunday next.

A Deseronto Widow Drowned.

Deseronto, Nov. 21.—A sad accident occurred here about 9 o'clock Friday evening. Mrs. Brant and Mrs. Markle were engaged at cleaning the offices of the Bay of Quinte Railway at the Rathbun Company's wharf. The latter went to empty a pail of water, and not returning in due time, a search was at once made and by the aid of pike poles the body of the unfortunate woman was recovered about 10 p.m. The deceased was a widow and leaves five children.

On Thursday the infant child of John Bowen, Deseronto, fell into a tub of water and was drowned.

READ THE PROOF!

GENTLEMEN,—I have for a long time needed something to make blood and build up my system. My blood was watery and thin, lacking strength and vitality. Last January a friend said:—"Why not try Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills? They will supply the oxygen your blood needs and give you health and strength." I told him I was very skeptical as to any benefit that could be derived from any proprietary medicine and had no faith in them. There the matter rested until four months ago, when reading so much about what Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done for so many people with impoverished blood, I concluded to give them a trial. I have taken four boxes and my unbelief so far as Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are concerned has been entirely removed. They are a splendid blood builder and strength restorer, and an invaluable medicine for weak, enervated people. This has been my experience, they having given me strength of body and strong healthy blood.

SHOPPING IN ITALY.

Outlandish Methods That Make It a Most Tiresome Task.

A source of trial is what appears to us the outlandish method of having things that apparently belong together sold in different establishments. Silks are found in one shop, woolens in another and ribbons in a third. At none of these can one buy needles and thread. If a woman wishes to hang a pair of curtains, she purchases the materials at one shop, the rod and rings at a different place, the iron fixtures at a third and has to go to a fourth to find an upholsterer to put them up. She must visit a tobacco shop for salt and cannot find, as with us, vegetables, fruit or bread at a grocer's. It may thus readily be seen that one must travel a good deal to do her marketing or shopping.

Add to all this the confusion incident to the fact that the standards of measure and weight are different from ours, a meter exceeding a yard and a pound containing but 12 ounces, and a faint idea may be formed of the mental complications of the traveler.

There is also a certain amount of beating down to be done in nearly every shop, and even after half an hour's bargaining the purchaser cherishes awful doubts lest she might not have bought the thing cheaper. Shopping is really almost equal to the contemplation of faded frescoes for lowering the mental tone, and it is hard to say which has the more to answer for in the exhausted state in which most travelers leave Italy.—Harper's Bazar.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS' PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N. B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

THE SIEGE OF PARIS.

HOW LONDON FIRST LEARNED THAT IT HAD ENDED.

Story of the Reporter Who Got the "Scoop" and Who Then Induced Bismarck to Allow Him to Send Out the News Over His Private Wire.

During the Franco-German war, from Oct. 18, 1870, to March 1, 1871, I was attached to the headquarters of the crown prince, who occupied an unassuming little villa called Les Ombrages, in an outskirt of Versailles, his august father residing throughout the investment and siege of Paris in the prefecture of the whilom "royal burgh," and Count Bismarck, with his staff of councilors and secretaries, in a detached house of the Rue de Provence. I often met the chancellor out of doors, walking or riding, during that long and bitter winter, but sedulously refrained from soliciting audiences, being well aware that the visits of a war correspondent, who had everything to ask and nothing to tell, could not possibly be welcome to so desperately overworked a statesman as Bismarck.

By what means I need not explain in this place, I had been made acquainted with the precise terms of the capitulation of Paris at an early hour of the morning after the conclusion of the armistice, and had, moreover, good reason to believe that the conditions of the surrender had not been communicated to any other correspondent of an English or even a German newspaper at headquarters. Having obtained the supremely important item of news, what was I to do with it? Unless it could be forthwith transmitted to The Daily Telegraph office by telegraph, my chances of forestalling my fellow correspondents would be annihilated, and there was no wire at my disposal—or, for that matter, at that of any foreign journalist—within the vast radius of the lines of investment.

The situation appeared an utterly hopeless one, until suddenly the happiest of "happy thoughts" flashed through my mind. Perhaps the all powerful chancellor, newly created a prince of the young German empire, would authorise the transmission to London of my dispatch over his own official wire, by means of which he was "en rapport" with every European capital except beleaguered Paris. There was no time to lose. Before 8 a. m. I had taken down the articles of capitulation from the lips of my informant, within half an hour I had copied them out, "large, bold and handsome," on two pages of foolscap and had made myself presentable.

At 9 o'clock I presented myself at the street door of the house in the Rue de Provence and sent up my card to Councilor Lothar Bucher, with a pencilled request that he would allow me to speak to him in private. Almost immediately he came down to the waiting room on the ground floor, into which I had been shown, and asked me what he could do for me. "Can you procure me a five minutes' audience of the prince?" I replied. "I don't know," was the rejoinder, "but I'll try. The chancellor is extremely busy, but perhaps he'll see you if you can assure me that the matter is really urgent." I declared that for me it could not possibly be more so, whereupon Bucher left me—I confess, in a fever of anxiety—and was absent for about a quarter of an hour, at the expiration of which he reappeared and beckoned to me to follow him up stairs.

In an ex-boudoir on the first floor converted into a sort of office I found the chancellor awaiting me. After the briefest of greetings he said, "Pray, tell me what you want in the fewest possible words, for I have not a moment to lose." I produced my dispatch, handed it to him and asked him if it was substantially correct.

After looking through it he answered: "Yes, it is. I don't know how you got your information, and I don't intend to ask, but these are the terms on which Paris surrenders. What then?" When I besought his permission to forward the message over his wire, he laughed rather grimly, saying, "You must be mad to ask such a thing!"

I urged upon him that the tension of public feeling in England with respect to the fate of Paris was very painful—many people's sympathy being temporarily averted from Germany by harrowing accounts of the sufferings undergone by the population of the French capital. "That tension would be considerably relieved, sir," I replied, "by the knowledge that the siege of Paris is come to an end and that the victors have accorded merciful terms to the vanquished." Prince Bismarck held out against my importunity for about a couple of minutes, but he yielded at last, only stipulating that I should efface my name at the end of the dispatch.

"On no account can I allow you to sign a message sent over my wire. If your people in London do not believe it to be authentic when it reaches them, that is their affair. But it must go unsigned or not at all." It did go unsigned; it was accepted as authentic, and its publication that very afternoon in a special edition of The Daily Telegraph proved to be one of the greatest journalistic coups effected by any London newspaper during the Franco-German war.—London Telegraph.

Bagpipe Music.

A Glasgow paper thus analyses the music of the bagpipe: "Big flies on window, 72 per cent; cats on midnight tiles, 11½ per cent; voices of infant puppies, 6 per cent; grunting hungry pigs in the morning, 5½ per cent; steam whistles, 3 per cent; chant of [illegible], 2 per cent."

How To Get Rich.

We refer to the richness of the blood. If you are pale and thin, you are poor in strength and nerve power. Scott's Emulsion drives away thinness and pallor, and brings rich blood and nerve power.

Stuck to Low's.

We have tried a good many worm medicines, but during the past five years have used Dr. Low's, as it proved to be the best. —Alfred T. Sargent, Brockville, Ont.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

Natural Power.

Dwellers in hilly countries do not seem to appreciate the advantages that may be gained by the use of the mountain streams that abound in such regions. It is rare indeed to see any use made of brooks and wayside springs. This is the more remarkable, as their employment would be a great saving in time and labor to all those who press them into service. All over the country there are farms and country seats where a few days' labor and a comparatively trifling expense would solve the problem for years to come. Most of these streams would supply a small ram or a turbine, giving an abundance of water in this way or working a pump placed in the already existing well. A small turbine requires but very little power and may be attached to an artesian well in such a manner as to give a water supply abundant not only for family use and stock but for irrigating purposes as well.—New York Ledger.

Herr Strauss' Eccentricities.

Writing of the eccentricities of Herr Strauss, the dance music composer, a Vienna writer says he is as nervous as a composer as he is a director. Clad in a velvet costume, with patent leather boots reaching to his knees, his eyes aflame and in a fit of inspiration, he goes striding through the house like a maniac. If inspiration does not come to him in the salon, he clutches his papers and goes to his bedroom or to his wife's boudoir. Sometimes the waltz begun in the parlor is finished in the kitchen. Mme. Strauss, who appreciates and understands her husband's habits, has half a dozen pianos scattered through the house, and in each room a table with writing materials, so that in whatever nook her husband finds himself he is quite at home. Mme. Strauss was once a favorite actress on the Vienna stage.

Miss Hoyt's Golf Arm.

Miss Beatrix Hoyt is a nonpareil. Yet a woman, she has a man's arm and a man's clear eye. That stroke of hers is an anatomical masterpiece, and some day her "golf arm" will be immortalised in that great history of sport and athletics which is bound to be written sooner or later. But, in spite of the enduring accuracy of that stroke, it is wondered if the woman golf champion of the United States can throw a stone and hit the mark.

Royal Honor.

Louis XII of France, having made a certain bargain with King Ferdinand of Spain, found that Ferdinand had grievously cheated him, whereupon he made complaint of his dealing. The Spanish king made answer to the court as follows: "The king of France is complaining that I have deceived him twice. He lies. I have deceived him more than ten times."

Vagaries of English.

"That's quite a draft from the west this morning," remarked the banker to the cashier as they glanced over the mail.

The new office boy promptly closed the transom and again stood at attention.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

Miss Annie Gillespie, Orillia, Ont writes: "I had a bad cold and severe cough for some time and could not get rid of it until I used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which quickly cured me." Price 25c.

That Indian's Death.

Wiarton, Nov. 19.—The jury empanelled to inquire into the death of the Indian Charles Jadjiwan, who fell from the balcony of the Queen's Hotel here, find that it is impossible to say whether his death was accidental or otherwise, though there is room for suspicion of foul play.

"What, you say you met Smithers down at Fullup-super-Mare? Are you aware that he's wanted by the police for stealing a check for £300 from his employers?"

"If that's the case, I'm afraid they'll never recover a penny of the money."

"What's your reason for thinking so?"

"Why, Smithers told me that he intended to make a stay of six weeks in the place."—Nuggets.

NEAT JOB PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING DONE CHEAPLY AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

"Knowledge is power." There is one kind of knowledge that is power and prestige in the hands of a woman. It is the knowledge of her own nature, her own physical make-up and the home-treatment of diseases peculiar to her sex. There is a great home medical book that teaches all this. It is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Over 1,200,000 American homes contain copies of this work. It used to cost $1.50; now it is free. For a paper covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.; French cloth binding, 50 stamps.

This great book tells all about a medicine that is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs distinctly feminine. That medicine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During the past thirty years many thousands of women have used it with marvelous results. It imparts health, vigor, virility, strength and elasticity to the organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the period of gestation, it makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. It completely banishes the pain and misery that are the result of a woman's neglecting her womanly health. An honest medicine dealer will give you what you ask for, and not try to persuade you to take some inferior substitute for the little added profit he may make thereon.

Mrs. Jas. Schaffner, of Freemansburg, Northampton Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to let you know the great good I have received from your medicines and the local self-treatment at home. I was troubled with female weakness, had pains in my back all the time, sometimes so severe that I could not lie in bed at night. I tried different doctors but they could not help me. Then my husband got Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, and induced me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. After taking six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

OUR INDIAN DANCES.

THERE ARE THREE KINDS, RELIGIOUS, SECULAR AND SOCIAL.

Among the More Warlike Tribes the Dance Was Followed by Horrible Tortures, For Which the Young Bucks as a Rule Volunteered.

Most of the Indian wars and threatened uprisings of Indians of which we hear are brought about by the prevention of the performance of their ceremonies by the Indians. Of such a nature are the ghost dances and others. Although usually orderly and never indulged in with the avowed purpose of war, they have often awakened the dormant warlike spirit of the redskins, and on this account the Indian agents and officers at the army posts do all that they can to prevent them. Hence the dances grow less numerous each year, and those that were once indulged in are no longer seen.

The most noted among the Indians for their dances were the Cheyenne, Arapahoe and Sioux Indians. The Chippewas of Minnesota and Dakota indulged in these ceremonies to a less extent than did most of their neighbors. The three tribes first mentioned, however, were noted far and wide for the variety and number of their dances. While now the dances are of rare occurrence and done in a perfunctory manner, it was far different in the old days before the Indian reached his present semicivilized condition.

Indian dances are of three kinds—religious ceremonial, secular ceremonial and social. The hooh-e-a-yum, or medicine dance, of the Cheyennes and Arapahoes is identical with the famous sun dance of the Sioux, and all the wild tribes had a dance which presented the same idea. In the more warlike nations the dance was followed by horrible tortures. The endurance of these tortures with stoicism was a great honor, for they were looked upon as a test of endurance, and with the red men, as everybody knows, endurance was accounted the greatest of human virtues. They were not a part of the medicine dance, but followed it as a supplemental ceremony.

A generation ago, when the Indian youth desired to put away childish things and become a man, he was obliged to go through an ordeal as brutal and bloody as it is possible to conceive. At the close of every medicine dance there would be a call for volunteers for torture. Those who offered themselves were usually young men, but now and then, as an act of penance to expiate some wrong, an old buck would offer himself for the torture. Those who volunteered for the torture did not join in the dance, but spent the few days preceding in fasting and seclusion.

When the old medicine men decided that the proper time had arrived, they would send for the volunteers one by one. First they were stripped and then carefully examined to note if it were likely that they could undergo the torture without fatal injury. After this examination had been passed by all eligible there were simple religious ceremonies, and then the chief medicine man approached with a sharp knife. On some men he would make sharp incisions, two vertical incisions on each breast, about two inches apart, passing the knife through the pectoral muscles. The parts between the incisions would be lifted up and the ends of a horse-hair rope passed through and fastened to a piece of wood. The free ends of the rope were then fastened to the top of the lodge pole. Sometimes the incisions would be made through the muscles of the back, and the rope stretched to bleeding of wood or buffalo skulls. Others were dragged up into the air and left to hang until their weight and struggles tore out the flesh and released them.

Each tribe usually had one purely religious dance each year. If a tribe were in good circumstances, it would sometimes have two or more. Of all the ceremonial dances the medicine dance took precedence, and the scalp dance came next in importance. This always took place on the day following the return of a successful war party and was only participated in by the members of that party. Before the dance a ceremony was performed by the warriors who took the scalps, no one else being permitted to be present or to see what was done. Those who took part in this would form a circle, when the skin of the scalps would be eased and all fleshy matter removed. Then each scalp would be stretched on a wooden stick and the hair dressed. Each warrior then attached his scalps to a small pole.

When this ceremony had been completed, the circle was broken and all the warriors marched back to the camp and planted their poles, with the dangling scalps, in a circle in the middle of the spot selected for the dance. Those who had scalps were then joined by others who had taken part in the fight and who had thus won a right to take part in the dance.

A circle would be formed by the party around the scalp laden poles. At a signal the warriors joined hands and began a monotonous song, keeping time with slow steps while turning about the scalps. Faster and faster grew the dance, wilder and wilder. As it progressed whoops and yells were uttered. Higher and higher the men would leap, loosing hands and brandishing their weapons. This would continue until not only the dancers, but those who witnessed the ceremony, would become intoxicated with mad excitement. Then one of the participants would spring from the circle and, standing in the middle, would relate his story and by his actions repeat again and again the operation of taking scalps. When he finished, another took his place and told of his personal prowess, while finally those who had no scalps would tell of their deeds and how the "bad god" had prevented them from securing any scalps.

The two dances I have mentioned were the great ones of the two wild tribes. There was also the green corn dance of the Sioux and the Navajoes, which took place in honor of the ripening of the corn and often ended in wild orgies.

These were mild war dances performed really as a matter of duty to the Great Spirit. But the keenest delight was taken by every tribe in the social dances. These varied greatly with each tribe. They were the scene of many a courtship. Sometimes the dances were in couples and sometimes of the nature of reels, but usually they were of the all hands round circle order. They were the chief pleasure of the Indian. During late years even these have been discontinued through the caution of the Indian agents, who have discouraged them. Sometimes war has been due to the forcible stopping of an innocent social dance from which no harm could have come if it had been allowed to proceed.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Cured of Stone in the Bladder by Dodd's Kidneys Pills, After Operations Had Failed.

Toronto, Nov. 7—If a census were taken to ascertain how many persons in Canada are afflicted with Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, it would be found that ninety in every hundred are sufferers.

Mrs. Ellen Fox, No. 3, Mathias street, Toronto, suffered for two years with stone in the Bladder. She says: "I underwent several operations but derived no benefit. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am now perfectly cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known positive cure for this horribly painful disease. They never fail. Their effect is rapid and certain.

KIDNEY CURE

FATE OF THE SHIP'S PET.

A Fourth of July Celebration Which Ended In Disaster.

"That billygoat the boys had for a mascot on the New York," remarked the paymaster's clerk, "suggests a monkey that my father used to tell me about that they had on a frigate in the times before the war. This monkey the sailors had picked up somewhere in the Indian ocean countries.

"The ship was stationed in the China ports for a year, and during that time the monkey was the light and joy of the whole crew. When the Fourth of July came around, permission was asked from the harbor authorities of the port where they were to fire a salute, and preparations were made for doing it in style. The regular salute was fired, and then it was proposed that the crew sing 'The Star Spangled Banner' and fire a gun for chorus. The gun was loaded and everything was left ready while the crew went to the main deck, where something to drink the health of the nation was to be served before the song was sung, and the gunner was to be sent back to shoot off the chorus.

"The programme was carried out to the letter. Then the men scattered, and somebody thought of the monkey. But he was not to be found. The cook hadn't seen him, nor had the cook's boy, nor would he respond to any of the calls that usually brought him flying. What had become of him no one knew until 6 o'clock, when a boat's crew went ashore to a big spring for water. The ship lay off from this spring about a quarter of a mile, and over it was a big shade tree. When the men came to the spring, they noticed in the branches of the tree something that had a familiar look to it, and knocking it out with sticks and stones they found the pink nose of their poor little pet attached to a few shreds and patches of monkey skin.

"That told the story of the disappearance of Mug, the monkey. He had in a spirit of sport chased himself into the mouth of that saluting cannon and when they fired it Mug went ashore."—Washington Star.

Town Names.

The Cleveland Leader says that a man registered in a local hotel the other day, giving his place of residence as Sleepy Eye, Minn. Half an hour later another guest registered from Painted Post, Ia.

The clerk paid no especial attention to this, but when the next man to register boldly wrote "White Pigeon, Mich.," after his name, both the clerk and the bookkeeper began to get interested.

While they were talking about the queer names that had been given to some of our western towns, a dignified looking man stepped up to the office, whirled the register around, and scrawled "Horseheads, N. Y."

Superlatives.

Dr. Johnson says in his "Grammar of the English Tongue:" "The comparison of adjectives is very uncertain, and, being much regulated by commodiousness of utterance, is not easily reduced to rules."

Then he quotes passages from "Paradise Lost," in which these words are found, "virtuousest," "powerfullest," and a passage from "Samson Agonistes" which contains the word "famousest."

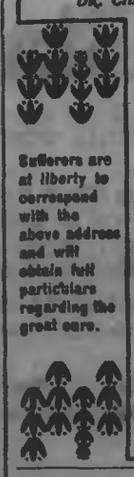
WRITES A LETTER ON DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.



Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

JACK HORNER.

The Rich Plum That He Extracted From That Christmas Pie.

For the benefit of those who are not quite little folks Agnes Carr Sage, in Lippincott's Magazine, tells the origin and history of some famous nursery stories and rhymes, among them "The Pleasant History of Jack Horner," containing "His Witty Tricks and Pleasant Pranks," for so it is set forth in a very old chapbook, carefully preserved in the Bodleian library.

It appears that this worthy was steward to an abbot of Glastonbury. The good abbot learned that his majesty Henry VIII had seen fit to be indignant because the monks had built a kitchen which he could not burn down. Now, a king's indignation was dangerous and must be appeased. Therefore the abbot sent his steward, Jack Horner, to present the sovereign with a suitable peace offering. It took the form of a big and tempting looking pie, beneath the crust of which the transfer deeds of 12 manors were hidden.

But Master Jack had an eye for the profit of No. 1, and on the road he slyly lifted the crust and abstracted the deeds of the Manor of Wells. On his return, bringing the deeds, he plausibly explained that they had been given to him by the king; hence the rhyme:

Little Jack Horner
Sat in a corner (of the wagon),
Eying his Christmas pie:
He put in his thumb
And pulled out a plum (the title deed),
Saying, "What a brave boy am I!"

"Some folks," said Uncle Eben, "makes yer fink ob a circus hoss. Dey gallops tell dey's out ob breff, but dey nebber gits nowhar."—Washington Star.

A Dyspeptic's Gratitude.

Anyone who has suffered from Dyspepsia or Indigestion will know what joy it would give to be able to eat three good meals a day and not be punished for it.

Mrs. J. F. Westfall, of Trenton, Ont., was for five years a dyspeptic and thanks Burdock Blood Bitters for curing her after everything else failed. Here's her story in her own words:—

"For five years I have suffered from dyspepsia, and having tried every thing I could hear of without avail until I became almost discouraged I tried Burdock Blood Bitters at last, and I feel it my duty to let the results be known, as it may help some other poor sufferer. B. B. B. completely cured me, and my gratitude to this wonderful medicine is more than I can express."

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,504 90
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,500 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

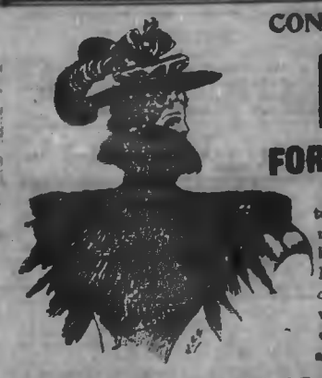
HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.



CONCERNING

FURS

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

It's the first holiday of the season with the touch of colder weather that makes Fur so necessary. Furs like horses and diamonds must be bought either with knowledge or with trust. It is well then to buy where you can buy in confidence. In this store you are surrounded with all the precautions that years of training can suggest and have a perfect guarantee in addition.

A larger assortment of the kind of Furs you want has seldom been shown—Styles are Styles of to-day.

MANUFACTURING AT HOME has given a power to the matter of putting the prices as low as they can be pushed.

We claim no miracles of merchandising. Fur is Fur, but our prices are fair and reasonable and they are LOWER than other figures we have found on equal goods.

We have made special efforts in the line of SMALLER FURS and in the good and handsome, but not high-priced Furs. A few quotations would not be out of place, but style and the "put together" should be considered with prices :—

GREY LAMB RUFFS, $2.50 to $5.00; Gauntlets, $3.50 to $6.00; Muffs, $3.50 to $8.00. An assortment of cheaper Fur Ruffs, $1.00 up; extra choice Opposum at $4.00.

Alaska Sable Ruffs, good quality, $5, $6, $7, $8, $10; Gauntlets stand as low as $1.

Persian Lamb Gauntlets $7, $8 to $10; Seal $5 to $15.

Muffs $1, $2, $3; Sable Muffs $6, $7, $8 and $10; Bear $8 to $15.

Caperines, Jackets, Caps, etc.

We could enumerate among many other prices, but it is always best to see the Quality and Make and so we invite you in to take a look, no matter if you purchase or not, it will be pleasing we trust to us both.

In Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal Jackets and Fur-lined Cloaks we are offering very close prices and are turning out especially Nice-fitting and Stylish Garments.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLean, of Mount Pleasant, Celebrate Their Jubilee—An Enjoyable Reunion of Family and Friends.

An event of much interest and unusual occurrence, says the Millbrook Reporter took place in the village of Mount Pleasant on Monday afternoon last, it being the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James McLean. That a couple looking so hale and sprightly as they did, when the whole family, excepting one daughter, who is in Dakota, were gathered together, with many friends to do them honour, should have been treading the pathway of married life for fifty years, would have been doubted by anyone unacquainted with the facts.

Mr. McLean, who was born in Ireland in the year 1826, came to Canada when very young, settling in Peterborough, where he remained until young manhood, and learned the tailoring trade. He was the son of James McLean, of His Majesty, George III Infantry, who served in the Battle of Waterloo, and received a medal for distinguished service, which is still treasured by Mr. McLean, and was shown to the guests at the wedding on Monday. Coming to the township of Cavan in the year 1847, when the country was comparatively new, he embarked in his calling and in the following year, on the thirteenth of November, married Miss Best, who lived in the village and had been born there. Rev. Mr. Dick, the first Presbyterian minister of that village, performed the ceremony and in the certificate of marriage, which is still treasured up as a keepsake and was brought out for inspection at the golden wedding, he states that having been presented by license from His Honour Lord Elgin and Kincardine, he had duly performed the ceremony between the contracting parties of the township of Cavan, district of Newcastle. At the hour of three o'clock the guests began to gather, among whom were four sons and three daughters, a number of grandchildren, and a host of friends. The afternoon was spent in social intercourse, which was enlivened and made most enjoyable by the sweet strains of an Italian orchestra, from Toronto. Towards evening a very pleasing incident of the celebration was the presentation to the honoured couple of a handsome pair of easy chairs, beautifully upholstered in green and gold and trimmed with gold ribbons, a present from the sons and daughters. Accompanying the gift the following address was read by Mr. J. W. Best :—

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLean, Mount Pleasant, Ont.:

DEAR FATHER AND MOTHER,—Words fail to express our feelings of joy and our gratitude to a kind and loving Providence, who has so mercifully spared you (dear parents) and us, to meet again in our dear old home, on this joyful occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding. We know that half a century of married life is a boon not granted to all who enter the realm of matrimony and we feel that you appreciate with us, the high honour which has been conferred on you, and which we have met to celebrate. We very cordially extend to you our warmest congratulations and we hope that this day may be treasured in your memories as one of the brightest of your lives. We are overwhelmed with a sense of our great indebtedness to you when we recall your oft repeated Christian counsel and example, your untiring devotion, your ever-ready sympathy, your anxious training and your ceaseless love to us, for have your noble qualities been confined to your immediate family only; your broad charity has, freely and willingly, extended to the needy. Who can tell how far reaching and long lasting your commendatory efforts have been or shall be, God alone knows and He will reward you. We can not—we must not—allow this occasion to pass without recognizing, in some more tangible form than words, our great esteem and sincere love to you, therefore we ask your acceptance of this pair of easy chairs, which we hope you will be long spared to enjoy. May the God of all grace continue his mercies to you, is our earnest wish and when our meetings on earth are over, may we all meet in Heaven.

Signed on behalf of your children,

JOHN BEST.

After the reading of the address Rev. Mr. Tanner, on behalf of the grandchildren, presented each of them with a pair of gold rimmed spectacles with the names of Mr. and Mrs. McLean engraved on the handsome cases. Mr. McLean, although too much overjoyed to collect his thoughts, replied very feelingly, thanking his children for their loving kindness. He was thankful to his God for children, who were worthy and respectable members of the community, and while he recognized his many failings as a parent, he had tried to set before them a good example. But the credit, he stated, should chiefly go to Mrs. McLean, who perhaps did most towards faithful instruction and nobleness of life. He was sorry one of the family circle was absent, but rejoiced with those present in the memorable occasion. After this part of the proceedings was completed, the guests were invited to the dining room to partake of their hospitality, where tables were lavishly spread with all the good things that country and city could provide in the refreshing of the inner man. When full justice had been done to the appetite, Rev. Mr. Tanner in a few felicitous words proposed the health of the respected couple, the guests rising and drinking to their continued happiness and prosperity, and singing Auld Lang Syne. W. S. Given of Millbrook, replied to the toast, joining in hearty congratulations and expressing the feeling of all present that the day was one long to be remembered. The evening was taken up with social intercourse and music, and as the night wore on many of the guests departed to their home, while the relatives and friends from a distance remained to take morning trains to their places of residence.

The following is the list of invited guests :—Mr and Mrs Wm G Marsh, Miss Maud and Master Harry Marsh, Richmond Hill; Mr and Mrs W J McLean, Miss Pearlie and Master Roy McLean, Toronto; Mr and Mrs John Best, Masters Louie and Em. Head Stopped Up!

Catarrh was Master—But Japanese Catarrh Cure Dethroned the Monster Disease Quietly, Calmly, Pleasantly but Surely—Miss A. Nott's Case was a Hard one but this New Remedy Worked the Wonder.

Miss Nott is a well-known lady of Blanchville, Ont., and anybody is at liberty to verify by correspondence what is printed here of her cure of catarrh of long standing by Japanese Catarrh Cure. Miss says—"I had catarrh for years. My head was so stopped up I could not breathe through my nose. My throat was full of phlegm. My eyes were a very watery consistency. I got a bottle of Japanese Catarrh Cure. Was not expecting much but was almost instant relief and in a few days' time my head and throat were clear; also the pain left my head and eyes; in fact all my trouble was truly wonderful. It restored me, and I can recommend every sufferer to use Japanese." A guarantee to cure, printed in English, French and German, sent free. 50 cents at druggists. RUGBY.

The Colts went to Lakefield Saturday and played their return match with the Grove team, winning by the score of 20 points to 9.

The teams were composed as follows :

Peterborough.		Grove.
Logan	full backs	G Dunn
G Reany	half backs	E Bloomfield
H McKee		S Campbell
F Campbell		A Rathbun
D Sheppard	quarter back	S Kirstemen
E Dobbin	scrimmage	S Sibbald
Armstrong		W Carey
G Rogers	wings	B Leonard
A Boucher		H Burnett
B Cameron		B Burnett
H Wood		D Elliott
F Roy		T Seagram

The Peterborough boys arrived at three o'clock ready for the fray, but did not start playing till nearly four o'clock on account of the kicking about the weight of the team compared with the Grove boys. However this was amicably settled for everybody concerned by only playing 12 men a side.

The ball started rolling at 3.40 and the play pretty even until run down into the Colts 25 yard line, when Logan relieved with a long punt which transferred the pigskin to the Groves' 25, where a free kick was allowed the Colts, but no score resulted.

McKee from centre field made a great run and crossing the line, but was brought back, as the ball was picked out of the scrimmage. McKee again got the leather, however, and almost scored, but was tackled five yards from the goal line. From the scrimmage a free kick was awarded the Colts, which resulted in a score by Dobbin. 4—0, not converted.

From the kick off Boucher got off side, which prevented a grand bit of passing by the half backs. Free kick for the Grove followed, but with no result. Bloomfield relieved with a high kick, but as a result McKee got possession of the ball and made the best run of the day, scoring a beautiful try, which was not converted. 8—0 at half time.

From the kick off the boys played like niggers, with the result that the Colts had to rouge 8—1, and again they forced the Peterborough boys to rouge 8—2.

At this stage of the game the Grove boys were playing splendid ball, Bloomfield getting the ball and making a big run crossed the line. The try was converted by Dunn. Score 8—8.

The game now became very exciting, McKee again starting the fun by scoring. Score 12—8.

The players were getting tired, but played with pluck and dash like veterans. Again McKee got the leather and with the same result—a try not converted. 18—8.

The Grove boys began to pluck up courage and forced the Colts to rouge. Score 16—9.

From the kick off scrimmage after scrimmage was formed, and to see the juniors with their heads down was reminiscent of a Union game. McKee again got possession and scored. Score 20—9.

McKee again got over and the try was converted by Logan. Score 26—9.

Again McKee scored, when the whistle sounded for full time. Score 30—9.

NOTES.

H. McKee was the bright star of the field, delighting the ladies by his long runs, (long and curly hair.)

Kirsteman, for the Grove, was everywhere at the right moment.

Sibbald, the Grove, played a good game in the scrimmage.

Seagram, the smallest player on the field, standing 5 ft. 8 in., played remarkably well, always tackling them below the knees, as he was not tall enough to reach the waist.

Bloomfield, next to McKee, was the best player on the field.

Taking the game right through it was a splendid game; without McKee, of the Colts, and Bloomfield, of the Grove, it would be very difficult to say which would win. The Colts are a long lean lot compared to the sturdy little players at Lakefield.

There is at present some prospect of a match on Thanksgiving Day between the senior Colts and Varsity III, last year's junior champions of the O. R. F. U. It is quite probable that Harry McKee will be given a "try" on the halfback line should the match be arranged.

THE NAPANEE TRIALS.

Mr. Justice Ferguson Reviews the Cause Celebre.

GRAND JURY HAS THE CASE NOW

Preparations for the Great Trial of Ponton, Pare, Mackie and Holden—Safe Experts to Contradict Pare's Evidence and Confession—The Safe and Combination Will Be in Court.

Napanee, Nov. 23.—At noon yesterday W. H. Ponton, the hero of the Dominion Bank robbery trial, surrendered himself to Jailer Vanluven, and it will rest with a jury of twelve of his peers whether he will leave the jail en route to the penitentiary or as a free but singularly unfortunate young man. The Napanee branch of the Dominion Bank was entered and robbed of $32,000 on the night of August 27, 1897. The combinations of the vault and safe were worked, the combination numbers changed, and it was not until 24 hours after the commission of the deed that the burglary was discovered. The Pinkerton detective agency was given control of the case, and Detectives Dougherty and Wilkes, the men delegated to ferret out the robbery, after looking over the scene, at once arrived at the conclusion that it had its origin inside the bank. The arrest of W. H. Ponton, the teller, followed on October 5, 1897. At the preliminary examination Ponton refused to elect, but the evidence adduced was not sufficient in Magistrate Daly's opinion to send accused for trial. Later, however, others were imported into the case, and the Magistrate committed the four accused for trial. This trial begins to-day, the judge having charged the grand jury yesterday.

In the Court Room.

The court room was jammed when Justice Ferguson entered yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Women were greatly in the majority. The members of the local bar, Messrs. W. G. Wilson, Morley Wilson, T. B. German, Madden, Deroche, from Belleville; Messrs. E. Gus Porter and R. J. Clute, Q.C., from Deseronto, J. B. Bedford, and from London, Mr. Hellmuth, were present. Sheriff Hawley ushered in the judge.

JUSTICE FERGUSON.

Lawyer C. J. Holman, counsel for Mackie, arrived in town at midnight. He is stopping at the Paisley.

The grand jury was empaneled by the aid of the clerk of the court, and when seated appeared as follows: George Anson Aylesworth, foreman; Redford Dorland, M. N. Empey, John Harrison, George E. Huffman, Joseph J. Johnston, E. J. Hastie, Sidney Pringle, Robert Paul, Addison Scott, B. B. Vanslyck, George Wartman, James Brandon.

The whole of the afternoon was taken up by the judge's charge to the jury. He read the indictments against Pare and Holden and Mackie and Ponton respectively, and said he thought the two indictments arose out of two different transactions, yet they would have to be presented separately. He thought it would be impossible to speak of the case against one without speaking of the other.

The Judge's Remarks.

The judge defined the charge against Pare and Holden as one of burglary. He reviewed the history of the robbery, and stated that if Pare's evidence was to be believed there was corroboration of it that implicated Mr. Ponton, while there was evidence of a continuous effort on the part of the parties to rob the bank. He laid stress upon that part of Pare's evidence in which he says that the combination of the inner vault was known and the information had been given by Mr. Ponton. This led the judge to remark that Pare was an accomplice. He was different from the others in that on his own admission he was a villain. He had been guilty of one crime. Pare told a good many things that were said that would not be evidence except against those present when it was said. Yet his evidence was good against Holden.

The evidence against Holden was that of Pare, which was direct, besides the further evidence that some of the stolen property was found on Holden. Pare's evidence, so far as it related to himself, could be relied upon, as it was not to be supposed that he would make himself out to be blacker than he really was, while it was good evidence against Holden, because it was corroborated by the money found upon the latter. In the matter of Pare and Holden it was the opinion of His Lordship that the grand jury could do nothing other than place them upon trial.

Turning then to the indictment of Mackie and Ponton, His Lordship said that the first question to ask was, Was Ponton a party to the robbery? There was no evidence that he was present when the act was actually committed. Yet always granting that Pare's story was true, everyone was a party who actually commits, or does, or omits to do an act for the purpose of committing an offence. Besides, this matter was in the form of a conspiracy, and each one was responsible for the act of any other done in the prosecution of a common end.

As to Mackie's position, he was as deeply involved as the other two. There was the direct evidence of Pare against him. Then the judge recounted several corroborative incidents, such as the attempt at robbery in the winter time, and others, which point to Mackie's complicity.

As to Miss French's evidence, His Honor said it was for the most part hearsay evidence and conjectures, especially regarding the tools, which she was unable to identify.

The bench made an important statement when it declared that the evidence of an accomplice was in law sufficient to commit the accused person. It was the customary duty of a judge to advise a jury to be cautious and not to convict if there was no evidence against a man except the evidence of an accomplice. Yet, if the jury did convict, the conviction was good. He declared the finding of a true bill against a man did not convict him.

Concerning Ponton, His Honor said there were several things that appeared to be corroborative of the evidence of Pare. The key story was rung in. He thought the matter of the $10,000 of Government bonds was a coincidence. The noises heard in Ponton's room on the night of the robbery was mentioned as a corroboration, while it was said that Ponton's lack of money before the robbery and his possession of at least $35 after was at least significant. This latter fact was, in the judge's opinion, on the line of the strongest kind of corroboration. He hinted that perhaps the Crown would have more evidence to produce.

The judge concluded his address with an eloquent appeal to the jurors to use their intelligence in the discharge of their duties and not to be biased in any way by any extraneous circumstance, or by their preconceived opinions. He desired them to consider this particular case in an energetic manner, on a high plane of thought, and to depend upon the evidence, and that alone. He said the defendants should be given no more than fair play.

The officers of the law are beginning to gather. So far there are present: Chief Adams, County Constable Sills, Detective Greer, Detective Flynn, while Detective Wilkes and Dougherty are expected in on the midnight train. They were telegraphed for yesterday afternoon.

B. B. Osler, Q.C., came down on the 6 o'clock train. He will address the grand jury to-day at 9 a.m., setting forth the evidence of the case so far adduced. E. Gus Porter will have no chance to reply. It is expected that the jury will hand in its presentment by noon.

Will Durand and Will Green, two of the clerks in the bank in 1897, are in town. The former has come from Vancouver, B.C., and the latter from Toronto. The Ontario Government is defraying the expenses of bringing the outside witnesses for the defence.

Stephen Brown, inspector of the London & Lancashire Life Insurance Company, was in town yesterday. He will give evidence in the trial for the defence. His story runs to the effect that he was in the bar of the Paisley House when Ponton came in for the famous pitcher of water. His story places the time at least an hour different from Pare's tale.

The safe that was cracked was taken up to the Court House yesterday afternoon. It took a dozen men to move it, and cost $60. It will be on view to the jurors, and the mechanism of the lock will be explained to them. The question is currently asked, Will it be died as an exhibit? A new time-lock safe has been placed in the bank to replace the old one.

Again the man who can open a combination safe is said to be on the spot. The story goes thus: William K. Flynn, while in St. Paul's, heard of a locksmith who could do the trick. He went to him. The locksmith declared he had often done it. The result of the discovery is that the partner of the said locksmith is said to be now in Belleville, and will, when required by the defence, try his hand on the safe. There is no little betting on the result of the effort. Mrs. McGreer was present in the court yesterday.

May Seize Rolling Stock.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The Customs Department is now wrestling with what—if it turns out to be correct—is one of the largest seizures that has ever been made in this section of the country, by some of their officials against the Canada Atlantic and Parry Sound roads. The amount said by customs officials to be liable to seizure, and which they have reported to the department, as having been placed under the seizure from time to time, is in the vicinity of $600,000 or $700,000. This comprises engines, cars, oil, etc. The seizures have been going on in this way for some months, but the railway company has, it is understood, been denying the right of officers to make the seizures on the ground that the engines, etc., were used for international traffic. Interviews on this and other points have taken place between the heads of the railway department and the heads of the customs. So far no decision has been reached.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, November 19th.—Recent returns from the Agricultural Department indicate that the expectation of a progressive increase in the volume of export trade is not being belied, as the following comparison of the three years ending June 30th, 1896, 1897 and 1898 respectively will show:

	1896	1897	1898
Cattle	$ 7,066,843	$ 7,159,193	$ 5,726,320
Pork, bacon and ham	4,446,884	5,871,900	5,092,699
Butter	1,992,069	2,069,175	2,044,660
Cheese	13,967,671	14,076,299	17,072,769
Poultry and game	15,092	57,771	160,722
Eggs	897,065	978,679	1,253,901
Wheat	5,771,821	5,544,197	17,013,256
Flour	113,432	1,240,824	4,598,772
Oats	979,251	1,030,130	3,011,573
Oatmeal	264,655	262,919	264,737
Peas	1,788,494	2,258,591	1,818,799
Apples	1,416,479	2,572,968	1,256,651

THREE YEARS' EXPORTS COMPARED.

The total value of the animal and agricultural produce exported from Canada in these three years with the proportion of those totals sent to Great Britain and the United States, respectively, is as follows:

	Totals.	To Great Britain.	To United States.
1896	$48,791,344	$40,691,762	$6,173,576
1897	55,585,338	45,250,691	7,620,647
1898	74,888,781	66,142,862	6,064,844

1898 being subject to revision.

FROM 26S TO 87,935 IN FOUR YEARS.

In connection with Canada's export trade in agricultural products, the returns of the cattle export trade with the United States are particularly suggestive of the effect that unnatural restrictions, fiscal or otherwise, have on trade. In 1894, when the vexatious quarantine regulations between the two countries were in force, the total number of cattle sent from Canada across the border reached the huge total of 268 head! The number increased to 863 in 1895, and 1646 in 1896. In spite of the complete failure of the late Administration to secure a reciprocal removal of the severe embargo, Hon. Mr. Fisher tackled the Washington authorities directly he assumed office, and with immediate and complete success. The result is that in the eighteen months ending June 1897, (one-half of which period probably came under the revision of the regulations), the cattle exported amounted to 35,421 head as against the 1646 of the previous complete fiscal year; while against the 35,421 of the eighteen months ending June, 1897, the last fiscal year ending June, 1898, shows a total exportation of 87,935. With these figures before us it is easy to realise the tremendous loss of business that the Canadian cattle breeder experienced prior to the abolition of the quarantine restrictions, and it was, to say the least, very unfortunate that the efforts of the late Government were not more successful in bringing about the improvement which the present Administration so easily secured.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

The criminal statistics for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1897, would appear to indicate that we are not as a nation getting any better, though it must be confessed we are not much worse. The convictions are given at 11.69 per 10,000 inhabitants, as against 10.99 per 10,000 in 1896. In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the percentage has increased, and now stands first with Nova Scotia next at 17.03 per 10,000 inhabitants. The percentage of crimes and offences in the total number of convictions remains practically unchanged. The total number of convictions for drunkenness was 25,322, or 28.2 per 10,000 inhabitants, as against 24,000 in 1896. The number of convictions for drunkenness has increased in every Province of the Dominion except Ontario, where for some reason or other, a remarkable decrease occurs, which more than balances the increase in all other places. The percentages for the two years (1897 and 1896) by Provinces are as follows:

	1897. Per cent.		1896. Per cent.
Ontario	8.3	to	9.1
Quebec	25.1	"	22.5
Nova Scotia	26	"	11.6
N Brunswick	4.6	"	11.2
Manitoba	4.5	"	4.7
B Columbia	22	"	6.0
P E I	2.4	"	2.2
N W T	6.4	"	7.8

The number of convictions for drunkenness was 25.3 per 10,000 inhabitants in 1897, and 20.4 in 1896; for offences against liquor license acts, 8.1 in 1897 and 4.6 in 1896.

EACH HAS WHAT THE OTHER NEEDS.

Another evidence of the continued and growing interest which is being taken in Canada by all classes in the Old Country may be found in a carefully compiled and excellent little pamphlet prepared by Mr. R. J. Pettifer, a prominent and representative British workman who came out to Canada the past summer to spy out land. He lays special stress on the tremendous wheat-growing capacities of the West, and points out how sufficient breadstuffs can be produced to feed the teeming millions of the Old Land, upon a fraction of the available territory in Canada. He points out that in Manitoba alone 80,000 more families of wheat-growers might be located, each family with 320 acres of land, and these, with the farmers already engaged in wheat-growing in Manitoba alone, could produce all that the United Kingdom requires.

A UNIQUE PROPOSAL.

Mr. Pettifer continues with the unique proposal that the Imperial Government could well afford to put 500,000 British families upon Canadian homesteads with $750 a piece for implements, stock and seed, for it would cost no more than to build one first-class battleship. This is a modern method of beating swords into plough shares, but while the suggestion may be impracticable, the idea underlying it is an excellent one. Canada wants the population, the Old Country wants the wheat, if they will only send them abundance to feed those that are left.

In this connection it may be mentioned incidentally that nearly seven times as many Anglo-Saxon settlers were brought to Canada this season than during the last season of the late Administration; the immigration policy of the present Government is evidently calculated to attract British settlers.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

The Date Fixed for Lambton, Simcoe and Prince—West Huron Deferred to Avoid Provincial Clash.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The writs for West Lambton, North Simcoe and East Prince have been issued. Nominations will take place in three constituencies on Wednesday, December 7, and polling on the 14th. The returning officers are: West Lambton, Mr. William John Owens, barrister, Forest; North Simcoe, Mr. John Dickinson, solicitor, Barrie; East Prince, Mr. John Gaffney, Sheriff of Prince County, Summerside. The date of the bye-election to be held in West Huron to fill the vacancy created by the appointment of the late Mr. M. C. Cameron to be Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories, has not yet been fixed. A Provincial election will take place in that riding shortly, and as the electoral districts, though not exactly similar in their boundaries, are sufficiently alike to be confusing, it has been decided to postpone the Federal election. There is no pressing necessity for bringing it on before the Local election is over. The Liberal candidate in East Prince is Mr. John J. Bell, who formerly practised law in Ottawa, and who for some time has followed his profession in Summerside.

Halton and West Huron.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The nominations for the vacancies in the Legislature for Halton and West Huron will be held Thursday, December 1, and the elections a week later.

NOTES ON POLITICS.

Mr. W. Mescrip, the unseated Liberal member of South Perth, has refused to bow to the decision of the judge who unseated him, and entered an appeal to that effect on Monday morning. The bad printing of several ballots was the chief ground on which he lost his seat, and Mr. Mescrip decidedly objects to vacating on any such terms. A cross-appeal will in all probability be entered by the Conservatives.

Mr. James Conmee, M.P.P. for West Algoma, was examined on Monday morning at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, by Mr. Edmund Bristol, as a preliminary to the trial to unseat him, which comes off at Port Arthur on Dec. 13.

Paine's Celery Compound

A Heaven-sent Blessing to Users of Narcotics.

IT SAVES FROM AWFUL SUFFERING AND DEGRADING DEATH.

There are thousands upon thousands who regularly make use of opium, morphine, cocaine and bromides in order to allay physical and mental pain.

With we sympathizers with and deeply pity those who are called upon to endure terrible sufferings, we cannot too strongly condemn use of narcotics for alleviating pain. The victims will no doubt be relieved for a short time, but suffering comes again and the habit will enslave and degrade them in a thousand worse than death.

There can be no good reason advanced why men and women should use opiates and narcotics. The great object should be to banish the spasm of weak and shattered nerves, and not simply to ease pain for a brief interval.

Paine's Celery Compound, that wonderful medical prescription without a trace of any narcotic in its composition, is the heaven-sent medicine for the banishment of pain. It restores the seat of trouble at once, and gives strength and power to every nerve thereand there; the organs of digestion are given new force and regularity; natural sleep is enjoyed from night to night and a new life is taken on.

Have you nerves, or nerves to spare? Either the absence of the one and weakness, or the strength of the other, Paine's Celery Compound, and your torment or advantage will be a FREE one.

PROOF TO THE CONTRARY.

The Old Gentleman Completely Routed the Bald Young Man.

The prematurely bald young man with a downy white mustache had been doing his best to make a profound impression on his rural relatives. There was no reason why he should do this except in obedience to a natural tendency which is second only to that of self preservation, the desire to show off. The old gentleman with heavy soled boots and a black string necktie had listened silently for a long time. He broke in on the series of travelers' tales with the remark:

"It kind o' beats my time that the west and o' this continent should be so different from the east."

"Oh, if you haven't traveled much and don't know the difference, this part of the world is all right," was the answer.

"Yes. But it oughtn't to be so misrepresented. They ought not to complain that the east has gone an organized monopolies to gobble everything worth havin when the west has all the geysers an the petrified forests an the trees that you can drive a horse an wagon through if you can find an auger big enough to make the hole. I know it's all true, too, for I've seen pictures of those things in the geographies. But this lake you was tellin about—I can't help thinkin you got imposed on somehow there."

"You mean the Great Salt lake in Utah. It's there. I saw it with my own eyes."

"The lake that's so salt fish can't live in it?"

"Certainly."

"An when you went bathin you found the water so salt that you couldn't sink if you tried?"

"Yes indeed. And what's more"—

"Hold on. I'm not doubtin your veracity. I don't say you don't tell every bit of this in good faith. I've had the same kind of experiences. One time I was in a room where breakfast had just been set, an although I was a stranger in the house I walked up an took a fried egg off the plate with a spoon an put it in my mouth. Imagine my surprise when I immediately began to raise up an toward the ceilin. It was amazin how fine I floated. My wife an the girls was just as surprised as I was when they came in an saw me, and I'll never forget how funny they looked hoppin up into the air, tryin to do the same thing. After awhile I wanted to get down, but I couldn't make it. I began to get worried. I started to call for help, an accidentally hit into the egg. As soon as I did so I was gently lowered till I had the use of both feet as usual. An it all seemed so real that when I got up the next mornin I thought eatin breakfast an feedin the pigs must be a dream."

"But, my dear sir"—

"It's all right. I don't attach any blame to you. It can all be explained by science. But you can't make me believe that anybody could bathe in water as salt as you say that was an come home so uncommon fresh. It couldn't be done."—Washington Star.

Novel but Effective Latin.

The smart boy of the class in a north side school distinguished himself the other day in a strikingly novel manner, and his teacher is not decided yet whether he should be sent home or put at the head of the class. He was sent to the blackboard to write a Latin sentence for the criticism of the class and was asked to write an original one, if he could, that his construction might be discussed.

He wrote: "Americanus est homo. Spaniardus est hobo."—Chicago Journal.

HORSE HURTS

As an effective healer for sprains, curbs, galls, splints, sore throat, coughs, swellings, soreness or inflammation in horses and cattle, Griffiths's Liniment has proved a real boon to—as good for the H. Ritchie & Co., ranchers in Vancouver, B.C., says: "We consider Griffiths's the best Liniment unequalled for horses. One of ours had a bad swelling on the left leg, which was as big as a pillow in an incredible size. We applied the liniment and in two days the swelling had left him. We have tried many liniments but have found nothing to equal it."

NOT CLOTHES ALONE.

IT TAKES MORE THAN THAT TO MAKE A SOLDIER.

So the Flippant Youth Learned When He Undertook to Pass for the Uniform of a Boy in Blue Home on a Furlough.

A young officer of one of the local companies is home on a furlough. Naturally he is the recipient of a great deal of attention. This comes not alone from his numerous friends, but from the general public, which still—although the novelty is wearing off—regards the returned soldiers with special eye. This applies with special force to the feminine public.

Well, his particular charm is a loud youth whose soul is filled with regret every time he thinks of his lost military opportunities. Nevertheless he chaffs his soldier friend unmercifully over what he calls cheap notoriety.

"I tell you," he said, "it's nothing but the uniform that they care for. It isn't the man by any means. If they devised a cornfield scarecrow in soldier clothes, you'd find pretty girls by the score throwing kisses at it across the rural fence."

"No," said the soldier stoutly, "you're wrong. It's a mixture of man and uniform. The man alone wouldn't be run after, and as for the empty uniform—well, there wouldn't be anything attractive in that either; but take the man and uniform together, and there you have it."

"Wouldn't any man do?" asked the sarcastic youth.

"No, he wouldn't," retorted the soldier. "It takes a man who looks as if he belonged in the clothes to draw the right sort of attention."

"Nonsense," said the chum. "Any old masculine would do, and I'll bet on it."

"How much?" queried the soldier.

"I'll bet you a spotted fall necktie that I can put on your uniform, go down town and attract the very same kind of attention that you do."

The soldier reflected a moment.

"It's a go," he said. "Try it this evening. Put on the clothes and let me know the result."

So the confident youth donned the natty suit and trimmed down his flowing mustache, and put on the jaunty cap.

"You make a very sweet looking warrior," said the real soldier.

"Don't I!" flippantly returned the youth as he gracefully touched his cap and pirouetted through the door.

With his shoulders squared and his cap pulled down over his eyes he started for the nearest car. He swung himself aboard and took a seat immediately in front of two pretty girls.

He noticed as he came in that everybody on board turned to look at him, and this filled his heart with delight. He sat bolt upright, wondering what the pretty girls would think of him. He didn't really expect to be kissed, but he was prepared for almost anything.

Pretty soon he realized that the girls were whispering about him.

A word or two came to him above the smooth roll of the car. His ears were strained to the utmost, and his hearing is abnormally excellent.

"Pretty, isn't he!" murmured one girl.

"Yes, quite too pretty," giggled the other.

"Just out of the bandbox," whispered the first girl.

"Or the moth bag," said the other girl.

"Why, Sylvia!" then a soft duet of giggles.

"Hasn't he a lovely complexion?"

"Hasn't he? Not a mite of tan."

"Perhaps he wears a veil."

"Why, Laura!" More giggles.

"Can't be a real soldier, can he?"

"No-o-o. The idea!"

"But the uniform?"

"Perhaps the real soldiers went away and forgot him."

Prolonged giggling.

"Oh, Laura, I've guessed it."

"Well, what is it?"

"He isn't a soldier."

"I guessed that."

"He's a recruiting officer!"

A few moments later the make believe soldier stopped the car and alighted. Then he walked back.

"Jim," he said as he flung the cap on the chiffonier, "you've won!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

American Ultimatum Regarding the Philippines.

TRADE DOOR WILL BE OPEN.

Important Announcement of the United States Commissioners at Paris—Particulars of the Important Memorandum—Canadian Railway Rate War Settled—Ceylon Joins Imperial Penny Postage.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The Spanish and American Peace Commissions met in joint session at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Americans declared the United States must have the entire Philippine archipelago, and, for a treaty cession of the islands, the Americans tendered to Spain $20,000,000.

It is further declared that it is the purpose of the United States to maintain the Philippine Islands as an "open door" to the world's commerce.

On the terms named, the United States proposes a mutual relinquishment of all claims for indemnity, national or personal, subsequent to the outbreak of the last Cuban insurrection.

Nov. 26 is fixed as the date on which the United States Commission desires a definite response to yesterday's propositions, and all other subjects in issue here.

It is also declared that the United States desire to treat of the religious freedom of the Caroline Islands, as agreed upon between the United States and Spain in 1886, and also of the acquisition of one of the Caroline Islands for an American naval station, and of cable landing rights at other places in Spanish jurisdiction, and the revival of certain Spanish-American treaties as heretofore.

The meeting was then adjourned until Wednesday.

Surprising Generosity.

London, Nov. 22.—The morning papers concede the generosity of the offers of the United States Peace Commissioners, and express the opinion that Spain would be foolish to reject them. They express universal gratification at the announcement of an "open door" policy in the Philippines.

The Daily Mail calls the offer of $20,000,000 as indemnity "a surprising act of generosity."

The papers generally take it for granted that the "open door" will be adopted in the West Indies also.

The Daily News says: "The United States have now become an Asiatic power, and Lord Salisbury clearly had reason to predict that the expansion of the United States would give Great Britain a valuable ally in the China seas."

TO PAY SPANISH SOLDIERS.

Capt.-General Blanco Gets Authority to Draw $2,000,000.

Havana, Nov. 22. — Captain-General Blanco has received from Paris a cable authorizing him to draw on Paris for $2,000,000 gold, to be applied in payment of the Spanish troops in Cuba. This amount is in addition to the proceeds of the draft for £425,000 sterling by the Madrid Government on London, which was sold here last week. The Spanish authorities are making strenuous efforts to complete the evacuation by the end of the year.

Martinique has been selected as the place of rendezvous of the Spanish navy for evacuation purposes. The Spanish auxiliary cruisers Patriota and Mascota, purchased in Germany before the outbreak of hostilities, are expected here on Dec. 15, and will convey the Spanish transports from Cuban ports to Martinique, from which point all will sail for Spain.

AGONCILLO IS ANGRY.

Thinks Filipinos Will Not Again Submit to Colonial Government.

London, Nov. 22. — Agoncillo, the agent of Aguinaldo, with his advisers, returned here from Paris yesterday. He is very indignant at the statements of Major-General Wesley Merritt, in reply to an arraignment of American officers made by the insurgent Junta to President McKinley and the American people. He is also angry at General Merritt's reference to the Filipinos as "children," and the general situation is displeasing to him.

Agoncillo does not think the Filipinos will again submit to the yoke of a colonial government, his instructions being to claim the recognition of their independence. When asked his opinion regarding the American proposal to buy the islands, he said the Filipino Government could not allow themselves to be bought and sold like merchandise, but, if the object of the moderate indemnity is that their recognition and peace be established, he thought the matter might be submitted to their consideration.

THE DREYFUS CASE.

A Russian Baron Who Was Imposed Upon by Somebody.

London, Nov. 22.—The Paris correspondent of the St. James' Gazette claims to have learned from an exceptionally well-informed source that the mysterious document in the Dreyfus case, on the strength of which successive Ministers of War have upheld the condemnation of Dreyfus, was a letter from Baron Freedericksz, Russian military attache in Paris. The letter is dated from Berlin and is addressed to the French military authorities. It said the soldier who was responsible for the military secrets was a certain Capt. Dreyfus.

Subsequently Baron Freedericksz ascertained that he had been grossly deceived by an agent of Esterhazy, or Col. Henri, who were anxious to fix the guilt of Dreyfus, in order to divert suspicion from themselves.

"I am informed," the correspondent says, "that Mme. Dreyfus is now in possession of a letter from Baron Freedericksz, which admits his error."

The existence of this letter influenced the Court of Cassation to make light of the evidence given by the four ex-Ministers of War, who testified to their belief in Dreyfus' guilt.

Rumors of a German Crisis.

London, Nov. 22.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says something of a sensation has been caused there by the announcement in leaded type in the semi-official North German Gazette that Dr. Von Miquel, Prussian Minister of Finance, instead of Prince Hohenlohe, the Chancellor, presided over the Cabinet Council held yesterday.

The Daily News correspondent says: The fact that Prince Hohenlohe is in the best of health and can be seen any day walking the streets, gives some color to the rumor of a Chancellor crisis.

IT IS SETTLED.

G.T.R. and C.P.R. Railway Rate War to End, and People Will Become Paying Bigger Fares.

London, Nov. 22.—(Toronto Globe Special).—Ceylon has signified her adherence to Imperial penny postage.

A private cable from Montreal to a London financial house states that the North Bay branch and local rate difficulties between the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Pacific are settled.

A TREATY ARRANGED.

France and Italy Have Entered Into Commercial Relations.

Paris, Nov. 22.—It was quite unexpectedly announced yesterday that a commercial treaty had been concluded between France and Italy, granting mutually favored treatment except for silk goods, which will remain subject to the maximum tariff. A bill embodying the agreement will be submitted immediately to the Chamber of Deputies.

The negotiations that have culminated in these arrangements have been on foot for two years, but nobody believed that a definite agreement was pending.

It is believed that the Fashoda affair was instrumental in inducing France to grant the necessary concessions, though it is noteworthy that the silk duties, which caused the breaking of the treaty in 1887, remain almost unchanged.

The negotiations have been conducted with the utmost secrecy. The exact effect of the concessions involved is not known as yet, but it is expected that they will have an important political influence for the removal of a long-standing friction between the two countries.

The treaty, it is noticed, was concluded during the absence of Emperor William from Germany, and there is much speculation regarding its probable result upon the European alliances.

Came as a Thunderclap.

London, Nov. 22.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily News says: "The conclusion of the Franco-Italian treaty came as a thunderclap. Looking to the hitherto strained relations between Paris and Rome, the treaty may be considered the important political event as regards Italy since the conclusion of the triple alliance."

HIS PLUCK SAVED LIVES.

Award of the Albert Medal to Brave Engineer Toman of the Foam.

London, Nov. 22.—The Albert medal, England's highest decoration for bravery exhibited otherwise than in war, was conferred by the Queen yesterday on Engineer Toman of the torpedo destroyer Foam, for an act of conspicuous devotion.

The high-pressure cylinder of the Foam burst on a speed trial. Toman instantly ordered all the rest of the staff from the engine room, which filled with scalding steam.

Then alone he took every precaution to prevent further damage from accident, confining the steam to the boilers.

Twice he tried to leave the engine room, but twice he was driven back by steam, being severely scalded. His hands were almost stripped to the bone.

But for his pluck loss of life must have occurred, as the broken engine would have driven a hole in the bottom of the craft.

A Welcome Promised.

London, Nov. 22.—In consequence of rumors that an American squadron of warships is to visit Portsmouth, the Mayor of that place has written to the United States Embassy promising to give the Americans a cordial welcome. Mr. Henry White, the United States Charge d'Affaires, has thanked the Mayor of Portsmouth.

An Important African Telegraph Line.

London, Nov. 22.—The Birmingham Post says an agreement has been arranged with the Congo Free State allowing the entry of an African trans-continental telegraph line along the western shores of Lakes Tanganyika and Albert Edward.

Strike at Yankee Sausages.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—The Kionische Zeitung this morning, in an article supposed to be inspired, advocates an absolute prohibition of the importation of sausages. This advice is aimed at the American market.

TERRIBLE TORTURES

Inflicted by Rheumatism on Young and Old.

How Mr. M. L. Hinchey, of Levis, P.Q., Vanquished the Monster—He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills, The Only Sure Cure.

Levis, P.Q., Nov. 21.—The climate of this province is such that Rheumatism is a very common disease.

Almost every family in the province suffers from its ravages. Young and old are victims.

Thousands of people are crippled for life by it.

A medicine that can cure Rheumatism is a God-send.

Experience has proved that liniments and oils are of no more value than is cold water rubbed on the cheek to cure toothache.

That rheumatism is due to diseased kidneys allowing poison to remain in the blood, instead of filtering it out, has been abundantly proved by the remarkable success of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which act solely on the Kidneys, and which have cured every case of Rheumatism for which they have been used.

A specimen case is that of Mr. M. L. Hinchey of this town.

Mr. Hinchey says: "I have for years been tortured with backache and rheumatism.

"My case was very severe and my suffering very great.

"I tried several kinds of medicine but they did me no good.

"I was induced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am happy to state that three boxes cured me fully and thoroughly."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured this severe case of rheumatism, they will certainly cure others.

Are you a sufferer from rheumatism?

If you are use a box or two of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They will certainly cure you.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at 50c a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

Disgusted.

Old Lady (to driver of growler)—Now, driver, I want you to go very carefully.

"Certainly, mum."

"And not go racing with other cabs."

"No, mum."

"And not go round the corners quickly."

"No, mum."

After the job the old lady, handing him the exact fare, a shilling, said: "You have driven me very carefully and well, and here is a shilling for you. Have you driven a cab all your life?"

"No, mum. I used to drive a hearse, and blest if I don't go back to it. It's a better game than this. I hope I'll drive yer again, mum."—London Fun.

Wheat Cables Easy and Chicago Futures Firmed From Early Weakness—The Latest Prices.

Monday Evening, Nov. 21.

Liverpool wheat futures were somewhat irregular to-day. The December option closed ¼d per cental lower than on Saturday, while the remoter options advanced. Paris wheat closed unchanged to 5 centimes higher for the day, with flour 15 centimes lower for November and 55 centimes higher for January and April.

Chicago wheat market opened easy this morning in sympathy with the cables, but firmed up later. This month's delivery closed 1⅜c higher than on Saturday; next month's delivery ⅛c higher, and the May option ⅛c higher for the day.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 2,196,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 201,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 257,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 45,232,000 bushels, against 42,474,000 bushels a week ago and 63,028,000 bushels a year ago.

Montreal Live Stock Market.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—There were about 600 head of butchers' cattle, 30 calves and 800 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End abattoir to-day. The butchers were out strong, and there was an active demand for anything pretty good in the beef department, but the thin cattle were rather numerous, and continue to bring low prices. Prices were decidedly higher than on last week's market for anything moderately good. The best cattle sold at about 4½c per lb., but they were not of extra quality; pretty good animals sold at from 3½c to 4c, and the common dry cows and thrifty young stock at from 2½c to 3c, while the leaner beasts brought about 2c per lb. Calves sold at from $2.50 to $9 each, or from 3c to 4½c per lb. Shippers were paying from 3c to 3¼c per lb. for good large sheep. Lambs sold at from 3¾c to 4½c per lb. Fat hogs continue to sell at about 4¼c per lb. off the cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, Nov. 21.—The total offerings were 183 loads, including 56 loads of Canada stockers. There was a fair proportion of export cattle and a good attendance of buyers, which raised the price about 10c. Good, handy, fat cattle were in good demand and 10c higher, but the under grades and slippery kinds were barely steady. The stocker trade was in an unsatisfactory condition, the quality being generally common.

Sheep and Lambs—The total offerings were about 90 loads, including 20 loads left over and six loads of Canada lambs. The demand was rather slow. The bulk of the early demand was for feeders, which sold better than the best butcher grades. Lambs, choice to extra, were quotable at $5 to $5.25; good to choice, $4.75 to $5; common to good, $4.50 to $4.75; feeders, $3 to $3.30. Sheep, choice to extra, $4 to $4.25; good to choice, $3.75 to $4; common to good, $3 to $3.50.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigourous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

Founder of the Red Cross.

Henri Dunant, the founder of the Red Cross Society, is now about 70 years old. He spent half his fortune in his great work and then lost the other half by business reverses. He was in absolute want, but has been pensioned by the Dowager Empress of Russia and the Federal Council of Switzerland. The citizens of Stuttgart have also raised a generous subscription for him.

Fun With the Darktown Swells.

The "Darktown Swells," a company of genuine Ethiopian fun-makers, opened their season of three nights last night to a full house, which enjoyed three straight hours of clean, rollicking fun. The curtain rose on a beautifully set stage and the entertainment put on was a splendid one of its kind, sparkling with fun, excellent singing, original dancing and exceptionally funny conceits. The vocal and dancing specialties were admirable and recalls of almost every number lengthened the programme—the audience did not seem able to get enough of it. Prof. Abt's stereopticon views illustrating Allan May's songs made a great hit.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN ENTENTE STRENGTHENED

UNDER TWO FLAGS BUT UNDER ONE SPIRIT.

Rev. Father Chidwick United States Naval Chaplain Entertained by the Officers of the Fifty-seventh Battalion.

It is well known Rev. Father Chidwick, Naval Chaplain of the United States battleship Cincinatti, who was also chaplain on board the Maine when it was blown up in Havana Harbor, has been in town for some days. Taking advantage of his presence the officers of the Fifty-seventh conceived the happy idea of extending the fraternal courtesies which the militant men of one friendly nation owe to another, and therefore entertained Rev. Father Chidwick at the officers quarters at the armories yesterday evening. In addition to the officers several prominent citizens were invited to enhance the compliment tendered to the visiting naval officer.

In the absence of Lieut.-Col. Bell, who was detained at the Court House, Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers presided.

Toasts suitable to the occasion were proposed and responded to. After the toast of the Queen the toast to the United States Navy was presented, both being very heartily honoured. The speakers, who were Rev. J. C. Davidson, Chaplain of the 57th, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Lt.-Col. Rogers and Lt.-Col. Bell, took occasion to make happy references to the new spirit of international amity that had, as all rejoiced in knowing, sprung up between the United States and the great mother of nations beyond the sea.

Rev. Father Chidwick, who is a graceful speaker, in the course of his remarks expressed his belief that one of the chief results of the recent war was to bring the United States and Great Britain into closer relations and to a better understanding than had existed in the past. He felt also that good would result from the extension to Cuba of good and stable government in place of the pratical anarchy that had harassed the Island in the past. Another result of the war was to place the United States en rapport with the other great powers besides making her a national factor in the great eastern question. The unfortunate accident to the Maine started a movement that would result in the promotion of the interests of civilization throughout the world.

During the evening, which was a most enjoyable one, Mr. G. R. Ventom contributed several songs and others of the company contributed songs and recitations including a capital one by Rev. Chaplain Davidson.

Before the happy company separated Lieut.-Col. Bell said he had consented to act as chairman on the occasion of Rev. Father Chidwick's lecture in the opera house on Friday evening next. He requested the officers of the 57th to honour the occasion and the lecturer by being present in uniform.

The little gathering, though entirely informal, was delightful to all present both hosts and guest being mutually delighted by a social interchange of amenities that add another strand to the tie of international understanding that exists between the two great nations represented on the occasion.

It is needless to say all our musical citizens and friends will await the coming of the Mozarts with eager anticipation. The plan for the concert will be opened on Monday, Nov. 28th. All subscribers will have first choice of seats. Subscription list is now open at T. Bradburn's office.

Peter Connal & Co

Desire to remove any and all misapprehensions that may have arisen recently from misleading statements concerning the cleaning of raisins and currants. The public have been told, as they have been often told before, of some new-fangled invention introduced to clean these fruits—just as if reliable grocers had been selling fruit that was not cleaned. No wonder that sensible people look with suspicion on such trade tactics. It is a well-known fact that Peter Connal & Co. have never sold anything else but absolutely the best brands of selected raisins and currants, which are never sold to customers without being scrupulously free from dirt and dust. Because of this, we have enjoyed a special class of trade from particular people, and have made many new customers, who have been induced to trade at our store, in many cases owing to the objectionable second-grade fruits offered them elsewhere. Undoubtedly cheap off-stalk fruits can be cleaned and freshened up by a certain process of manipulation to look as good as first-qualities. But this process, while it cleanses "the outside of the platter," at the same time washes away and robs it of the rich fruity flavor. The simple dressing of our fruits, or of any other first-class fruits, in clear water is all that is necessary, and no housekeeper will be reasonable to see her fruit without this additional washing; no matter how many machine processes they may have previously been treated to. We advise buyers to carefully examine the raisins and currants they buy; prune below the surface; appearances are often very deceiving. Our new "Maple Leaf" brand now in store for the holiday trade will continue to be received with confidence at the best tables. The speed of the pudding, in many cases, lies largely in the raisins. A MORNING'S RUNAWAY.

An Electric Car Frightens a Horse on George Street.

A horse driven by Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, of Lakefield, became frightened at an electric car on George street this morning and bolting into the ditch ran the buggy up against a small tree, which just bent over sufficiently to allow the buggy to be dragged over it and then upset.

The two ladies who were riding were both caught in the top of the vehicle and dragged through the mud for some distance before they got free. Fortunately no one was hurt, but the buggy was damaged considerably before the horse was stopped.

THE STELLA MUNCHION MATTER.

The Relations of the Children's Aid Society Made Plain.

At a meeting of the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society held in reference to the case of Stella Munchion the following was placed on record:—

"That whilst refraining from expressing any opinion with regard to the maltreatment or otherwise of the child by the Facey's, the Board of Management desire to draw attention to the fact that the Secretary and others during the past two years have taken the greatest trouble with this very difficult and truly lamentable case, and that as far as evidence was available at the time, there did not appear sufficient grounds for the removal of the child."

Don't forget the Forester's Concert on evening of Thanksgiving Day.

THE STOCK YARDS.

Those in Toronto are being Visited by a Local Deputation to-day.

The Mayor and Councillors J. M. White, C. B. Robertson and T. H. G. Donne went to Toronto this morning as a deputation to examine the stock yards in that city. Councillor Hamilton went to Toronto yesterday and will join the deputation on its arrival there.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy also went to the city with the delegation, and a meeting of the council is called for this evening to receive the report regarding the amount of stock handled, etc., and it is probable that some definite step will then be taken in regard to Mr. Kennedy's scheme of making this town the shipping point for the stock of the Midland District.

REV. FATHER CHIDWICK'S LECTURE.

Standing Room Only Expected on Friday Night.

As the date of Father Chidwick's lecture for the benefit of the poor approaches, indications point that the Opera House will be crowded. The lecturer will treat of the recent Spanish-American war, its causes and its results, and apart from the enormous interest this has for everyone, the fact that Father Chidwick was the Chaplain of the Maine, of whom so much has been said and written, and who was actually on board of that ill-fated vessel at the time of the explosion, his narrow escape from an awful and untimely death, and the expectation that he will doubtless treat of all this in his lecture, makes the occasion one of thrilling expectations. Already the seats are going rapidly and it would be well that those purposing to hear the gallant chaplain in the Opera House on next Friday should secure their tickets at once. Remember the proceeds are for the poor.

THE CORONER'S JURY WAS UNDECIDED

As to the Cause of Stella Munchion's Death.

THINK SHE WAS BADLY TREATED.

Over Four Hours' Deliberation was Necessary before a Verdict was Rendered on Monday Evening.

At the resumption of the inquest into the death of the late Stella Munchion yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Thompson continuing, stated to Mr. Wood that she had offered to take the child herself to bring up, but Mrs. Facey had not seemed willing to give it up at the time.

William Ernest Thompson, son of the last witness, stated that during the summer he had been at Facey's home several times. The Sunday before the child died he was there. The child was in bed. Mr. Facey stated that the child had blackened its face and was to be kept in bed until it got better. On another occasion witness had seen child when both cheeks and both eyes were blackened with bruises.

Albert Sage, aged 6 years, stated that he did not go to school or Sunday school. He knew Mrs. Facey and remembered Stella. One time when he went over for a bar of soap, Stella's eye was closed. Once Mrs. Facey had struck her with a stove wood stick over the hand. He was at home when his mother had cut the string off Stella's dress at the wrist. The arm was black and Stella said Mrs. Facey had struck her with a stick.

Hope Johnston stated that she lived about half a mile from the Facey's. She was at Facey's on the Monday before the child's death. As she went to the house the window blind of the child's room was pulled down. Mrs. Facey said she was just getting ready to go over to Mrs. Hayes. She said Stella was sleeping and was not fit to be seen. As soon as she would get better from one fall she would get another one. She would rather have a dozen cats and dogs in the house than the child. Witness had seen the little girl on three or four occasions but had never seen any marks upon her.

Nelson Sage stated that when the child first came to Facey's it was a bright little thing but appeared to become stupid becoming gradually morose. He had seen the child just four weeks ago.

To Mr. Stratton witness stated that the child became dull. It did not have the same energy. Its natural faculties were blurred.

Before allowing the jury to retire Coroner Bell took occasion to make a few remarks concerning the evidence which he stated did not bear out the assertions which the witnesses made to the County Crown Attorney before being put on oath. The jury retired shortly after four o'clock and after deliberating for over four hours brought in the following verdict at twenty minutes after eight:—

"That the said Stella Munchion came to her death on the 9th day of November, 1898, from a blow upon the head, but whether said blow was accidental or the result of unfair violence does not clearly show. This jury is however of the opinion that for several weeks prior to her death she suffered a considerable amount of ill treatment of a violent nature at the hands of her guardian, Mrs. Wm. Facey."

MR. SAM HAY WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT

OF THE THISTLE CURLERS FOR THE ENSUING SEASON.

The Annual Meeting was Held in the Rink Parlours Last Evening—The Largest Attendance Witnessed for Years.

The Thistle Curling Club met in annual conclave last evening at the rink. The attendance was the largest remembered for years, and the club was re-organized for the season under the most favourable auspices. The presence of a large number of the younger players and the interest they took in the business under discussion was one of the noticeable features of the meeting.

President R. H. Kells occupied the chair and the first business to occupy the attention of the members was the election of officers which resulted as follows:—

Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. C. McGill.
President—S. Ray.
Vice-President—J. S. Knapman.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. N. Brown.
Chaplain—Rev. S. J. Shorey.
Committee of Management—R. Kerr, D. Davidson and D. Belleghem.

Messrs. J. S. Knapman and Gus Hay were appointed scrutineers, and the election of skips resulted as follows:—Thos. Rutherford, R. H. Kells, W. G. Ferguson, Jas. Connal, S. Ray, D. Belleghem, D. Davidson and J. B. Pentland.

Mr President Kells advised the selection of Tankard skips in order that the rinks might be chosen early in the season and have an opportunity of practicing together as often as possible.

It was decided to select all the skips for the different competitors and the elections resulted as appended:

Ontario Tankard.—S. Ray and James Connal.

Dryden Cup.—S. Ray and W. G. Ferguson.

Lindsay, Peterborough Cup.—D. Davidson and T. Rutherford.

On motion it was decided that an effort be made to reduce the number of rinks in the Lindsay, Peterborough competition from six to four and that the Granites be waited upon, and the Lindsay club communicated with to this end.

In connection with the complaints made in reference to various matters by the Granite curlers, Mr. W. G. Ferguson, on behalf of the rink management, pointed out that last season an arrangement had been reached with the Granites for the erection of a room with a glass front at one rink, for onlookers at the games. The Granites were to pay one-third of the cost —$35.60—but the money had not been forthcoming from them, so the management had not carried out the suggestion. They were ready, however, to do so as soon as the two clubs paid over $25 each. Concerning the complaint that the rink was closed last season two weeks earlier than the other rinks in the vicinity, Mr. Ferguson contradicted the statement without any qualification. When the matter of lighting the rink was mentioned by the speaker as another cause of complaint by the Granites, a number of those present endorsed his statement that the members had never played on ice which was illuminated in a more satisfactory manner. The rinks in the district, as well as in Toronto were mentioned as not being as well lighted.

THE LIFE OF SAMSON.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson's Lecture to Men on Sunday Afternoon.

"The Life of Sampson" formed the topic of the address by Rev. E. V. Stevenson at St John's church Sunday afternoon. Modern criticism, the lecturer said had been somewhat divided in its conclusions as to the historic reality of this hero.

The incidents of his life are written in a chivalrous age, the age of Israel's romance.

But a general agreement among the critics seems to predominate, that, however much embellished by mythological tales, there is scarce a doubt of the existence of a man Samson of extraordinary powers, who turned his whole might against the headstrong enemies of his people.

Samson was raised up by God to fulfil a special mission as Judge of Israel.

His birth was of peculiar interest and, like John the Baptist, his consecration to the service of God was announced in advance of his birth.

However, the man thus set apart, brought his life to a conclusion highly in contrast to the forecast and promise of his early career.

One false step led to another and laid the mine for his utmost degradation, till finally on the knees of the shameless and intriguing Delilah he calls his secret and is forthwith handed over to the keeping of his enemies. In the prisons at Gaza he grinds corn for the soldiers who guard him, and in festival provides sport for a jeering audience.

In these particulars there is much resemblance to the Greek mythological hero, Hercules. But there is an evident living reality in the life of Samson which distinguishes it from all myth. One lesson only was deduced from this brief survey of Samson's career.

The melancholy picture of the disappointment of a man of promise. In time of inactivity evil passions rise within him and carry him captive. History repeats itself, and unfortunately Samson is not the only man who has proved a traitor to great capacity and promise; and we might take this fact from the experience of history alone, that if men wished to place themselves upon a sure road to ruin they had only to make up their minds that the fruits of sin are sweet, that evil appetites which sometimes assail are right, the dictates of a well-balanced nature. Only let control of passions slip from you and you may feel thoroughly satisfied with the completeness of your degredation.

PERSONAL.

Mr. H. J. Daubes and family, have returned to town for the winter.

Mrs. Hopkins and daughter, of Montreal, are the guests of Mrs. (Dr.) Moher, Hunter street.

Mr. James A. Dixon, of Otonabee, who has been ill since July last with lung trouble, is a trifle better, but is still in a very weak condition.

Mr. F. C. Colbeck, principal of the High School, Toronto Junction, and formerly of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute staff, is a candidate for a place on the Senate of Victoria University.

Mr. Harry Kelso of the local branch of the Bank of Comerce, who has been in the Nicholls' Hospital for the last few weeks, was able to be removed to his home in Belleville to-day.

The Port Hope Guide says:—Mr. John Adamson, who has been confined in the Peterborough Hospital for some time with a severe attack of sickness, has returned home convalescent. His friends will be pleased to hear of his recovery.

Mr. Chris. Graham was brought home from the Nicholls' Hospital to-day after spending about a month in a private ward of that institution. His many friends will be pleased to know that he has almost entirely recovered from the effects of the recent operation,

Mr. Arthur Ardagh, who has been connected with the Bank of Toronto here on relieving duty, during the summer, has been recalled to the head office at Toronto. It was hoped by local enthusiasts that Mr. Ardagh would have been allowed to remain and play hockey in Peterborough this winter, but arrangements to this end could not be made.

Mr. D. W. Little, who for the past few years has been in charge of the local office of the Singer Sewing Machine Co, has sent in his resignation, and to the regret of his friends, announces his intention of leaving Peterborough.

Mr. Herb. Walker, who for the past four years has conducted the business of the Gould Bicycle Co., of Brantford, in Peterborough, has been promoted to the managership of the Winnipeg branch. Mr. Milt Walker will go to Kingston, where a very fine building is now being fitted up for a district office. During their residence in town the Walker brothers have become very popular in Peterborough, and the hold which the Red Bird has obtained in this district is largely due to the efforts which they put forth to introduce it. Both will leave town with the warmest wishes attending them for their future success. Messrs. McPherson & Young are taking over the Red Bird agency.

HEROIC RESCUE RECOGNIZED.

MR. ARTHUR MITCHELL AWARDED THE MEDAL OF THE ROYAL HUMANE ASSOCIATION.

Handsome Recognition of his Bravery in the Rescue From Drowning of John Daynard—Sketch of the Circumstance of the Occasion.

The following letter from the president of the Royal Humane Association has been received by a gentleman who has interested himself in the matter:—

MY DEAR SIR,—The investigating governors have unanimously awarded the bronze medal of the association to Arthur Mitchell for his heroic conduct and persistent effort in rescuing John Daynard from drowning in the Otonabee river in July, 1897. I will thank you to act for the association in presenting the medal to the brave fellow in the most public manner you can, sending me a copy of the proceedings, which may appear in the press, for filing. It does not need any apology for asking you to help the association, as I regard you as one of our warm friends.

Yours sincerely,
ADAM BROWN,
President.

The circumstances of the heroic rescue, thus handsomely and honourably recognised are these: On the 25th of July, 1897, two men, one of whom was John Daynard, were paddling up the river. At a point about four miles from the town, the current was strong. Arthur Mitchell, accompanied by Sid Mitchell who, although of the same name, is not related, were sitting on the bank. Daynard made a false stroke of his paddle and the canoe was overturned, and both men were struggling in the water. Daynard's companion could swim, but after an ineffectual attempt to assist his comrade, struck out for the shore. Daynard being totally unable to swim, was in imminent—and without assistance—certain danger of drowning. At this time Arthur Mitchell, who is a slight man in comparison with Daynard, who was a much heavier and more powerful man, without reflecting on the danger or disparity of size, and seeing a life in danger, set out to the rescue in a canoe, but he no sooner reached Daynard than it was upset, and both canoes were floating down the river. Mitchell had a terrible task before him. Daynard a powerful man, was in a desperate mood, and it took, on Mitchell's part, the greatest care, apart from the great exertion involved, to avoid getting into the deadly grip, in the mood he was in at the time, of Daynard, for the latter deposed that had he once succeeded in getting a hold on Mitchell, both would have inevitably been drowned. It is to be remembered that there was no help to Mitchell available, the men on shore being unable to render any assistance, and both canoes were floating down the river, and the brave, plucky, cool-headed Mitchell was left alone to battle with the rapid current and the comparative giant, whose unreasoning struggles which threatened every moment to drag the rescuer down, formed a still greater impediment to rescue.

After a terrible and heroic struggle, Mitchell got Daynard to shore in an unconscious condition, and though he was naturally thoroughly exhausted himself, he retained his nerve and coolness to the last; thoughbeing unable from fatigue to do much himself, he directed the efforts that were successfully made to resuscitate Daynard.

Mr. Arthur Mitchell is a partner with his father in the barber shop business on Hunter street, and is, as is to be expected, as modest and retiring as he is brave.

The chief element worthy of special note in this rescue, and that so nobly earned the medal of the Humane Association and the unanimous approbation of the Board of Governors, is of course the deliberate rescue in the face of very grave personal risk of death by Mitchell, and the plucky persistence of his efforts. There is no doubt that had Daynard once got a grip upon Mitchell, both would have gone down.

The presentation of the medal will take place on the occasion of the lecture of Rev. Father Chidwick in the opera house on Friday night, and will be made by Rev. W. L. Armitage.

AN EXPERIENCE.

We needed the money, so where was the harm?
We knowed we could carry the debt.
We drawed up the papers an mortgaged the farm,
An bought what we'd wanted to get.
An it isn't the money the enterprise cost,
Whose memory rankles an stings,
But the brains we wore out an the time that we lost
Over debits an credits an things.

We agreed that economy was our main chance;
So we opened, with ardor intense,
A book that was ruled off to show at a glance
Each item of gain or expense.
We might have learnt dancin or grammar or Greek,
Or to play on the mandolin strings
In the time we kep' figgerin, week after week,
Over debits an credits an things.

These business transactions, they're simple at first,
But they're never jes' what you intend;
An there's no one seems able to tell you the worst,
Or when you'll arrive at the end.
It's no use to kick, though it does seem a shame,
Whose remembrance resentfully clings,
To pay half a dollar fur signin your name
To debits an credits an things.

My friend, you kin bet when we git out o' debt,
We will never git in any more;
But the future has comforts. It's pleasant to let
Our thoughts seek that beautiful shore
Where there's gold in the street, an wha' makes it complete
Is the fact that your wanderin wings,
Wherever they lead you won't cause you to meet
With debits an credits an things.
—Washington Star.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N.B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

Cyclists as Sportsmen.

The wheelman himself can hardly be held answerable for the death of a rabbit which bolted into his machine as it stood by the roadside and broke its neck, and there was contributory negligence, as the lawyers say, on the part of the cat which tried to go through the wheel of a passing bicycle and gave the rider a bad fall at the cost of its own life. Much more noteworthy than either of these was the achievement of a cyclist who while scorching along the road (he must have been scorching) ran into a covey of partridges and killed one, his wheel passing over its neck. The only way in which this curious accident can be explained is to suppose that the birds were "dusting" at a bend in the road, and that the cyclist's approach, concealed by the hedges, remained undetected till the enemy was literally among them.—Chambers' Journal.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

THE KAISER'S CHURCH.

The New Lutheran Church in the City of David.

The new Lutheran Church which was dedicated in Jerusalem by the Emperor of Germany is an outgrowth of a visit to the Holy City paid by the late Emperor when he was Crown Prince. That was in 1869, when Abdul Aziz was on the Turkish throne. That monarch presented to the Prince the site of an old crusade church, and thus was Lutheranism planted in Palestine. On the site given by the Turk to the German prince the new church has risen. It is said to have cost $300,000, raised by subscription, and it is further said that Emperor William himself subscribed the largest part of the money. The building is beautiful, and within and without it is symbolic of the crusades. There are massive marble portals, stucco work, immense vases, heroic figures in the ornamentation, and gorgeous cathedral windows.

THE NEW CHURCH DEDICATED IN PRESENCE OF EMPEROR WILLIAM.

The consecration ceremony at the Church of the Redeemer was attended with the greatest pomp. Huge crowds collected to witness the imperial cortege. The route was lined with Turkish troops and German sailors.

The Emperor, at the close of the ceremony of consecrating the Church of the Redeemer at Jerusalem, read an address, during which he said:

"From Jerusalem came the light in splendor from which the German nation became great and glorious, and what the Germanic peoples have become, they became under the banner of the cross, the emblem of self-sacrificing charity.

"As nearly 3,000 years ago, so to-day shall I ring out the cry, voicing my ardent hope, to all, 'Peace on Earth.'"

His Majesty then renewed the vow of his ancestors, saying: "I and my house will serve the Lord."

The Emperor then called upon all present to make the same vow, concluding with a prayer that "God grant that confidence in the Almighty, brotherly love, resignation in suffering and efficient work may remain the German nation's noblest ornament, and that the spirit of peace may more and more permeate and hallow the evangelical church."

ESQUIMAULT HARBOR.

The New British Naval Station in British Columbia.

Esquimault harbor, the new British naval station on the Pacific coast, is to be made an impregnable fortress, and will be, when completed, the Gibraltar of the Pacific. The accompanying illustration of Esquimault as it is to-day will soon be obsolete, for the British Government has just taken the whole place over, town and all, to turn it into the huge fortress it is to be. Next to Victoria, Esquimault ranks as the most important centre in the Island of Vancouver. A Greek in the service of Spain was the discoverer of the island in 1592, and in 1778 it was visited by Captain Cook. When Vancouver, on behalf of the British, took the island over from the Spanish Governor, Guadra, the name of the island was charted as Guadra and Vancouver; but the public dislikes long names, and made its own abbreviation. In 1849 the island was assigned to the Hudson Bay Company, but was rebought by the British Government in 1858.

One Cause of Headaches.

Too little blood in the brain is a frequent cause of headache, and may be recognized by the ache being on the top of the head, by constant dizziness and by noises in the ears. The best cure is a slight stimulant, such as strong tea or coffee or hot soup—anything that will increase the circulation. People who suffer with these headaches should always sleep with their heads low.

HE WON HIS BET.

But, Sad to Say, Was Out of Pocket by It.

Clark Proud and Tom Hinde are rival druggists at Oregon, but good friends for all that. They are inveterate jokers and are always trying to get off good ones. At this date Hinde is one lap ahead unless Proud has evened up.

Proud purchased a new derby hat a few days ago and Hinde noted the fact. When Proud walked by Hinde's store, Hinde stopped him and began admiring the new tile.

"Say, that's a peant," observed Hinde, carefully inspecting the hat.

"Of course," said Proud. "That's the only kind I wear."

"I used to know a good trick with a stiff hat," observed Hinde. "I could cut a piece out of the top of the hat and hand both around for inspection. Then I could say a few words, make a few mysterious passes and put the piece back so no one could tell that the hat had been mutilated."

"Oh, come off!" said Proud. "You never could."

"I'll bet a dollar I can do it right now," said Hinde.

"I'll take the bet," said Proud, and the shining dollars were soon in the hands of Jesse Fitts, who consented to act as stakeholder.

Hinde took his knife out and cut a large circular piece from the crown of Proud's hat. Hat and piece were passed around for inspection, and then Hinde took them to perform the trick. He placed the piece in the hole, muttered a few words, and then looked. But the piece was still out.

He tried it again without success, and Proud said:

"You can't do it, Tom. I've won the dollar."

"I guess you have," said Hinde. "I've forgotten the formula for this part of the trick. Take the money."

Just as Proud reached for the stakes he thought of something.

"Say, who's going to pay me for that hat?" he gasped.

"Darned if I know," said Hinde. "I didn't agree to do that. I pay my lost bet, and that's all I can do."—Omaha World-Herald.

Madge Got Things Twisted.

The pastor of a certain church in Sixteenth street on leaving his study, which is in the rear of the church, one day last week saw a little girl friend of his talking to a stranger.

"What was that man saying to you, Madge?" he asked as he came up to her.

"Oh," said she, "he just wanted to know if Dr. C. wasn't the preacher of this church."

"And what did you tell him?" asked the pastor.

The little girl drew herself up with an air of great pride.

"I told him," she answered, with dignity, "that you was the present incumbrance."—Washington Post.

"What is it?"

"Why, he's getting up a petition asking the navy department to award the prize money at the jubilee. Then he's going to have all the heroes of the war black up and compete in a grand national cake walk for the prize stakes! How's that?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NEAT JOB PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING DONE CHEAPLY AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

A man must reap as he sows. If he sows ill-health he will reap ill-health. If he neglects his health the weeds of disease will grow up and choke it.

It is a daily and hourly marvel that men will recklessly neglect their health, when a moment's thought should tell them that they are courting death. It lies in most every man's power to live to a green old age. If a man would only take the same care of himself that he does of his horse, or cow, or dog, he would enjoy good health. When a man owns a hundred-dollar horse, and it gets sick, he does not waste any time about doctoring him up. When his garden gets full of weeds, he doesn't delay about rooting them out, for he knows they will choke out his vegetables. When he is out of sorts, sick, nervous, headachey, has no appetite and is restless and sleepless at night, he pays little attention to it. The result is consumption, nervous prostration or some serious blood or skin disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for hard working men. It gives edge to the appetite, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections, weak lungs, bleeding from lungs and kindred affections. Do not wait until the lungs are too far wasted to admit of being cured.

"As you know, five years ago the doctors had given me up to die with consumption," writes Mr. E. G. McKinney, of Deepwater, Fayette Co., W. Va. "I took treatment from Dr. R. V. Pierce, and am entirely well now. I had taken steadily, as directed, his 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a dose.

A FACE.

And would you see my mistress' face?
It is a flowery garden place,
Where knots of beauties have such grace
That all is work and nowhere space.

It is a sweet, delicious morn,
Where day is breeding, never born
It is a meadow yet unshorn,
Which thousand flowers do adorn.

It is the heaven's bright reflex,
Weak eyes to dazzle and to vex.
It is th' idea of her sex,
Envy of whom doth worlds perplex.

It is a face of death that smiles,
Pleasing, though it kills the whiles.
Where death and love in pretty wiles
Blush other mutually beguiles.

It is fair beauty's freshest youth,
Reis the feign'd Elysium's truth,
The spring that winter'd hearts renew'th,
And this is that my soul pu..u'th.

—Thomas Campion, Seventeenth Century.

AT THE PLAY.

"How funny to be here with you!" said she.

He started. The phrase jarred him. It was at once inapplicable and undignified. He turned to her with a pained expression. "Delightful," "perfect," "entertaining"—he could have condoned expressions such as these, commonplace as they would undoubtedly have been. A man may be tender toward a woman's rhapsodies about her lover when that lover is himself. But—"funny!"

"Oh, oh, oh!" She clutched his arm. "What funny people!" The fatal adjective again! This time he winced, winced twice deliberately, lest she should mistake the first signal of distress as a mere physical infirmity.

She continued quickly:

"That reminds me—I don't know why it reminds me, but it does; force of habit perhaps, because he hates badly turned out women so—Don is up in town tonight. Did you know? I wonder if we shall come across him?"

"You mean Lord Kilmore's younger son?"

"You remember Don?"

Her glance, meeting his full, showed some surprise at his obvious ill temper. She put her hand out hurriedly, with a pretty, unaffected gesture of sympathy.

"Dear! You're not ill?"

Nothing irritates a man whose liver is out of order so much as being reminded of the fact. The deepening curves at Chinnock's mouth grew positively rigid with irritation.

"Of course not. Is anything ever the matter with me? How your imagination runs away with you—dearest!" The "dearest" was a dutiful concession to the situation; but, somehow, she shrank from it, her ardor chilled, the keenness of her enjoyment marred already.

"We have still ten minutes to wait before the curtain rises," he said. He suppressed his customary after dinner yawn. "What if I took the opportunity of explaining to you the motif of the play? It is a trifle complex."

"I would be kind of you," she said, with a little smile, but, notwithstanding, her eyes showed some disappointment as she scanned the house. She was longing to speak the sweet banalities to which most lovers find it pleasant to listen; to make her bright little comments and butterfly criticisms; to sip to its full the evening's cup of evanescent enjoyment; to be, in a word, herself—the creature of the moment, and his own.

She had looked forward to tonight—the first of her emancipation—with rapturous excitement. "It will be almost as good as being his wife," she had confided to the married sister under whose chaperonage she was spending the 24 hours in town, which broke her journey between her Gloucestershire visit and her travels farther north. "To have him all to myself for a whole evening! To feel that I really belong to him as he belongs to me! Can you imagine anything more perfect?"

Lady Guthrie could, easily, but she did not say so. She had only met Chinnock once, and he impressed her as a prig and a bore, and Margot's angry disclaimers could not alter her sister's opinion.

"You have to marry him, not I!" she said comfortably. "What does it matter what I think? He's well off, which is something. At least you can congratulate yourself so far. No one can patronize you. Your women friends won't be able to pass you on their unbecoming last year's clothing nor their husbands' stale tobacco."

"You're prejudiced," Margot replied. "All sisters are." Which in a sense was true, for Lady Guthrie's sympathy was openly enlisted on behalf of the scapegrace of the Kilmore family, young Don Garrick, who had adored Margot since she trespassed barefacedly and barefoot in the Kilmore deer forest as a little child. But Margot, having systematically dominated him for 18 years, already felt the pleasure might pall if long continued. "He has been so much to me all my life. It would be boring for him to become more still during the rest of it. I know him so well—too well," she said, in excuse for her cold heartedness. But at objections such as these Lady Guthrie shook her head in stern disclaimer.

"Wait," she said sagely, "wait." And Margot waited.

Tonight for the first time she saw something of the reverse side of her new picture, the canvas back. Was it disloyal to wish that Mr. Chinnock behaved more as one expects a lover to behave even in public, that he should show some sort of open pride of possession, of glad proprietorship? In the row immediately in front of them there was a gay, absorbed young couple, chatting, laughing, looking, smiling, reading their own tender meanings into the most trivial incidents of the evening. Margot watched them, fascinated in spite of herself. How differently they behaved from herself and her lover! The man leaned slightly forward—he "had got it badly," Don would have said. Every now and then his coat sleeve touched the little immovable white gloved hand next his and lingered for a moment caressingly. Margot's eyes grew tender, abstracted. It was so pretty, so natural. It woke her sympathy and gave her a pleasant little feeling of companionship. Almost unconsciously she herself moved a little closer.

"Are you attending? Margot, I don't believe you've heard a word I've said."

Margot started, her cheeks aflame, and turned to him in generous apology. "Dear, I'm so sorry. How dreadful of me. It's all so fresh and new and wonderful to me, you see. I'm a bit scatter brained. Such intelligence as I have is limited to only taking in one thing at a time. Tell me all about it again. I'll listen, truly. Do forgive me, Richard, please."

Her pleading broke down even Chinnock's indignation. But his shirt front looked extraordinarily stiff and starched and white; rather like polished marble, she thought, or was it only papier maché? And Margot moved instinctively a little farther from him as he continued:

"Foremost in the ranks of our latter day satirists James Lee Hoey stands unequaled. She it was who practically founded the new school. She stands alone. Her disciples imitate laboriously her brilliant dialogue, her scintillating epigram"—

"Her?" the girl repeated vaguely. "Her? Why do you speak of him as her? Surely he is a man."

"Do you mean"— he asked. "Is it possible that a living woman exists who does not recognise the supreme fact that this one of our greatest writers—I had almost said our one great writer—honored her sex by belonging to it?"

"I never realized that to belong to either sex was a question of one's own volition," Margot said quietly. "I did not know that James Lee Hoey was a woman, and, what is more, I'm not especially proud of the fact. I don't admire her. She is cynical and hard and morbid. I like Rhoda Broughton far, far better—I love her, in fact, she's so human and—Mrs. Hungerford, and dear Mrs. Clifford and Beatrice Harraden and heaps of others."

She choked a little in her excitement, trying to keep back her tears. It was all so trivial, but she had been petted and made much of all through her happy 18 years, her criticism asked, her opinion deferred to, and now— Repulsed, hurt, suffering, she shrank away from him. His kiss on greeting had been cold; his kiss on parting might reasonably be expected to be frigid.

She sat in outward quietude, her head averted, her thoughts tumultuous. If this was the beginning, what, oh, what would the end be? When the curtain rose at length, it was a relief, but the relief passed when it fell again. If an hour of him was so trying, what would a lifetime prove? At the second act he left her to have a cigarette in the foyer. She sat listlessly. What a fool she had been! What a mistake she had made! Was it irrevocable? One's people knew something after all; so much she must admit. She had thought him cultivated, charming. They had met on a northern visit, and he had been out deer stalking all day. At night he was too tired to prose overmuch, and his priggishness had passed for culture. Since their engagement they had met for the most part at big functions, and there it happened that until tonight they had really seen remarkably little of each other.

And what an awakening tonight had brought! She held her programme in her hand, looking at it with unseeing eyes. How blurred it was—how stained—how like her future life would be, lived out with him!

A shadow crossed the page. She looked up. A well remembered presence made itself felt.

"Margot! Crying!"

She sprang to her feet gladly, triumphantly, catching with her two hands at the firm, protecting fingers which gripped hers.

"Oh, Don," she said brokenly, "take me back! Please take me home before he comes again, dear. I can't stand him any more. Talk nonsense, Don. Tell me I'm 'ripping,' and 'a brick' and 'jolly,' in all the rest of the dear, delightful, slangy terms. And, oh, Don, if you love me, dear, make love to me, real love, for always! Don't ever, ever, be cultured or superior."

"If I love you!" he said.

And before the look of his eyes her own fell. But it did not matter, for he took her home.—Ladies' Field.

"Taste Orchestration."

"This so called new theory of color hearing isn't new at all," said a chap who takes an interest in curious things, "and the whole idea is very neatly embodied in the old story of the blind man who, after much reflection, told his wife that he had discovered what scarlet was like. 'It resembles the sound of a trumpet,' he said. The same theme was worked out years ago in an uncanny French novel that described a wealthy rone who exhausted every form of pleasure and finally retired to a secluded chateau, where he experimented upon the interrelation of the senses.

"Different liqueurs and cordials suggested certain musical instruments to his overwrought brain, and he constructed what he called a 'taste orchestrion.' It was a cabinet containing innumerable strange foreign drinks, and by passing with a wineglass from one tap to another he produced the effect of a symphony. How was that for a fantastic conception? I mention this book, which was written by a very distinguished French novelist, merely to show that the theory of making one sense do duty for another is by no means a modern scientific fad, but is something that has excited speculation for many, many years."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:—

My mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results, for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O.

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

Force of Habit.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, appraising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 06
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,560 00
Yearly Income for life of	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low borrowing rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

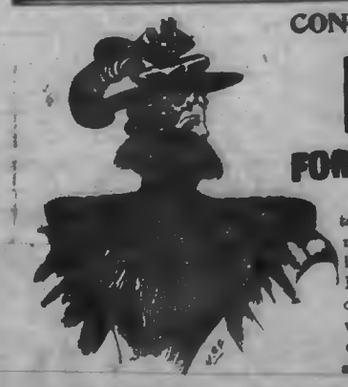
CONCERNING

FURS

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.



It's the first holiday of the season with the touch of colder weather that makes Fur so necessary. Furs like horses and diamonds must be bought either with knowledge or with trust. It is well then to buy where you can buy in confidence. In this store you are surrounded with all the precautions that years of training can suggest and have a perfect guarantee in addition.

A larger assortment of the kind of Furs you want has seldom been shown—Styles are Styles of to-day.

MANUFACTURING AT HOME has given a power to the matter of putting the prices as low as they can be pushed.

We claim no miracles of merchandising. Fur is Fur, but our prices are fair and reasonable and they are LOWER than other figures we have found on equal goods.

We have made special efforts in the line of SMALLER FURS and in the good and handsome, but not high-priced Furs. A few quotations would not be out of place, but style and the "put together" should be considered with prices :—

GREY LAMB RUFFS, $2.50 to $5.00; Gauntlets, $3.50 to $6.00; Muffs, $2.50 to $3.00. An assortment of cheaper Fur Ruffs, $1.00 up; extra choice Opossum at $4.00.

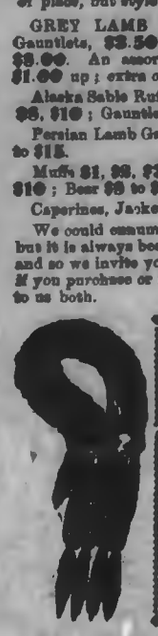
Alaska Sable Ruffs, good quality, $5, $6, $7, $8, $10; Gauntlets stand as low as $1.

Persian Lamb Gauntlets $7, $8 to $10; Seal $5 to $15.

Muffs $1, $2, $3; Sable Muffs $6, $7, $8 and $10; Bear $3 to $15.

Caperines, Jackets, Capes, etc.

We could enumerate among many other prices, but it is always best to see the Quality and Make and so we invite you in to take a look, no matter if you purchase or not, it will be pleasing we trust to us both.



In Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal Jackets and Fur-lined Cloaks we are offering very close prices and are turning out especially free-fitting and Stylish Garments.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Samuel Baker, of Lakefield, Passes Away at the Advanced Age of 86 Years.

The death of Mr. Samuel Baker, occurred on Sunday morning last, in Lakefield, at the advanced age of 86 years, after a short illness. His death was a surprise to many, and removes one of the county's oldest residents. Although so well up in years of beyond being troubled with rheumatism the deceased had comparatively good health. He will be sadly missed from his home, where his cheerful presence was always felt.

Mr. Baker was born in Thurstleton Parish, Devonshire, England, in the year 1813, and becoming possessed with a desire to try his fortunes in a new land he came over to Canada in 1842. His first stopping place was in Port Hope, and after living there a few years removed to Smith township. After working through the township a few years he finally settled on the 13th con. of Smith. In 1847 the deceased was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Northey, daughter of Mr. W. Northey, who came over in the same ship from the Old Country. The fruits of this union were five children, of whom one is dead, Mrs. Chas. McConkey. Those living are Mr. Wm. Baker of Lakefield; and Mrs. Silas McConkey, Mrs. W. A. McIlmoyle, and Mrs. N. G. Bell, of Smith.

Mr. Baker was one of the earliest settlers in Smith and endured many hardships at that early period which were cheerfully shared by his devoted help mate. About eleven years ago he removed to Lakefield, and lived there till the time of his death. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church of that place.

The remains were conveyed to their last resting place in the Lakefield Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, and were followed by a large number of friends and relatives. The pall bears were Messrs. G. Fitzgerald, John Isbister, John Ferguson, S. Montgomery, J. Campbell and J. Paul.

The bereaved wife and children have the sincere sympathy of the community in their loss.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial and took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now h well and happy woman." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded

MISS RUDKINS' STORE NEWS.

"Inflammation Of Values."

This is a disease that is spreading among down-town dry goods merchants. The cause is careless handling of the truth; which sooner or later recoils—boomerang-like—upon the too imaginative merchants.

The remedy, if taken in time, is to do a little more harping on the truth in quoting values of goods.

You'll never catch this little store advertising $1 Dress Goods for 29c, or $1.50 Walking Hats for 49c. The average woman is too well posted on values to impose on her good sense in that manner, and she also knows to give a wide berth to the store troubled with "Inflammation of Values

What we do advertise is that we have—

The best 50c Dress Goods for 50c.
The best 25c Hats for 25c.
The best 20c Hats for 20c.
The best 75c Kid Gloves for 75c.
The best 10c Plaid Tartan for 10c.
The best 40c Evening Dress Silks for 40c.
The best $2.75 Mantles for $2.75.

We know our Prices are right and stick to them every day of the week. Remnants don't worry us, old stock don't need pushing out, because we have none to push.

ANOTHER GOOD TURN

The British Heaping Favors on the United States.

A COALING STATION CEDED.

What Returns Will the United States Make for the Island of Socotra?—Lord Aberdeen Likes Us Very Well, and Says So at the Liverpool Banquet—Cable News.

London, Nov. 23.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says it is semi-officially announced here that negotiations are on foot between Great Britain and the United States, with a view of conceding to the latter a coaling station in the Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb, the straits uniting the Red Sea with the Indian Ocean. With this object in view, the Island of Socotra, in the Indian Ocean, 120 miles east of Cape Guardafui, the eastern extremity of Africa, is to be leased to the United States, who undertake to erect lighthouses east and west of the island, which must not be fortified.

It is further stipulated, the correspondent says, that only warships are to be allowed to coal there, so as not to injure the English coal trade at Aden and on Perim Island.

Tit for Tat.

London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Chronicle, referring to the despatch from its Vienna correspondent regarding the proposed lease of the Island of Socotra to the United States, says: "We are doing a great deal for America and everybody is glad of it. Naturally we hope she is going to do something for us."

THIS GIVES SATISFACTION.

London Papers Pleased at Philippine "Open Door" Prospects.

London, Nov. 23.—Most of the afternoon newspapers comment upon and express satisfaction at the "open door" intentions of the United States in the Philippine Islands.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: Whatever may happen in Porto Rico and eventually in the United States themselves, America's colonial policy in the Pacific is the "open door." It is a wise decision on every ground, in the interests of the prosperity of the Philippines themselves and as securing the good will of nations really friendly to America in the Pacific. The community of interests of the two English-speaking nations are thereby definitely assured.

Premature Rejoicing.

London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Chronicle this morning editorially criticizes the "premature rejoicing of the English press over the alleged policy of the open door in the Philippines," because, it says, "Washington can do nothing until Congress meets."

THE CASE OF CAPTAIN DREYFUS.

Petit Bleu Dossier to Be Joined With the Revision Proceedings.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The Figaro says the Court of Cassation has manifested a desire to join the Petit Bleu dossier with that of the revision proceedings. General Zurlinden has consequently decided to order the postponement of the court-martial of Col. Picquart, who will likely be transferred to the custody of the civil judicial authorities and may claim provisional release.

The Matin claims to know that the Court of Cassation regards the alleged confession of Dreyfus to Capt. Lebrun-Renault as a secondary question, which does not necessitate a special enquiry, and it is possible that Lebrun-Renault will not be called as a witness.

The Matin also says that the Prince of Monaco is about to entrust the Ministry of Finance of his principality to Major Forcinetti, formerly governor of the Cherche Midi Prison, who was dismissed from that position for expressing an opinion favorable to Dreyfus.

Galicians Enraged at a Modern Shylock Give Him a Short Shift.

Vienna, Nov. 23.—A few days ago a clerk named Ladislaus Klpdecki died at Sanok, in Galicia, leaving an aged mother and a 3-year-old daughter unprovided for. He also left a debt of $20 due to a usurer named Nathan Lieber.

As soon as he heard of his debtor's death Lieber obtained power to seize the contents of the house and thus secure the value of the money lent. He entered the room where the deceased was lying and removed all the furniture from the room. He even took the corpse from the bed and threw it on the ground, in order to be able to take the bed away. The wreaths laid around the dead were seized, and a valuable ring drawn off the dead man's finger.

Lieber's act so enraged the relatives and friends of the deceased that, after removing the corpse, they locked up the heartless usurer in the room, and, setting fire to the house, burned him alive.

Sultan Hates U.S.

London, Nov. 23.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: "The Sultan has ordered the closing of an orphanage at Zeitune, which shelters 60 homeless victims of the Armenian troubles. The institution is admirably managed by American missionaries, being chiefly supported by British charity. Mr. Oscar Traus, the United States Minister, and Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British Ambassador, are both intervening energetically.

Carlist Rising Imminent.

London, Nov. 23.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Biarritz says: "Prominent Carlists declare that a rising is imminent simultaneously in several towns where there is hope of military support, the idea being a sharp, short conflict, instead of prolonged and sporadic risings in the rural districts."

Railway Concession in China.

London, Nov. 23.—The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "An Anglo-Chinese railway syndicate has obtained an important concession for a railway from Canton to Cheng Tu, in the Province of Sse Chuen, crossing the Yang Tse Kiang, probably at Sui Fu, where it will join the projected extension of the Burmah Railway."

LORD ABERDEEN'S SPEECH.

His Lordship's References to the Dominion at the Liverpool Banquet—Canada and Her Policy.

Liverpool, Nov. 23. — The Earl of Aberdeen, the recent Governor-General of Canada, who, with the Countess of Aberdeen, arrived here yesterday from Quebec on the Dominion Line steamer Labrador, speaking in the evening at a banquet given in his honor, referred to the "keen gratification experienced by Lady Aberdeen and myself during our sojourn in Canada," adding that they felt that now they had "ties of lasting association with the Dominion."

Lord Aberdeen applauded "Canada's policy in turning toward England when the markets of the United States were closed to her."

After eulogising Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, he said: "The proximity of the United States is a great factor in Canadian affairs, and, therefore, we all rejoice in the tendency toward a good understanding and friendship between Great Britain and the United States—a tendency fully shared by Canada in her attitude toward the United States.

"I am sure we all welcome whatever will help the unity of the whole Anglo-Saxon race, and in this repect the commission now sitting in America has an important and significant bearing."

Referring to the French-Canadians, he applauded their devotion and loyalty, remarking that he was sure that, though they treasured their own traditions, they would do their duty if ever called upon.

In concluding his speech, which touched upon various Canadian matters, Lord Aberdeen said: "Canada is working out her own development and destiny for her own sake, but, in so doing, she is necessarily working also for the sake of the great empire of which she forms so splendid a portion."

30 YEARS IN PRISON.

An Italian, Convicted of Murder, Set Free on Real Assassin's Confession.

Rome, Nov. 23.—After having served 30 years at hard labor for a crime he did not commit Giovanni Pinna returned yesterday to Flumini Maggiore, the home of his youth. But few of the villagers recognized in the old broken-down graybeard the vigorous young man who, three decades ago, was convicted of the crime of murder. The real murderer, who was shielded by a band of brigands, confessed and surrendered himself to the authorities a few weeks ago.

Birthday Audience Has Fallen Through.

Pekin, Nov. 23.—The projected birthday audience of the Dowager Empress to the ladies of the diplomatic corps has fallen through, owing to the difficulties raised by the Chinese in regard to ceremonial matters. The Ministers of the foreign powers insisted that foreign interpreters should accompany the European ladies. To this the Chinese objected.

The health of the Emperor of China is said to be again causing grave anxiety to those about him. He is described as being unable to walk unassisted, and it is believed in well-informed circles that the end is near.

200 Arrests—Two Duels.

Buda Pest, Nov. 23.—Two duels have been arranged as the outcome of the scene in the Unterhaus, one between the Minister of the Interior, Desiderius von Perczel, and Herr Helle, a member of the Chamber. Disgraceful scenes were enacted at the University by the students, who poured hot water and turned a fire hose on a member of the police force, whose horse became unmanageable. Altogether 200 persons were arrested, but only a few were detained long in custody.

VALUATORS' REPORTS

Of the Value of the Sealing Fleet Before the Commission.

APPRAISALS WIDELY DIFFER.

Nevertheless It Is Expected That an Agreement Will Be Reached—The Appraisers Under Cross-Examination by Senator Fairbanks and Sir Louis Davies for Their Respective Sides.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Behring Sea question was the main topic before the Anglo-American Commission yesterday, when it resumed its sessions, after several days' recess. For the first time the two sides were prepared to exchange their estimates on the value of the Canadian sealing fleet, the purpose being to arrive at some fair valuation, and retire the fleet by purchase. The initial steps in this direction were taken while the Commission was at Quebec, since which time Captains H. T. Taylor, in behalf of the Canadians, and Thayer, in behalf of the Americans, have been making appraisals of the fleet. After several weeks at Victoria, where the sealers rendezvous, Messrs. Taylor and Thayer have arrived here, accompanied by Capt. Cox, who represents the sealers. The two appraisers made their reports to the respective sides, and these reports in turn were exchanged by the Commissioners, with a view to common ground of agreement. It is understood that both appraisals are considerably below what was expected, and, instead of running into millions, they do not exceed much over a half million. Under the circumstances strong hopes are expressed by members of the Commission that a sum may be agreed upon for the buying out of this industry and the final settlement of this long-pending and vexatious controversy. It is said, however, that there is still considerable difference between the appraisals of the Canadian and the American experts, which will have to be reconciled before an agreement is possible. After the joint meeting of the Commission, a special committee, consisting of Lord Herschell and Sir Louis Davies, Senator Fairbanks and ex-Secretary Foster, took up the Behring Sea estimates. Besides the written reports of the appraisers, the latter were called in person and examined regarding the sealing fleet.

At the afternoon session of the Behring Sea Committee, it was agreed that each side would place its appraiser on the stand, allowing him to be cross-examined by the other side as to the justice of his appraisal of the sealing fleet. The examinations proceeded throughout the day, Senator Fairbanks cross-examining for the American side and Sir Louis Davies for the Canadians. This will be continued to-day, and it is hoped thereby that errors may be detected and a balance struck between the two estimates.

THE NAPANEE TRIALS.

The Grand Jury Returns a True Bill Against the Prisoners—Holden Likely to Confess.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 23.—The bank burglary case was reached yesterday afternoon, but was not touched. This morning the selection of a jury will take place and will occupy the whole forenoon. Interest is intense.

True Bills Returned.

At 2 o'clock the grand jury, headed by the foreman, Anson B. Aylesworth, filed into the court room. The foreman handed some documents to the clerk of the court, who read as follows:

Queen v. Henry Holden and George H. Pare, burglary, true bill.

Queen v. William Hamilton Ponton and Robert Mackie, burglary, true bill.

The judge thanked the jury for their expedition, and sent them to the discharge of their additional duties.

Acting County Crown Attorney W. S. Herrington suggested at the instance of B. B. Osler, Q.C., that the case against Ponton and Mackie be not brought on till 4 o'clock.

This the judge assented to, and intimated that he thought the petit jury, when once empanelled, should be kept together, as this case was one of those that warranted that precaution.

The court then convened again for the hearing of the bank case at 4.30, but it was getting late and His Lordship said there would be nothing further done till this morning at 9.

There is something new in the bank case, and it comes as a surprise to many. At the preliminary investigation three months ago prisoner Holden refused to plead, and it was currently reported that when he was put on the stand he would knock Pare's story to slivers. It is now said that Holden will throw himself on the mercy of the court and tell a story corroborating Pare's in all its essential details.

Sheriff Hawley has arranged for quarters for the jury when it is empanelled. It will be lodged at the Campbell House, and a watch set over it night and day.

It has leaked out that the deliberations of the grand jury were not altogether harmonious. When it was first shut up there was a majority in favor of bringing in a true bill against Holden and Pare, but no bill against Mackie and Ponton. It was only by much argument on the part of those differing that a bare majority was obtained for true bills in both cases. This majority was afterwards in the customary way made unanimous. The foreman of the jury was one of the many that signed a requisition to the Government for a change of venue on the ground that twelve impartial men could not be found in this county.

The expert safe cracker has arrived. He is Arthur Caselle of the Renfrew Journal. He will not talk to reporters, but it is said he has opened many combination locks. He says: "It is possible to close a safe so that I couldn't open it for three weeks, but I could close it so that it could not be opened for three months."

There is no little speculation as to his alleged abilities, the bulk of the opinion being that "he can't do it."

W. H. Ponton is still free to go where he will. He will not be arrested till the court orders it, when his case is called.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Life is not all beer and skittles; that is to say, material enjoyments and amusements are not a summum bonum to be realised, and do not comprise all the elements of mercies and bounties for which we should be thankful. It has been the way to be thankful for the good that Providence furnishes as represented by a bountiful harvest, which is not unnatural nor improper, for a bountiful harvest stands for the sustenance of life, with all its opportunities of doing good in the world. Various points of view will suggest widely different reasons for thankfulness at this especial season. A Montreal journal, the Herald, struck with this idea, sent letters of inquiry to several prominent men, and the answers as to what we have to be thankful for, are as varied as the interests of those responding to the inquires. Archbishop Bruchesi would be thankful for his Holiness Pope Leo XIII, on account of his piety, his broad charity, his spirit of conciliation, and his attitude in regard to the union of the various churches of Christendom. Mayor Prefontaine, of Montreal, finds cause of thankfulness in the decrease of want among the poorer classes, and in the associated industrial and and commercial activity. Sir William Van Horne is thankful to the Dingley Tariff, which he regards as a blessing in disguise. Hon. A. S. Hardy, Premier of Ontario, thinks we have special cause to be thankful for the rapid growth and development in Canada of a spirit of pride in our country, of a higher and better Canadianism and, therefore, of patriotism. Rev. Principal Grant suggested gratitude for the character of the people of Canada, for a bracing climate increasing participation in the life of the Empire and freedom to think, speak and write as we like, bounded, of course, by by limits of law and courtesy. Charles M. Hayes, General Manager of the Grand Trunk, found cause of gratitude in increased railway earnings, as indicative of increased commercial prosperity. Hon. T. Greenway, Premier of Manitoba, thinks we should be thankful for peace, prosperity, our form of government, our institutions and for being a part of the grand old Empire. J. W. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, thinks we should feel gratitude for abundant harvests, peace, political liberty and favourable social conditions. Dr. Peterson, Principal of McGill University, says we should be thankful for our educational privileges, and Mr. Cratharn, president of the Montreal Board of Trade, rejoices in thankfulness because the finance and commerce of the country were never on a sounder basis.

And so on through a score more of opinions of a score more of men. It is to be noticed that in the foregoing the calling and interests of the man speaking give colour to the tone of his reply. Thus can all Canadians find in their own lives and circumstances the most prominent blessings to be grateful for, so that the mass of the opinions of the people would inclusively represent the conditions of gratitude of the country as a whole. We can see that [illegible] we have occasion to be [illegible] the blessings of fruitful soil [illegible] pursuit of [illegible] in peace. [illegible] and tags [illegible] quiet and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE DAWSON FIRE.

Faith Fenton Places the Loss at $100,000—All Mail Matter and Food Supply Safe.

Dawson City, Oct. 20.—(Via Victoria, Nov. 21, and Toronto (Globe Special). Nov. 23.)—A fire broke out in the town centre at 6 o'clock on the morning of October 14. The bugles at Fort Herchemer sounded an emergency alarm. The fire began in a saloon on Main street. With no fire appliances and an insufficient water supply, the flames in the light shell-wooden building spread rapidly. The Mounted Police and military force worked hard tearing down the building. A pail brigade was organized, but was unable to confine the flames. The entire block was burned, including the post office. The fire leaped across the street and burned half a block of small stores on the water front. The total loss is about 40 places of business and cabins. A moderate estimate places the loss at a hundred thousand dollars. Fortunately the wind dropped, otherwise the entire town would have gone. The fire engine, bought for the city, but not set up, was hastily unpacked and at work in two hours, but the fire was already well under control. One acre of ground in the centre of the town was laid waste. All the mail matter was saved, and the food supply is safe, since no big warehouses were burnt. No lives were lost, but several narrow escapes are reported, and one or two were slightly injured. Commissioner Ogilvie will at once organize a fire department, pending city incorporation.

A strike is reported in Scoggie Creek, a tributary of Stewart River, 25 miles up, the dirt yielding three dollars to the pan, also a strike on Thistle Creek, above Stewart River, running one dollar and a half to the pan. These are well-authenticated. Stewart River is about 70 miles up the Yukon from Dawson.

Judge Dugas and Postmaster Hartmann arrived to-day. They will give much needed assistance to Commissioner Ogilvie.

The weather is clear and mild, with a light snowfall.—Faith Fenton.

A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dowson, of Toronto, Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto Nov. 21—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dowson, of 640 Gerrard street, east, who has been restored to vigorous health by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dowson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians, without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dowson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

DEATH OF COL. PANET.

The Deputy Minister of Militia Passes Away at a Comparatively Early Age—His Career.

Ottawa, Nov. 23. — Colonel Panet, Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence, died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock after a few days' illness. He was 68 years of age.

Colonel Charles Eugene Panet was the son of the late Hon. Philip Panet, who was a judge of the Court of Queen's Bench of Lower Canada. His grandfather, Hon. J. A. Panet, was the first Speaker in the Legislature of Lower Canada.

Colonel Panet was born in Quebec, Nov. 17, 1830. He received his education at the seminary there and at the Jesuit College, Georgetown, D.C. In 1854 he was called to the bar, and he practiced his profession in his native city. Later he held for fourteen years the office of coroner for the city and district of Quebec.

He graduated from the Military School of Quebec, and he held a first-class certificate from the Volunteer Board of Examiners. He was for many years in command of the 9th Battalion Voltigeurs de Quebec. During the Fenian troubles of 1866 he was in command of the seventh military district, and he rendered important services at headquarters during the Northwest rebellion of 1885, and received the promotion of colonel and an acknowledgment in April, 1886.

He was called to the Senate by Lord Dufferin in 1874, and he remained a member of that body until appointed Deputy Minister of Militia and Defence in February, 1875.

Col. Panet was in politics a Liberal and in religion a Roman Catholic. He married three times. His son, Alphonse Eugene, graduated from the Royal Military College, Kingston, in 1888, and in the same year was gazetted to a lieutenantcy in the Royal Engineers. He is now serving in India. Another son, Henri Alex., graduated from the Royal Military College in 1891, and is now a captain in the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 23.—B. L. Ackermann, President of the Keely Motor Company, arrived here from New York yesterday in response to a telegram from Mrs. Keely. He said in the afternoon: "Mr. Keely's secret did not die with him. On my arrival at Mrs. Keely's home I found her so prostrated that she was unable to more than state that Mr. Keely had left in her possession a manuscript of 2,000 pages, which explains the whole system and the work it has done."

WEAK OPENING, LATE ADVANCE.

The Wheat Markets at Liverpool and Chicago Affected by Visible and Export Demand—Prices.

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 22.

Liverpool wheat was irregular to-day. Wheat for this month's delivery was ¼d to 1d higher than yesterday, and the December option closed ½d per cental higher for the day. Remote options, however, eased off. Paris wheat closed unchanged to 15 centimes higher for the day, with flour off 15 to 40 centimes.

The indifferent cables, the large Northwest receipts and Bradstreet's figures regarding the world's visible, caused a weakness in Chicago wheat this morning. Later the good foreign and domestic buying and an advance in cash wheat in the Northwest, gave the market an upturn. Futures closed nearly a cent a bushel higher than yesterday.

The Best Evidence.

The strongest proof that the Crescent Brand Currants and Raisins are the best is the fact that our competitors admit it and try to compare their fruit to it, but none equals the Crescent Brand, sold only by E. A KENNEL CLUB NOW ORGANIZED.

Mr. C. B. McAllister was Elected President.

PROSPECTS FOR A BENCH SHOW.

The Inaugural Meeting Proved to be a Great Success — Representative Professional and Business Men Interested in the Movement.

A Kennel Club was organized last evening at a public meeting held in the council chamber, under the most favourable auspices, the attendance being of a nature to prove most encouraging to the enthusiasts.

The inclemency of the weather was undoubtedly responsible for keeping a large number away, who would otherwise have been present, but the many assurances which were received by the promoters during the last few days, from the most representative professional and business men of the town, stamp the venture as a success from the offset, the membership roll already including Messrs G W Hatton, R A Morrow, R E Wood, A F MacNee, C James, R M Dennistoun, Elric White, W J Thompson, W H Moore, R J Fife, W E Lech, R M Glover, D J Lundy, C B McAllister, Thos Barnett, A H Stratton, Geo N Graham, Geo Pratley, Dr Bradd, Dr King, Rev E V Stevenson, Rev V Clementi, R Stevenson, W H Robertson, W Salisbury, A Melville, Albert Talbot, Peter Campbell, A W Spence, Jos Armstrong, Alex Gibson, R M Roy, Lt Col H O Rogers, Geo Giroux, A E Mosely, D H Burritt, T E Bradburn, T A Hay, W J Sims, C N Brown, W B Bamford, Dr Burnham, J Coyle Brown, Thos Warren, F J Jameson, J J Turner, Jr, W D Parker, W Crossley, W Ackerman, J H Roper, J W Fitzgerald, R Kerr, Geo Ames, Fred Dixon, Kelsie Hall, B B Poole, V S, and Alf Terrill.

KENNEL CLUB ORGANIZED.

At last evenings meeting Mr. T. E. Bradburn, on motion, took the chair and Mr. Alf Terrill was asked to act as secretary pro tem.

Dr. Poole was invited by the chairman to state the objects for which the Kennel Club was being formed and stated that the encouragement of the breeding of good dogs was one of the principal aims of such an association but the prime object would be that of making arrangements for the holding of annual bench shows. If a hundred members could be secured for the club he thought that a successful show could be held.

The matter of the deficiency last year and the cause for it was explained by Mr. Terrill in a manner which satisfied the members that under proper management a club with a membership of one hundred could hardly run any risk in holding an exhibition.

Mr. C. B. McAllister spoke of the enthusiasm which had recently been awakened in town in respect to dogs and predicted a successful bench show.

On motion of Dr. Poole and Mr. James Head it was resolved,—"That this meeting hereby resolve itself into the Peterborough Kennel Club, with the object of increasing the local interest taken in thoroughbred dogs and encouraging their breeding as much as possible."

The motion was carried unanimously.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, resulting as appended:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. Jas. Kendry, M.P., and Mrs. Kendry.
Hon. President—Rev. V. Clementi.
President—Mr. C. B. McAllister.
1st Vice-President—Dr. Burnham.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. G. W. Hatton.
Sec.-Treas—Mr. Alf. Terrill.

Executive Committee—Dr Poole, (chairman), and Messrs D J Lundy, R M Dennistoun, R A Morrow, A H Stratton, Peter Campbell, W J Sims, W B Bamford, R Kerr, T E Bradburn, W H Moore and Dr King.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. Peter Campbell, "that it is the sense of this meeting that a Bench Show be held, on a date to be arranged, providing that one hundred members can be secured for the Kennel Club."—Carried.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Jas. Head, Messrs. Poole and Terrill were appointed a committe to increase the membership of the club to 100 members if possible.

The meeting adjourned until Monday evening next, when, if the membership committee's report is favourable, arrangements will be immediately made for the holding of a bench show.

Close to the Squash Contest.

To-night at 6 o'clock the Spot Cash Grocery Co's interesting squash contest will close. The judges who are to officiate at the cutting of the squash and counting of the seeds, will be composed of a representative from each of the three local newspapers in town, who are to meet this evening at the Spot Cash Grocery, at 8 o'clock, and see that fair play is done to the three thousand and odd guessers.

Concert of the Season.

The subscription list for the Boston Symphoney Club which appears at Bradburn's opera house Thursday evening, December 1st, is now open at 320 George street. The plan of seats will be open Monday, when subscribers will have first choice of seats. Read what an exchange says:—"Otto Lund, the Solo Violinist, proved himself a masterly performer on that king of all instruments, and played the most difficult passages with remarkable ease. Mr. Lund is certainly a violinist of the first rank." Prices, reserved seats 75c., general admission 50c.

Treading on Dangerous Ground.

Many a good fight has been lost through the hotheadedness of those who speak before they think. The man who "flies off the handle" when things go against him will always play a poor second fiddle to him who can smile as he rakes in the other fellow's chips. There's a lack of good business tactics in the merchant who strongly endorses the Crescent Brand of raisins and currants one day, and the very next deliberately advertises them as an "inferior brand." This is not only foolish, hasty and ill-tempered, but it is treading on dangerous ground. If he is asked to prove his statements respecting the Crescent Brand he may not time to cool off. Happy the man who has his tongue well bridled. The Crescent Brand of raisins and currants are the finest fruit that can be procured. If it was not so Mason & Co. would not be selling such large quantities of them. They are washed, steamed and dried by a new process, which any intelligent housekeeper can see and judge for themselves. Not only improves the fruit but saves them much time and labour. dw E. F. MASON & Co.

THE CUT RATE FIGHT COLLAPSES

Rates to be Restored on Monday Next November 28th.

The telegram of instruction reads:

"You may advise the public as follows:—The C.P.R. and G.T.R. having come to an understanding on the present rate controversy. The rates will be restored on Nov. 28th.

Negotiations are under way to allow the C. P. R. the use of the G. T. R. line to North Bay for business to and from the Northwest, and it is expected that the arrangement will be in effect in a few days.

THIS MORNING'S FIRE.

A Residence on West Sherbrooke Street Destroyed by Fire.

At about three o'clock this morning a two story roughcast dwelling on West Sherbrooke street, occupied by Mr. Andrew Webb and owned by Charles James, took fire and was entirely gutted.

The fire originated near the chimney and is thought to have been caused by some defect there. The smoke in the house aroused Mr. Webb, who, on running outside, found the roof breaking into flame. The fire alarm box was broken at the corner and in order to arouse the brigade Joe Rush had to run all the way to the Fire Hall.

The building was insured in the Guardian for $600 and the contents for $450 in the London and Lancashire, through Cox & Davis.

HAMILTON'S "THISTLE" BRAND.

Quality Talks But Never Cackles.

There are some people, fortunately the number is small, who think it smart to take advantage of the mistake of their competitors. The Review of the 22nd just made a mistake in our advertisement in printing the name of our "Thistle" brand of currants and raisins, by substituting the word "Crescent" brand instead. The error was corrected next day, although it was scarcely necessary, as the "Thistle" brand has been too largely endorsed to run any danger of being classed with the "Crescent." Buy the "Thistle" brand of raisens and currants and then you have the best that can be got. Quality talks and W. H. Hamilton & Co. has a window that talks, tells for itself the superior points of this brand of fruit over others.

REV. FATHER CHIDWICK'S LECTURE.

The Prominent Event of the Season.

United States Naval Chaplain Chidwick's lecture in the opera house on Friday night of this week for the benefit of the poor, will certainly be the event of the season. The arrangements are perfect. The lecture will be under the distinguished patronage of Lt.-Col. Bell and the officers of the 57th Battalion, who will attend in uniform. The Battalion Band will also be in attendance and will render several selections under the direction of their new leader. Several prominent gentlemen will occupy seats on the platform. The tickets are selling rapidly and altogether the affair promises to be the most important public function of the year. About everybody will be present. 3d

THE MEAT WEIGHING BYLAW IS AMENDED.

THE WEIGHING LEFT OPTIONAL WITH THE PURCHASER.

A Vexatious Clause Amended—Farmers Can now Visit the Market Under Better Conditions.

At a special meeting of the council last night the following members were present; Mayor Davis in the chair, and Councillors W. H. White, J. M. White, J. B. McWilliams, Langford, Robertson and Deane.

After routine

The Mayor said the meeting was called to consider the meat weighing clause of the market bylaw, which was working very unsatisfactorily. Mr. Baptie, the market lessee, had agreed to the repeal of the clause in consideration of $100, and a bylaw was ready to repeal the objectionable clause.

Mr. Robertson introduced a bylaw to further amend the market bylaw, which provided for the repeal of clause seven, which required the weighing of all meats for sale on the market, and substituted therefore the following:

All meat sold or offered and exposed for sale by the quarter or larger quantity and all other market goods sold by weight shall, in case the purchaser shall so require, be weighed upon the market scales of the town, and the fees provided for in this bylaw shall be paid by the seller, and the market clerk or his assistant shall give the person who buys any article to be weighed a ticket with the gross and net weight thereon, with the date and hour of the day, description of the articles weighed, and the name of the person for whom the weighing is done.

The bylaw was duly passed and signed, and the agreement with Mr. Baptie implemented. The bylaw went into force at this morning's market.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

The Corbett-Sharkey fight took place last night before the Lenox Athletic Club in New York. Corbett losing the match on a technicality, which is openly stated to have been pre-arranged. All bets were declared off.

Round 1—The men fiddled for several seconds, and Jim made a left lead for the head. Tom responded with left and right in the same spot. Corbett led again, Tom responding with a left swing for the head, which landed. Sharkey ripped in left and right for the body with some effect. He kept forcing Jim into the various corners, punching with right and left on the body, which seemed to be his objective point. Jim feinted and tried to draw his man on. Sharkey was always ready with his left jab and right swing, which invariably landed on body. Corbett failed to show any of the great cleverness with which he has been credited. The round ended with Sharkey at his man.

Round 2—Corbett landed with the left lightly. Then there was an exchange with lefts and rights on the head, in which Sharkey showed to advantage. Jim kept trying to push his left mit into Tom's face, and the sailor would come right back with a swing on the body. He was inclined to be a trifle wild, and was frequently cautioned by O'Rourke, his chief second. Tom put over a straight right on Jim's nose, which brought the blood to that member. Sharkey put in a right hand smash on the jaw which sent Corbett down. He attempted to repeat the dose but was foiled, as Jim clinched. The round closed with Tom all over his man.

Round 3—Corbett led with his right for the body, landing. Sharkey responded in kind. Jim reached the body several times, but Tom came right back with lefts for the head. A right on the body staggered Jim. Sharkey whipped over a tremendous right hand smash on the jaw. The sailor's leads were ineffective, his counters being the blows which cut the figure. Corbett kept jabbing lightly for the head, and Sharkey came right back at him with right smashes on the wind.

Round 4—The sailor was right after his man, and essayed lefts and rights for the head, landing each time. Corbett clinched and acted entirely on the defensive. Corbett led left for the head, landing on the neck, and Sharkey sent back a hard right on the body. Corbett began then to do some punching, and jabbed his man at will, but at long range, but Tom always had a counter ready. Corbett repeatedly led his left and damaged Sharkey's face considerably. The sailor chased his opponent into the latter's corner, and received a series of jabs for his action.

Round 5—Corbett started right off with a left jab on the face, and was apparently attempting to fool with his man. Sharkey, however, was not in a playful mood, and brought his right hand over with force enough to make Jim wince. Jim hooked his left rather low on Tom's body, and lifted Sharkey off his feet with his shoulder. Corbett appeared to be a trifle weary and his blows lacked steam, whereas there was a world of force behind Sharkey's punches.

Round 6—Corbett led for the head with his left, landing, but Sharkey was right after him like a whirlwind. Tom started in to mix it up, and whipped in some corkers on the body. Corbett retaliated with light jabs on the face, and fairly forceful blows on the body. Midway through the round there was a rattling mix-up, both exchanging lefts and rights on the head and body, with the sailor having a shade the better of it. There were cries of foul when Corbett hit his man in a breakaway, which the referee had not called. The men were clinched at the bell, after participating in a very fast mix-up.

Round 7—Sharkey ran across the ring and planted left and right on the head. Corbett clinched. Corbett acted on the defensive, and seemed unable to withstand Sharkey's rushes. The latter whipped in a beautiful hook on the wind, and followed it up with a right on the jaw. The sailor kept doing all the work, and was always ready to mix it up on the slightest provocation. He alternately threw over left and right on head and body, occasionally changing left hooks on the wind, which were slowly, but surely, attending to Corbett's case. It was Sharkey's fight so far. The pace was terrific.

Round 8—Sharkey was first to lead, landing a left chop on the neck. They clinched frequently, and the referee was kept busy separating them. Tom tried a left chop blow, which fell short, and Jim jabbed his left hard on the nose. Sharkey sent a right straight to the face, which made Jim's head rock, but Jim was ready with a left hook, which grazed Sharkey's ear. Both men fought fast, clinching repeatedly. Jim hooked his right hard on Tom's jaw, half dazing him. He quickly recuperated and went back at his man hammer and tongs.

Round 9—Corbett landed with his left, Tom going right back at the same moment. Clinches were frequent, and the men refused to break together. Corbett struck Tom rather low on the body, and the sailor appealed to the referee. Corbett shoved Tom from him, and said: "Oh, you go away." The men were in the center of the ring, mixing it up in the liveliest manner, O'Rourke calling to Tom not to mind Corbett's low hitting. Just at this moment, for some unaccountable reason, McVey, one of Corbett's seconds, jumped through the ropes, protesting that Sharkey had done something wrong to Corbett. The moment McVey climbed through the ropes Police Inspector McLaughlin grabbed hold of him, while the crowd frantically yelled: "Foul! foul! Corbett loses. Look at his second in the ring!' Referee Kelly seemed to pay no attention to the matter, but kept looking at the fighters, who continued their aggressive work. McVey tried to pull away from the inspector, while the spectators kept yelling at the referee, who finally separated the fighters and ordered them to their corners. Corbett seemed not to understand why the referee should interfere, but Kelly was obdurate and stopped the fight. Meanwhile the spectators stood up and yelled that bets should be declared off, as they believed McVey committed the breach of ring rules intentionally. It looked as if a fight would ensue, but as soon as the referee declared Sharkey the winner, on a technicality, he announced all bets were off, stating that McVey's action was undoubtedly pre-arranged. As soon as this announcement was made, the spectators resumed their seats and awaited the departure of the men from the ring.

Desire to remove any and all misapprehensions that may have arisen recently from misleading statements concerning the cleaning of raisins and currants. The public have been told, as they have been often told before, of some new-fangled invention introduced to clean these fruits—just as if reliable grocers had been selling fruit that was not cleaned. No wonder that sensible people look with suspicion on such trade tactics. It is a well-known fact that Peter Connal & Co. have never sold anything else but absolutely the best brands of selected raisins and currants, and never sold to their customers without being scrupulously free from dirt and dust. Because of this, we have enjoyed a special class of trade from particular people, and have made many new customers, who have been influenced to trade at our store, in many cases owing to the objectionable second-grade fruits offered them elsewhere. Undoubtedly cheap off-stalk fruits can be cleaned and freshened up by a severe process of manipulation to look as good as first-qualities. But this process, while it cleanses "the outside of the platter," at the same time washes away and robs it of the rich fruity flavor. The simple dressing of first-class fruits in clear water is all that is necessary, and no housekeeper will be content to see her fruit without this additional washing, no matter how many machine-processes they may have perviously been treated to. We advise buyers to carefully examine the raisins and currants they buy; probe below the surface; appearances are often very deceiving. Our new "Maple Leaf" brand now in store for the holiday trade will continue to be received with confidence at the best tables. The proof of the pudding, in our case, has been the asking for more. AGAIN THE KENNEDY STOCK YARDS MATTER.

THRESHED OUT IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE COUNCIL.

Informal Report of the Toronto Deputation — Objections and Petitions Presented by South Ward Residents - No Conclusion Arrived at.

The council went into committee of the whole last night with Mr. McWilliams in the chair, to consider the question of the proposed establishment of the H. P. Kennedy stock yards, a deputation having visited the Toronto stock yards the previous day.

Some citizens in the vicinity of the proposed local stock yards were present, and were heard.

Mr. Walter Evans protested against the establishment of the proposed stock yards. He had the work of a life time invested in property in the close vicinity, which would be ruinously depreciated in value if the new yards were permitted. These yards would constitute a great nuisance and a great injury to himself.

Mr. T. McGrath spoke in the same strain, and he agreed with Mr. Evans in every word he had stated. He might, however, have also asked any councillor how he would feel if it was proposed to place such a stock yard within a hundred feet of his residence.

In answer to Mr. McWilliams, Mr. McGrath stated he had purchased his property from the town by virtue representations that the establishment of manufactories in the vicinity, which would not be possible if these cattle yards were established in the quarter proposed, would enhance the value of the property. He submitted that the existence of stock yards where proposed would be a nuisance and drive tenants from his property.

Mr. Kennedy said that a gentleman who owns all the property east of that block and adjoining the Grand Trunk cattle yards, said he would be in favour of the establishment of these yards. For his own part he felt that the proposed new sheds would improve conditions beyond what they were at present. The cattle trade now done there was conducted in two open cattle yards, whereas the new yards would be under cover. There was no complaint of the present yards, at least no formal complaint had been made.

THE DEPUTATION'S PERSONAL REPORT.

The Mayor stated that the deputation had visited the Toronto stock yards, and could not tell by any smell that they were in the vicinity.

Mr. Robertson reported the result of interviews with people living in the vicinity of the Toronto cattle yards, and the evidence was conflicting. Some objected to the cattle yards as being offensive, by reason of smells prevailing, while others as emphatically stated that that the cattle yards were in no way offensive. Alderman Verral asserted that the cattle yards were not objectionable, but thought that in case the stock yards were extended that parties having property in the vicinity would be entitled to compensation. A Mr. Stanley, a piano manufacturer in the neighbourhood strongly objected to the stock yards. Alderman Verral had stated that no persons in the vicinity desired the removal of the stock yards.

Mr. Denne stated that the objection on account of smell proceeded not from the stock yards, but from the slaughter house in connection. Mr. Denne also said that the revenue to the city from the stock yards was $25,000 a year, and that the weighing was worth $90 per week, which suffered to keep the yards clean, being a net gain of $25,000 to the city. He said that when approaching the cattle yards no one would have known that the cattle yards were there if they had not been told that they were. Mr. Denne also gave his version of the interviews with the persons living in the vicinity, whose trend was somewhat different from that already given. Alderman Verral had stated that no persons in the vicinity desired the removal of the cattle yards. The complaints of the bad smell at times proceeded more from the abattoir were cattle were slaughtered than from the cattle yards. He found the yards clean and passed through them without soiling his boots. After seeing the magnitude and importance of the Toronto stock yards, he was anxious to see something like this established in Peterborough. It was an important industry to Toronto and should be established here if possible. He did not wish to injure any of his neighbours but he would like to see established an industry that would be for the good of the town.

The Mayor said he was surprised when going through the yards that there was so little smell. He judged that the smell complained of by parties in the vicinity had originated since the slaughter house was erected and used. He summed up the opinions of residents and could not say that the proposed new yards could be established in Peterborough without creating more or less nuisance, and if a site further out could be secured where sewerage services could be procured that it would pay to establish an industry like Mr. Kennedy's, that would centre the trade of Central Ontario in Peterborough. He did not think the matter could be settled to-night, and advised looking over possible available sites in some other part of the town.

Mr. W. H. White said Mayor Davis had put the matter very fairly. He thought the cattle yards proposed to be established by Mr. Kennedy would be less of a nuisance than in Toronto where the yards were on low grounds. He found no bad smell in the Toronto stock yards. He did not think that in the way Mr. Kennedy proposed to manage his yards they would be much of a nuisance.

Mr. Robertson said since he had visited Toronto he believed we should have stock yards in Peterborough, but he did not want a nuisance in the centre of the town. He wished to have the yards further out of town, and he also thought the town should control the stock yards.

Mr. Kennedy said he had made a similar proposition in regard to town management of the yards, to the Mayor, but he did not want a place further out of town. If he could not get the accommodation such as he wanted in the proposed site, he could, and would be compelled to, go to some other town where he could get the accommodation he wanted. There were such places available.

Mr. Langford suggested that if the proposed yards were desirable in the interests of the town, and if, as was probable, there should be any injury to the property in the vicinity, that some arrangement should be made for compensation.

Several expressed the opinion that property in the vicinity would be benefited. There were disadvantages and advantages.

In regard to the feeling in the vicinity, Mr. Robertson submitted a petition against the Kennedy proposition, signed by a large number of residents in the neighbourhood.

Mr. McGrath, in reference to the statement that no complaint had been made of existing stock yards, stated that the residents in the vicinity had suffered a great deal from nuisances without complaint, and he would object decidedly to the addition of the greatest of all nuisances.

A resolution was adopted to furnish Messrs. McGrath and Evans with tickets at the town's expense to visit the Toronto stock yards with a view of modifying their opinions, and Mr. Kennedy was also permitted to send another gentleman, who lived near his proposed stock yards, for a similar purpose.

The committee rose without taking any more definite action.

THE OKANOGAN GOLD MINES.

What the Rossland Company Expects to Accomplish.

Rossland, B. C., Nov. 12.—This evening the proof sheets of the prospectus to be shortly issued by the recently formed Okanogan Free Gold Mines (Limited) were shown to the correspondent. This company was formed by a local broker on something of a new basis. In the first place the property of the company, which, as the title would imply, is in Okanogan county, Washington, and consists of five claims, known as the Cobbler, Great Wonder, Similkameen, Freezout and Ufford, situate about 12 miles south of Camp McKinney (B. C.) on the Similkameen river, about two and a half miles from Oroville. The company is capitalized in the nominal sum of $20,000, in 1,600,000 shares of the par value of 5 cents per share, payable in instalments. The directors include the following well-known Rossland and Spokane gentlemen: Hon. Thomas Mayne Daly, Ross Thompson, G. M. King, K. K. Peiser and E. R. Richter, M. D., S. Thornton Langley, to whose credit the success of this flotation must be given, is the secretary pro tempore. Paul Langhammer, M. E., will be the engineer for the company.

Prominent Spokane, Colfax, Rossland, Toronto and Montreal people have freely subscribed to the stock, believing that from what is already known of the property by the reports of Dr. Langhammer and A. Edgecombe, M.E., that the company is in possession of a valuable mine. In other words, that the same has passed beyond the prospective period, and is well developed, as a recent article in the Spokesman-Review showed. The prospectus says:

"It is calculated that a ten-stamp mill will crush 40 tons per 24 hours, as the quartz is very soft and decomposed. Calculating the ore to yield only $15 per ton, will give an average of $600 per 24 hours, or $18,000 per month of 30 days. Deducting $1.50 per ton on 1,200 tons would be $1,800; incidental expenses, say $700 more total expenses for 30 days, $2,500. This leaves $15,500 per month for dividends, which is about 1 cent per share, or 20 per cent. on 5 cents par value."

In estimating the present development of the property, Dr. Langhammer gives the following figures:

Tunnel 434 ft. and 96 ft entrance at $15	$ 7,260
Shaft 120 ft at $18	2,160
Open cuts, trenches, pits, etc.	720
Track and car in each tunnel	475
Surveys, wagon roads and trails	610
Boarding house, office, shops, etc.	575
Mining and blacksmith tools	415
Salaries, assays and incidental expenses	1,885
Total	$14,000

The property, from the two engineers' reports, has many thousands of tons of milling ore in sight, estimated at an average value of $26.60 per ton, and with the proposed mill and the plant for the concentration of the platinum, are expected to be ready for operation by the end of February next.—From the Spokane Spokesman, Nov. 14th.

A subscription list for shares in the above company has been sent to Mr. Geo. Stethem. Mr. Stethem is told that this is one of the best investments that has been ever put before the public. More than half the shares have already been subscribed in Spokane and Rossland and it is expected that it will take a very short time to absorb them all.

THE NIGHT CLERK'S STORY.

A FACE LIKE CHALK.

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last winter left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but, unfortunately, did not do so. On the contrary, my blood became weaker. I daily lost strength and vitality, and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseated me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of the heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I began taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers, and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit it is useless to spend any more money. However, I finally made up my mind. It is a forlorn hope; I can but try. If I am not benefited I will not be hurt. So I bought one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and to-day am a well man in consequence; my blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health, my appetite has returned, I sleep well, I have not the slightest indications of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength." I am yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM WILLARD,

GOLDEN ROSE OF VIRTUE.

To Be Conferred Upon Archduchess Gisela, Princess of Bavaria.

The Golden Rose which the Pope is to confer upon the Archduchess Gisela, Princess of Bavaria, is the highest honor which His Holiness can bestow upon any woman. It was said the Pope would give the Golden Rose to the young Queen of Holland, but of course that report was all nonsense, for Wilhelmina, although a most adorable young person, is a Protestant, and this special honor is reserved for members of the Roman Catholic Church only. The gorgeous thing that is called the Golden Rose is made of pure gold, and its value, so far as the mere market is concerned, is about $10,000. In the great rose in the middle of the group the Pope pours rose balsam. This flower is framed with a number of subordinate roses and rosebuds. The metal plant stands in a pot of pure gold and on the side of this pot are engraved the arms and the seal of Leo. Two officers of the Vatican are chosen yearly to present this magnificent gift to the lady selected by the Pope. That lady is always royal, a queen, an empress or a princess of royal blood.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

He'd Tried That Sort Before.

Noshirt Sammy—Thank'e kindly, lady, but I'd rayther not. You see, dainty delicacies like that 'ere cake always bring to mind the time I knew better days and had a French chef o' my own, and the recollection is too bitter for me, thankin yer all the same, mum.

(And the gratified Mrs. Youngwed promptly rewards him with a shilling instead.)—Ally Sloper.

THE SEALING FLEET.

Return of the Valuators to Washington—The Canadian Wants—The Alien Labor Law and Canadians.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Capt. Thayer, representing the United States, and Capt. Taylor, representing Canada, in the valuation of the British Columbia sealing fleet, returned to Washington yesterday, bringing with them ample data on which to base their reports as to the value of the vessels. They found all in port, except one of the regular fleet and a few of the Indian schooners, and if the reports presented differ materially it will not be because of failure properly to inspect the craft included in the statement. Both gentlemen compiled their figures last night, and to-day they will be in the hands of the commissioners. The valuators were instructed to deal only with the present value as sealing schooners of the vessels. Whether or not in addition to this compensation will be given the owners and employes in the Canadian sealing industry for deprivation of employment by reason of the stoppage of pelagic sealing is a question that must be decided by the commissioners themselves.

The Canadian Wants.

There was no meeting yesterday of the Joint High Commission. The Reciprocity and Atlantic Fisheries Committees are those by which most work remains to be done. Free fish and free lumber are the Canadian requests that are meeting with the most serious opposition, and very little progress in other directions can be made till these knotty problems are out of the way. There will, however, be no dragging out of the negotiations after those Senators whose advice is sought reach Washington. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Dingley are agreed that the sittings of the conference shall not continue more than three or four weeks longer, and this would indicate that good progress is being made.

U. S. Alien Labor Law.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The attention of the Anglo-American Commission has been drawn by the Manufacturers' Association of Canada, through Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., to the recent rulings of the United States Bureau of Immigration, that the commercial travelers of Canada fall within the restriction of the alien labor law, and that they cannot carry on their work on this side of the border.

In bringing the matter before the Anglo-American Commission, the statement is made that a large number of commercial travelers from the United States have regular routes through Canada, and that if this country intends to exclude Canadian salesmen, it will be necessary to retaliate by excluding American salesmen from Canada. Efforts will be made, however, to have the restriction removed on both sides.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter, writes as follows:—"There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly, Idalia, Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Satire.

"How was that for satire?" asked Senator Sorghum after he had abused a man for 20 minutes owing to a failure to carry out his instructions.

"Why, you know, satire is supposed to be something critical, expressed in such a way that its object must see its force without taking offense."

"Well, that's what this was. That man can't take offense. He owes me too much money."—Washington Star.

As Exemplified.

Tiresome Caller—How do you get rid of bores?

Eminent Statesman—My valet generally knows them and reminds me of some engagement. (Tap at the door) Well, Harris, what is it?

Valet (thrusting his head in)—I beg your pardon, sir, but I think you have an engagement to dine with General Hogo in about 'arf an hour.—Chicago Tribune.

Getting Even.

"There is some comfort in being the father of twins," said the unhappy looking passenger, to which the fat passenger, being there for that purpose, inquired, "What?"

"They keep each other awake of nights as well as my wife and me."—Indianapolis Journal.

Getting Him Located.

"Weyler!" exclaimed one Spanish citizen contemptuously. "He's a regular Don Quixote."

"No," answered the other. "He isn't Don Quixote, nor Sancho Panza, nor yet Rosinante. If he is anybody in that combination, it's the mule."—Washington Star.

THE GOLDEN AGE.

There are no days like bygone days,
So thinks the senile heart,
No ways there are like ancient ways,
None now such bliss impart;
For when the vision back is cast
It sees a golden age.
That heart then sighs for all the past
And deems the action sage.

The brightest days are coming days,
Affirms the youth in glee,
And on the future is his gaze
While present moments flee.
The golden age is yet to beam
Before his eager mind,
And thus his thoughts with luster gleam
As they their views unbind.

But to the sensual epicure
The olden age is now.
With plenty near his joy is sure,
And pleasure crowns his brow.
Within the present days he tries
To taste the chiefest good,
Asserting that the rich and wise
Are those supplied with food.

The true philosophy is found
In looking up and on
Away from sordid, earthly ground
Toward everlasting dawn.
The better life beyond us lies,
Declares the sacred page,
And those who look with faith lift eyes
Discern the golden age.

"IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY."

To Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto:

DEAR SIR.—Your official notice came duly to hand, apprising me of the results obtainable upon my 15 year endowment Policy in your Company for $1,000, which matured on the 5th inst. Of the various options you have given me, viz.:

Cash value	$1,564 96
Paid-up Policy, payable at my death, for	2,500 00
Yearly Income for life of—	166 20

I have decided upon the cash value; and it gives me pleasure to testify that, as I anticipated it would be when I took out the policy, IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY. This returns me the full premiums of the 15 years and over 4½ per cent. compound interest, in addition to which you have carried the risk upon my life. In view of the low rates of interest which have been obtainable during the latter portion of the period, it is difficult to see how this excellent result could have been surpassed.

Yours sincerely,

A New Obstacle.

The old obstacles that used to prevent the marriage of loving couples are out of date. The blood-and-thunder villian is a myth nowadays. The cruel father is only a tradition. Distance, absence and shipwreck in these days of cheap, safe and swift transportation do not count. The new obstacle is a common sense one. It is ill-health on one side or the other, and sometimes on both.

Men nowadays hesitate to marry a woman, no matter how beautiful, no matter how attractive, or interesting, or witty, if she is a sufferer from ill-health. All men worth having desire happy, healthy children. Any woman who will, may fit herself for the duties of wifehood and the exalted functions of motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription banishes all hindrance in the nature of local ill-health. It gives health, power and capacity to the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and maternity. It corrects all displacements, allays inflammation, heals ulceration, stops exhausting drains and soothes pain. It prepares for natural, healthy motherhood. It makes maternity easy and safe and almost painless. It insures a new-comer constitutionally strong and able to withstand the usual ills of babyhood. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and restoratives. Medicine dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge a substitute upon you.

"After suffering untold tortures," writes Mrs. J. Ferguson, of Box 29, Douglas Station, Selkirk Co., Manitoba, "I thank God I found relief and cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The profit side of life is health. The balance is written in the rich, red, pure blood of health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and make the blood rich and pure. They never gripe. By druggists.

JEPTHA BOGLE.

Absalom Bogle was a rich old bachelor—worth his hundreds of thousands—and Absalom Bogle died. During all his life he had been known to form but one strong friendship and that was for his only brother, who, in the other years, had helped him to prospect in the coal mines—his brother Jeptha. This Jeptha, unfortunately for himself, had not been a misanthrope. He had loved and had been jilted, and just when his prospects of success with his brother Absalom had been brightening he had thrown up all his business and gone to faroff parts—to parts so far away that not a word had been heard of him from that time.

And Absalom Bogle died. He departed this mundane life on the fourth day of December, at noon. When his will was opened, which event transpired in the presence of many relatives, its provisions were found to be very simple. First, he bequeathed everything of which he might die possessed to his fondly remembered and well beloved brother, Jeptha. But in case said Jeptha did not present himself and claim the benefit within one year from the death of the testator then the property was to be divided among his other relatives, according to their rank of kin.

Only in one direction, setting aside his brother Jeptha, did the tide of relationship to Absalom Bogle flow. There were no nephews or nieces, no uncles, or aunts, but only cousins. There were two first cousins, four or five second cousins, several third and fourth cousins, and so on, in increasing ratio as they were farther and farther removed.

Sidney Spooner, Esq., was the attorney whom Bogle had selected to hold in trust his estate. When the frosts of October had begun to trace their delicate pencilings upon the crisp foliage, Mr. Spooner sent his clerk around among the relatives of Absalom Bogle to bid them prepare for presenting their claims at the appointed time. If the long absent brother did not show himself on or before noon of the fourth day of the coming December, the property would be theirs.

This clerk of Mr. Spooner was a quaint old fellow, answering to the name of Jedediah Sprout. He never hesitated to acknowledge that the attorney had taken him in out of charity, and in his humble way he sought to serve his patron faithfully. But the most wonderful thing about Jedediah Sprout was that he claimed to be a near relative of Absalom Bogle—nearer by far than any other living. He claimed descent from a brother of Absalom—an older brother, much older than either Absalom or Jeptha—who had died in South America many years ago. The cousins looked up the family history and found that the ancient brother in question had been one Solomon Bogle, a wild, wayward fellow, who under a cloud had changed his name to Sprout and who had left no record of having ever married. Jedediah acknowledged that the said Solomon had never married, and yet he had the hardihood to claim to be his son.

Could anything be more impudent? The cousins, from the first to the sixteenth remove, held up their hands in holy horror. That a man in possession of his senses should unblushingly acknowledge such shame, and, above all, that from such a slough of ignominy he should thrust himself into relationship with honest people!

And yet Jedediah Sprout worked in his humble station for Mr. Spooner. He visited the cousins with his instructions from his patron, and to each he tearfully presented his own claim.

"I ask not for a prime share of the wealth of my father's relative," he said. "I am very poor, and a mere pittance will serve me. Let me share with the very least."

But they scouted and jeered and would not listen. They received the legal instructions which he brought from the attorney, and then kicked him out.

In a neighboring town lived Kate Winthrop. She had been Kate Wetherbee, but during the very last summer, while other cousins had been cultivating their golden expectations, she had married Jack Winthrop and had settled down in a snug, quiet home, peaceful and happy. Her husband worked hard for a living, and she helped him, and she was grateful and glad that she had the strength so to do.

Jedediah Sprout called upon Kate and presented the attorney's instructions.

"Come in—come in and rest," said Kate, in her winsome, cheery way. "Come in and stop for dinner, but don't say anything about the Bogle property. I don't care to hear it."

"But," urged Jedediah, "you are a relative!"

"My mother was a cousin, some four or five times removed," answered Kate, "but I found no claims upon that circumstance. My poor pittance wouldn't be worth the wrangling and tangling I should have to endure, and, moreover, Jack and myself have concluded that we had better paddle our own canoe."

By and by Jack came in, and to him Jedediah presented the subject. But Jack was as emphatic as his pretty wife had been. He didn't care to mix in the feverish, scrambling mess.

"But," said he, "I'll tell you what I will do, Mr. Sprout. I have heard your story, and in all honor and humanity I think your claims are just. If you cannot get the share of Absalom Bogle's property to which you are morally entitled, you are welcome to all you can get in the name of my wife. How is that, Kate?"

"I agree with all my heart!" cried Kate.

The rich moisture in Jedediah's eyes gave token of the feelings which he did not speak. He sat down and ate dinner with the happy young couple and said no more upon the subject of business.

The weeks rolled on, and the morning of the 4th of December at length arrived. In the great, old, shambling house which had been vacant since the day of Absalom Bogle's funeral an anxious crew were assembled.

On that very morning Jack and Kate Winthrop had been visited by Mr. Spooner, who had asked their attendance on the coming occasion. They had replied to him that they had no interest in the matter.

"But," said Mr. Spooner, "Jedediah Sprout tells me that you will give your share to him."

"If he can get it," added Jack.

"If he is to get it at all," said the attorney, "it will be necessary that you and your wife should be there to relinquish it."

"On your honor, Mr. Spooner, do you think our presence would help poor Jedediah Sprout?" asked Kate.

The attorney replied that he thought it would.

"Then," said Kate, "we will go. What say you, Jack?"

Jack consented, and so it transpired that Kate Winthrop and her husband were present at the eventful meeting. The cousins of closer degree scowled upon them when they entered, and one wheezy old spinster informed them that it would have looked better if they had remained away.

"Not nearer than the sixth or eighth remove at best," put in an ancient maiden of ascetic aspect. "Uh! The assurance of some folks!"

The hour slipped on, and the important meridian was close at hand. All had assured themselves that Jeptha Bogle was not in the land of the living. At all events he had not been heard from. And then followed a comparing of notes touching respective nearness of relationship. Genealogical registers of all kinds were at hand, and it was very evident that not a few of them had been recently altered and amended. Crimination and recrimination resulted, and a belligerent outburst was on the tapis when the clock struck 12, and with the last stroke of the fateful bell Mr. Spooner appeared upon the scene, and with him came the man called Jedediah Sprout.

"Ladies and gentlemen and very good friends," said the attorney with a formal bow, "I have the pleasure of introducing to you your very obedient and humble cousin, Jeptha Bogle. He bids you welcome to his mansion and begs that you will honor him with your company to dinner."

"Bogle!" cried spinster number one, starting up. "What Bogle?"

"It's a base deception!" exclaimed the ancient maiden of ascetic visage.

"Who is Jeptha Bogle?" demanded a low browed haberdasher, upsetting his chair as he arose and coming very near to upsetting a wizen faced old bachelor who sat next to him.

"I am Jeptha Bogle," said the attorney's companion. He now appeared in a suit of black velvet and looked like a very kind hearted, benign old gentleman. "I am the only brother of Absalom Bogle, who died one year ago in this house. I came from South America six months ago and made myself known to Mr. Spooner. I told him I had no use for all the money my brother had left, and that I was willing to divide the greater part of it with the distant relatives.

"Mr. Spooner applauded my motive, but advised me to examine for myself and select the worthy ones. So I called myself Sprout and went at the work. As you would have done unto Jedediah Sprout, I give you full permission to do unto yourselves. Dinner will be ready in half an hour, but you will excuse me from sitting at table with you, as I am engaged elsewhere—Jack and Kate Winthrop will come with me. As they were not of the heirs expectant their presence in this assembly is no longer necessary."

From astonishment to indignation and from indignation to boiling wrath surged the cousins of all degrees, and in such wrathful mood they found no appetite for dinner, and one by one or in muttering, cursing pairs they crawled away, invoking all sorts of maledictions upon the head of the returned brother who had so deceived and entrapped them, as well as upon the heads of the young couple who, they were very sure, were to bask in the sunshine of Jeptha Bogle's good intent.

And in this last surmise they were not mistaken. Old Jeptha found a home with Jack and Kate, and he did not wait until death had cut short his share of the enjoyment before giving to them of the wealth which he had resolved should be theirs.

Pulling Off Hats.

"I have not yet lived 1,000,000 years," said Mr. Goslington, "but so far I observe that there is one form of play that all boys have alike during a considerable period of their youthful existence. This consists in pulling off other boys' hats and throwing them in the street. The desire, or impulse, to do this comes at a very early age, and it remains in the boy until he is pretty well grown.

"It is not unusual to see a boy 10 or 12 years old, or even older than that, pull off another boy's hat, usually in such instances the hat of a smaller boy, and throw it away. Here the act is intended to be annoying and exasperating, and it is a pretty mean thing for the big boy to do, but little boys do this thing just out of sheer playfulness." New York Sun.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS PAIN.

Ended Effectually and Permanently by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Central Waterville, N B., Nov. 14—These dull and damp days of November are terribly hard on the Kidneys. Not one person in a hundred escapes. Backache, pains in the loins, Lumbago, and similar Kidney troubles are as plentiful as fallen leaves.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and certain cure for kidney complaints. They never fail to cure.

In proof of this read what Mr. F. W. Harris, of this place says: "After having suffered for eighteen months with kidney disease, being unable to work, most of the time, and having grown worse while taking other medicines, I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which effected a complete and permanent cure."

A SEA SONG.

Oh, east by north the strong breeze blew
The sun drives west by south!
Far out the thickening cloud rack flows
Across the harbor's mouth.
Aloft the rippling bunting plays,
The rattlines whistle shrill,
And down the sky the gray gulls fly
Beyond the darkening hill.

Then loose the sail to greet the gale
That crisps the scurrying wave,
And bless the breeze that lifts the seas
The ship's stout sides to lave.
Let breakers roll or fog bells toll,
Or decks be dashed with foam,
Through cloud and spray she'll cleave her way
And bear the seamen home.
—William Higgs in Youth's Companion.

FREDDIE KEIRSTEAD'S CASE.

His Legs, from His Feet to His Body Entirely Raw, and Ran a Blood-Tinged Irritating Water.

THE CURE B. B. B. MADE IN HIS CASE WAS PERMANENT.

IN EIGHT YEARS THERE HAS BEEN NO RETURN OF THE DISEASE.

The triumphs of Burdock Blood Bitters over disease are eclipsing anything ever heard of in the annals of medicine. The cases being published from time to time showing how thorough and permanent are the cures made by this remedy, are making the sick and afflicted consider whether it is worth their while wasting money on medicines that can only offer them temporary relief—and perhaps not even that—when a few bottles of B. B. B. will do all that any medicine can do in giving temporary relief, and besides, will make a cure so permanent that there will be no return of the trouble.

FREDDIE KEIRSTEAD.

In the severest forms of skin diseases, Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Shingles, Ring Worm, B. B. B. applied externally and taken internally will take out the burning and itching, give prompt relief, and make a permanent cure.

It was so in the case of Freddie Keirstead of Snider Mt., N.B.

He had one of the most aggravated cases of Salt Rheum ever known.

B. B. B. cured him so thoroughly that after eight years the disease has shown no signs of returning.

Read the following letter just received from his mother:

"With gratitude I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bitters. Eight years ago our little son, Freddy, was afflicted with salt rheum and was in a dreadful condition. His legs, from the soles of his feet to his body were entirely raw, and ran a bloody water, which appeared to burn and itch until he was often in great agony.

"After trying several remedies, we resolved to give B. B. B. a trial.

"You can imagine with what delight and gratitude we saw our boy entirely cured after using one bottle and part of the second. We gave him the remainder of the second bottle, and from that time till the present he has never had a sign of salt rheum or a sick day. You need not wonder that I think there is no other medicine can equal Burdock Blood Bitters to purify the blood and build up the health and strength."

MRS. A. KEIRSTEAD,
Snider Mt., N.B.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

Celebration of the Carey-McCabe Nuptials in Cobourg.

The Sentinel Star contains the following reference to the wedding of Miss Dulce McCabe, who is well known in Peterborough, having visited here frequently. The date Tuesday, Nov. 15th, 1898, will be looked upon in retrospect by one loving couple with fondest recollections, as it chronicles the hanging of one of the brightest pictures on memory's wall. At 8.30 on the morning of that date in St. Michael's church, Mr. P. J. Carey, well and favorably known to our citizens, and Miss Dulce McCabe, a winsome young lady of Los Angles, Cal., were irrevocably bound together by the Rev. Father Murray in the silver ties and silken cords of matrimony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a travelling suit of navy blue with a dainty toque to match. She was assisted by her niece, Miss Grace Plunkett, who looked bewitching in a green cloth tailor-made suit, and a beautiful picture hat. Mr. James Leonard ably supported the groom, and Mr. George Plunkett gave the bride away. After the impressive ceremony the guests repaired to the Queen's hotel where a dejeuner was served. The dining room was artistically decorated with Chrysanthemums and roses. The church was also made beautiful by similar contributations from Nature.

The presents made a magnificent display. The groom's souvenir to the bride was a diamond necklace, and to the bridesmaid a stickpin set in pearls. The young couple took the 11 a.m. train on an extend[illegible] east. We wish them a long life [illegible] happiness.

WEDDED IN NEW JERSEY.

Marriage of Miss G. V Robertson a Sister of Mr. W.H. Robertson, of town.

A quiet wedding took place in Ridgfield Park, N.J., on Nov. 17, at the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vantile Smith—Mrs. Smith being a cousin of the bride. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Allan MacNelli of the same place. The contracting parties were Miss G. V. Robertson, sister of Mr. W. H. Robertson, of this town, and Fredrick Wrightington, of Brooklyn, N.Y. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of French poplin with applica and chiffon trimmings, and wore diamonds—the gift of the groom. She was assisted by her cousin Miss Nellie M. Dickson.

Mr. Wrightington is a well-known and highly respected business man of Brooklyn.

ECZEMA FIVE YEARS

Intense and Everlasting Suffering Almost Frantic with Itching Four Doctors No Avail

COMPLETE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

I have been an intense sufferer of that awful, dreaded and everlasting disease, Eczema, for five years. I tried every one's advice in medicines, besides four doctors, one a specialist in skin diseases, with no improvement at all, and from time to time setting me almost frantic with dreadful itching. At last I gave myself up to CUTICURA REMEDIES, expecting them to result as all previous ones. To my great and agreeable surprise I found a wonderful change in three weeks, and after using three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA SALVE, I found myself completely cured.

GEO. A. LOWE, 907 Market St., Phil., Pa. Feb. 26, 1897.

ECZEMA SEVEN YEARS

Scalp and Back Covered with Dry Sore. Thought Itching Would Drive Him Mad.

COMPLETE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

I was afflicted with Eczema for seven years, and my scalp was in a bad state. I had a bad back, three inches of which was covered with a dry scab with a moisture underneath. The itching was so bad I thought it would drive me mad. I tried all remedies I was told of, but could not get cured. I was advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I used five bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, five cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and five boxes of CUTICURA SALVE, and I was completely cured. I have not had a pimple on my head or body since.

IT IS DR. CULLEN NOW.

The Freeport (Ill.) Journal makes the following reference to an old Peterborough boy :

"Rev. Henry Cullen, the popular Cedarville minister, can now write D. D. after his name, as this degree has just been conferred upon him by Lenox college, located at Hopkinton, Iowa, where Mr. Cullen used to preach. He took a friendly interest in the college, and the Board of Trustees had a good knowledge of his scholarly attainments and general worth, so it was with pleasure that they conferred the degree upon him. Dr. Cullen's classical education was received chiefly in the Collegiate Institute of Peterborough, Ont., and part of a session in University College, Toronto, and his theological training was obtained at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, and he is well equipped for his chosen profession. In honouring this worthy gentleman, Lenox College has also honored itself. Dr. Cullen is now in his seventh year at Cedarville, and is regarded as one of the ablest ministers in this county, and has many warm friends outside of his congregation."

ST. LUKE'S TEA.

It was Held Last Evening in Connection With the Annual Sale.

St. Luke's annual tea and sale of work was held last night in the Ashburnham town hall, and as is usually the case proved a great success. Almost the entire congregation was present and a goodly number from other congregations attended this popular event. A sumptuous tea was served by the W.A. and the Y.W.C. of St. Luke's Guild. The hall which had been tastefully decorated by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons presented a charming appearance, and the Women's Auxiliary and Young Women's Chapter sold a large number of fancy and useful articles during the evening. Miss Gwendoline Meade sold the whole of a large stock of candies. There was no programme this year but Mr. Butcher and the Messrs. Wilson discoursed capital instrumental music, and all present appeared thoroughly to enjoy themselves. The W.A. and Y.W.C. have still several unsold articles of various kinds, and any ladies who may wish to purchase should apply to Mrs. E. A. Peck, or Miss Maggie Calcutt.

How Good Farming Made a Big Threshing Record Possible.

At Mr. Dawson Kennedy's farm, River-road, Otonabee, yesterday Messrs. This record involves a double credit, first to the expertness and good quality of Messrs. Slattery and O'Brien and their machine, and secondly, to Mr. Kennedy's excellent farming methods resulting in the growth of oats capable of furnishing such a yield.
